Ontario Liberal Leadership

Mr. Farquhar Oliver has announced his resignation as leader of the Liberal party in Ontario; the Ontario Liberal Association has not yet accepted it, and will certainly consider asking him to withdraw it. Mr. Oliver is a young man, as political leaders go, and has led the fight in but one election. It was hardly a time to test his abilities as a vote-getter, and there has been no real opportunity to assess him as an administrator and policy-maker in government. Mr. Oliver has qualities which should not lightly be rejected by the Liberal Party hierarchy.

* * *

There are political periods when whoever the leader of the Party, that Party will win at the polls or be defeated at the polls. Such a time for victory came to Mr. Mackenzie King, who, like Mr. Oliver, is not remarkable for his colourful personality, in 1921. Such a time for defeat came to Mr. Bracken in 1945. There are other times when the leadership of the party is decisive. Such a period may come in three or four years when the next Provincial elections would ordinarily be held. Mr. Oliver may be the right man for leadership of the party at that time.

* * *

Should the Ontario Liberals choose a new leader it may be well for them to choose without subservience to the Liberal hierarchy either at Toronto or Ottawa. The men at the party's steering gear do not always pick winners. Mr. Drew has not been a winner, despite his vigorous personality. Mr. Truman won despite the faint hearts of the Democratic Party strategists who wished they could have rid the party of his candidature. The rank and file of a party are closer to the people who vote than are the moguls; their ears are to the ground, while the great ones must tap the wires. Their collective voice should be given precedence at any leadership convention.

Five Dollar Radio Fee?

The C.B.C. needs more money. There are three ways it can get that money: by direct annual grants from Parliament, by increasing the amount of advertising programs it carries, and by raising the present license fee to $5.00. Dependence on annual grants from Parliament is too uncertain a method of financing, and too subject to political influences. To increase the amount of advertising should be viewed with disfavour, even distaste, by all Canadians. There is already sufficient advertising broadcast by privately-owned stations, and even by the C.B.C. (which is getting close to two million dollars, or a third of its revenue from advertising already.) One of the virtues of the C.B.C. is that it is, relative to American radio, and private stations in this country, virtually free of advertising. The third method, of increasing the licence fee, is the least objectionable means of meeting increased expenses and avoiding deficits.

As the Kingston Whig-Standard points out, even if a five dollar fee is levied, the listener who hears 100 C.B.C. plays or concerts a year would be paying only five cents for each performance. There are many times a hundred C.B.C. programs whose excellence even the wealthy American systems do not duplicate, which justify the small five dollar fee.

Some people ask, Why have any fee at all? The Americans pay no license fee. This brings up very deep and broad matters which both the C.B.C. and the Canadian Association of Broadcasters (an organization representing private, commercial stations) have argued in their briefs to the Massey Commission on National Development in the Arts, Letters and Sciences. Without discussing the specific issues here, it may be remarked that neither the C.B.C. nor the C.A.B. argue that any system of radio in Canada can pay its own way and at the same time provide the services and programming of a national character which Canada should have.

Unlike conditions in England, where the B.B.C. can provide excellent programs to all the people for a modest license fee, or in the United States, where private radio chains can send programs across the country and make a profit in so doing from the advertising, radio in Canada cannot pay it (way, and at the same time provide good programming of a national character which reaches all Canadians equally.

Radio and television in this country must be supported by public funds, such as the license fee, and by advertising, unless the amount of public funds is vastly increased. It may be to the national advantage not to depend on advertising at all, and to make available to the C.B.C. sufficient public funds to free it of advertising. Whatever happens, Canadian broadcasting should not become subservient to American programs, because Canada is a country with an ethos of its own, and should have national expression, over the air, of its own.

History Was Corrected

The Brantford Expositor has been reading a thumbnail sketch of Canada's history as contained in one of the Facts About Canada booklets, and is editorially pleased that Norsemen like Leif the Lucky, son of Eric the Red, are therein credited with the discovery of these shores about the year 1000. The Expositor says: "It is gratifying to find the record thus corrected. For too long schoolchildren were solemnly taught that Columbus discovered the New World and that Jacques Cartier found Canada".

Far be it from us to twit the knowledgeable greybeards of the Expositor about their school days, but really they do show their age by such an observation. Even in our far-off schooldays we learned to praise the intrepid Leif Ericson and to scoff at the claim to fame of a mere Genoese mariner Cristobal Colon. Even as old a High School textbook of Canadian history as the late Duncan McArthur's (1927) gives two and a half pages to the Norse discoveries and only a few lines to Columbus. Be it noted, however, that one of them is: "Columbus ventured forth on the Atlantic and was rewarded by the discovery of a new continent." About the other Genoese sailor Giovanni Caboto, Dr. McArthur says: "His discovery of the mainland of North America gave England a prior claim to the northern sea-coast". He credits the Brittainy sea-captain Jacques Cartier with being "the real discoverer of Canada". Dear, dear, perhaps we should not have ventured into the Expositor's exposition; the solemn schooling it seems to have had so long ago may not have been woefully incorrect after all.

Herd Loss To Peterborough

Auction sales of farms or family homes and their contents always have an aura of melancholy. A unit which has been built up laboriously, and often carefully and fondly during many years, is being brought to the block, severed into many segments, and scattered like autumnal leaves; and the sum of the scattered parts never makes up the whole that existed before, any more than scattered musical notes form a chord. What was a harmonious unit becomes fragmentary. An auction sale is the dissipation of wholesomness. The air of regret, even sadness, hung over the sale by auction on Wednesday of the Stuart herd of Herefords.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart of Old Orchard Farm, east of the Lift Lock, built up in five years one of the finest Hereford herds on the continent, and this herd stemmed from a Hereford ranch set up years before in Wyoming by Mr. Stuart's grandfather. The rare herd has been sold because of the owner's prospective removal to Chicago. An indication of its quality was the price fetched—a total of more than $67,000 for 111 lots of sires, dams and their calves, 165 head in all.

This district and the whole country suffer loss through the dispersal of the herd, even though most of the animals were sold to Canadian buyers and will remain in Canada. The sum of the parts does not add up to the whole which Old Orchard Farm had, and which was the pride of the County.

The Big Squeeze

Canadian prosperity depends on flourishing international trade, and particularly on ease in trade with Britain and the United States, for Canada is the principal supplier of the United Kingdom, and the biggest customer the United States has. This situation was expounded in Washington by Mr. Douglas Abbott, our Minister of Finance. His graphic comment was: "We are therefore inevitably found in the middle of any squeeze which the United Kingdom finds in her dollar position, and we are one of the instruments through which the shock of such a squeeze is transmitted to the United States". The squeeze is on. To say that Canada is playing the part of mediator at Washington is as misleading as it is short-winded. Canada is attending because she is in danger of having the winds of prosperity squeezed right out of her.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: Which is the oldest township in Peterborough County?

ANSWER: Smith Township is the oldest, followed closely by North Monaghan. Smith was surveyed in 1818, in which year a number of colonists who had emigrated to Canada in 1817 from Cumberland in the north of England came through the wilderness north of Port Hope, and by Rice Lake and the Otonabee (there were no roads) to the present Chemong Road area outside the city limits. The settlers in this first group were William Dixon and his family of five sons, Joseph Lee and his sons John and George, Robert Millburn, Robert Walton, John Walton, Walton Wilson, Thomas W. Milburn, John Smith and his son Joseph Smith. They lived communally at first—in fact, a kind of communistic settlement it was—and were referred to as "the Colony" settlers.

At this time there was no settlement at Peterborough at all.

The township of North Monaghan was surveyed in 1818, and the first settlers came into it from farther south in 1818-1819. Among them were William Fowler, Robert Morrison, Robert Thompson, John Tully, William Birdwhistle, Thomas and Robert Leadbeater, Richard Alexander, Robert Cross, John Foster, James Wilson, Matthew Wilson, William Wilson, Wilford Drysdale, John Birney and Thomas Spiers.

These names of the pioneers of Smith and North Monaghan strike familiarly on the ear now, for some of their descendants are today respected residents of the same townships. If one were wishing to name the "first families" of Peterborough, logically they would be found among these pioneer names.

DEAR ALPHA: Is the child's prayer "Now I lay me down to sleep" a folk thing or was it composed?

ANSWER: The first record of the prayer is found in the "Enchiridion Papae Leonis", AD. 1160. It was used in the famed New England Primer on which several generations of Americans were brought up. It first appeared in the primer in 1777.

Perhaps it would be well for the sake of the modern generation to quote the prayer in full:

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take.

ALPHA: Why are cars so much more expensive here in Canada than in the United States? I read in an American magazine that a new two-door Chevrolet sells there at $1,320, a Ford at $1,393, a Plymouth at $1,410. The article also said that a new Buick is coming out on the American market to sell at $1,745, f.o.b. Flint, Michigan.

ANSWER: The reasons are more numerous than easy to explain. A chief one is, of course, the tariff. Since the beginning of car manufacture in Canada, our governments have imposed a special automobile excise tax against imported cars and parts, chiefly American. This was at first a protective tariff—to prevent American-made cars from flooding our own industry, before it got on its own feet. Now the automobile industry in Canada is in a flourishing condition, even if most of it is American-owned, and the original purpose of the tax may have gone. I believe the excise tax now is ten per cent. That in itself would not account for the $400 to $700 difference in price between ordinary cars here and in the States; for ten per cent on a selling price of $1,393 is only $139; and we cannot buy a Chevrolet for $1,532.

The Canadian car manufacturers have the biggest protection against outside competition they have ever had, for, whatever the tariff, an individual is absolutely prohibited from buying a car in the U.S.A. and importing it into Canada, since the November 1947 emergency regulations (to save American dollars). Automobile firms may import on very limited quotas.

That is why one sees almost no new big cars like Cadillacs and Lincolns with Canadian license plates. These cars are not being manufactured in Canada. I believe that some of the quotas are being enlarged, and some restrictions lifted.

At present the only way a Canadian can own a big American car is to buy it from a diplomatic official in Ottawa, who, being a citizen of another country, is allowed to buy and import one into Canada. . . . In such cases the Canadian dollars he spends on it are debited to that diplomat's own country's American dollar account.

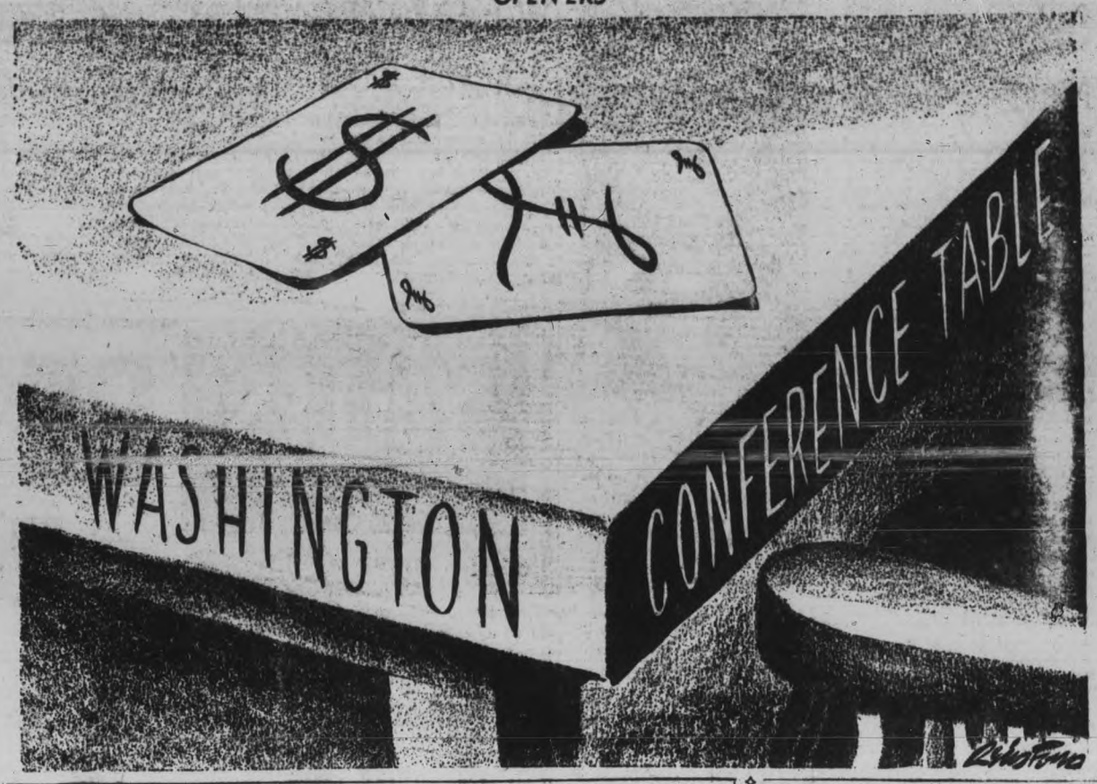
SIR: Is it possible to get married in Canada without a minister of religion and a religious service?

ANSWE: Yes—in Saskatchewan and British Columbia. In Saskatchewan every District Court judge and two specially appointed commissioners may solemnize marriages. In British Columbia a couple may be married by civil contract before a marriage commissioner. Most Canadians who wish only a civil marriage go to the United States; for instance Montrealers go to near-by Vermont. But I have heard of Toronto people going to Saskatchewan, so that they will be married in Canada, and yet avoid a religious ceremony.



There are many ministers of religion in Canada who wholeheartedly wish that throughout the country some sort of civil marriage could be performed. Thus they would be freed from the necessity of giving the benefits of their office to couples from whom they would prefer to withhold such benefits.

Incidentally, there now seems to be a vogue of having two ministers of religion at a church wedding—the bride's family minister, and the groom's, the latter acting as 2 i/c. Has this practice been dictated by some Emily Post? It probably does not find favour with the secondary parson, who has to attend not only the wedding but the rehearsal, and gets a secondary fee of only a few dollars.

FOR THE RECORD: The latest cost-of-living index figure, for July, puts the cost at the highest thus far: 162.8, or 62.8 higher than the 1935-39 average, up seven-tenths of a point. This, it has been explained, was due to rising food costs, particularly of eggs. However, some seasonable foods are relatively quite cheap. This week I have noticed tomatoes at 25 cents for a 6-quart basket, first grade peaches at 89 cents a basket and No. 2's at 59, and corn selling at 25 cents a dozen cobs. These are all plentiful. (Remember the doleful fruit crop predictions in June and July?) . . . By the way, one of the casualties of the war seems to have been the eleven-quart basket. Before the war many people considered a six-quart basket of peaches almost too small to bother taking home.

Frankfurt and Berlin

(A CONTRAST IN MOODS BY SEBASTIAN HAFFNER)

I HAVE visited Germany at least once every year since the war, and I had become used to being depressed by Western Germany and relatively exhilarated by Berlin. This is the first time that my first impression has been the reverse.

Frankfurt at first overwhelms the visitor by its shop window prosperity. It does not take great powers of penetration to see that something about this prosperity is not quite genuine: there is a striking contrast between the splendid shop windows and the shabby appearance of most of the people who gaze at them. It is the general talk of the town that everything can now be had for money, but that very few people have money.

The city—and the same goes for other West German places where I have stopped—is fantastically food-conscious. The menus even of middle-class restaurants seem endless. On the lower level, there is an abundance of soup and sausage stores, with bundles of sausages of many kinds curiously dangling in front. The many poor eat their 80 pfennig sausages or pea soups at sausage stalls. But all of them eat, eat, eat and political and economic discontent and criticism, of which there is plenty, is mellowed by the effect of full stomachs.

This preoccupation with food today distorts the West German economy almost as much as the former hunger. For money is scarce and there is extreme deflation and of the little money there is, food takes, with rich and poor alike, a disproportionate share. A striking fact is that while every second person you see is badly shod and quite a number of children are still barefoot, footwear manufacturers are threatened with bankruptcy; people cannot afford shoes; too much of their scanty earnings goes into food.

The worst sufferer is culture, which was relatively thriving in the years of misery. Theatres are closing down; publishers are going bankrupt; bookshops are empty of buyers. And already the character of the books they sell has changed in a somewhat terrifying manner. The shops are dominated by books that make no pretence to being literature, mostly reprints of popular and lowbrow pre-1914 fiction by authors such as Rudolf Hertzog and Ludwig Ganghofer. One of the most enterprising and serious South German publishers told me that his winter list for 1949-50 will consist almost exclusively of crime fiction. "The alternative", he said "is bankruptcy".

In spite of all that, Frankfurt is not today a depressing city. It is busy, it is not unhappy, and in some curious way it is optimistic. Even the most critical agree that everything is far far better than it used to be.

THIS is exactly what is lacking in Berlin. I arrived in Berlin at nightfall, and expected something like the look of Frankfurt at night with the shop windows lit and many people strolling along having a last peep at the marvels behind the glass panes, and perhaps enjoying a last bed-time snack at some sandwich stall. Instead the Kurfurstendamm with its pathetically orderly queues and pyramids of salvaged bricks, was empty, and at the Zoo Station there were familiar old figures of ragged black marketeers, muttering "Cigarettes", or "Eastmarks" out of the corner of their mouths.

Nor does the picture change much in the daytime. The shops, by comparison with Frankfurt, are poor; the streets half deserted and the people pale and drab. It does not take a day to discover that this great city, so bravely alive in the bad years and so stubborn under the blockade, is now a depressed area. More than a tenth of its population, more than a quarter of its workers are unemployed. The difference to old times is that the unemployed do not loiter at street corners; they conserve energy and stay at home. Hence the curious air of desertion in the wide ruined streets.

Here too, food can now be bought if one has the money, which was not the case till a few months ago. But the difference is that too many Berliners have now not enough money to take even the most modest advantage of the improvement.

The best-informed still hope. They take comfort from declarations like that of General Robertson last week that the West will not turn its back on Berlin, and they feel that ways and means of reviving the city's economy will somehow be found. But the simple people begin to despair of an end to their troubles. If help to Berlin is to have effect, it must not be too long delayed.

From the kitchen the wife called to her timid husband: "Come on, now Arnold, and help me with the dishes."

"Go ahead," mumbled Arnold's visitor, a fellow worker from the office. "Wash the dishes, make the beds, dust the furniture. Why do you do all her chores for her?"

"I'm waiting," answered Arnold, grimly clenching his hands, "'till she makes the mistake of asking me to pat the cold cream on her face!"

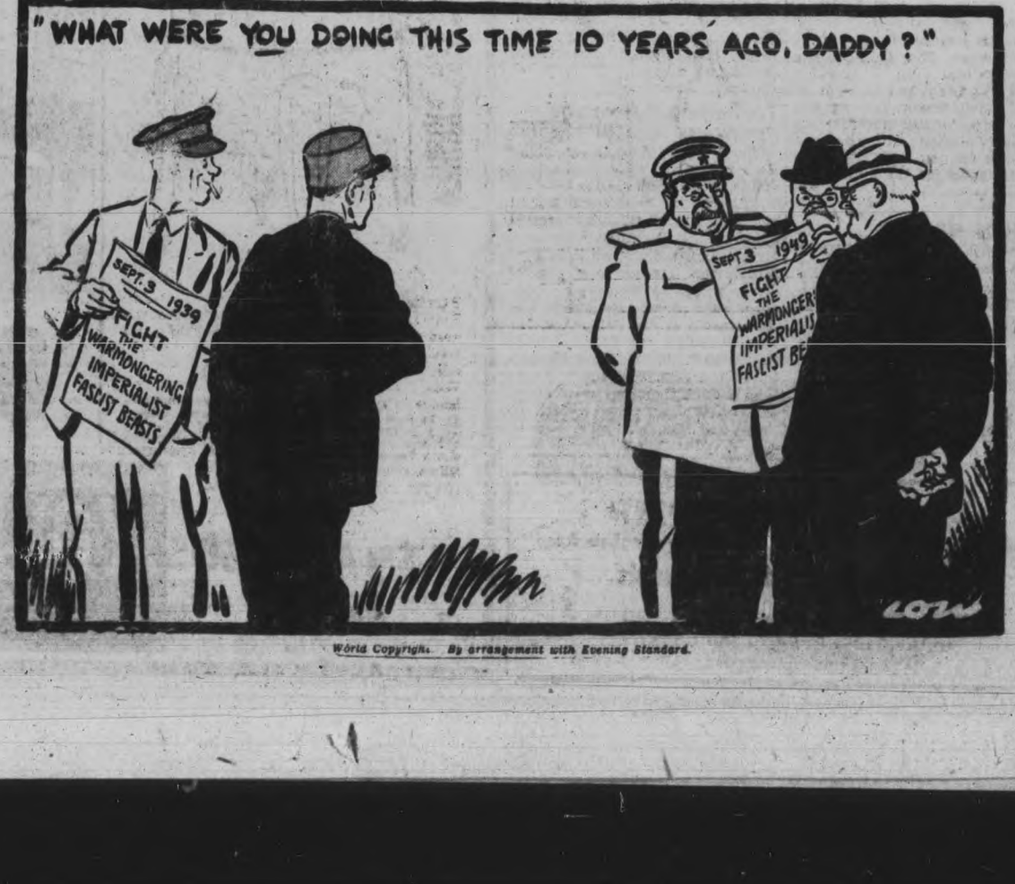
Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)



And when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band. . . . And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away . . . And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves. (Acts 27: 1, 20, 41.)

And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita. And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand. And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm. Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god. (Acts 28: 1-6.)

Festival Boss Needs 6 Hands To Run Show

By STUART UNDERHILL

EDINBURGH, Sept. 9 (CP) — Just like the show it presents each year, Edinburgh's famous festival of music and drama has a backstage where canny Scots labor to keep their big production running smoothly.

Key man in this bustle behind the scenes is John Reid, a hard-headed civic employee who was appointed honorary secretary of the festival when it was first considered in 1945. Two years later it came into being, with such success that it now is an assured annual event.

Reid says jocularly that "hard work and bad language" is the formula he has applied in making Edinburgh the goal of 40,000 to 50,000 persons, many from overseas, during a three-week summer period. Among other things he has to:

Arrange printing and distribution of some 250,000 tickets.

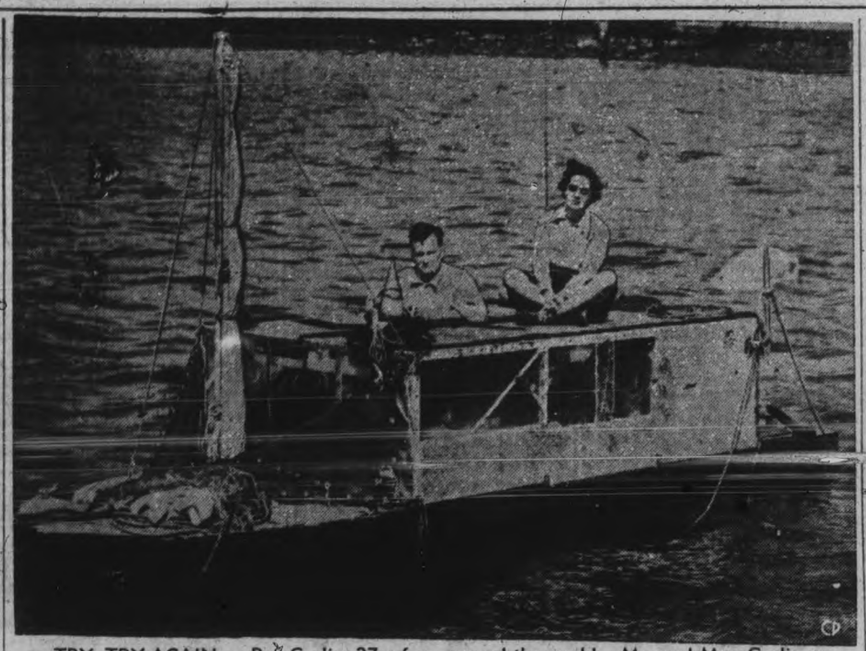
Organize accommodation for visitors ranging from youngsters who want a cot in a youth hostel to millionaires seeking luxury suites.

Arrange Supplies

Negotiate with the Food Ministry for extra supplies of food and drink during the festival period.

Curb the ambitions of "arty fellows" in charge of production, who frequently start to lay their plans on a "money no object" basis.

Reid, who is also in charge of the city's welfare department, has a permanent staff of six. This rises to 60 each spring as applications for tickets pour in from most parts of the world.



Programs are drawn up a year in advance by a committee which argues exhaustively over artists an dtheir selections. Artistic direction has been under Rudolph Bing, now general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Association of New York.

Reid budgets each year for a loss of up to £30,000 ($120.000). The first year it was £21,000, and the next £11,000. He won't estimate this year's figures, but some of his assistants are hopeful that an extra week of ever-popular ballet will lift receipts to a point where they break even.

Losses are made up by the Edinburgh Corporation, the Arts Council of Britain and by private subscription.

Won't Help B.C.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9 (CP) — Easing of the United Kingdom pulp control will have little benefit for the British Columbia industry, spokesmen said Wednesday. They said no real assistance will be given the industry unless current Washington financial talks result in an adequate supply of dollars for Britain. The British Board of Trade has announced that bulk U.K. government buying of wood pulp and pulpwood will end March 31, 1950.

TRY, TRY AGAIN — Ben Carlin, 37, of New York, and his 32-year-old wife, failed for the second time when they set out from Halifax to cross the Atlantic to the Azores aboard this sea-going jeep. It was intended to be the first lap of a land-sea journey around the world. Mr. and Mrs. Carlin returned to Halifax after three days at sea when their auxiliary gas tank went adrift. One of the tanks can be seen in this photo behind the amphibious vehicle. They plan to try again.

London—a city of fine homes and modern industries

Refreshing Variety AT LONDON

BACK in the late 18th century, hardy British settlers settled in Southwestern Ontario. Here, in a land that vividly recalled the English countryside, they built the city of London. Today, the holiday visitor will find familiar English place names . . . St. Paul's Cathedral, Cheapside, and Blackfriars Bridge . . . the old-English character of good cheer and good fellowship that makes for happy vacation fun and relaxation. Visitors from afar make a point of seeing the city's modern and progressive industrial plants, a major influence in London's present-day expansion. Follow the beautiful valley of the Thames, through rolling countryside to the famous lake-resort of Port Stanley. By car London is on highway No. 2, 80 miles west of Hamilton. Ellis To Coach Legion Hockey Squad

Jim Ellis was named coach of the Legion Hockey Club for this season at a meeting of Legion players held last evening in the hall. The former Petes' hockey coach—who resigned from that post nearly three years ago—will succeed Ned Vitarelli, Legion coach last season, who will be living in Montreal this winter. Ellis was a former defence star for Peterborough OHA teams for years, besides playing a season in the United States before retiring.

Bob Graham will be president this season of the Legion Club and will also assume the office of secretary-treasurer, with Glen Carson assisting him on the latter job. Cyril Withers is manager of the club, Fred Board equipment manager, John Lynch trainer, and Gunner Davis timer.

Practices and exhibitions will be staged by Legion as soon as there is ice here, probably early in October, and efforts will be made to get an OHA grouping going by the middle of November on local artificial ice. It was emphasized at the meeting that the club is by no means a closed one, all positions being open this season. Newcomers to town who hope to play for Legion are asked to phone 3950 or 2-2615 soon so that particulars may be checked.

Scarboro Juveniles Get First Of Series

Peterborough juvenile all-stars lost the first game of a two out of three OLA playoff to Scarboro juveniles by a score of 8 to 6. The game was played in Toronto last night.

Heavy rains made the field muddy and a considerable amount of sand was required to make it usable. The Peterborough boys couldn't seem to get untracked in the heavy going while the Scarboro team, enjoying a weight advantage, thrived in it.

At the end of the first quarter Scarboro were in front 4 to 3, and they outscored the Petes again in the second 2 to 1. However, in the third quarter the Petes appeared to come to life to notch two, while holding the Scarboro boys scoreless. This tied the score six-all. In the final frame the Scarboro boys notched two while the Petes went scoreless.

All the winners worked hard passing well and checking close, the Petes seemed to lack aggressiveness. Hickson played a steady game in goal while Vincent and Fitzgerald were the pick up front.

The return game is scheduled for Miller Bowl on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. and the Petes are confident that they will win this one.

Referee: Joe Whitnall.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Let's hope the weather man is kind to us for the men's doubles tournament this evening. Choose your partner and be out at the greens by 7:15 o'clock.

A number of our bowlers are motoring to Toronto on Saturday afternoon to enjoy a friendly game with the members of the Hillcrest Club.

Three rinks from the ladies' club braved the elements and motored to Oshawa yesterday to play for the Bradley trophy. We have no report on how they made out.

Playing in the Globe and Mail doubles at Toronto yesterday, R Dyer and C. Renaud won a nice game from Chapman and Pridham of Goderich, 14-13. They were halted by rain after one game had been played, but play continues this morning.

And don't forget the usual Family Hour tournament Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Pitching—Hal Newhouser, Tigers—Pitched one-hitter against Cleveland, 10-0, allowing only seventh-inning single by Lou Boudreau and walking only one man.

Batting—Vic Wertz, Tigers — Drove home five runs with homer and triple in helping Detroit defeat Cleveland twice, 10-0 and 4-1.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

The frost is on the pigskin and the boys are in for shocks. Or something. Football season is on us as the loose ends of summer sports are being swept up. PCVS and SPS grid squads are drilling away these days, and the ORFU Panthers open their schedule in Oshawa on the morrow, as Oakville plays in Orillia. Word seeps in from the other centres in the ORFU grouping to indicate competition will be plenty keen this cool semester. It will be recalled that the local squad made a good showing the last half of last season but fell before Orillia at the end, and Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts then knocked off Orillia to go on to a title. The Panthers feel that this is their year.

Petes play Oshawa Merchants at 5.30 this e'en in Riverside, weather [illegible] in the [illegible] en COBL finals. As Oshawa won the first three, it requires no Einstein to figure out what happens to the men o' Murphy if they muff this one. They'll be out of the senior "A" race and Oshawa will be league champions for the first time in a long spell. But the runners-up go into OBA senior "B" playdowns, along with such smart teams as Stratford, London Majors and several more. We don't know who will do the pitching tonight, but it ought to be quite a ball game before one side picks up the marbles.

OBA Playdowns Here

Two important minor baseball battles in Riverside on Saturday afternoon. Toronto peewees open their OBA series at two against the local Kinsmen—an Ashburnham bunch piloted by Freddy Garvey. Right after this one, Toronto bantams tackle Ray Pammett's East City boys to open their series. Return tilts next week-end up Toronto way, and we understand these are zone finals, there being about four provincial zones. The local boys deserve fan support, and the bantams are seeking financial and transportation aid if anyone or any club is interested. Phone 6853. They may go quite a piece.

Howie Dalton's city champs of men's softball, the Cosmos, play in Oshawa this evening to start their best-of-three OASA intermediate "A" playdowns with the Pedlars. Return joust at 8.30 in the Bowl tomorrow night. This series was postponed several days as both Cosmos and Pedlars went to the CNE semi-finals, but both bowed out then, so they're back at provincial play now. Meulemeester is the ace Oshawa flinger for Pedlars and he may prove a hurling headache, but Cosmos have class, too, and they might finally crack that Oshawa softball jinx which jars so many local teams comes playdown time.

Toronto Vs. Woollens

In the girls' softball setup, there are games tonight and Saturday aft at the Bowl d'Ashburnham. Tonight, it's Ashby's vs. Westclox at seven in the only round-robin encounter, and this series will likely be cleaned up next Monday and Wednesday evenings with the city title at stake. Tomorrow at three p.m., Toronto lasses play Woollens to open their best-of-three PWSU junior playdown series. This one was postponed the other night here owing to rain. But it's on for sure tomorrow, weather being okay. Return game or games the following Saturday in Toronto. The girls would like to see a hefty crowd on hand for this playoff.

Legion puckists last eve elected officers for the season, and they're listed elsewhere. Jim Ellis succeeds Ned Vitarelli—who is going to Montreal—as coach of the OHA senior "B" champs, and he should fit in fine. Former player and then coach of the Petes, Jim clashed several seasons ago with Omemee interests when the Petes were playing in Omemee, and he resigned as pilot. He's a smart hockey hombre and will have a good club to handle. Bob Graham is prexy and Cy Withers manager. All spots will be open on this squad and newcomers might phone 3950 or 2-2615 for information. Drills start around Oct. 1, along with some exhibitions, as soon as the artificial ice is ready, and they hope to be in OHA play by Nov. 15.

Toronto Edges Buffalo Bisons 6-3

By The Associated Press

Toronto's Maple Leafs today were still breathing in the battle for the final playoff spot in the International League playoffs.

Emory (Bubba) Church rekindled the Leafs' fading hopes Thursday night with a six-hit, 6-3 effort against the league-champion Buffalo Bisons.

The victory lifted the Leafs to within one game of fourth-place Montreal, which was beaten by Roachester, 7-5. The Royals have three games remaining, the Leafs two.

Toronto must win all three games to overtake Montreal and reach the fourth playoff slot. On that basis they would finish with 82 games won and 70 lost. If Montreal wins tonight and loses to Toronto in the Royals' last game Sunday, the Royals would end with 82-71.

Rochester plays at Montreal tonight. Buffalo plays Toronto tonight and tomorrow and then the Leafs go to Montreal for the windup encounter.

Church struck out 11 and gave up six hits in earning his 15th victory. Singles by Al Garbowski and Jonnhy Welaj in the first inning gave Toroto an early edge that they ever relinquished.

Three hits, three walks and an error in the third addded three more runs off Buffalo starter Bill McCahan. Leafs addded their final two counters in the seventh off Ernie Silverman, who replaced McCahan in the sixth.

The Rochester-Montreal tussle went 10 innings before the Red Wings pushed over the two winning runs. Cloyd Boyer, who relieved Jack Collum, was credited with his 15th victory. Clyde King went the distance to lose his seventh game. He has won 15.

Red Wings took an early lead by scoring three runs in the third inning. Royals rallied for five runs in the fourth.

Red Wings tied it up by bunching three hits for a pair of runs in the seventh. They won it in the 10th by grouping four hits, John Bucha driving in the winning run.

Dick Cole led Rochester hitters with four for five while Al Gionfriddo and Kermit Wahl each had three hits for Royals.

A contest of lesser importance saw Baltimore's seventh-place Orioles rally for three runs in the ninth to defeat Jersey City 5-3. A two-run double in the ninth by Maldovan was his sixth success. The Newark-Syracuse tilt was postponed by rain.

Westclox Evens Playoffs With Raybestos

Westclox evened the Industrial Fastball League finals at a game each last night when they pulled out a 5-4 win over Raybestos. The game was called in the seventh due to darkness, and the next tilt will start at six p.m. on Monday.

A throw by catcher Giles allowed Morin to count the winning run from first base. B. Guerin, who relieved McElroy in the fifth, held the Rays scoreless with fine ball till he hit a wild streak in the sixth. Murphy pitched four-hit ball for Raybestos after the first when three scored on five hits. McDonald, Quigley and Millar had two hits apiece for the Big Bens, while McDonald batted out a homer. F. O'Toole got three for three, and Parsons and T. Maudsley two for three each for the other side.

The diamond was wet but the fielding good on both sides. Casey and Heffernan both robbed Rays of hits, and Nichols of the latter team thefted Morin of a homer on a swell grab. Teams:

O'Halloran's Tie Electrics In Soccer Fray

CGE and O'Halloran's soccer teams battled to a 2-all tie in a league match Thursday evening at King Edward Park, before a meagre crowd. Fifteen minutes to finish and referee Buchan called the game owing to darkness. If CGE had won the game they would have taken the championship with 12 points against the Petes' 11 but this game will [illegible] to be replayed.

After five minutes play Attard scored on a pass from Strong right in front of the goal O'Halloran's went right back to find Byers missing the objective twice in a row by inches but he made amends a little later from a penalty kick through McCann. CGE handling the ball inside the dreaded area. Smart combination prevailed until a break away by M. Buchan ended in the latter driving the ball hard against a CGE player's foot to be diverted into the goal to make it 2-1 for O'Halloran's.

On resuming, CGE opened up with a steady attack to find their opponents meeting them solidly. Eventually CGE got the equalizer through Featherstone rattling home a left footer in below the cross-bar to make it 2-all. After 20 minutes of play, Referee James Buchan called the game owing to darkness.

O'Hallorans — J. Hutchinson, goal; A. Downer and C. B. Smart, full backs; D. Gray, E. C. Smith and H. Lathem, half backs; G. Langley, J. Byers, J. Duffus, C. Murduff and D. Buchan, forwards. Subs, T. Scott and M. Buchan.

CGE—J. Chamberlain, goal; S. McGann and S. Murduff, full backs; J. Titchell, H. Pyle and J. Craig, half backs; R. Strong, H. Steel, F. Attard, G. Featherstone, and J. Goodhew, forwards.

Referee, J. Adams; linesman, G. Downer.

Tigers' Sizzling Drive Gives Them Doubleheader

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Red Rolfe's Detroit Tigers, hottest club in baseball with a steaming 16 out of 18 fever, today seemed to have delivered the kayo wallop to the world champion Cleveland Indians.

The Tribe still has a mathematical chance at the American League pennant. So do the Tigers, but it's only a fleeting hope.

Detroit vaulted into a near tie with Cleveland for third place by sweeping a day-night doubleheader Thursday. Both are six games behind the idle New York Yankees but the Indians hold third by an .002 margin.

Despite the Tigers' sizzling drive and their eight game victory streak, the schedule is all against them. With only 16 games to play, 13 on the road, they trail the Yanks by 10 games on the all-important losing side of the ledger.

Cleveland's situation is almost as desperate. They play only three of 20 at home and trail New York by eight games on the losing side.

Rain washed out the New York-Boston game, turning their big series into a two-game set. The worst the Yanks can get is a split. Every day their 2½ game lead looks more comfortable.

Can't Lose

If the Yanks can take a deep breath, there is no such chance in the National. St. Louis Cards and Brooklyn Dodgers, separated by a single game, can't lose for winning.

In the last two weeks the Cards have taken 11 of 13. The Dodgers have copped 12 of 14 but have gained only a half game on the leaders.

Harry Brecheen gave the Cardinals an 8-0 shutout over Chicago Cubs. Brecheen banged out a double and two singles in the 14-hit assault on four Cub pitchers.

Brooklyn staggered home ahead of New York, 12-7, in a 3-hour-20-minute marathon that was delayed 35 minutes by rain in the first inning. Twenty-two walks only one short of the league record, were handed out in the wild affair.

The Brooks flattened Monty Kennedy with a six-run blast in the second inning. Duke Snider's three-run homer and Carl Furillo's homer with the bases empty in the fourth nailed it down.

Turns Back Boston

Russ Meyer turned back Boston with one hit as the Phillies dumped the Braves for their ninth straight loss, 3-1. The hit was a double by Connie Ryan in the first, scoring Sibby Sisti who had walked.

Cincinnati pushed over three runs in the ninth to give Herman Wehmeier a 9-7 decision over Pittsburgh's Vic Lombardi. A homer by Danny Litwhiler started the winning rally.

Newhouser gave Cleveland only one hit and faced but 28 batters in Detroit's afternoon 10-0 romp over Cleveland. Lou Boudreau spoiled Newhouser's no-hit bid with a seventh-inning single. Hal walked only one man.

Gray followed up Newhouser's fine job with a four-hitter at night to trim the Tribe's Bobby Feller 4-1. Feller hit a homer but it wasn't enough to save him from his 11th loss.

Philadelphia Athletics pulled out of a six-game losing tailspin to hit Washington Senators with a double loss, 9-1 and 8-4, in a twilight night doubleheader. Alex Kellner, grabbed victory No. 17 in the twilight half. Lou Brissie breezed home in the second.

Bob Kuzava stopped St. Louis Browns with five hits in pitching Chicago to a 3-1 victory. Ned Garver was the loser.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Guy Lombardo Thursday at Toronto won the Canadian National Exhibition Unlimited Canadian-class powerboat race after dropping the second heat to Sid Street of Kansas City, Mo.

Lombardo, a native of London, Ont., agreed to run his big Harmsworth class boat inside the breakwater when Lake Ontario became too choppy for his competitors in smaller boats. The orchestra leader had a tough time wheeling his boat within the 300-foot course enclosed by the wall.

Street, driving Z-Z-Zip II won the heat with about 250 yards to spare in the average time of 70.-58 miles an hour.

Lombardo won the first heat when he overtook Blitz II, driven by Willy Harper of Detroit. Harper's boat sprang a leak when he hit a piece of driftwood.

The race was run in two heats. Lombardo's showing in the first heat was good enough to overcome his placing in the second heat.

Lombardo scored his victory in the first heat at noon. Four hours later, he turned up in time for the second heat, having come straight from the big CNE dance tent where his Royal Canadians were playing. Still wearing dress shoes and the full dress suit he wears to lead his band, he climbed into Tempo VI.

In the first heat, he did the 10 one-mile laps in 10 minutes, 10.3 seconds. John Bogie of Saranac Lake, N. Y., in Blitz II was second; Bill Braden, Hamilton, in Ariel II, third; Maple Leaf, driven by Ed Rine of Belleville was fourth.

General Manager Art Ross of Boston Bruins said at Montreal Thursday the club plans to use Jack Gelineau as its regular goalie in the coming National Hockey League season.

Ross' statement followed an announcement from Boston of the sale of goalie Frankie Brimsek to the Chicago Black Hawks.

Gelineau, product of the McGill University hockey squad and an outstanding goalie in the intercollegiate play, signed last year with the National Hockey League Bruins and played four games for them when Brimsek was absent because of the death of his young son.

Ross attended Wednesday's semi-annual meeting of the NHL directors.

Albert E. Morel, 70, one of the capital's old-time hockey greats, died at Ottawa Wednesday.

He was a member of the Ottawa team that won the first championship of the Ontario Hockey Association in 1890-91. Other members of the team were P. D. Ross, former publisher of the Ottawa Journal who died recently, and Chauncey Halder Kirby, Kerr and Alf Smith.

Maple Leaf hockey team contracts for the coming season have been signed by Jimmy Thomson, Bill Barilko and Fleming Mackell, it was announced at Toronto Thursday. Gus Mortson is said to be ready to sign as soon as he arrives from his hometown of Kirkland Lake. Terms of the contracts were not revealed.

Philadelphia Phillies Thursday announced at Boston the recalling of outfielder Johnny Blatnik and John (Jocko) Thompson, the International League's top southpaw hurler, from their Toronto farm.

Blatnik and Thompson will report to the National League parent club as soon as their minor-league season ends. The International League's regular season closes Sunday, with Toronto standing only an outside chance of landing a berth in the playoffs

Johnny (Spider) Jorgensen of Brooklyn, and Eddie Stanky of Boston Braves were fined $25 each Thursday at New York for their altercation in the game at Ebbets Field Wednesday night.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, announced fining of the two infielders.

Jorgensen, Dodger third-baseman, and Stanky, second-baseman for the Braves, tied up in a brief scuffle on a pivot play during the fifth inning.

Sale Of Farms Booming In Manitoba

By The Canadian Press.

Higher standards of living, easier working conditions, and an over-all change in farm life is helping to boom Manitoba's rural real estate.

The bone-crushing, back-bending life of a farm is gradually disappearing, replaced by mechanical devices which take away most of the hardships.

This has led to a wholesale stream of persons into the buyers' market for farms. For the first time since 1930, it appears there are more buyers than sellers.

In some areas the price paid for farms has jumped 100 per cent in the last 10 years.

Although this strictly sellers' market exists only for top-quality improved land, real estate men and government authorities agree that for every farmer with average good land for sale, there is a sure buyer.

Farmland that in 1938 changed hands for $20.38 an acre in the Red River Valley now commands $45. The situation is the same throughout the province.

A survey of persons directly connected with agriculture in the province indicates prices will not drop sharply in the near future, either.

Report Caledon Man Shows Improvement

TORONTO Sept. 9 — (CP). — Hospital officials here to-day said the condition of Charles Aiken, 35, of Caledon, is "still satisfactory."

Aiken was mysteriously shot in the left shoulder while he rolled a cigarette before retiring for the night on his farm near Celadon, 35 miles north-west of Toronto. He was brought here suffering from shock and heavy loss of blood.

Wednesday night the police at Brampton said Mrs. Harrington, who lives on a farm behind where Aiken was shot, had been asked by a strange man for something to eat, and when she refused to give him anything he threatened her. She then called police but the man could not be found.

Ottawa Studies University Aid

OTTAWA Sept. 9 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Thursday night it might be possible for the Federal government to extend financial aid to universities without infringing on provincial rights.

He said the government was determined not to allow Canadian universities to "wilt and disappear" but he did not know how the national scholarship system could be set up "without giving the Federal government control over such provincial activities."

The Prime Minister made the statement in a 20-minute talk to delegates attending the annual meeting of the National Federation of Canadian University Students. The Federation yesterday prepared a brief for presentation to the Royal Commission on Arts and Sciences asking for a national system of scholarships.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government might be able to overcome the constitutional difficulties in the same way that its jurisdiction over the armed forces enabled it to help veterans returning to university.

"It may be possible to extend that idea by health grants, for instance," he said. "On those grounds we may be entitled to provide for the training of needed personnel and do things without them appearing as an invasion of the rights of others."

Dairy Wagon Horse Injured By Truck

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 9 (ENS)—A horse owned by the Glynnwood Farm Dairy was badly hurt in an accident which occurred on Queen St. in front of the Lakefield Boat Company premises at 5:45 a.m Thursday.

A truck, driven by George Baumhour of Crawford's Grove and owned by the Peterborough Lumber Company, was proceeding north when it collided with the milk wagon. The truck driver told Chief of Police Garnet Samis who investigated, that he did not see the wagon until he was right up to it. He swerved in an attempt to avoid the crash but was unsuccessful. The racks of the truck caught in the harness of the horse striking the horse on its hind quarters. Though badly hurt, the animal ran away, stopping at its next regular delivery point, the Lakefield Hotel.

The milk wagon was completely demolished. The truck was undamaged. Laverne Walton of Lakefield, driver of the milk wagon, was delivering milk to a customer at the time of the crash.

FAIRBANKS-MORSE Automatic OIL BURNER

The Fairbanks-Morse Automatic Oil Burner is of pleasing compact design and well-balanced in construction throughout. It is attractively finished in red and black enamel

Of particular note is the momentarily delayed start of supply of oil to the nozzle. This permits the motor to reach its full speed—and, therefore, the fan to deliver full volume of air—free from all pumping load. This feature protects the motor and contributes to the smooth, efficient operation of the Burner. The direct, flexible coupling which drives this unit, absorbs all motor noise and torque vibration.

Foreign Quotas Big Blow To Film Industry

By ELLIS ARNALL

(Editor's Note: Ellis Arnall, president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers, is a political Liberal who, as attorney-general and governor of Georgia, established a spectacular reputation for trust-busting—a record he seeks to perpetuate in the motion picture industry.)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept 9—(AP)—The American motion picture industry stands today at the crossroads. It finds itself confronted by many troublesome and baffling problems—but they can and they will be solved and overcome.

The producer is the key man in the industry. When he makes profits from the production of pictures he employs actors, writers, directors, artists, composers, technicians and all those essential workers so necessary to motion picture production. The distributors and exhibitors are dependent upon the producer for finished product.

Today many producers are losing money and are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain financing for motion-picture production.

Restrictions

Unfair, discriminatory and unreasonable quotas and restrictions against the foreign exhibition of American-producer motion pictures have steadily mushroomed throughout the world until the important income from the foreign market has been drastically curtailed.

The foreign situation calls for aggressive and determined action on the part of the United States government. All negotiations with foreign motion picture industry should be handled at government level. The United States government should see to it that unreasonable quotas on playing time and all unjust currency restrictions imposed on the American motion picture industry by foreign governments are eliminated. The American producers badly need this foreign income.

The government needs the invaluable assistance of American motion pictures in the ideological contest now raging with Communism. American motion pictures can effectively aid in selling democracy to the world.

Find Missing Children

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (CP) — Three small hikers and a dog roamed Northeast Toronto for eight hours Thursday before they were hailed by a police car crew, three miles from their homes. Thomas Perrie, 3, Sandy Fleet, 4, and Judy Fleet, 3, left their homes at 10 a.m. Their parents, not worried at first since the three had often played in nearby Riverdale Park, did not notify police until late afternoon.

F.B.I. After Bells

DETROIT, Sept. 9 (CP)—Federal officers Thursday night were looking for Canadians whom Detroit's FBI chief, William Carlson, believes are responsible for passing at least six counterfeit $10 Canadian bank notes here. Three of the bogus bills were passed at a downtown bar Wednesday. The other bills were discovered at

Evacuate Saw Quietly

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 9 (CP)—Seventy mental patients Thursday evacuated the Hollywood Sanitorium without disorder when fire swept the three-storey structure. The fact that no panic occurred was termed "astonishing" by a fire department lieutenant. The private hospital caters mainly to persons suffering from extreme alcoholism.

Want More Members

WHITBY, Sept. 9 (CP)—Plans for increasing church membership in rural areas are to be discussed at a two-day conference on evangelism which started here Thursday. Present are 132 United Church of Canada ministers and laymen representing the conferences of Toronto, Hamilton, London, Kingston and Bay of Quinte.

DELEGATES ARRIVE—Prominent Britons disembarked at Montreal on their way to the British Commonwealth Relations conference at Bigwin Inn, Ont. Water Services In Smith Twp.

Estimates of cost of water services on Fairbairn and Bellevue Streets on the Smith township border of the city, will be prepared by Ross L. Dobbin of the Utilities Commission as preliminary information for the interested residents.

Mr. Dobbin told Smith council Tuesday the Commission would do the work and supply the water, but not before next spring. He agreed to submit estimates at an early date for a water main on Fairbairn Street from Bellevue St. to Highland Road, also for Bennett St., and another for Bellevue and Bennett Streets from Barnado Ave. to Chemong Road.

With that information, the property owners will be in a position to decide whether they wish to proceed with the projects.

Geo. Sorenson Finds Norway Poor After War

Many Canadians were born in another country and almost all of them dream of going home some time, to visit or stay. Not many ever make it.

This summer George Sorenson, who came from Norway, and his wife who came from Scotland, visited both their homes. And they did some extra travelling as well.

They made a circuit from Montreal to Scotland, to Norway, to Holland, to Scotland and back to Montreal.

Thirty-eight years ago George Sorenson left his home town of Arendal, not far from Oslo and not far from the village where the great nineteenth century realist playwright and philosopher Henrich Ibsen lived. For about 10 years he tried to make a living in western Canada, then in the United States.

He farmed in western Canada four years before being "dried out" by drought and coming to Peterborough in 1925. From then on he concentrated on building up a florist business and being married.

He and Mrs. Sorenson saw all they could while they visited. Mrs. Sorenson saw her family and relatives in Glasgow again and they toured the country seeing all the famous lochs and cities.

Then, for the first time, they wick to Oslo, Norway They liked wick to Oslo, Norway. They like it fine. Neither was air sick on the trip which took them less than three hours.

Mr. Sorenson's two brothers were at the Oslo airport to meet them. One brother lived in Oslo; the other continued in the old town in which they were all born.

Just as it was in Canada, the summer in Norway was very dry. In the four weeks they were there, no rain fell. Mr. Sorenson thinks the country is very poor. Food and clothing are still rationed and it is all expensive. A restaurant meal which used to cost about one kronin, now costs more than 12 times that amount and it wasn't a very good meal.

It took Mr. Sorenson about two days to re-learn his old language, but then he was all right again. They toured much of the countryside by car, while most of the population got about on bicycle, the traditional way of travelling. Whole families go off for a day in the country by bicycle.

From Norway, the Sorensons flew again to Holland where they visited the family from which Mr. Sorenson has bought many tulip bulbs and shrubs. The family and its ancestors had been carrying on the business for about 300 years.

An Industrious People

Mr. Sorenson said the Dutch were an amazingly industrious people. They are nearly back to normal after more than four years German occupation. The 25,000 acres which were flooded by the Germans as they evacuated in front of the Canadian army, have all been reclaimed and are now in production.

Land which was thought would be useless for about ten years after the flooding by salt water, was saved because the dikes were quickly repaired and the sea water drained off immediately. Now that land is producing 70 bushels an acre of wheat and providing pasture for cattle.

War Dead Remembered

Mr. Sorenson was greatly impressed by the way in which the Canadian army cemetery near the German border is being beautifully kept. Inscribed marble headstones have replaced the wooden crosses which were put up temporarily. In front of the cemetery, a park is being laid out with two chapels on either side of the entrance to the cemetery.

After eight days in Holland in which the Sorensons travelled about 1,500 miles in a new Buick just bought by their hosts, they flew back to Scotland.

Here they spent another two weeks visiting Mrs. Sorenson's family and Scotland. On Aug. 29 they sailed and arrived at Montreal about a week later.

Although they have had a lot of travelling this summer, it hasn't been too much. But one thing they have decided.

Next time we go all the way by air, Mr. Sorenson said enthusiastically.

TWO BASS ON ONE PLUG

Catching two bass on a single plug was the feat achieved this week by Henri Odiau of Toronto. Fishing on the Bay of Quinte near Belleville with a three-hook plug, Odiau hooked a bass. On the way to the boat, a second hook snagged another bass. He landed both fish—one weighing four pounds and the other 2½ pounds.

Public School Attendance Up 1,400 In Ten Years

Enrolment at the 10 Peterborough public schools will go over the 4,000-mark, K. S. Wightman told members of the Board of Education Thursday night.

As of Thursday there was a total of 3,991, 200 more than at the beginning of September last year. The figure for PCVS is 1,245, or 95 greater than last September.

The superintendent reported that Central, Park Hill and May's all show a decrease in enrolment over last year. In spite of smaller numbers, May's is overcrowded in Grade 1. The change at Park Hill is slight.

All the other schools have an increased enrolment.

As an indication of the growth of the south end of the city he pointed out that Confederation school has now the fourth largest attendance.

Classes in Grove school are still small and Mr. Wightman said he thinks it may be possible to transfer to it some of the children from Confederation.

Because of the last-minute resignations the staff is without any full-time supply teachers and he said he hoped to be able to obtain these at the end of the year.

Additional kindergarten help is also needed. Prince of Wales kindergarten has an enrolment of 83 and there is an assistant teacher for half time only. A second teacher is required full time. Queen Mary and Confederation have an enrolment of 70 each.

Increase of 95

At PCVS 789 students are enrolled in the academic course and 456 in the vocational—a total of 95 more than last year.

The superintendent said that Grade 9 classes are running in numbers from 42 to 44, more than the class rooms can comfortably accommodate. The only other crowded grade is Grade II Industrial with 49 students. High Grade 9 enrolment is due to the influx of students from the Suburban High School Area.

G. W. Craw stated that 10 years ago public school attendance was only 2,600. In that time the Board has acquired through building or annexation a total of 28 class rooms. On the basis of 40 pupils per class room he contended the Board had not kept apace with its building program.

In contrast PCVS attendance 10 years ago is not much below the present figure. In 1939 1,168 were enrolled. Reason for this, Mr. Craw said, was that even then a large number of students from outside the city was attending and that students entering PCVS this year were what are "depression year babies."

Dairy Herd Plan To Be Explained

Scope and terms of the dairy herd improvement plan will be explained by C. C. Morrow of the Livestock Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, at a meeting in the office of Frank C. Paterson Monday night, September 12.

Seven applications for membership are already on Mr. Paterson's file. Three others are assured, but the total required is 26 to proceed with the policy in this county.

"If sufficient members are obtained, we could have a group operating by November 1," Mr. Paterson said today. "Membership is entirely up to farmers themselves, and this is an opportunity that should not be let pass."

Gets His Request For Ten Days Jail

A man who asked for 10 days in jail got just that in Police Court Friday morning from Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, but decided he did not want quite that much when he got it.

Norman A. Woods, who has been living in Toronto, appeared on a charge of vagrancy. Chief Constable John Thompson told the Magistrate, Woods had come into the police station the other night and asked for lodging. Woods was reported to have said he had been on a drunk and asked for 10 days in jail to get straightened away.

"We are willing to oblige you if we can," Magistrate Baxter said, "Ten days in jail."

"Could I have it dated back to September 7?" Woods asked.

"You asked for 10 days, and now you have got it," the Magistrate answered.

Mistake Made Case Dismissed

A mistake in the information given in a charge resulted in the charge being dismissed by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, in police court Friday morning.

Gregory Scollard, R.R. 9, Peterborough, was charged with failing to stop on Parkhill Rd. at the through street Armour Rd. The street names should have been reversed.

All the evidence given by Constable W. S. Fife and crown witness John H. Paull, 343 Rubidge St., referred to Scollard's not stopping for the stop sign on Armour Rd. before crossing Parkhill Rd.

The charge had been laid as a result of an accident at 1.50 a.m. Aug. 20 in which the Scollard car and Paull collided and two passengers in the Scollard car were slightly injured.

Defending Scollard, T. J. Carley, K.C., said it was of no importance in this particular case whether or not Scollard had stopped because the crown had not proved the stop sign was placed according to Department of Highways regulations and it was not brought up whether Parkhill Rd. was a through street according to provincial regulations or municipal bylaw.

In any case he argued, the law said that a car must stop before crossing the crosswalk which was defined as a projection between sidewalks across the street. On the ground that there were no sidewalks on Parkhill and therefore there could be no crosswalk, Scollard could not be found guilty of breaking the law by entering the intersection without stopping.

Magistrate Baxter said, in this particular case, it didn't matter. The information on the charge was wrong and he dismissed the charge.

Crown In Search Of Theft Evidence

Charges of theft against James McGrath and Gordon Thompson, both of 846 St. Marys Street, were withdrawn by Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw in the Police Court on Friday morning, but he said the Crown may want to lay charges later if more evidence is forthcoming.

The two men had been charged with theft from the residence of Dennis J. Perdue in Ennismore Township between October 15, 1948, and May 9, 1949

W. C. Grant, the two men's lawyer, said the Crown should either go ahead with the trial, or the charges should be dismissed. Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, said the charges could be withdrawn.

Big Muskies Bite For U.S. Tourists

Two American families on vacation at Lakefield found good fishing at Chemong Lake in the past few days. Jud Miner of Williamsville, NY, landed a 23½ pound maskinonge Thursday at Lower Chemong Lake. He and his father had been staying at Elliott's Fishing Lodge. Their guide was Bobby Jacobs, and the fish was certified by Neil Blewett of Selwyn.

Eighteen and 15 pound muskies were landed earlier at Chemong Lake by Dwight Cappell and his father Carl Cappell, of Pittsburg.

Fathers Promise Boys Will Pay Window Repairs

Sequel to the window smashing at Confederation and Prince of Wales schools over the Labor Day week-end came Thursday night when four fathers of the 18 culprits appeared before the Board of Education.

Admitting responsibility for their children's depredations (16 boys and two girls), the shamefaced parents asked the Board not to take the offenders into court, but accept restitution.

Total damage, plus cost of labor in replacing the 74 windows at Confederation, would come to as much as $250 Superintendent of Schools K. S. Wightman stated.

Some of the larger panes cost at least $2 he said.

The spokesman of the quartet stated he thought it would be desirable to keep the children's names out of court, but he contended "justice must be done."

Initiative for the vandalism probably rested with three or four, he thought, although all were guilty as a result of their participation.

There is a hangout for boys in the south end of the city, he stated, and while it was not directly the concern of the Board, he thought it should know of this condition.

When asked by G. W. Craw if they would accept the responsibility for collecting the required money the spokesman said he would, but he would like a period of time to do so—perhaps two weeks.

"This board has to spend hundreds of dollars every year repairing broken windows," said Mr. Craw. "In the end it is all a charge against the ratepayers. However, I'd like to see these gentlemen given the chance to make good the damage."

Credit To Fathers

Arthur Pitchford, another member of the Board, said: "I think it is a credit to these gentlemen that they came to the Board tonight and offered to make restitution. It shows that while an element of rowdyism exists there are still people who appreciate the beautiful school that has been built in the south end. If the boys pay the expenses that should stay in their minds for a long time."

Superintendent of Schools K. S. Wightman asked if the parents present could give any assurance that the other 14 would also agree to the voluntary offers of restitution.

The four-man delegation assured him that on the basis of their interviews with parents of six guilty boys they were sure the remainder would contribute their share.

As one of them stated, "I certainly intend that my son will pay for his share himself."

All four of the delegates told the Board they felt as indignant about this outburst of vandalism as the Board itself.

The discussion concluded with a motion that no action be taken by the Board until the next regular meeting on October 13. In the meantime it would be seen what measures would be taken by the parents.

TWO ASSISTANT PROS.

Alec Watson of the Peterborough Club and Bruce Meredith of Kawartha will compete Monday in the Canadian assistant golf pros' tournament in Toronto. The competition, 36 holes, will be staged at the Toronto Golf Club, drawing entries from many Canadian clubs.

DONALD KENNEDY, recently appointed organist and choirmaster at Trinity United Church. He met the choir for the first time on Thursday, when weekly practices were resumed.

Trinity Church Choir Welcomes Donald Kennedy

Donald Kennedy, B.A., (Honor Music) Mus. Bac., ATCM, the new organist and choir master at Trinity United Church, was welcomed by the choir last night at a social gathering after the first choir practice. He succeeds Miss Mabel Clarry who retired this summer.

A newcomer to Peterborough, Mr. Kennedy is from Toronto. At the age of 30 he has already been both student and teacher. At Victoria College University of Toronto, he was among the first to take the arts course in music, from which he graduated with a B. A. (Honors) degree.

After graduating Mr. Kennedy went to Ontario College of Education and taught at Western Technical School, Toronto, for two years. Then he went back to university to take the Bachelor of Music degree. From there he joined the staff of Hamilton Conservatory of Music and during that period, addressed the "Y" So-Ed class on music appreciation. Last summer he attended a summer school at Western University under Ernest White and Dr. Harvey Robb.

Mr. Kennedy has been in charge of music at two churches prior to coming to Peterborough. At first he was at St. Clair Ave. Baptist Church, Toronto, and later at Trinity United Church, Grimsby.

In addition to playing the church organ and directing the choir, Mr. Kennedy plans to open a studio in the city. Although he is already aware of the acute shortage of accommodation here, he has not allowed this to daunt his hopes of finding a combined bachelor apartment and studio. He will teach the organ, piano, singing and theory.

Mr. Kennedy's hobbies are oil painting and photography. In recent years he has had little time to devote to either, but hopes to be able to pursue them both in Peterborough.

North Claims Highway Greatest Need

By NICK NICKELS

SUDBURY, Sept. 9 — (ENS) Members of the legislature on the final day of their tour of Northern Ontario heard the same story when they reached the Nickel City on Thursday that they had heard at the Soo, Atikokan, Fort Frances and Sioux Lookout. Sudbury needed a first class highway connecting it with Sault Ste. Marie according to Chamber of Commerce president G. F. O'Reilly who acted as chairman at a civic dinner.

Minister of Labour Mr. Hon. Charles Daley replied to the speech and thanked the city for its hospitality on behalf of the members of the provincial government. He referred to the fabulous riches produced in Sudbury by the International Nickel Company which produced 75 per cent of the world's nickel. Campbell Calder Liberal M.P.P., London said that the visit by members arranged during the afternoon by officials of INCO dwarfed everything else they had seen on the tour.

INCO employs 11,000 people, mills, doasts and treats 25,000 tons of ore every day to produce 13 different metals. The three 500 foot fume stacks dominate the skyline of the city and release sulphur fumes at such a height that they are dissipated before reaching the ground several miles away. The operation is constructed on this gigantic scale in all its departments. Thirty-four rod and grinding mills are housed in a building one-quarter of a mile long while reverborator and convertor furnaces are installed in equally gigantic buildings. The visitors watched these various operations with amazement as large streams of molten slag and metal were poured into long trains of pot cars.

Mother of Bethany Woman Very Active At Age 94

BETHANY, Sept. 9—(ENS)—Mrs. Grace Smith, of Ingersoll, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. James McKinnon. Before coming here she celebrated her 94th birthday on August 19. She is well known in Bethany, visiting here each summer with her daughter and granddaughters. While here she attended a ball game and was out to dinner with friends almost every day.

In celebration of her birthday, The Ingersoll Tribune carried her picture on the front page, describing her activities through the years. She was born in 1855 and has lived in Ingersoll vicinity all her life. Her husband, John C. Smith, died in 1911 and in 1913 she went to live with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bailey, on their farm at Cemetery Lake. She helps her daughter with the household tasks. Mrs. Bailey tells how her mother, not liking the way a certain vine on the house was growing, got up early one morning this summer and cut it down before anyone knew about it. She was a dressmaker in her younger days, spending a year learning the trade, and her first job netted her $1.00 a week. "The old days were better," she thinks. "Everyone was happier then. There was a lot more wholesome fun, not so much quarelling and grabbing after each other's money."

Never Idle

Mrs. Smith's fingers are never idle . . . perhaps that's the reason for her charming disposition . . . she doesn't take time to grumble. While in Bethany she was busy tatting lace, using an intricate pattern for insertion in a pair of sheets and pillow cases. Mrs. Smith says she has enjoyed every minute of her life, and her happy, contented face bears out the statement. Her special recipe for a contented old age is 'plenty of hard work, and throw all your worries over your shoulder."

Mrs. Smith and her husband had six children, four of whom are still living, J. J. Smith in Ingersoll, Homer in Toronto, Mrs. Bailey at Ingersoll, and Mrs. James McKinnon in Bethany. There are eleven grandchildren, five of whom are Mrs. McKinnon's daughters: Mrs. Cecil McGill (Jean), Vancouver; Mrs. Bruce Ryley (Helen), Bethany; Mrs. G. E. Staples (Marion), Lakefield; Miss Muriel McKinnon, Toronto, and Miss Evelyn McKinnon, Montreal. There are eight great grandchildren; Harry and Robert Ryley, John and Ronald Jackson, Bethany; Terrence and Jeanette Staples, Lakefield; Joyce and Joan McGill, Vancouver; also one great great grandson, two years old.

Yugoslavia Gets 20 Million Loan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—The United States Thursday loaned $20,000,000 to Yugoslavia.

The Export-Import Bank announced the first direct credit granted to Premier Tito's government since his break with Moscow some 15 months ago. It is part of an American effort to strengthen Tito's hand in his quarrel with Stalin.

The Yugoslav credit came with unusual speed. The disclosure that Tito's government had made formal application for a loan was made less than two weeks ago.

The decision made clear the present trend of United States policy at a time of critical tension between the Tito regime and the Kremlin-dominated Cominform.

Car Spins Round As Vehicles Collide

Two cars collided at the corner of Hunter and Stewart Sts., at 5.20 p.m. Thursday when the driver of one, Thomas Ferguson, 746 Aylmer St., said he started across the intersection after thinking the street was clear.

Constable D. S. Mackay reported Lorne Twomey, R.R. 2, Ennismore, was driving east on Hunter St. As he crossed the Stewart St. intersection he collided with the Ferguson car.

Ferguson had been travelling north on Stewart. He told Constable Mackay he stopped at the stop sign and then started across thinking th estreet was clear.

The Twomey car struck Ferguson's car near the left rear corner, spinning it completely around. Both cars received crushed fenders with total damage estimated at about $55.

Priest Honored On Departure For New Parish

MARMORA Sept. 9 (ENS) — The September meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart School Wednesday evening. It was a special occasion, in view of the fact that the spiritual director for the last 11 years, Very Rev. H. J. Farrell, is leaving in the near future to become the Parish Priest at Perth. The president, Mrs. Chas. Cook presided.

One minute's silence was observed in memory of the late [illegible] since the last meeting.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Carl Heath and Mrs. Charles Crawford reported for social welfare. Miss Mary Hughes reported for the sewing club and displayed two quilts in the making which will be ready for quilting soon. One, an embroidered butterfly quilt, was donated by Mrs. B. Gaffney and Mrs. J. Freeman. Miss Rose Johnston reported that a box of used clothing was ready to ship to needy families in the western missions. She asked the members to bring in used postage stamps.

Plan Regional Meeting

A discussion was held regarding arrangements for the regional meeting to be held in the Town Hall, Marmora on September 14. Arrangements were made for operating a booth on Fair day.

Father Farrell then addressed the meeting. He spoke feelingly of leaving Sacred Heart Parish, and lauded the friendliness and the co-operation he had always received from them. He said he would always have fond memories of his sojourn in Marmora and he asked for his successor, Rev. J. A. O'Neill, the same co-operation which had always been extended to him.

Mrs. Cook then read an address and Father Farrell was presented with a chair by Mrs. Carl Heath, for which he expressed his thanks and appreciation.

John Shannon was called forward and presented with the five dollar prize donated by the league each year to the pupil in the parish receiving the highest marks in the Entrance examination. The presentation was made by his mother, Mrs. Donald Shannon, convener of education, and John gratefully expressed his thanks.

The president asked Mrs. Elizabeth Reid and Mrs. William Forestell to visit the sick and shutins for the coming month.

Rev. T. G. Husser Inducted In Millbrook-Cavan Charge

MILLBROOK, Sept. 9 (ENS)—In St. Andrew's Church on Wednesday evening before a large gathering composed of members of both the Millbrook and Cavan congregations as well as ministers and members from other churches of the village, Rev. T. Garnett Husser, B.A., B.D., was inducted into his new charge, the Millbrook - Cavan circuit of the United Church of Canada.

Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, of Trinity Church, Peterborough, chairman of the presbytery, presided. The scripture lesson was read by Rev. George Murray of Keene. A choir composed of both members occupied the choir loft wearing the new mortar boards, gift of Millbrook W.A., for the first time.

The Offertory, "Hymn of Devotion," by Schuler, was played by Miss E. Hetherington organist of St. Andrew's. Mrs. Laurence Winslow sang a solo, "The Holy Hour."

Preaches Sermon

The sermon was preached by Rev. Bernard Heywood of Bailieboro who took as his theme Bible verse about "treasures hidden in earthen vessels."

Rev. Dr. Gordon then proceeded with the induction service, after bringing Mr. Husser to the front.

Rev. Mr. Heywood spoke a few words of advice to minister and congregation. He said a minister's task was not an easy one, that he must remember that he was the servant, not just of one congregation, but of God. Visiting in the homes and becoming acquainted with all members of the family and their problems was very important, and yet the minister must also take much time for study and for communion with the Divine. The congregation, too, must remember that they are coworkers with God. They must not leave the front line without reinforcements.

Dr. Gordon then installed Rev. Mr. Husser in his new pulpit and Mr. Husser pronounced the benediction.

Family Introduced

Dr. Gordon asked Rev. Mr. Husser to bring his wife and family, Marie Claire, 13, Marilyn, 12, Muriel May 8, and Pamela 5 to the front and to introduce them to the congregation.

Helen Ingham on behalf of the new charge, presented Mrs. Husser with a bouquet of gladioli.

Other clergy attending the service were: Rev. F. W. Craik of St. James, Peterborough; Rev. C. MacLean of St. Thomas and Rev. W. Patterson of Grace Church.

A social hour followed in the Sunday School rooms. In the receiving line were Mrs. A. Payne, president of the Millbrook WA, Mrs. W. Armitage, president of the Cavan WA; and Mrs. W. E. Ball president of the Millbrook WMS. Mrs. P. I. Bentley of Millbrook and Mrs. Albert Tinney of Cavan poured tea. Miss Augusta Clarry supplied music at the piano. Other tea assistants were Mrs. M. Carr, and Mrs. Leslie Pritchard of Cavan; and Mrs. P. Stinson, Mrs. H. R. Edmunds, Miss J. Sutton, Mrs Fred Winslow, Mrs. Laurence Winslow, Mrs. M. Ball, and Miss Jean Burnham of Millbrook.

Many Tourists Visit Cobourg Bureau

COBOURG, Sept. 9 (ENS). — Effective tomorrow, the tourist office operated by the Chamber of Commerce will revert to regular office hours. Throughout July and August the office was open from 8 am. until 11 p.m. to accommodate tourists seeking information and reservations. Until the tourist season resumes next year, the office hours will be from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Part of the Chamber of Commerce offices, the tourist development division has handled many inquiries during the past summer. The expenditures of this office have been more than the amount received from the operators in the tourist business who belong to this particular section of the Chamber of Commerce.

The sum of $319 was spent in advertising in various Ontario papers; $200 was spent for the new brochure of the Northumberland County tourist area; and $250 for the salaries of extra help during the long hours in which the office was open during the summer.

The office has now finished its fourth year of operation and in the last three years has kept a register of those passing through. This now shows more than 10,000 names, representing inquiries or guests staying overnight. One of the important changes which has taken place as far as Cobourg is concerned is that this summer 25 new cabins were added to the town's accommodations All these are along the highway. The total number sent to hotels, cabins, etc., during the summer this year was 1,765. Last year the total was 1,634.

Commission Resumes Securities Jurisdiction

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (CP)—The Ontario Securities Commission has resumed jurisdiction over the extent of offerings of securities made in the United States and other points outside Ontario.

Since Jan. 28 this control has been in the hands of the Broker-Dealers' Association of Ontario.

A notice from the Securities Commission advises members of the association that "the experiment has not proved satisfactory and it no wis mutually agreed that the Commission should again exercise its jurisdiction. . . At least until such time as your Association is able to offer some fair and sound solution to the problem."

The gist of the decision, according to the notice, is that a dealer who devotes his efforts almost entirely to making sales outside Ontario should not enjoy the right of registration.

Baptist Group Files Val d'Or Protest

KITCHENER, Sept. 9 (CP) — The Fellowship of Independent Baptist Churches of Canada, representing almost 100 churches and missions, Thursday sent a message of protest to Val d'Or, Que., against the arrest and jailing of ministers and missionaries there.

Rev. Leander Roblin, Moderator of the Fellowship, said he had sent a telegram on behalf of the organization to the mayor of the mining town in northwestern Quebec.

He said the message informed the mayor Baptist people had learned with dismay of the arrest and imprisonment of Val d'Or pastors and people for gospel preaching in the streets.

The message urged the mayor to use his authority to see that "these Baptists are released immediately and religious liberty granted."

Ont. Tobacco Worker Kidnapped, Robbed

CAYUGA, Ont., Sept. 9 (CP) — Three men in an automobile on Thurday night abducted a tobacco worker from Montreal and took $300 from his pockets before setting him free three miles north of Cayuga.

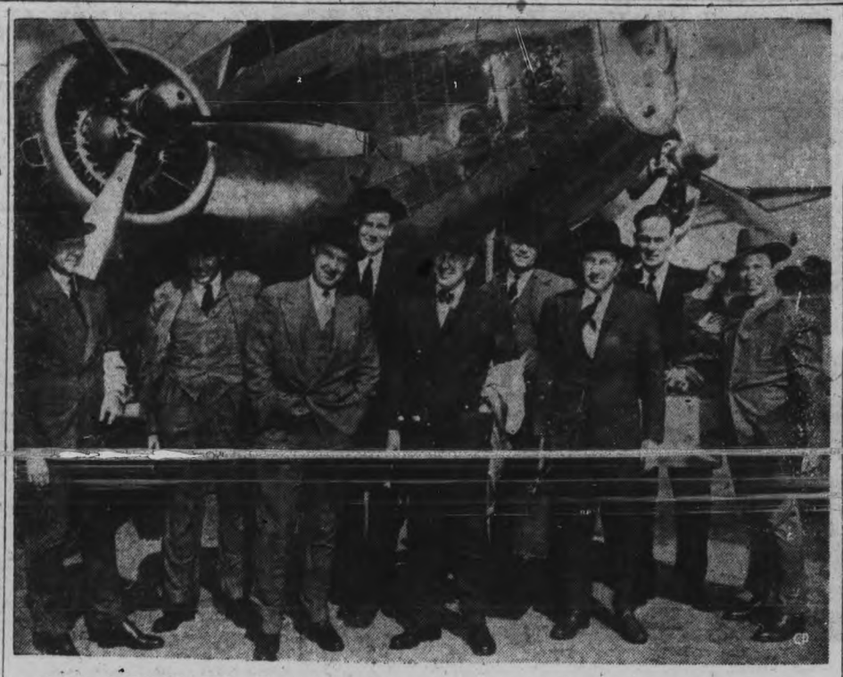
The three men chased him about 100 yards and overtook him stealing the $300 from his pockets

Charge Dismissed Of Failing To Report

A charge of failing to report an accident against Oliver Pearson, Euclid Ave., was dismissed by Magistrate E. A. Gee, in police court Thursday morning.



The charge was dismissed on the grounds that the damage did not exceed $50. Pearson produced repair bills which totalled $12.90. He said the total cost, including his time spent repairing the panel truck would be about $18.

Constable A. Dalton testified he had seen a deserted panel truck which was later traced to Pearson, smashed against a tree on Water St. at the north end about seven a.m. July 31. He said the whole front of the car was smashed in.

Constable Dalton had the car towed to a nearby garage. When Pearson went into the garage about 10 a.m. the same morning, he was asked to get in touch with the police.

The police officer testified that Pearson had told him he didn't think he had to report an accident like that.

Pearson's lawyer, W. J. Arthur Fair, KC, said that at three a.m. when the accident occurred, there was no place open from which a man could phone to report an accident.

Doctors Locate Personality Seat In Brain

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

DENVER, Sept. 9. — (AP).—Psychologists and surgeons, teamed together, have located the seat of human personality, in the brain, just behind your forehead.

That is the place which causes you to be sympathetic. There resides the feeling of shame. There ambition starts.

This personality seat is tandem, one on each side of the head. Both seats are inside the areas known as prefrontal lobes. These controls were found by studies of personality changes in persons who had these brain areas disconnected from the rest of their grey matter, in operations to cure bad cases of mental illness, or to stop unbearable pain.

The report was made by Mary Frances Robinson, Walter Freeman, M.D., and James W. Watts, M.D., of George Washington University to the American Psychological Association Thursday. The amount of surgery varies with severity of mental case, and the personality changes are more numerous the greater the extent of the surgery.

But all persons studied lost the ability for sympathetic understanding of others. Where surgery was extensive, they lost the sense of shame. They were impervious to criticism. They became careless and slovenly in appearance. They had bigger appetites for food and sex. In all cases they mostly lost the ambition to plan ahead.

Northern Ontario Requires More Diversified Industry

By NICK NICKELS

SUDBURY, Sept. 8.—(ENS). — It was the opinion of the Hon. Charles Daley, Minister of Labor at a civic gathering for the Toronto members of the Legislature at Kirkland Lake on Wednesday evening that the north needed more diversified industry. The present gold mining situation with high operating costs and taxation is cutting present output in the Kirkland camp to 50 per cent of its capacity with no other industries than mining to take up the employment slack. He suggested that government might do well to consider a plan of subsidizing other industries in the north to counteract this situation.

He was replied to by Chairman and Mayoress Anne Shipley, who pointed out that this had been tried by the municipalities in her area with no results due to a high taxation rate which made such arrangements impossible. She stated that the present situation of the Federal government levying taxes on gold mines should be corrected to the point where province should collect taxes, which in turn would enable northern municipalities to receive more substantial grants for the welfare and improvement of their communities.

TURNING THE PAGES OF "CANADA UNLIMITED"

The small circle of Micmac Indians on Isle de St. Croix listened intently to Marc Lescarbot. They were learning to read and write. The year was 1606—Lescarbot was Canada's first teacher.

In 1632, Canada's first college was started at Port Royal. A Huron Indian, Louis Vincent Sabatannen, was the first Canadian to receive a Bachelor of Arts degree. He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1781.

At Quebec in 1829, students paid $5 a year for tuition—board cost $80. Teachers received an average of $90 a year.

Education in Canada has grown with rapid strides. Now over one hundred and fifty thousand Canadians attend universities and colleges throughout the country. The future of the Canadian people goes hand in hand with pursuit of knowledge. Education increases opportunity. Yes, there's room to grow—in Canada Unlimited.

Omemee WMS Urges Study Of Mission Work

OMEMEE, Sept. 9 (ENS) — The Trinity United Church WMS with Mrs. R. Clifford's group in charge met Wednesday in the church basement for their first regular meeting since June.

The theme was "Advance". The new study book, "Growing With the Years", was introduced by means of a playlet which was presented by Mrs. R. Brooks, Mrs. J. Hough, Mrs. S. Moyer and Mrs. Evelyn McPhee.

Mrs. [illegible] Connell and Miss [illegible] Race played a piano duet. Mrs. Poast led in prayer, and the theme, hymn of the Dominion Board of 1949 was used.

Past President Mrs. V. Lang delivered the message from the president on 'Advance'. She spoke of the growing desire among Christians of different denominations to work together for a common cause and the hope of further union among the churches. Mrs. Lang recommended a more comprehensive study of the missionary activities of the church as an incentive to greater interest and effort.

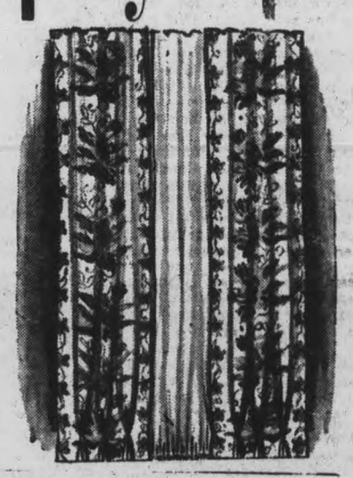
1,200 Workers Idle In Rubber Plant Row

KITCHENER, Sept. 9 (CP) — Some 1,200 employees of the Dominion Rubber Company remained idle Thursday because workers in the press room, where tires are cured, objected to working with one of the number.

Both company and union—Local 80 of the United Rubber Workers of America (CIO)—say the dispute hinges on the employment of the one man. Neither side sees any prospect of settlement.



The press room crew quit work Wednesday and that action brought the plant to a standstill. They held meetings Wednesday and Thursday and a union mass meeting is scheduled for today.

A. W. Hopton, company vice-president, said the difficulty arose from a union demand that the company dismiss one of the press room men who had been suspended from union membership.

Churches' Anniversaries Recall Details Of Early-Life In Marmora

MARMORA, Sept. 9 (ENS — In view of the fact that the 75th anniversaries of both St. Paul's and St. Andrew's Churches of Marmora occur this year, some interesting details of the 1870's relating to Marmora, as given in a letter by Edward Wilkinson of Geyserville, Calif.

Mr. Wilkinson mentioned that he came to Marmora from England with his father, a brother and two sisters in 1870 and continues: "Marmora was just a little village sustained through the lumber industry, for the country was heavily timbered with pine, hemlock and balsam and the tamarac." Included in his reference to the establishment of the Marmora Iron Works, much of which has been placed on record by other writers, is the statement not furnished by others that, " a road was cut and built through the primeval forest to Kingston, from which town all the necessary requirements were hauled with oxen to Marmora."

Inscription Revealed

He mentioned the old Roman Catholic Church on the west bank of Crowe River and said that as a youth he scraped the moss from one of the tombstones promiscuously scattered about to read the inscription:

"Sacred to the memory of Margaret Hughes, who departed this life 15th Aug., 1828, aged 41 years.

Requiescat et Pace."

He was led to believe that this stone was erected by her brother, Patrick Hughes.

Mr. Wilkinson mentioned that he attended service in the old stone church in 1874 and that shortly afterwards a new brick church was built in the rear of the lower end of the town (later destroyed by fire). With the erection of the brick church, "the old building became deserted and the walls of the interior became covered with the autographs of the various visitors."

Company Residence

Continuing, Mr. Wilkinson wrote: "The head of the Marmora Iron Company at this time was Roger Bates, who resided in Blairton. The stone hotel which sides on the Madoc road (the site of the present Royal Hotel) was the residence of the heads of the company and in this building were the offices.

A stone building on the west of the street toward the lower end of the town (now identified as the residence of John Clairmont) was a stable used for the care of the oxen. A stone building (now in ruins) on the east of the river below the rapids was the old schoolhouse, deserted about the year 1870 for a new one which was built back of the upper end of the town and north of the Madoc road (present residence of Frank S. Sweet).

The discovery of gold about four miles east of the village (namely Deloro) gave employment to many of the population of Marmora. Finally a Mr. Gatling, brother of the inventor of the Gatling gun, conducted the business of some years. (The Gatling shaft is still known as such at Deloro).

Many were the old pioneers who took up land in the immediate surroundings — the Crawfords, Shannons, Pagets, Richard Laycock and many others now forgotten. Continuing his informative letter, Mr. Wilkinson wrote:

No Sidewalks

"There were no sidewalks in Marmora in the early days. The first sidewalk that was built was on the east side of Forsyth St. and was built by subscription, being about four feet wide. There was no fence around the cemetery (the present Protestant Cemetery) in the early times until my father (the late James Wilkinson), Mr. J. Pearce and Mr. Rayburn took up a subscription and all turned out and built the fence of pine boards — the result of the subscription.

"I think a Mr. Keys (Royal Keys) is the oldest sailor in the silent sea. He resided on a ranch about four miles north-east of the village and passed away (July 28, 1871) at the age of 107.

There were no churches in the now settled Marmora in the year 1870 when we came there, but a certain Mr. Grout (Rev. George Grout) came from Stirling and held Anglican services in the Town Hall, which was built by the Marmora Iron Company.

About this time Rev. C. Osborne, a Methodist clergyman, held services in the Town Hall and in the various school houses in the adjoining districts.

Secured Donations

Finally the Anglicans decided to erect a building and William Leonard, being enterprising and well to do, went to the various Anglicans, including the Campions, McWilliams, G. W. Bleecker, [illegible] and others who subscribed to the building of the church."

The church was completed about 1874 or 1875 (doubtless 1875, as its cornerstone was laid Sept. 1, 1874). The stones were quarried on the far side of the river below the bridge (a bridge leading to the old stone church, demolished as a new one was built to span Crowe River some hundred yards south of it). As funds were low, the tower was not completed for some ten years later, when a young Englishman was employed to quarry and dress the stone.

The Methodist Church and the Roman Catholic Church were built a little later.

Oxen was the principal means of transportation.

It was not until years later that horses were brought into use by the farmers of the surrounding country.

Mules were used by the lumber companies, but oxen were used entirely by the timber men in the forests for hauling the timber out of the woods to the rivers.

It was not an uncommon sight to see 100,000 logs pass down the river, owned by one company, in one season.

Those logs in the early times were usually pine.

Used For Ties

It was not until later years that the companies cut hemlock or tamarac. The latter became commonly used as ties for the railroads.

Concluding his review of the Marmora of generations ago, he wrote: "I understand the house I built still remains but the monument I left to be remembered by, is the row of maples which I planted on the west side of the street at the lower end of the town (Forsyth Street). Those trees I planted in the year 1880 and I understand they are still there. Otherwise all footprints are obliterated as are those of the forefathers of the hamlet."

IT'S A DATE—Boys in strange cities sometimes find it difficult to meet girls. Canadian Navy ratings in Halifax have no such trouble. Under the auspices of the Naval Officers' Wives Association and with the full approval of the navy, a date bureau has been established at the east coast Canadian port. Here, right, Ordinary Seaman John Keable of Quebec calls the date bureau for a date. On the other end of the line, as the left photo shows, are Mrs. J. I. C. Inness and Mrs. W. H. DeCosta who operate the bureau. They check their list of girls and give Sailor Keable a number and address. As protection sailors and girls must both be registered with the bureau and present proper identification when they meet, usually at the girl's home.

Seek Constable For Village Of Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Sept. 9 (ENS)—Decision to advertise for applications for the post of police constable for the village of Millbrook was taken at the September meeting of the Village Council recently after the present incumbent, J. J. Kellett, had requested his release from the duties of this office On motion of Councillors Harrington and Fallis, it was decided to retain Mr. Kellett in a temporary capacity as village foreman at a salary of $1,500 per year. The Council's decision further provides that in the event of no applications being received for the post of police constable, new applications will be called for the combined post of village foreman and police constable.

Orville Guthrie appeared before the Council to discuss his planned purchase of a lot on the west side of George Street on which he contemplates building a house. The clerk was instructed to obtain more information before the Council makes its decision on the matter.

The Council was in receipt of a further communication from Rev. W. B. Greenwood of the Pentecostal Church, Peterborough, requesting permission to hold street meetings in the village. On motion of Councillors Spicer and Harrington, the clerk was instructed to reply to Mr. Greenwood advising him that if he can obtain the use of private property at a location which will not interfere with traffic or cause annoyance to near residents the Council is agreeable to him holding meetings in the village.

On motion of Councillors Harrington and Fallis, permission was granted to M. G. Chapman to dismantle the building at the corner of King and Union Streets, provided he take all proper precautions to protect the village by erecting a fence along both streets at a suitable distance from the building. He will also be required to assume all risks and liability for said work.

Mr. Chapman, as he requested, was given six weeks from the date of September 2 to complete the work, failing which the walls of the building are to be secured so that all obstructions can be removed from the street and the sidewalk.

The clerk presented a statement showing that up to August 31, 1949, the sum of $2,049.17 had been spent on construction and maintenance of village streets and bridges. On motion of Councillors Spicer and Harrington, the clerk was instructed to petition the Department of Highways making application for the statutory grant on the above expenditure.

Lakefield Hopes To Get Water and Sewer Service High School, More Tourists

The people of Lakefield are looking forward to their village forging ahead considerably in the next two or three years because of the possible successful conclusion of three developments now pending. W. C. Grant, Reeve of the village, told members of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon Thursday in the Empress Hotel. These are, construction of a modern waterworks and sewage disposal plant, location in the community of a new district High School, and a greater development of the village as a tourist centre.

The recent announcement by Premier Frost of a plan to aid municipalities in public works projects, together with signs of a lowering in building costs, has brought the water system and sewage plant much closer within the range of possibility, Reeve Grant said.

More Interested

The speaker, who was introduced by Ralph Standish and thanked by G. Cheatle, said that Lakefield had not given much thought to tourism until recent years, but that now it showed signs of becoming an "up and coming tourist centre." He said that if a recession should come in the near future, tourist dollars might well take up some of the slack.

Mr. Grant, who reviewed the progress and development of the village in the past decade, declared that the citizens were very eager to have one of the proposed new district High Schools established in their community. He felt that there was a pretty good possibility of their wishes being granted.

Hard to Interest

While Lakefield is a "typical Ontario village," said Reeve Grant, it differs from most because of its close proximity to the City of Peterborough. For this reason, he said, it is difficult to get the citizens interested in community betterment projects, since many of them obtain their recreation in the city. However, the village had made some progress in this regard in recent years, operation of the swimming pool in July and August being the prime example Many children had learned to swim because of this project, which had proved very successful.

In a further reference to the water and sewer project, the Reeve said that it would cost more than in most villages because of the heavy rock formation and necessity of crossing the river. In addition costs would be higher because of need of ensuring that the water supply of Peterborough was not contaminated.

Good Place to Live

The speaker called Lakefield "one of the prettiest villages in the Province," and highly recommended it as a place to live, to those who wished to avoid the crowding of residential sections in the city.

He praised the contribution made to the prosperity of the community by the industries which had located in it, including Lakefield Boats Ltd., now employing between 25 and 40 people, Sailcraft, Lakefield Industries Ltd., and the American Nepheline Ltd. He expressed disagreement with the views of those Peterburians who would exclude Lakefield residents from working in the city just because they did not pay taxes. He said that they should bear in mind that the [illegible] do not use city services, so that it is not fair to deny them work on that ground alone.

Will Introduce Course On Investments

By The Canadian Press

There are at least 36 men in British Columbia who don't think it their prerogative to go all masculine and mysterious over stocks, capital, balance sheets and corporation.

Members of the B.C. Bond Dealers Association don't take refuge behind the financial page when their wives broach a subject bordering on big business.

They want their wives, other men's wives and the men and women on the street to know the fundamental principles of the world field of investment.

To this end they are introducing something entirely new to Western Canada—an eight-lecture investment course planned to educate the general public on the value, possibilities and rate of investment.

Col. A. M. Brown, chairman of the association, says similar courses in the United States have met with "tremendous response." The course is open to both men and women.

Too Much Antagonism

One committee member arranging the course, H. J. Bird, says there is a great deal of "antagonism and mistrust of capitalism" in the minds of the working man and woman.

"It is our job to try to educate the layman on the fundamental principles of investment."

Another association member, Alex Reid, says many laymen "believe big businesses are holding the common man down."

Actually, he said, "the public is in partnership with the man at the head of a large corporation and benefits can be shared by the public on a pro rate basis."

One of the long-term aims of the course, said Col. Brown, is to "encourage more participation in the development of Canada so that we will not be so dependent on outside capital."

PUBLISHER ON TOUR — Rt. Hon. Viscount Rothermere, right publisher of the London Daily Mail and chairman of Associated Newspapers Limited, is shown on his arrival in Quebec aboard the Empress of Canada for a month's stay in Quebec and Newfoundland. Large Acreage Of Fall Wheat Sown In County

Wednesday's rain came too late in the season for rating in dollar value of farm products, but it will be a help to the September plowing in this district.

Across the province farmers are putting in a heavy seeding of fall wheat. That observation recurs in the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Bruce County says: "the acreage of wheat sown will be extremely large this year." Victoria: "A large acreage is being prepared for fall wheat." Peterborough is in the same category with the comment by F. C. Paterson: 'There will be a large acreage of fall wheat sown."

The corn crop is heavy. Silos are being filled in western Ontario.

Grey farmers "cannot understand the drastic drop in hog prices." Lincoln: "Many farmers are taking advantage of the soil testing service." Top yield in the Elfin Fifty Bushel Winter Wheat Club was 59.7 bus. of Cornell. The average for 22 members was 43.2 bus.

Lambton has the largest acres of husking corn that has been grown for some years. Fall wheat seeding in Renfrew will be about 100 per cent. increase over last year.

Plan To Discuss Agreements At Conference

BIGWIN INN, Ont., Sept. 9 — (CP)—Colorfully-garbed delegates from the Far East exchanged greetings with soberly-dressed westerners at the fourth unofficial Commonwealth Relations Conference opened in this Muskoka resort Thursday with an address of welcome by Defence Minister Claxton.

For the next ten days weighty problems affecting countries within the Commonwealth will be discussed by nearly 100 experts on the political [illegible] and social life of nine nations. One delegate referred to the controversial subjects usually treated at these conferences as "hot potatoes."

Mr. Claxton, acting for External Affairs Minister Pearson who is in Washington, told delegates that while the iron curtain is not necessarily permanent, there are no indications yet that peace can be maintained other than by the united strength of the democracies.

"Communist Russia's revelation of the unlimited nature of her ambitions has arrayed the forces of freedom as the League of Nations never succeeded in doing," he said. "Peace will be secure as long as the Russians know that they cannot win a war of aggression aainst the forces of freedom."

A delegate from India suggested that the conference should concentrate on basic agreements rather than on basic differences. If the views of India are supported it is expected that the question of racial discrimination will not provoke controversy. It was believed earlier that South African racial policies would be criticized by delegates from India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

Rt. Hon. R. A. Butler, Conservative member of the British Parliament and chairman of the United Kingdom delegation, expressed the view at the public morning session that Communist imperialism has done more to integrate Commonwealth nations than has any other world development. Mr. Butler is deputy chairman of the Conservative foreign affairs committee.

The position of the member nations in the post-war world took up most of the afternoon session.

Sessions are held in camera because of the controversial politically-significant nature of deliberations but a conference spokesman meets daily with the press to report on the proceedings. A condensed report is published later in book form for distribution to government agencies and embassies throughout the world.

Kitchen Worker On London Stage

LONDON (CP).—Bernard Henry took his mother out to dinner after being given a leading role in "Song of Norway," an operetta based on Greig's music which is having a long run at the Palace Theatre.

As they enetred a West End restaurant several waiters came over to congratulate Henry. They recognized him as the man who, a years ago, was scrubbing floors at this same restaurant to help pay for singing lessons.

Before the war Henry came to London from Glasgow, hoping to get the best training for his voice but the war upset his plans.

"I worked as a stretcher-bearer during the blitz, studying music in my spare time. Many nights I sang for the people in various London air raid shelters."

Paid Own Way

"Then I was introduced to W. G. Gardiner, the famous singing teacher. To earn enough to pay my teaching fees I became general help in a restaurant. I scrubbed floors during the day and took on odd singing jobs at night."

When Henry was offered a part in "Song of Norway," he decided to bring his mother down from Glasgow for his opening night. Mrs. Henry, 78, had never been to a theatre before.

Blue-Wilford Rites

The marriage of Miss Barbara Jean Davison Wilford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Wilford, of Lakefield, to Mr. William Walter Blue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blue, of Ottawa, took place on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Lindsay.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Hesketh and Mrs. A. F. Palen played the wedding music. The church was decorated with asters and gladioli.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothey Wilford, as maid-of-honor.

Mr. Frederick Graves attended the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Mr. Harry Green and Mr. Cedric Winser of Ottawa, and Mr. Sanford Riley, of Winnipeg.

For her wedding the bride chose an afternoon dress of green figured silk, fashioned with a small rolled collar, short sleeves hat, trimmed with green feathers, and a full skirt. She wore a black and her accessories were black. She carried a bouquet of seasonal flowers.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Blue left on a motor trip. For travelling the bride donned a black shortie coat over her wedding ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue will live in London, England, where the bridegroom will study medicine at the London University School of Medicine. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Blue was drama critic of The Ottawa Journal.

Canadians Friend In Normandy On First Visit Here

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (CP)—The mere mention of her name will recall to many a Canadian memories of his last days in France at the close of the Second World War.

Mlle. Benoite Colard's home—or rather what was left of it after the shells and the bombs—was in Normandy near Caen where Canadian troops had their headquarters in 1944.

"The Calgary Highlanders, the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, the Black Watch of Montreal—I remember the names so well," the blonde French woman said in an interview.

Mlle. Colard still is working in the interests of Canadians whom she first met in 1944, and later in 1945 and 1946 when she was in Canada Corner, a service-club for Canadians in Paris at that time.

As "deleguer-generale" of l'Accueil Franco-Canadien, she now is on her first visit to this country.

l'Accueil, as its name implies, is, among other things, a "welcome" organization for Canadian visitors to France.

Formed a year ago, it is situated in the Latin quarter of Paris. Canadian students have come to depend on it to supply them with information on everything from where to find suitable lodging to details on courses.

Canadian artists in Paris especially are aware of the association. Last June Mlle Colard, through l'Accueil, organized an exhibition of their work. In the near future she hopes to organize a concert by Canadian musicians studying in Paris.

The French, too, visit l'Accueil in search of information about Canada. "Everybody in France seems to be interested in Canada," said Mlle. Colard.

The main purpose of her visit at this time is to obtain further information about the Dominion in order to be able to answer the variety of questions with which l'Accueil is constantly faced.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You do a person a favor and some time later would like to ask him to do a favor for you.

WRONG WAY: Remind him in some subtle way of the favor you did for him, before asking your own.

RIGHT WAY: If you must ask him to do you a favor, avoid any suggestion that you expect him to "pay you back" for what you did for him.

Yields Rich Crop

SUTTON MALLET, Somerset, England, Sept. 9 (CP)—Food of the Pharaohs of old Egypt may become part of England's daily ration if an experiment taking place on a farm here proves successful.

It is the harvesting of wheat claimed to be directly descended from seeds unearthed in a tomb discovered in the eerie Egyptian Valley of Kings.

The seed had been sealed in the mysterious chamber for 7,000 years.

F. Newman Turner, of Goosegreen Farm, sowed seeds of the first generation of the strange variety given to him by Jean Pierre Geffroy, a Frenchman touring western England.

Names "Osiris," the new variety is said to give a heavier yield than native varieties—about 20

"Apparently the ancient Egyptians had something," Newman said, "for the new wheat seems healthier than our own and superior to the standard grain cultivated today."

Boys Leave Girls in Dark Silent Men Worry Women

DEAR MISS DIX: Will you please do us girls a favor? I am sure there are plenty in the same boat with me, wishing some one would give our boy friend a jolt. I have been going with "him" ever since high school days. We have passed up wonderful chances on boy friends for him. His actions and eyes show he cares for me, but just because he has a number of years yet before he will be finished college he has never told me he loves me or mentioned the future. Don't you think that even if a young man had five or six more years of schooling ahead that he could give a girl an inkling of his intentions by saying that some day she can share his degree that he is striving for? We don't want a formal engagement, just not to be left guessing.

YVONNE.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: There you are, boys, and now you know how the girls feel about it. They don't like this repression stuff. The strong, silent man, who keeps his feelings locked in his own heart because he is not in a position to escort the girl to the altar, doesn't make any hit with them. They feel like shaking him until he speaks. If men love them, they want to be told about it in unmistakable language and to have it repeated often and loud.

When a girl loves a boy, it hurts her vanity for him to keep mum about his sentiments. It makes her feel that she has given her heart unasked, and that perhaps the man doesn't want the girl she has bestowed upon him.

Of course, she may think that she sees the love light burning in his eyes, but she can't be sure that she has read the signal aright. She may think that his actions indicate his preference for her, but [illegible] because many a man hangs around a girl's [illegible] he likes her mother's cooking and takes her out because she is good company, without ever entertaining for her more than a mild liking or having any intentions beyond having a good time.

So the girl is quite right in expecting the boy who is in love with her and who knows that she is in love with him—for when a girl is in love she can no more hide it than she can the shape of her head or the color of her eyes—to tell her all about it. I am of the opinion that, if the boy is really IS in love, he does it.

I strongly suspect that the boys who never tell their love to childhood sweethearts when they are starting off on a long college course, are those who are wise enough to analyze their own emotions and realize that all they feel is a little calf love that will soon flicker out. They know that in five or six years they will change from boys nto men; that in a different environment, meeting diferent people; studying, learning, their whole outlook on life will be altered and that they will acquire new ideals, new standards, for different tastes and habits and that it will be a miracle if they are still in love with the same girl.

These boys are wise and honorable enough not to want to bind a girl whom they may not want to marry when they are ready to marry. They do not wish to feel obliged to marry a girl whom they may have outgrown or of whom they may have tired. Nor do they want to feel that they have kept her from making some advantageous marriage.

So I think, Yvonne, that the boy who does not tell you of his love knows in his heart that he has no affection for you that will last and is trying to save both of you from getting into a sentimental situation out of which neither of you could extricate yourselves without somebody's getting hurt. That somebody would be you.

Better let him go; get a boy friend who can say it with an engagement ring.

DOROTHY DIX.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I know a man in his mid-30's who has a weakness for girls in their early teens. Is this a sign of mental inferiority? This man never goes with girls his age. He does not seem to like brains in a woman. According to a noted psychoanalyst, a child who takes to another child much younger than itself is mentally deficient and does not choose children of his own age because he feels mentally inferior. Is this true in the case of a grown male. BETTY.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER: Many men of intelligence seem to prefer young girls to sophisticated women. There is something fresh and dewy about youth that appeals to them and they have the same kind of pleasure taking them about and showing them the world as we have in taking a child to the circus. DOROTHY DIX.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR MISS DIX: There is a certain charming young lady whom I see every day and am most anxious to meet, but I do not know any person to whom I could apply for an introduction. Should I stop her on the street and tell her this, or wait until she speaks to me first?

LONELY YOUNG WIDOWER

ANSWER: Why don't you write her a note and tell her that you would like to know her, but know of no mutual acquaintance who could introduce you? Tell her who you are and give references. An easier way would be to arrange some chance encounter with her.

A Spaniard once told me that in his country a favorite method of getting acquainted with a girl was to step on her foot and then apologize profusely and gracefully. I cannot recommend this method, as it does not seem to me that it would make a favorable impression on a girl to have her foot mashed and her best shoes ruined. But, you never can tell.

Sadlier Wants To Base Theatre In Peterborough

The possibility of a theatre group based on Peterborough operating for three seasons of the year was envisioned Thursday night by Michael Sadlier of the Peterborough Summer Theatre.

He was reporting to the Board of Education on the Theatre's activities and asking for permission to use Queen Mary auditorium next year.

The plan, still in the embryo stage, would call for a permanent theatre group on a proposed Kingston - Peterborough - Ottawa circuit. Peterborough would get the preferred summer performances because it was here that the Theatre was first established. But he also suggested the possibility of a Spring theatre in Hamilton and a Fall one in Ottawa.

To date no definite arrangements have been made.

Referred to Committee

The matter of the Summer Theatre being held in Queen Mary auditorium next year was referred to the Supervision Committee for a thorough study.

G. W. Craw told Board members that on the fee charged the Board of Education would no more than break even financially.

Chairman Frank Jobitt said he had received several complaints fro mresidents near Queen Mary that the company made too much noise particularly on Sundays.

Mr. Sadlier said the company had tried to keep as quiet as possible, but he realized that at the beginning of the season some of the younger people had been a bit noisy. He pointed out that Sunday to the company was not a day of rest. The new play had to be rehearsed for its first performance the next day and new sets had to be assembled.

"We had to work a seven-day week," he said.

K. S. Wightman, Superintendent of Schools, stated he had found Mr. Sadlier very co-operative when approached on such matters, and credited him with "getting the young people into line."

Theatre a Success

Acknowledgment of the theatre's success was made by Arthur Pitchford, and he complimented the members of the cast on their success. Mr. Pitchford made this a motion which was seconded by Ralph Honey, and the Board passed it unanimously.

Dr. Honey described the Summer Theatre's efforts as "a tremendous task," and he said he realized the difficulties of putting on a new play every week.

Before he left, Mr. Sadlier thanked the Board for its co-operation and stated he appreciated the goodwill and support of the citizens of Peterborough. The Theatre was out of the red and he thought it a highly successful first year.

Magistrate Remands After Family Row

Appearing for sentence after being found guilty of assaulting his 10-year-old brother, Arthur McGrath, 846 St. Mary's St., was remanded out of custody to appear for sentence when called upon by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, in police court Friday morning.

The charge was the result of a family row started by an attempt by McGrath's mother, Mrs. Lottie McGrath, to get her son and his wife and children out of the garage in which they have been living at the rear of Mrs. McGrath's home.

McGrath said he had not been able to find another place to live, but said they had all been getting on well together ever since the case came up in court Aug. 5.

Magistrate Baxter said he was being remanded out of custody again indefinitely so that if any more trouble arose he could be brought back and sentenced for the crime.

Veterans Department Makes Staff Changes

Reginald Abraham, District Administrator at Kingston for the Department of Veterans' Affairs and formerly of Peterborough, has been appointed Director of Casualty Rehabilitation for the Department. He is replaced at Kingston by Major General A. E. Potts.

The new administrator at Kingston has an outstanding Army record. He and six brothers joined in 1915 as privates. After the first world war he became head of the Dairy Department at the University of Saskatchewan, retaining interest in the Services by organizing the Officers' Training Corps at the University.

During the second war General Potts went overseas in command of the Saskatchewan Light Infantry. Born in England, he obtained a Bachelor of Science degree at Edinburgh University and also attended Cornell University at Ithica, N.Y.

Third Drunk Binge Results In 3 Months

Three drunk charges within a year resulted in a three-month jail sentence for John Cahill, RR 7, Peterborough, Friday morning in Police Court, presided over by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, of Port Hope.

Cahill admitted being drunk Saturday night and being convicted of the same offence August 4 and July 18. Chief Constable John Thompson said Cahill had just been released from jail Saturday morning.

DOUBLE LIFE — Pete Karpuk lives a complicated life in the early autumn. The versatile Toronto-born athlete spends his weekdays playing shortstop or pitching for Ottawa Nationals of the Border Baseball League, a club headed for a playoff spot. On week-ends, he switches to football and scampers about the backfield for Ottawa Rough Riders of the Interprovincial Union. He boasts a batting average well over the .300 mark and has won eight of his first nine decisions as a pitcher for the Nationals. For the Riders, he has contributed a touchdown in each of their first two games.

Lyle McMillan Wheat Champion

With a yield rate of 58.9 bushels to the acre and the highest total score of 188.8, Lyle McMillan, of Hill Crest Farm, Norwood, is the winner of the Peterborough County 50-bushel per acre winter wheat club.

Robert Armstrong, of Ida, stood second in the total score with 182.8 points. His crop score was 51.4 bus. an acre.

Alex Huston, of Otonabee, was third with 180.4 points, and a yield of 48.7 bushels to the acre. Alan Eason, of Keene, was fourth with 45.5 bus. an acre and total score of 172.

J. E. Manley, of Otonabee, was in fifth place with 41.6 bus. an acre and total score of 168.2.

Charles Whittington, of North Monaghan, was next with 45.5 bus. to the acre, and total score of 161 points.

Jack Matchett, of Otonabee, 42.4 bus. to the acre, and score of 160.8.

Total points were an addition of both field and yield scores. The standing of the first four in the field score was: J. T. Manley 85 points; Alex Huston 83 points; Alan Eason 81 points and Robert Armstrong 80. The basis of scoring is the yield in bus. per acre multiplied by two, plus the field score.

Mr. Manley's top field score, 85, made up for his slightly low yield of 41.6 bus.

Mr. Whittington had 45.5 bus. but his field score was down to 70.

Other Wheat Yields

The other members of the club were credited with the following yield per acre: Fred Fife, Otonabee, 39.6 bus.; John Webster, Otonabee, 39.6 bus.; Ross Harrison, 44.8 bus., but his field score was down to 61 points; W. W. Dawson, of Otonabee, 36.9 bus.; Harold Tate, Millbrook, 36.9; Harry Jackson, Omemee, 31.4; Earl Petrie, Otonabee, 34.9; Graham Eastwood Smith, 28.3.

Harry Jackson had a field score of 79, in fourth place in that column.

The season opened favorably for the wheat grounds, but adverse weather conditions developed, and Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, announcig the results today, said the the yields were notably creditable to the club members.

Mr. Lyle McMillan, of Norwood, is a newcomer as the club champion. His yield of 58.9 bushels, Mr Paterson said, was a fine achievement in circumstances that put the wheat men to a severe test.

It may have been noticed that the Elgin County wheat club winner was Maurice Mistele, R.R. 3 Rodney, with a yield of 59.7 bus.

PATIENT COMES TO CITY

Miss Dorothy Kidd, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Kidd, RR 3, Indian River, who was injured in a bus-car accident last Friday near Bowmanville, was brought to Peterborough Civic Hospital Thursday from Bowmanville hospital. She has a fractured jaw and a fractured elbow, but otherwise her condition is reported as fairly good.

That Was A Peach

More than one local resident has grown a good crop of peaches this year.

Mrs. W. J. Sweeney of 92 Aylmer Street, told the Examiner today she picked six 6-quart baskets of No. 1 peaches from her tree, which has been bearing fruit for only two years.

Besides the six baskets, a substantial number of peaches was picked casually. Two years ago the 15-foot tree had only six peaches.

Vote Confidence In Teachers

No lack of confidence in Grade 11 teachers was implied in the recent Board of Education resolution asking for an investigation into student failures, the Peterborough Board of Education agreed Thursday night.

The Board's vote on a notice of motion by Dr. Ralph C. Honey was unanimous. Dr. H. G. Carleton, the Board member most critical over the results, was not present.

Following is the motion: 'Resolved that Board regrets all the uncomplimentary publicity sustained as a result of the discussion pertaining to failures in Grade 11 at PCVS, and that the resolution passed by the Board at its July meeting was a request for information, and was not intended to imply lack of confidence in the teaching staff."

It went through on a unanimous show of hands, and without comment.

MOTOR SEIZES UP

Firemen went to the Fitzpatrick & Geraghty store on Rubidge St. early today when smoke was reported coming from the premises. When they investigated they found that the electric motor in the refrigerator had seized up and was smoking.

Board's Offer On Site Refused

The Parkdale Realty Company, owners of the property in Ashburnham south of Parkhill Road and east of Armour Road advised the Board of Education on Thursday night that it was refusing to accept the offer of $4,200 for approximately two acres of land.

The Board of Education in attempting to secure a site for a junior school had selected two acres in the Parkdale subdivision and has secured the services of two independent valuators to value the land. In its offer to the Company the Board had taken the highest valuation.

The company intimated in its letter that it was selling lots at $750 each and that the valuation placed by Central Mortgage on the land was 10 cents a square foot, about twice as much as the Board offered.

G. Wilson Craw, chairman of the committee of accommodation advised that the matter be dropped and the board look elsewhere for a site. He intimated that he would have three sites to recommend for consideration.

Tripped On Sidewalk Council Settles Claim

Smith township council settled through its public liability insurance a claim for $368 by Colin Corbett, 71 Delaware Ave., Toronto, who suffered an injury at Young's Point August 12.

Organist in the Arcadian Court, Simpson's, Mr. Corbett was spending a holiday in the district. It is understood that he tripped on some flaw in a sidewalk, about 50 feet east of the Lakeview House, and broke an ankle.

Work Stoppages Reported At CGE Plants

Sparring between the UE-CIO and CGE continues while the two parties await resumption of Conciliation on September 15.

During the week there have been several stoppages in the Toronto plants. In an address to the Peterborough unionists at noon today C. S. Jackson, district president, said that 1,400 workers at the Davenport works had walked out of the plant, though they had not left the premises, shortly after 9 a.m. today.

They were still on the "sit down" at noon. President Jack[illegible] said.

He claimed matters came to a head at Davenport when the chief steward was threatened with disciplinary action for having spoken to a group of girl workers with a grievance, after being ordered not to do so by the company.

The chief steward was to discuss the matter with company at 10 a.m. but the Davenport workers did not wait for the result. They downed tools and walked.

Jackson claimed that the CGE was trying speedups at all plants, including Peterborough.

During the week there was a half-hour work stoppage at Royce involving the 400 employees there, and another 80 workers also refused to work for about three-quarters of an hour at Davenport. Speedups were said to be the root cause of dissatisfaction.

Refrigerator Transfer

He told the Peterborough workers that the transfer of the Refrigerator plant to Montreal "was for the sole purpose of getting jobs done cheaper in another plant in another city."

"If this transfer of jobs from a higher to lower paid worker happened in a plant, I know what you'd do," said the UE president.

A hint of a stormy membership meeting, to be held on Tuesday, was given when Jackson said flatly he thought the Local 524 executive had made a mistake in accepting the flow charts as a basis for solving the layoffs or transfer of workers.

Jack Morton, president of Local 524, said it was the best course available though not an ideal one. He told the membership to come in force Tuesday night to make known their opinions.

5 Years' Work Done In One Day

BROOKLIN, Sept. 9 (CP) — Ontario government agencies on Thursday equipped a farm in 24 hours with all the improvements that would normally be made by a progressive farmer in five years.

More than 5,000 persons, mostly farmers, gathered at Herbert Down's 140 acre farm near this village, 32 miles east of Toronto, to see what modern equipment could do in the way of farm improvement and soil conservation.

There were ditch-digging machines and an apparatus described as an under-drain, which cut a gash two feet in the earth as it moved along leaving an underground line for irrigation.

Bulldozers groaned, tractors screamed and the kids shouted as age-old maple trees slumped to the ground. Mr. Down's 20th century project cost him $5,000.

But his tenant farmer wasn't around to see it carried out. He had gone to New Tor[illegible]o with a load of tomatoes, telling his wife: "When I get home I expect a big change here."

ASK FOR BORINGS

Marani & Morris, architects for the proposed city hall, have asked the council for test borings to determine the soil structure in the George-Murray block. It is a gravelled area, and there may be rock formations below grade. City Engineer Chalmers has been asked by the council to arrange with property owners for these tests. The architects report that they are getting on with the drawings for the building.

Hint Explosion In Luggage May Have Caused Plane Crash In Quebec

Have Special Train To Bring Out Bodies From Rocky Bluff Disaster, Top Company Executives Among Victims

MONTREAL, Sept. 10 —(CP)—Canadian Pacific Airlines, whose plane crashed near Quebec Friday with a death toll of 23, said today that preliminary investigation left undisclosed the cause of the accident but the "possibility of an explosion in the luggage is not ruled out." The two-engine DC-3, flying on a Quebec Airways route from Quebec to Baie Comeau, 250 miles down the St. Lawrence River, crashed shortly after taking off from Quebec yesterday morning. Quebec Airways is a C.P.A. subsidiary.

"Early inquiries by line officials," C.P.A. said in a prepared statement, "reveal no explanation of the accident although the possibility of an explosion in the luggage is not ruled out.

"The rear end of the plane, it was said, was fairly well intact. All controls at the tail end were believed to be intact as well."

Grant McConachie, C.P.A. president, who came from the company's Vancouver headquarters Friday night, flew to the crash scene today to set up the company's end of the investigation. The Department of Transport is conducting an inquiry as well.

The statement said that Quebec Airways, had flown 50,000,000 miles on this route without accident.

Retrieve Bodies

SAULT AU COCHON, Que., Sept. 10—(CP)—Carrying parties set out today from a railway line skirting the St. Lawrence River on a climb 2,000 feet up into the Laurentians where the bodies of 23 victims lie scattered in thick forest.

The gruesome job of picking the remains of the Canadian Pacific Airlines passengers and crew members from a crumpled DC-3 will take most of today.

From the Quebec-La Balbaie rail line over which a special train will take the bodies 40 miles to Quebec City, a rising trail used by woodsmen leads almost two miles to the scene of the wreck.

It was used Friday by Patrick Bouchard, an eel fisherman, Oscar Tremblay, a railway sectionman, and four fellow-employees who found the wrecked plane about noon.

Bouchard was near his fishing spot on the St. Lawrence north shore when he saw the plane, a scant quarter-hour after its take-off from Quebec at 10.29 a.m. EDT, drop into spruce and pine woods near the top of one of the cliffs of Cap Tourmente.

He raced to a railway telephone at the flag station of Sault Au Cochon and notified the agent at St. Joachim in the direction of Quebec.

Horrible Sight

The big, twin-engined passenger plane, on a 450-mile run from Montreal to Baie Comeau, was scarcely recognizable. All its 19 passengers and the plane's crew of four were dead.

Experts Present Proposal To Aid Britain

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 — (AP) — Specific proposals for American action to aid Britain in overcoming its economic crisis were due today. Four committees of experts set up by the United States, Britain and Canada have been working on the recommendations.

Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder of the United States said the three-power conference is "making good progress" in its work on Britain's dollar shortage difficulties. Other informants indicated that the conferees are shooting for conclusion of their work by Monday night.

Since the three-power talks started only last Wednesday, they face the prospect of a busy week-end of meetings, although no Sunday sessions were yet scheduled.

Evidence that whatever proposals are finally agreed upon by the three governments will not offer Britain any quick and easy way out came from Sir Stafford Cripps Friday. He supplied the evidence in the course of a talk at the National Press Club here. Sir Stafford was asked whether he thought Britain could solve its problems—which he had described as mainly problems of an unbalanced trade—without reducing the standard of living of its people.

Sees Drop in Standards

To this he replied that "it is quite possible in the course of the next two years that the standard of living of a lot of people may decline." He added that he hoped any such decline would be only temporary "while we are working out solutions which would be acceptable to the people."

Police Nab Ring Working Races

PAWTUCKET, R.I., Sept. 10—(AP)—A trio said by police to be part of a ring which has preyed on race tracks throughout the east was under arrest today, charged with conspiracy to defraud in connection with counterfeiting part-mutuel tickets.

The trio are Domenic Andruszewski, 31, of Warren, R.I., and Frank Vendituoli, 35, of Bristol, R.I., and Ina A. Frick, 22, of Seekonk, Mass.

Police said they found in a car equipment for eradicating correct numbers from genuine mutuel tickets and stamps for forcing the numbers of winning horses on to the tickets.

Foreign Office Pays Bevin Tooth Bill

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Foreign Service's own health plan will pay for the toothache Foreign Secretary Bevin had in Washington.

The dentist's bill for yanking the molar will not be met by Britain's nationalized health service, a Foreign Office spokesman said Friday night.

Instead it will be handled by the private plan, adopted by the Foreign Office last November, to put British officials abroad on the same health basis as those at home.

Operate On Reuther

DETROIT, Sept. 10—(CP)—Victor Reuther of the United Auto Workers (CIO) is undergoing plastic surgery on his left eye socket. Reuter lost the eye when he was shot by a would-be assassin last spring. A series of operations has been performed on the eye socket in order to prepare it for an artificial eye.

Miss America Chosen Soon, Perform 3 Acts

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 10 (AP)—Who is Miss America of 1949?

That's the $25,000 question tonight for 52 of North America's most beautiful girls.

But the contestants, who have come through three gruelling days of preliminaries, won't even know whether they've reached the finals until the curtain goes up on the huge Convention Hall stage at 8 p.m.

At that time the 15 sweethearts who have already been selected for the showdown will be announced

The important evening gown and personality considerations have not been announced nightly, as have the preliminary winners in the bathing suit and talent divisions. They can make the difference.

Jacque Mercer, 18-year-old Arizona, can feel pretty hopeful about her chances at the $5,000 Miss America scholarship and new automobile, or at least part of the $20,000 in additional scholarships for the finalists.

Second Victory

The lovely brunette from Litchfield, Ariz., scored a second victory Friday night in the talent division. Wednesday night she shared top honors in the bathing suit division with Miss California

Another contestant almost sure to gain a spot among the 15 finalists is Miss Canada, brown-haired Margaret Lynn Munn of North Vancouver. The demure Canadian won Thursday night's talent preliminary with her rendition of "Sempre Libera" from the opera "La Traviata."

Last nights triumph was one of the few times in the 29-year history of the Miss America pageant that a dramatic sketch has won a talent preliminary. Miss Mercer acted part of "Romeo and Juliet."

After the 15 finalists are announced tonight, they each will go through their three acts—bathing suit talent, and evening gown —all over again for the 11 judges

Has Bruised Forehead Unknown Man Dies

WINDSOR, Sept. 10 (CP) — Police today investigated the mysterious death of a unidentified man only known as "Dominic" who was taken to hospital shortly before midnight with an apparently bruised forehead.

As he stood for treatment 20 minutes later in the emergency ward, the man slumped dead.

Friends, who walked into the hospital with the man told a hospital attendant the man had been at a stag party. Then they turned and walked away.

Offer Nine-Point Program To Aid Fishing Industry

OTTAWA, Sept. 10. (CP)—The Fisheries Council of Canada today suggested a nine-point program to boost fish consumption in the dominion and help find new markets for fishermen.

In a brief presented to Fisheries Minister Mayhew, the council urged the government to start a program of "consumer education" to increase domestic consumption of fish.

The brief followed a speech by Prime Minister St. Laurent to a luncheon meeting of the council Friday when he indicated there will be more government aid for the industry. He said he feels that the government has, perhaps, not done its full part in encouraging fisheries.

The meeting of the council culminated a series of regional meetings held through Canada with fishermen by Mr. Mayhew and his deputy minister, Stewart Bates, to study local conditions.

The council asked the government to "recognize that a full realization of the fish potential requires activities that will maintain and increase, where possible, the fishery raw material and permit the resultant fishery products to be of highest quality and to be caught in the most economical manner."

The council also suggested:

1. Expansion of fisheries research by the department's fisheries research board and the industry with local committees to present fishermen's views on the board's studies.
2. Extension of federal education work among fishermen.
3. Inspection of fish, boats, plants and other equipment.
4. Help in finding new export markets.
5. Adoption by the railways of the new low-temperature refrigerator car developed by the research board.

Big Hurricane Wrecks Nfld. Vessel

Eight-Man Crew Abandons Ship, Cutter Answers SOS

HALIFAX, Sept. 10 (CP)—The wrecked coastal steamship Bayfield today was awaiting aid off southeastern Newfoundland from a U. S. coast guard cutter in the wake of a Caribbean-born hurricane which raced past Nova Scotia Friday.

With an eight-man crew aboard the 349-ton Bayfield Friday was driven aground by the big wind and, breaking up, sent a frantic SOS to Halifax marine radio:

"We are aground on Cape Pine, Newfoundland and are abandoning ship."

Fate of her crew was not known here.

Meanwhile, the Halifax weather office reported that the hurricane —previously headed for the south Newfoundland coast — probably will curve north and swipe Cape Breton Island with 50-mile-an-hour gales.

Goes To Aid

The cutter Dexter was heading for haven from the big blow when she was diverted to the side of the Bayfield.

The 60-year-old Bayfield was a coal-carrier between Sable Island, 100 miles off Halifax on the east Newfoundland coast.

Other ships in a line from east of windswept Sable Island, 100 miles off Halifax, to southeastern Newfoundland, scurried into port as the year's first hurricane warning was hoisted along the Canadian Atlantic seaboard.

The hurricane has 80-mile-an-hour winds at its centre but they are confined to a small area.

Mutt and Jeff Bandits Caught

MONTREAL, Sept. 10 (CP)—Two heavily-armed men believed to be the notorious "Mutt and Jeff bandits" were arrested here Friday night.

Police did not immediately release their names but said the arrests were "the most important capture in months."

The "Mutt and Jeff bandits"—so nick-named because of their varied stature — are wanted for six recent tavern and jewelry store hold-ups here. Police believe that the tall-and-short pair also were responsible for several hold-ups in Ontario.

Their arrest came when Detective Sgts. George Poirer and Aurele Labadie spotted a parked automobile, answering the description of a getaway car used by the tavern hold-up men.

Sgt. Poirer said that when the driver of the car stalled for time, he quickly opened the right-hand door and yanked a loaded .45 calibre automatic from the trench coat worn by the man sitting beside the driver.

The officers said they found a .38 calibre revolver in the driver's pocket.

Military Men Hold Conference In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Sept. 10 —(CP)— Military men from nearly every country in the Commonwealth will meet in Ottawa Sunday night for the formal opening of the conference of the Supreme Council of the British Empire Service League.

Forty-four delegates from 23 Commonwealth countries will discuss the problems, accomplishments and aims of the league at a seven-day meeting which will be punctuated by trips to several other Canadian cities.

The league is the veteran organization which acts as a continuing link between ex-servicemen of every Dominion and colony in the Commonwealth.

It is dedicated to the welfare of veterans in those countries and its executive contains men who have much to say in the shaping of policies for those veterans.

Unions Accept Wage Pact With Packers

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—(CP).—Wage agreements negotiated by union officers of three Canadian major meat-packing plants were accepted by union delegates at a policy conference of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) at its concluding session here Friday.

The agreement covers all plants of Canada Packers, Swift Canadian and Burns and Company, Ltd.

While union officers would not disclose details of the collective contracts it is understood the new agreements provide wage increases.

Under the old contracts the basic wage was 93 cents an hour in the prairie provinces, 96 in Toronto, and 98 cents per hour on the west coast, F. W. Dowling, vice-president and Canadian director of the union, said.

The national policy conference, attended by 21 union delegates, in addition to the officers, recommended to locals across the country that they ratify the new agreement, Mr. Dowling said.

Mr. Dowling said the conference decided not to announce details of the new contracts until all locals have dealt with them.

Nationalists Begin Red Purge In Yunnan

CANTON, Sept. 10 (CP)—Acting President Li Tsung-jen moved today to purge Communist influence from Yunan Province in Southwest China.

It was in Yunan that Governor Lu Han last week pulled a bloodless coup and proclaimed his independence of the Nationalist government. Lu now is reported back in the government fold, ready to fight the Reds.

Li issued an order for the immediate dissolution of the Yunnan Provincial People's Council. He ordered a new council elected.

The order followed Governor Lu's talks this week in Chungking with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Chinese sources said that measures for the defence of south China also had been decided in talks at Chungking between Chiang and Premier Hsi-shan.

These sources said Chiang and Yen had decided on steps for a co-ordinated Nationalist counter-offensive against the Communists.

7 Ounces of New Weapon Can Kill All Mankind

ST. CERGUE, Switzerland, Sept. 10—(Reuters)—The atom bomb has been made obsolete by a biological product, seven ounces of which is enough to kill every one in the world, Dr. Brock Chisholm of Toronto, director-general of the world health organization, said here Friday. "The atom bomb is obsolete. Relatively speaking it is child's play compared to biological weapons," Dr. Chisholm said.

He said there was a biological product in existence which, if spread extensively, killed on contact or if breathed in.

"It can kill all living beings within six hours—and leave the area safe for troops to occupy within the 12 hours it takes to oxidise and disappear," he added.

"A few fanatical distributors could destroy mankind by biological warfare. Manpower is irrelevant and heavy industry has nothing whatever to do with this form of war."

He was addressing members of the world union of peace organizations, a non-government body affiliated with the United Nations. The organization is holding a conference in the communal hall of this peaceful little village in the ura mountains.

Must Be Adaptable

Dr. Chisholm compared mankind's position to that of the brontosaurus, a prehistoric monster which became extinct because it could no longer adapt itself to the present.

"Man is now in the same position," he said. "He may or may not survive.

"It depends on whether he can change his behavior pattern to exist under this new set of conditions. Only a few more years of present behavior patterns will destroy the human race.

"One war may kill as many as 90 per cent. of the world's people. One after that, we may be sure, will be totally efficient."

Stars, Medals Now Available

OTTAWA, Sept. 10—(CP)— At long last the stars and medals for service in the Second World War are ready for distribution.

The Veterans Affairs Department announced Friday it will begin Oct. 1 mailing the campaign medals and stars to more than 1,000,000 men and women who served in the armed forces and merchant navy.

Distribution will involve a total of 3,100,000 stars and medals with an additional 524,000 clasps signifying at least 60 days' service outside Canada.

In most cases the veterans will have to write to the department for their medals.

To make it easy for application, special postage-free cards will be placed in all Canadian postoffices. These cards will also be available in all branches of the Canadian Legion.

Merchant seamen and former members of the merchant navy are advised to apply to the Department of Transport at Ottawa, submitting with their application their certificate of discharge. From this, the department will decide what awards they are entitled to, and forward the medals they have earned.

As for members of the permanent force, they'll receive their decorations through the Department of National Defense. Application will not be necessary in their case. Nor will it be necessary for certain reserve units, for which arrangements have already been made.

Minimum Salary $1,600 For Anglican Missionaries

HALIFAX, Sept. 10. (CP)—The General Synod of the Church of England in Canada Friday approved a minimum salary of $1,600 a year for married clergymen on missionary work and decided to continue its study of finances for another day at least.

The step was taken after the budget committee said money requested by three boards of the church could not be provided. How this money can be raised is what the new committee will consider.

L. C. Eames, a delegate from Hamilton, said: "I think if we examine our giving we will find we are not even tipping the Lord."

Placing a 25-cent or 50-cent piece on the church collection plate could hardly be considered for most persons a "gift" made to God. "It is a tip," he said.

Most Rev. L. R. Sherman, Archbishop of Rupert's Land, asked every Bishop or Clergyman "to use new means to obtain new money from new people so that our annual income from apportionments may soon be adequate to meet our greatly increased needs."

The Synod, besides approving the missionary salary increase from $1,400, at the same time paved the way for action which may raise it to $1,800. Previous minimum was $1,400, and the minimum for single priests is $1,200.

This move followed long discussion of the report of the church's missionary society. It was disclosed that "new and special" training would be given missionaries destined for China so they could have a "working knowledge" of Communism to enable them to work under it.

Stunt Car Runs Wild Near Stands

Philip Doherty Pulled By Driverless Car, Judges Stand Struck

Smashed by a runaway stunt car from which the driver had jumped or fallen, Philip Doherty, 43, 256 Aylmer St., died this morning at 11:30 a.m.

Doherty was a St. John Ambulance on duty in case of accidents during the car stunt show put on by Les Rogers Dare Devil Drivers at the Exhibition grounds Friday night.

He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital suffering two broken collar bones, a broken right leg, four broken ribs, two broken vertebrae, a collapsed lung and shock.

He lost consciousness at four a.m. this morning to regain it shortly before he died.

Stories of just how the accident happened conflict in spite of the fact that hundreds of people were eye-witnesses.

Hits Mud Ring

The stunt car driven by Gerry Potter had just completed one of its acts. It turned around at the west end of the race track and came back for the driver to take a bow in front of the stands. The car apparently hit the ring of mud around the inside of the track and went out of control.

It shot up on the grass bank on the inside of the track. It headed straight for the judges' stand. The driver jumped or fell from the car. There were three ambulance men standing on the west side of it.

One of them, Harry Ferguson, saw the car coming, yelled and jumped clear. The car brushed past him, burning his leg. The car hit the judges' stand, bounced off and hit Doherty, dragging him some little distance before running over him and continuing

Ottawa Asked Finance Plan

BRAMPTON, Sept. 10 (CP) — A recommendation that the Federal government attempt to undertake the financing of conservation and reforestation in the province — similar to the Prairie Farm Assistance Act—was made Friday to the Ontario Legislature's Committee on Conservation.

Representatives of York, Peel and Halton Counties and Humber valley and Etobicoke river authorities submitted briefs to the committee. The committee is making a province-wide tour to determine what measures to take for an extensive conservation program.

Paul Fisher, member of the Agricultural Institute of Canada, called for investigation of the Prairie Act. He said the conservation policy for Ontario should be administered by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

S. F. Thomas, MPP for Elgin and chairman of the committee, said arrangements had been made for the committee to meet Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of Central Experimental Farms at Ottawa, to discuss use of the Act in Ontario.

Find Wanted Man Already Locked Up

TORONTO, Sept. 10—(CP)— While police were searching for Daniel O. Connell, a third man wanted in connection with the kidnapping of two nightwatchmen from a Toronto cleaning establishment, they already had him locked up—on a nominal charge of vagrancy.

O'Connell was spotted in court Friday when he was arraigned while police investigated an alleged $45 theft from his landlady's strongbox.

In the meantime, William Robertson, 24, and Bruce Goobie, arrested earlier, were charged with armed robbery and kidnapping. Two witnesses called to identify Robertson and Goobie, spotted O'Connell and his vagrancy charge was changed to armed robbery.

More Rose Beds To Brighen British Capital

LONDON—(CP)—Royal parks in central London are to have more rose beds, more spring flowers and flowering shrubs and more varied round-the-year displays.

These are a few of the changes to be made by William Hepburn, new parks superintendent, now arranging his first autumn shows.

A gardener for 41 years, Scottish born Hepburn goes every day to an office in Hyde Park where he plans the London parks of tomorrow.

[illegible] in the spring. Along the Piccadilly side of Green Park there will be a long bank of daffodils, crocuses and snowdrops. At Hyde Park Corner he plans to lay out a miniature garden.

Victoria Towers gardens, Westminster, are to be brightened with flowering borders. The water lily basins in Kensington Gardens will be restored and the Fountain Gardens developed.

"Londoners are keen gardeners," Hepburn said. "That's why I want to give them plenty of color and variety, with some new varieties from time to time."

Farmers' Market Heaviest Of Year

Herb Cardwell had a grand show of gladioli on the market this morning. He had a special basket of smoky variety named "R.B." that caught public attention.

"It is surprising the number of Peterborough people who buy flowers all through the summer," Mr. Cardwell said. "We are specially interested in gladioli, and we know the demand that is here. Of course, the city is growing, but I think people here have always been flower lovers."

The market was jammed with vendors. They were out on the sidewalk, leaving a scant path for two buyers.

One of the regular customers said: "If it was like this all the year round, we would need a new market. The way they are crowding out on to the market should be corrected. But if the market clerk were to say anything to those sellers, the first thing you would hear from them was that he was too officious."

They were even selling puffballs. Some of the genuine producers, as distinct from middlemen, had trucks of garden produce, from potatoes to broccoli and spinach. Apples were more plentiful to-day, at prices that seemed to be securely pegged.

Aussies Count Losses After Severe Winter

By ANTONY WHITLOCK

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 10—Canadian Press Correspondent (C)—Australians will not soon forget the winter of 1949.

It hasn't been only the weather. But it's no wonder they look hopefully to springtime when one adds to record winds and rains and the worst snowfalls in some parts for 40 years all the rigors of a general coal strike.

New South Wales, the south eastern state that holds 50 per cent of Australia's population, has suffered worse than the rest of the Commonwealth [illegible] rains created a record and meteorologists warned that a bad winter lay ahead. But they couldn't foresee the coal strike that lasted seven weeks.

The strike put about 500,000 Australians out of work. To everyone in New South Wales it brought daily discomfort. With the country's largest coal seams at its back door, the state has never bothered about any other source of power for making electricity The other states have developed their own resources, turning to water or soft coal.

Coal Stocks "Frozen"

They were not so badly hit therefore when all hard coal production stopped. In New South Wales, however, householders were without electric or gas radiators for seven weeks. No Australian houses are fitted with air-conditioning oil-burner units. All coal and coke stocks were "frozen." The only firewood most people were able to get was sodden logs or green timber rushed to the cities by get-rich-quick opportunists.

Worst off of all, however, were the people of the Hunter River Valley about 100 miles north of Sydney Here is produced some of Australia's best wine and nearby most of Australia's best coal. In the disastrous June rains the Hunter River rose rapidly and burst through its protecting levees. It swept into the town of Maitland and flooded 1,600 homes. Thousands of people spent many days living in army cars while the slowly-dropping floods left their homes covered in foul-smelling mud. Seven people, caught by the floodwaters, died during a disastrous week-end at the end of June.

Agricultural experts still haven't figured out the flood damage but a fair estimate is probably about £1,000,000 in pastures, orchards and stock.

Further south in New South Wales heavy snowfalls killed about 50,000 sheep and blocked communications for days. Canberra had its heaviest snowfall for 30 years.

News of the air tragedy filtered out slowly along the C.N.R. telephone line from this little saw-milling stop, which isn't even a village, through St. Joachim, where the rail line meets a highway to Quebec.

At first it was reported that the death tool was 21, because children in arms are not named on plane manifests. When their presence on the aircraft became known the published count of victims went up to 23.

3 Executives Killed

The dead included three top executives of the $600,000,000 Kennecott Copper Company of [illegible] President E. T. Stannard, Vice-[illegible] Parker and Arthur D. Storke, named successor to Mr. Stannard, all from New York.

They were flying to titanium deposit fields in the Sept Iles region, nearly 500 miles northeast of Quebec.

Two others who died were executives of the Ontario Paper Company from St. Catharines—E. J. Calnan and William Scoular They were also associated with the Quebec North Shore Paper Company.

The crash took the third highest death toll in Canada's aviation history. The other two disasters also occurred in Quebec

The C.P.A. DC-3 left Montreal at 9 a.m. EDT Friday for the long flight to Sept Iles. It stopped at Quebec, then headed eastward toward Baie Comeau, with no indication of trouble. The crash came about 10.45 a.m.

Veteran Pilot

Capt. Pierre Laurin, who pilotd the aircraft, is a veteran of the Second World War, serving on 20 bomber raids with the R.C.A.F. His widow, who is expecting a child next week, and two-year-old son live in Montreal.

First officer Gordon Alexander, a native of Brantford, has been flying nearly seven years with C.P.A. and Quebec Airways. He is survived by his widow and young son in Verdun, Que.

The stewardess was Mrs. Gertrude McKay, whose husband was killed several years ago in an automobile accident.

Four members of one family lost their lives in the crash. Mrs. R. Chapadeau, 37-year-old mother, was flying to her home in Baie Comeau with her teen-aged daughter and son and 11-month-old baby boy.

Three members of another Baie Comeau family were killed. They were Mr. and Mrs. Henri-Paul Bouchard and their infant child.

Mrs. J. A. Guay, wife of a Quebec City jeweler, decided almost at the last moment to board the plane for a visit to relatives in northeastern Quebec.

Two inspectors of the Bank of Montreal died in the crash, C. Humphries and A. R. Keller. Both lived in Montreal.

No Roads In

The spot where the two-engined plane crashed is almost inaccessible except to experienced woodsmen. There are no roads in the immediate area.

Sectionman Oscar Tremblay said the wreckage was the most awful scene he had looked upon —"arms, legs and even heads torn from bodies all jammed in the twisted front part of the plane."

He told, also, of seeing the mangled bodies "of little babies."

Percy Institute Observes 40th Milestone

WARKWORTH, Sept. 10. — (ENS).—About one hundred ladies met in the Masonic Temple here recently to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Percy Women's Institute.

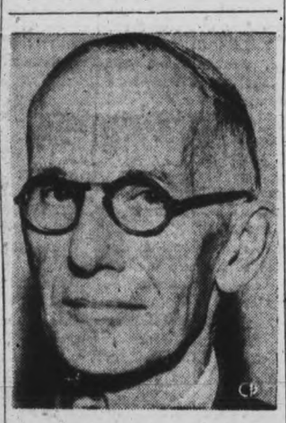
Mrs. Oscar Laver, the president, assisted by Mrs. Wm. Shaw and Mrs. Norman Gummer, received the guests. Quiet music was played by Mrs. Gordon McCubbin while the guests were assembling.

Miss Kidd, of Toronto, who represented the Institute directorate, Miss A. Lewis, also Miss Noble, [illegible] brought greetings from the Institute branch and home economics service.

Several letters of greetings from former presidents and members were read by the secretary, Mrs. Charles Puffer. A letter from Mrs. George Carlaw, the first president of the Percy Women's Institute, was also read. Mrs. George Hutchinson and Mrs. Fred Huycke were the only two of the fourteen charter members who were able to be present at the meeting.

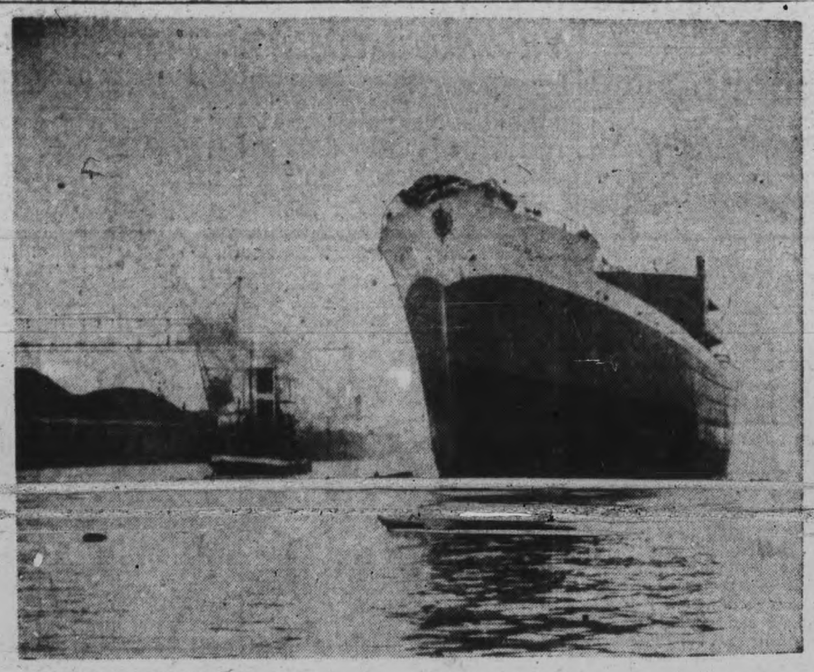
Mrs. James Black of Campbellford, who is the Federated Board director, and who is a former member of the Percy branch, addressed the meeting, giving the history of the Percy Women's Institute during the past forty years and an account of their accomplishments. She called on each president to give a highlight during her term of office.

Bring Greetings



The president and secretary from each branch in the district were invited to attend and they brought greetings from their respective branches.

An exhibition of tap dancing was given by Misses June and Joy Craighead. Mrs. Chas. Puffer rendered a solo.



Eleven ladies took part in a fashion parade illustrating the fashions from the year 1909 to 1949 inclusive.

Mrs. Peter Jones and Mrs. George Partridge poured tea. Lunch was served by the Sewing Sisters (a junior branch of the Institute).

Mrs. George Hutchinson, one of the oldest members, was chosen to cut the cake.

Work Progresses On Building Last 100 Houses

Peterborough's hard - pressed veterans and their families have been watching with interest the houses going up under the production line methods of the Reynold's Construction Company on either side of Monaghan Rd. on O'Connell Rd. and now on a west extension of McKellar St.

Under contract with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the government owned housing company, work has already begun on the 100 houses contracted in August. It is rumored another 25 will be added to the contract.

Excavations are well on the way and 31 basements have been constructed. Footings for another 15 have been laid and the forms will be constructed Monday for pouring cement.

One hundred and thirty-six families have moved into houses on the east side of Monaghan Rd. many on O'Connell Rd. There are also seven houses complete except for power, and families can expect to be able to move in any day.

Ready To Seed Lawns

While construction is going on more than 100 houses the finishing touches are being made to the 136 already occupied. Landscaping on O'Connell Rd. is being completed and lawns will be seeded Monday.

Not all of the newly-contracted 100 houses will be built on McKellar St. Some will be erected on McFarlane St. in Ashburnham. It has not been decided yet how the numbers will be divided. Another 26 near the Lock's bridge are complete except for finishing the landscaping and they have been occupied some time.

In the McKellar St. site, every stage of building can be seen from raw excavations in the light sand fields to completed houses.

Two Minor Accidents Probed By Provincials

Neither driver was injured when a car and a truck collided at about 10.00 a.m. Friday at the intersection of a private laneway and a township road 1½ miles west of Young's Point on the 11th Concession of Smith Township. The car was driven by Jacob Sturzenegger, R.R. 3, Lakefield, and the truck by Earl Dickson, of Birdsall. The truck was undamaged, but the car received damage to the grill and front left fender. The accident was investigated by Corporal L. A. McClure of the Provincial Police.

Corporal McClure also investigated an accident which took place on No. 28 Highway one mile south of Lakefield at about 3.00 a.m. Friday. In this mishap a truck driven by Gerard Soumis, R.R. 2, Elmvale, got out of control and landed in a deep ditch, being almost hidden from view by trees and shrubbery. Soumis was unhurt and the truck received only slight damage. It was heading north at the time and had just rounded a curve when the accident occurred.

Fine 2 Missionaries For Street Meetings

VAL D'OR, Que., Sept. 10 (CP) —Rev. W. J. Wellington of Hull, Que., and L. G. Barnhardt, of Noranda, Que., Baptist missionaries, Friday night were fined $25 and costs or one month in jail for holding a street-corner meeting here, Aug. 29.

The two Baptists, tried Wednesday night by City Recorder J. L. Baillergeon, appeared for sentence ready to enter nearby Amos jail rather than pay the fines.

Five others including Rev. L. T. Heron of the Val d'Or Baptist Mission and Rev. Y. N. Hurtubise of Malartic have previously been convicted on similar charges.

The street-corner meetings violate a city by-law.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1949

Good-Bye, Victoria

We don't want her, London can have her, she's too big for us. That in effect is what the voice of Peterborough, by the Mayor's tongue, has said about the Dublin statue of recent dispute of good Queen Victoria. Peterborough has renounced all intention of laying claim to the huge monument; the cost of transporting it to Peterborough would have been as monumental as the statue is. If London wants to raise some eight thousand dollars to raise the thing on one of her parks, she may have it with Peterborough's yahooted wishes.

* * *

And so we say good-bye to Victoria without shedding crocodile tears. However, if London takes the statue and it is routed by rail through Peterborough, we shall pay as devoted homage to it as we used to when the circus or vice-royalty passed through the city; we shall go down to the tracks and doff our cap as she passes.

* * *

Oscar Wilde remarked in Dorian Gray that "nowadays people die of a sort of creeping common sense, and discover when it is too late that the only thing one never regrets are one's mistakes". Has Peterborough been too commonsensical about the statue; has it made a mistake in not affording a Victorian colossus, even if it had been folly? It is not a canon of art that size itself is a just criterion; nevertheless bigness is impressive. Keble College, Oxford, is an artistic monstrosity, yet the extent of its ugliness commands respect. St. Peter's in Rome is not intrinsically beautiful, but its vastness makes it admirable. The Dublin statue of Victoria may be a holy terror, artistically, as a former Dublin councillor told the Examiner, but were it reposing in our Victoria Park, no one could have said it was a little thing of no account.

* * *

We say good-bye to Victoria with sentimental regret, and, loath as we are to tell people how they should spend their money, we are sorry that no well-heeled citizen of individual character did not say, "Here's the eight thousand; bring the statue to Peterborough". He could never have bought cheaper a more outstanding and enduring, and even famous, monument to himself.

* * *

Another thought occurs to us: What would the good Queen herself have said about these goings-on? She would definitely not have been amused.

When The U.K. Was Dominant There Was No Sterling Shortage

Throughout the nineteenth century when Britain was the leading financial and industrial nation there was never any chronic "shortage of sterling". Since 1900 the United States has been the leading industrial nation, and since 1920 the leading financial nation; and since 1920 there has been a world-wide "shortage of dollars". When Britain was top-dog, the world's banker and creditor, why was there no pound shortage? Now that the United States is in the lead, why is there a dollar shortage?

The most important reason for there having been no shortage of pounds, no chronic stultifying situation such as afflicts the dollar-pressed world now, was that free trade was central to British policy. The reasons for the free-trade policy were that Britain depended heavily on imported raw materials for her industry, on imported foods for her growing population, and on exporting her manufactured goods. For many years Britain's exports greatly exceeded her imports, as American exports are now exceeding her imports. But there was no sterling shortage in the nineteenth century because Britain's surplus earnings were invested abroad. As Canadians well know, there was a tremendous flow of pounds to colonies and Dominions.

By the turn of the century Britain's investments abroad has helped to build up industrial rivals. The first war left Britain heavily in debt to the United States, as it left almost every other European country, and cut off her markets. Between the two wars Britain imported more than she exported but managed to get along by using the interests and profits from early overseas investments. But the United States had become the leading financial and industrial nation.

The United States has not adopted free trade, because there was little advantage in it for her and no necessity for doing so. The United States did not have to import raw materials and food; they were to be found abundantly within her own borders. Instead of free trade, the U.S. tended to raise high tariff barriers to protect her industries from outside competition..

The first acute dollar shortage occurred after the first war. As an article in the August issue of the monthly bulletin of the Department of External Affairs points out, this shortage went by the name "repudiation of war debts", and instead of a Marshall Plan there was a Dawes Plan (which included a large American loan to Germany).

[illegible] and Britain's economies were further damaged by the last war. In 1938 Britain had to use £200 millions in income from overseas investments and £45 millions of overseas capital to meet the trade deficit. During the war she had to use up £1,000 millions of her own overseas assets to pay for food and war materials, before Lend-Lease and Mutual Aid. Her foreign debts incurred during the war amounted to £3,000 millions; since the war they have amounted to £1,250. In addition to all this, her powers to produce for home and export markets were crippled, and her dollar-earning carrying trade depleted by both physical damage and depreciation of equipment.

Britain's economic situation vis a vis the U.S.A. is not unique in kind though it is in magnitude. Europe, South America and of course Canada are in dollar difficulties. A way out of the difficulties must be found in Washington for, as Sir Stafford Cripps said the other day, failure of the three-power conference will be "dangerous to the whole trading structure of the world". It cannot be a way back to the old British system of the nineteenth century, for now most of the countries are industrialized; but the way forward must have greater elements of free trade. The British proposal that Marshall Plan countries be permitted to spend E.C.A. dollars outside the United States is a step along that way.

Curtain-Call—For Next Year

Tonight the final curtain falls on the Peterborough Summer Theatre's season. For eleven successive weeks this group of young professional actors, Canadians, American and British, has given folk in this district good theatre, good entertainment, and refreshment. It is a new thing for Peterborough, the productions have had an excellence deserving of unstinted praise, and—praise be—the season has been a success from whatever vantage point it is surveyed. Actors and management have had reason to be pleased with their reception, and have given acknowledgement of the support from audiences, from the Board of Education which is properly interested in adult education and made the stage and auditorium available at terms within their financial means, and from the many individuals who helped in other ways. Civic Peterborough and its surrounding district have had reason to be glad and thankful for the plays and players.

It has been a striking achievement. Financially, so we hear, the Summer Theatre has come out of the red, whereas other summer playhouses in the country have had to be subsidized or to close up. Artistically—and in this we do not rely on heresay, but on comparisons with other repertory companies in Canada and abroad—the summer has been an unqualified success. Consider the number, quality and variety of the plays presented: Fortune My Foe, George and Margaret, Angel Street, Blithe Spirit, Arsenic and Old Lace, Rebecca, John Loves Mary, By Candlelight, The Importance of Being Earnest, French Without Tears, and this last week's production, The Voice of the Turtle. When one play was being staged, the next was in rehearsal, often by the same actors. These plays have been presented with artistic integrity, with fresh vitality, and with the aim, apparent to the audiences, of doing the very best, not with the attitude: "Oh, this will be good enough".

As the actors and staff go their several ways, we wish them well and we wish them back again next year. To Mr. Michael Sadlier, the prime mover in the enterprise and to Mr. Graham Ferguson and the actors, and all the enthusiasts behind and on stage, the people's thanks. We look forward to next summer's season, and there will be one, as Mr. Sadlier has promised.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Dollars talk, but Sir Stafford Cripps is making a pretty good punch in Washington, for a man of his pounds.

Fashion designers are suggesting "square hips" in autumn styles. Just the thing for some of those modern chairs.

The Marchbanks Correspondence

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esquire
Dear Mr. Marchbanks:

Would you write—or better still, cable—just as fast as you can, anything you have found out during your stay in Britain which would show how awful the Labour Government is and what a mistake Socialism is. I have to address a study group on "Whither Britain?" next Monday and I don't know anything about it. I know you will be writing some articles on this subject and I would like the information before you do that, as it will be stale by then. Of course, I do not know you very well, but I feel that I can rely on you. Thanks a million.

Dick Dandiprat.

To Richard Dandiprat, Esquire
My Good Dandiprat:

In feeling that you can rely on me you am not going to give you all my painfully-gleaned information so that you may blab it out to your loathesome study group. If it is made up of coxcombs and ignoramuses like you it must be an intellectual body indeed. I have now been on British soil for precisely 48 hours, and my opinions on Socialism in action are as yet unformed. When they do jell,—if they ever do—you will receive them through your newspaper. If anything could make a socialist of me, it would be boobs like you, who hate it without knowing anything about it.

Yours with scorn and contumely,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Samuel Mockbanks, Esquire
Dear Mr. Mockbanks:

In your correspondence with the Fiscal Control and Suppression Board recently, your "Form Z" was returned to this office unstamped. It is therefore invalid, and the sterling currency now in your possession has no legal existence. In order that your position may be regularized as soon as possible, you must secure Forms H and Q from the British Currency Legitimization Authority, and obtain permission to export one cent (1c) in Canadian curency to us. We shall purchase a one-cent stamp for your "Form Z" with this sum. A further charge for service in purchasing, moistening and affixing the stamp, amounting to five dollars, will also be charged. Please attend to this matter immediately, as until you do so your money is a fiction.

Yours,
Haubergeon Hydra,
(Sub-deputy Fiscal Repressor).

To Haubergeon Hydra, Esquire
Dear Mr. Hydra:

Far be it from me to dispute the word of a government official, but my sterling currency seems to be quite real. The people of Edinburgh are willing, and even eager to accept it. However, if you want a one-cent stamp I happen, by a lucky chance, to have one in my pocket, which I enclose. You overestimate the difficulty of getting it on to the document; it is not five dollars worth of work even for a Civil Servant. Just a quick lick and a slap, and it's done.

Yours,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Raymond Cataplasm, M.D., F.R.C.P.
Dear Dr. Cataplasm:

You wanted to know how your pills worked when I was flying: they were first-rate. But I find that one wants not only a pill to still the stomach while in the air; one wants something also which will suspend the sense of hearing and induce a gentle sleep. The noise of an airplane is very great, and there is no way of escaping it. One must be in one's seat or one must be in the washroom; the noise is dreadful in both places. One can scarcely hear oneself read. Certainly it is impossible to talk. The seats are comfortable: the food is good: the staff is courteous. But the noise is devilish. Now could you not produce a pill which would produce an agreeable numbing of all the senses during flight?

Yours,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esquire
Dear Mr. Marchbanks:

So you are in Edinburgh! Well, now! Years ago, you know, I taught your brother Fairchild in school, and little did I think at that time that you would ever be in Edinburgh. But since you are, I know you will not mind doing a favour for an old friend and well-wisher. My family, as you know, is Scottish and I have long wanted to honour the land of my forbears in some striking fashion. Will you buy, therefore, sixteen or eighteen yards of material in the Hawser tartan—the Dress Hawser, not the Hunting Hawser—and bring it back to me when you come. You might as well see it through the Customs, to avoid any trouble. I shall then cause an evening dress to be made from it, which I shall wear on any occasion which seems to warrant such a display. I hope you enjoy your stay in "the land o' cakes".

Lang may your lum reek!
Minerva Hawser.

To Miss Minerva Hawser
Dear Miss Hawser:

You err; it was not my Brother Fairchild, but my Uncle Gomeril whom you taught. When I made enquiries here concerning the Hawser tartan I was greeted with oblique glances in several shops, and all knowledge of your family was hastily denied. Are you sure that you know all the circumstances which led to the migration of Clan Hawser?

Long may your blood boil,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Amvas Pilgarlic, Esq.
Dear Pil:

I have been in Edinburgh since last night. So far as I have been able to see, it is everything a great city should be, and I suggest that you might some day write something on the ennobling effects of great architecture on municipal life. Edinburgh is, I am told, roughly the size of Toronto; there this very rough resemblance ceases. So far I have done little but wander about the streets, gaping, but this morning I spent two hours in Bute House in Charlotte Square, looking at the Exhibition of Stuart Relics. Three things in particular enchanted me; First was a full-length picture of the Earl of Moray after his murder; he was naked and all his wounds were most realistically shown; the picture bore the adjuration "God Revenge My Caus": Second was a tapestry of Daniel in the Lions' Den, embroidered in "gros point" by Mary Queen of Scots—a lively, comic piece of work, not very expertly done: Third was a most exquisite little George and the Dragon, in crystal, enamel and jewels, from the collar worn by the Duke of Monmouth as a member of the Order of the Garter.—Tell any of your friends who are Orangemen that I also saw several fine portraits of King Billy, far handsomer than those they carry in their parades. —And now I must go to a rehearsal, and can write no more. But I promise you a fuller account of my adventurers in a few days.—The weather is warm and sunny. I write from the Assembly Rooms, so closely associated with Sir Walter Scott and, for the moment, with Your affectionate friend.

Sam.

ONE AMERICAN REASON FOR NOT LETTING HIM FALL

Mounting Unemployment in India

By O. M. GREEN

WHATEVER evils the pessimists may have predicted for India as likely to result from partition, no one expected that unemployment would become, as it has, one of her most serious problems.

Figures recently published by the Indian Government's Employment Exchange show that in the first half of this year unemployment had risen by nearly 40 per cent. compared with the same period in 1948.

The total of 555,775 in proportion to India's huge population, seems at first sight small. But it is pointed out that registration at the labour exchanges is purely voluntary; the middle class, to which many of the unemployed belong, do not register from feelings of pride—they hate to advertise their poverty. According to good judges the true figures of urban unemployment are well over 1,500,000. No attempt has yet been made to find out what unemployment amounts to among the millions of peasants. Not the least disquieting feature is that among the unemployed this year appear over 40,000 skilled technical workers.

That India's general economy is facing very serious difficulties is beyond doubt. Pakistan can at least feed herself and has hitherto been able to balance her budgets, with a fair surplus. India is still a large importer of food, and with the present stagnation of business her adverse trade balance last year was roughly £170 million. Her sterling balances, which ought to be devoted to capital equipment are being used for current necessities.

Many causes are assigned for this depression. Inflation, which the best efforts of the Government have not been able to check, is the most obvious. Taxation has risen to intolerable heights. With this, the general tendency of the Provincial Governments to force up wages in the laudable but at present unrealistic desire to help the poor man, is making India's products too expensive to sell abroad. Coal costs four times what it did prewar at the pithead: and already the high price of jute (India's best export) begins to make foreign purchasers look for substitutes. Transport, now nationalized is slow and very dear, and the many unresolved disputes between India and Pakistan further obstruct the recovery of business.

ANOTHER serious factor is the marked lack of confidence among Indian business men. Many once flourishing businesses showed heavy losses last year. Industrialists are haunted with the fear that the Government is planning vast schemes of socialization, and wondering gloomily what sort of Government will emerge from the coming general elections when, under the Constitution, there will be adult suffrage.

For some time now there has been almost a complete lack of industrial expansion. Banks are chary of advancing money; those who have capital prefer to keep it locked up; and from the middle class whose savings would normally go into industry, nothing is forthcoming because, no one can save anything while incomes hardly suffice for daily needs.

It is difficult to see where the remedy is to be found. India's great asset has always been cheap labour. Now not only is labour dear, but the Provincial Labour Tribunals to which disputes between capital and labour are referred have given the Indian workers the idea that it is always a good risk to refer to the Tribunals which have a pre-conceived leaning in their favour. So their work has fallen off accordingly. Even the Chinese Communists have made it clear to the workers that their regime does not mean less work for money but virtually the reverse, and that capitalists must still be allowed to make profits in order to enlist their enterprise for the benefit of all China. Some such action seems indispensable by the Indian Government if confidence is to be restored.

It is noticeable that British employers in India appear much less afraid to launch out than the Indian. But India urgently needs new foreign capital and her present condition is not of the kind to attract it.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf. And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod. And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.

And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?... When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand? (Mark 8: 14-17, 19-21.)

Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed. (John 6: 27.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?... Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? (For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Matt. 6: 26, 31-33.)

That Cost Of Living

(Ottawa Journal)

Let us admit, too, that if our dollars buy less than they used to, more of us have more dollars. We pay more for our food and our fuel and our shelter, or we pay more for an automobile, but we work fewer days than before to get the money needed to come by such things. And more people, far more, are at work.

The real hardship of higher living costs falls upon those whose wages or salaries or incomes have not gone up; upon those, for example, who are on pensions, or who derive their incomes from small estates. A small investor or a widow deriving her income from some small legacy, does not get as much now as formerly, when money was dearer, when such things as mortgages and trust funds yielded more.

These things excepted — it seems a pity something can't be done about them — the truth remains that for the vast majority of our people existing higher living costs are not as fearsome as they might seem. Mostly, everything considered, our people still are reasonably prosperous, with income in fair relation to out-go, and with the standard of living as high as ever it has been in our history.

A woman had frowned on her husband for many days. Then, like a burst of sunshine from a cloudy sky, she smiled.

"Does that mean, honey," he asked, "that you forgive me?"

"Go on way. I was just restin' my face."

A BRITISH OPINION

World Copyright. By arrangement with Evening Standard

By the time this column appears more than thirty members of the Legislture headed by host, the Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, will be back at their homes telling families and friends of their recent trip of 3,000 miles into Ontario's northland. Most of them are of the opinion that they have seen so much that it will take some time for the overall picture to pull itself into clear focus. They have seen so much that is new to most of them, they have met so many people, they have been entertained so lavishly, that they are aghast. But of northern people they are so impressed that it is the main topic of train conversation. They mixed with lumbermen, fishermen, miners, paper makers, forest rangers, bush pilots and officials of towns, cities and villages, and found them all to be of the highest calibre. They admired their big heartedness, their unbounding faith in various ventures of this vast section of the province and their pride. After the first day there was no more talk of rock-and-bush desolation when the panorama started to unfold.

Enough Daily Water For 14 Cities

They saw the huge iron ore venture at Steeprock, and stood on the rim of a rust colored pit where the Quaker Oats plant could rest on the working floor with room at the top for most of the C.G.E. works.

At the same property they saw how rivers had been drilled, blasted and twisted to divert them so that this mammoth ore pit originally a large lake with many miles of shore line, had been pumped dry. A battery of 14 pumps working day and night for six months did the job and pumped out enough total gallonage each day to supply water for 14 Canadian cities. From rolling buses they watched the unbelievable tourist lodge business in full swing in the Lake of the Woods country and to the north where 400 resorts nestled on pine-clad shores and islands. They took a third-dimensional view at various spots from forestry seaplanes and trudged miles along underground drifts and crosscuts in the damp darkness to watch miners drilling, mucking and tramming gold and nickle ores. The trip was far from oldhat to me; rather it was like a home-coming for I had spent several years in various parts of the north and was able to renew many acquaintances. There were Dr. Hicks, a geologist at Steeprock, Keith Athison, regional forester, and Del Delamere, both of Kenora. In Sioux Lookout there was Mayor Bill Fuller, oilman Con Swenson and the boys from Hudson, Joe Kennealy, the Bowmans and Col. Candlish. Time was all too brief to do more than be brought up-to-date during an 11-year absence.

North Bay No Longer Up North

They are all grand boys and I hope to be able to run into them again. So far, I have been telling of the trip as seen through the eyes of the members of the Legislature. My personal summing up of the trip is this: People of Southern Ontario, of the rest of Canada, of the United States must be told the true story about this wonderful province by lectures, movies and radio. People of the press, lands and forests, travel and publicity are doing their level best and now it is an issue for the Department of Education to handle. Those of us who are middle-aged parents see our children still reading a few short paragraphs on Northern Ontario geography. It must be brought up-to-date and given its proper place in the sun. There are bags of material available and school children must be taught now the story of their great province. People of Southern Ontario, raise your sights, don't think of North Bay being up north any longer. After all, they call their city the gateway to the north and that is exactly where it begins.

Gaunt Gold Mine Headframes

This story must be broad and colorful and tell of smoking steel mills, towering grain elevators, the yawning open pits of new iron mines. It must tell, too, of the gaunt gold mine head frames that rise singularly from their grey slime beds, or collectively, as in Kirkland Lake, where they march down the city's main street. The story must take on a three-dimensional viewpoint from a mile underground in dark mine workings and thousands of feet into the air to see the brooding land as far as Hudson Bay. And to make young readers think, this color geography story must touch on the thousands of square miles of the burnt-over bush, the result of man's carelessness.

They will be impressed in this instance as I was in passing a blackened forest graveyard on the road between Geraldton and Hearst where a prominent simple sign reads "Carelessness did this." This, in my opinion, is the essence of the story of Northern Ontario I want my children to learn now. New northern friends I would like to hear from further, Phil Rhynus and Yorky Fiskar, Department of Lands and Forests, Gord Goldie, editor of Geraldton's Times-Star, George McLean, travel and publicity director and cameraman Clint Melville of the same department. Then there are Fred Flatt and Joe Bond, both of Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company, Kapuskasing, and many others.

Young Poet Torn By Polio Died At Brink of Fame

By RENE LAGACE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Gustave Magella Dufour, a young poet who throughout his life strived for recognition, died after reaching his goal—but never knew it.

The 28-year-old resident of suburban Verdun developed poliomyelitis when he was eight years old in his native St. Basile, N.B. It was difficult for him to walk, but he completed 10 years at the Edmunston, N.B., school. At 13, he was confined to a wheelchair and at 16 his parents brought him to Montreal for examination by specialists.

Doctors said the youth would not live past his 21st birthday because the disease was spreading steadily and eventually would reach his heart.

The Dufour family moved to Verdun in 1934 by which time Gustave's throat muscles were so affected he could hardly speak.

But he read countless books to better his style and learn about the outside world which he seldom saw. Then he wrote song lyrics and poems.

He forwarded several of his poems to the American Arts and Poets Association, but received no reply. Finally Bob Carleton made a special recording of one of Gustave's songs, "You're So Sweet," and sent him a transcription copy.

Shortly after, requests for songs and poems began to pour in, but Gustave's condition had so worsened that he could not answer them.

Writing his last poems was hard. With fingers partly numb and muscles refusing to co-ordinate, it took him long minutes to strike a key on his typewriter. He sometimes took a whole day to write a four-line verse.

I saw old Autumn in the misty morn
Stand shadowless like silence.
Thomas Hood: Autumn

He died last June 4, four days before his 29th birthday. Soon after his younger brother, Fernando, cleared Gustave's desk and came upon an unopened envelope from the American Arts and Poets Association.

It advised Gustave that two of his poems had been chosen as being the work of one of the "outstanding poets of 1948." The poems were published in the book "Important Poets and Songwriters of 1948."

But Gustave never had opened the letter.

ONE-YEAR-OLD JOHNNY HUGHES gets his first haircut. While mother stands by to give assurance, Barber Jacques Fortier pins cloth around Johnny's neck. By "breaking him in" with first few haircuts at home, Johnny is spared usual initial terror of barber shops. Johnny is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hughes of Peterborough, and lives in Ottawa where his father John W. Hughes, of the National Film Board, took this series of photographs.

"HEY! What goes on?" Johnny is startled as unfamiliar barber runs comb through his hair, preparatory to beginning cutting.

"Whoops!" Johnny ducks to avoid pass with scissors. While not frightened now, he is still unsure and has to become accustomed to procedure.

"Be careful with that ear, Mr. Barber." Johnny still wonders what is happening. But there were no screams or tears at the "first haircut."

"See how brave I am?" Now completely at home, all that is required is Daddy's floor show to keep Johnny from turning his head to see what barber is doing.

His First Time In Barber's Chair Was In The Kitchen Chair; No Tears!

By JOHN W. HUGHES

You may never have to worry about it, but if you have a little boy about one year old his hair is probably growing at an alarming rate. Sooner or later you're just going to have to get it cut. If you haven't had experience, you're in for a shock. So here's some advice about kids and kitchens.

If you're well versed in child psychology this will seem pretty elementary, but we went through the "first haircut" twice with nephews and it wasn't fun. Then we read a book on child psychology, and we were all set when Johnny arrived with his hair growing like mad.

By the time he was one year old, Johnny looked as if he needed a violin or a dog tag; his hair was good and long, and while it didn't bother him, his mother thought it was time he was given the "new look."

The next time I was in his shop, I asked my barber, an experienced and sympathetic craftsman, if he would come to our house to cut my one-year-old son's hair. He readily agreed, and I've discovered since that this is usual because it probably means another regular customer for the barber.

At the appointed time Mr. Fortier arrived with assorted hair cutting apparatus, and we set to the task of acquainting Johnny with our guest. It didn't take long, and soon Johnny was sitting on the tray of his highchair (it's about the right height) with a diaper (it's softer than the barber's cloth) around his neck.

With real patience, Mr. Fortier showed all of his tools to Johnny. He let him feel them, and then ran his comb through my hair to show Johnny what he intended to use them for. Johnnys' mother and I didn't interfere during these preliminaries, Mr. Fortier was quite capable, and our part in the play was to come a little later.

Finally the barber thought he might begin, so he combed Johnny's hair to prepare it for cutting. This brought a questioning look from junior, who wasn't exactly anxious to have a complete stranger get so personal, but he didn't make any real objection.

I've already said that Mr. Fortier is both sympathetic and experienced, and both of these real advantages soon became apparent. Instead of starting right in with the clippers, a startling experience for any child the first time, he worked up to that business gradually by cutting around with the scissors first. Johnny reacted, of course, he weaved and ducked and made faces, but most of all he was greatly curious about what was being done behind his back. He tried to look around to see what was going on, and this is where the parents come in.

Now we had tough competition, but we just had to provide entertainment in front of the subject that was more interesting to him that what the patient barber was doing. If you've had experience with your own or someone else's offspring, you'll know how very difficult it is to distract him once he has his mind made up to do something else.

We were probably lucky here, because Johnny, unlike his sister who arrived at about the same time that the picture-taking bug bit me, hadn't been photographed very much. He was interested in my photographic equipment, and the flash bulbs flaring kept his interest for some time.

Naturally I couldn't keep on taking pictures throughout the operation ,and even if it had been practical, it would have palled on Johnny, so we had to invent ways to keep his interest. These included turning the egg beater furiously (always a dependable diversion), bouncing a ball, making faces (a practice I deplore, but at which I've become an adept), and dropping three spoons on the floor in rapid succession ad infinitum.

Soon it was over, and Johnny had a real professional haircut and not the usual tufts and tassels variety. His mother was happy, and Mr. Fortier wasn't worn to a frazzle. He came to our house twice after that, and then Johnny graduated to the barber shop with first class honors and never a tear. He doesn't mind the snip snip of the scissors or even the whirring of the electric clippers because, after all, he became acquainted with them in his own kitchen.

So that's why we feel that the experiment was a most successful one. And it was quite inexpensive. It cost 75c each time, which, incidentally, is just 35c more than a barber shop haircut for Johnny in our town.

So if you feel that you'd like to avoid the possibility of a nervous breakdown, frustrated children with clipper complexes and alienating the affections of your favorite barber, our unqualified advice, and remember it's tried and true, in fact it's "kitchen tested," is "start them off in the high chair."

Mules Died During Trip

"The heat and long confinement in the holds of the transports have told very severely on the horses and mules, and many of them died during the last two days of the voyage."

How many readers who saw dispatches from the war fronts in the Second World War would recognize this sentence as a dispatch from the American Navy?

The message quoted above appears in a fifty-year-old copy of a Peterborough newspaper dated June 22 1898, which George Crooks, RR 2, Peterborough, found in his home recently. The paper was discovered behind a picture which has been hanging in its frame for many years.

The report describes an American landing in the Spanish-American War. Six days after the fleet set out from Port Tampa it arrived at Santiago de Cuba. The crew suffered little sea sickness, but developed 14 cases of typhoid.

Sight of the blockading ships sent a thrill of enthusiasm through the soldiers, the dispatch says.

On the same page of this paper are no less than five advertisements advising Peterborough and district residents of the pleasure cruises and regular steamboat schedules. There was a regular trip on Saturdays from Harwood for farmers coming into Peterborough market Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday the Majestic left Lakefield for Stony Lake and points to Burleigh, and there was apparently no shortage of enterprising navigators who provided a day's boat trip for 50 cents

PROPHECY, 1842

These lines were published by Tennyson in 1842, many years before aeroplanes and, of course, before the World Wars, the League of Nations and United Nations.

For I dipt into the future, far as human eye could see,
Saw the Vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be;
Saw the heavens fill with commerce, argosies of magic sails,
Pilots of the purple twilight dropping down with costly bales;
Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue;
Far along the world-wide whisper of the south-wind rushing warm,
With the standards of the peoples plunging thro' the thunder-storm;
Till the war-drum throbb'd no longer, and the battle-flags were furl'd
In the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the world.

Oshawa Defeats Petes 6-4 With COBL Final Protested

Oshawa Merchants beat the Petes 6-4 here last night to apparently win the COBL championship in four straight, but the Petes launched a protest in the ninth inning because of darkness. The Merchants broke the 4-4 deadlock in the first of the ninth with two runs, while the Petes went down on six strikeouts in the eighth and ninth, claiming it was too dark in the ninth to see the ball. Earlier they argued bitterly on a call at home plate in the seventh when Oshawa scored the tying run.

Bill Dadson started for the Petes but gave way to Bill Edger in the sixth, while Bill Gingerich went the route for Oshawa in fair style. George Ticcony led the winners at bat with two for three as McMullen and Kitchen each got two in five tries. Al Menzies topped the Petes with three in five times up, and Danny Brown had two for four. A running catch by Michael in the seventh was a fielding feature.

Ump in Wrong

Umpire Fair got in wrong with two out in Oshawa's half of the seventh. The score was 4-3 for Petes, Gingerich was on third and there were two strikes on McMullen. Gingerich tried to steal home on the next pitch and apparently made it safely on a close play, but Umpire Fair caled the play "'safe" and forgot to call the pitch—which looked a perfect strike. If called a strike, the run would not have counted, but as players rushed around yelling "'it was a strike," he belatedly decided to call it a ball. He was in hot water from then on with the Petes and the fans, some of whom went on the field but were chased off.

On earned runs, it was 4-2 for Oshawa as both sides had a few costly miscues. The Petes rolled to an early lead but seemed helpless the last half, while Oshawa didn't tally till the sixth, but counted then, in the seventh and got the winning two runs in the ninth. The game was slow, a typical Oshawa-Petes' tilt.

Brampton Wins Deciding Game In Last Spurt

By The Canadian Press.

Owen Sound Crescents and Hamilton Tigers face off Monday in the first game of the best-of-three Ontario Senior Lacrosse semi-finals while Brampton Excelsiors get a bye.

The quarter-finals ended last night when Brampton and Owen Sound Crescents both won the deciding game in their respective best-of-seven rounds. Brampton defeated St. Catharines Athletics 6-5 and Owen Sound downed Mimico Mounties 10-6.

With the first game of the semi-finals at Owen Sound, the combatants move to Hamilton Sept. 13 for their second game and a third game, if necessary, will be played at Owen Sound Sept. 15 If it rains Sept. 13, the second game will be played in Hamilton Wednesday.

If the series goes just two games the best-of-five final series will start Sept. 15. If the semi-finals go three games, the final series will start Sept. 17.

Brampton has the right to decide where the first game of the finals will be played.

Last-Period Spurts

In both games Friday night the winning team put on a last-period spurt to take the victory. At Owen Sound, Crescents and Mounties entered the final frame 3-3, but three fast goals by Owen Sound, put Crescents out of danger and they outscored Mounties 7-3 in that frame.

Top scorer for Crescents was Mason with three goals. Al Smith, G. Gillespie, McWhirter, F. Smith, D. Gillespie, Slater and White each scored once. Hayes with two goals and Ken Dixon, Simpson, Williams and Archie Dixon tallied for Mounties.

At Brampton, play was close in the first three frames with the first frame showing no scoring. By the three-quarter mark the teams were tied 3-3 and two goals by Hilson and one by Caruso put Excelsiors ahead by the halfway mark of the last quarter. St. Catharines answered with two goals but couldn't get the tying counter.

Bob Hilson was the only two-goal man for Brampton. Raine, Crawford, H. Madgett and Caruso each scored once.

Wiper scored twice for Mounties while Damico, Urquhart and Madsen scored one apiece.

Pedlars Take OASA Tilt Over Cosmos

OSHAWA, Sept. 10 (Special)—The Oshawa Pedlars defeated the Cosmoplitan Club of Peterborough 8-1 here last night to begin their two-of-three OASA intermediate "A" playdown series. The second contest will be staged in the Liftlock City at 8.30 under the lights this Saturday night.

One big inning settled matters last evening. The home squad got off to a flying start in the first inning with seven runs on bunched hits and some loose infield play by the Cosmos. After that they were held well in check, with the Petes also held to a single run. Oshawa's other run came in the fourth, and Cosmos got one in their half.

Muelemeester was in good form to scatter seven hits and fan 16, while the winners got but eight hits off Crowley and Akers, the latter taking over in the first. Neither Peterborough twirler had good support, Cosmos kicking in with seven errors. Nelson and Magee led the winners at bat with two safeties each, and Pryde showed the way for the Cosmos with two bingles, nearly getting a third but for slow footwork.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

A quick summary of local games today, weather permitting, of course. At three this aft in the Bowl, Toronto girls play Woollens to open their PWSU junior playdown series, return tilt being next week-end in Toronto. At 3.30 today in Riverside, it's Toronto peewees vs. our Kinsmen to start their best-of-three OBA playdowns, these teams going back to Toronto next Saturday. And at 8.30 tonight in the Bowl, Oshawa Pedlars tackle the Cosmos in OASA intermediate "A" playdowns. This is written before the result of their opening joust in the Motor City was known, but in any case tonight's men's softball playoff rates a big crowd. All these games here today do. Our grid Panthers are playing in Oshawa this afternoon.

Dit Clapper and Vern Dawson successfully completed arrangements to bring Toronto Tip Tops here next Tuesday night. It will be an 8.30 men's softball ehibition in the Bowl. This starry squad—an ace international diamond attraction — will play the local Merchants, Johnny Russelle's all-star aggregation from the City Softball League, and we're told that Tip Tops will loan their stellar battery to the locals for the game. Charles Justice will be burning 'em in for Merchants. Be sure and see this one, as it'll be a honey. Proceeds go to aid minor baseball in this city, the minors being well in the red now.

Picking Arena Manager

A few nights ago, the Civic Arena board of management held a meeting lasting past midnight. They sifted through a big raft of applications for the job of arena manager for this winter. Walter Smiley, aged 44, of Maxville (near Ottawa) got the job. Applications from this city and all over the province were received, we're told, and the committee had a tough time deciding. They finally agreed that Smiley appeared to have better qualifications for this task than any of the others—and the guy has a year to prove his ability. "There'll be some kicks, no doubt," a rink official said, "on choosing an out-of-town man, but we figured he was best suited to be the arena manager." Time will tell.

* * * * * *

Quite likely we met Smiley down in Ottawa's big Auditorium in the spring of 1940. We accompanied the Petes there on a three-day trip for the Eastern Canada intermediate "A' finals. The Petes were OHA winners that season, and Maxville Millionaires won the Ottawa Valley and knocked of the Quebec and Maritime winners. The series was short-lived as the Buckland bunch beat Maxville in two straight. The series was to have been a best-of-five, rest of it in Toronto, but two straight wins for the Petes—and small crowds in Ottawa—decided the CAHA to call it all off with the Petes the champs of Eastern Canada. First and last time such a series was played. Smiley was prexy of the Maxville club at that time.

Regarding OHA Groups

Chap from Belleville was asking us the other day about chances for an OHA junior "B" grouping this year of Belleville, Oshawa, Lindsay and Peterborough. All have artificial ice and all could get into play at an early date—say toward the end of November. It's a thought, anyway, for local junior officials to mull over. As for senior "B", we hear Belleville will enter—though they may prefer a group around Kingston—while Legion are sure starters here, the Petes likely to be back, and Lindsay pretty certain. Mayhap, the good Markham crew will be ready once more to play up this way. Legion hope to have an OHA group ready to go the last week or two of November, now that artificial ice is assured here early next month.

* * * * * *

Oshawa Merchants are COBL champs — or are they? They won 6-4 here last eve for their fourth straight o'er the Petes, but the latter lodged a protest in the gloom of the ninth inning, claiming 'twas too dark to see. Gingerich fanned but 10, and six were in the last two heats. Most pitchers get the majority of their whiffs the first half of the tilt, and not when they're tiring and batters are getting onto 'em, so it must have been hard to see up at the plate near the finish. Ump Fair forgot to call "strike three" once, and it resulted in the tying run for Oshawa, which didn't help, either. Bill Dadson ran into trouble in the sixth and Bill Edger finished up. Menzies and Brown were the only hitters worth mentioning for our side. Don't know when the protest will be ruled upon.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Augmented by bowlers from the Lindsay Lawn Bowling Club, the men's doubles tournament of last evening was well attended. There is no doubt about it, if you schedule tournaments the bowlers want, they will support it. They played three 7-end games, and were all through in farily good time, and at that the weather conditions were not too bad. B. Jeffries and K. Shadgett were the conveners of the tournament.

The winners were: G. Coleman, Sr. and G. Coleman, Jr., 1st; M. Fletcher and C. Clarke, second; C. Bell and L. Rogers, third; R. Hopkins and F. Worsencroft, fourth; C. Lawrence and P. Moore, fifth; K. Shadgett and D. Shadgett, sixth; W. Jeffries and F. Jones, seventh; R. Dyer and R. Whalen, eighth.

Reg Dyer and Charlie Renaud won one game in the Globe and Mail doubles and then withdrew from the contest. Heavy rain caused a too long postponement.

Down at Oshawa on Thursday, Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Hepburn, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Cullen came in for the prize for one game winner.

On Monday afternoon the ladies continue with their "individual" score competition. Play at 2 o'clock.

Asked To Resign For Negro Sympathies

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10 (AP)—Sports Writer Vince Johnson of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said Friday he has been asked to resign from the Baseball Writers Association of America "for expressing the opinion that negro sportswriters should be admitted to membership."

Johnson wrote in his column that the request came from John Hernon, chairman of the association's Pittsburgh chapter. Hernon confirmed the letter and added "he's making a big stick out of nothing."

In New York, Roscoe McGown of the New York Times, president of the Baseball Writers Association, said that he had not known of any authorized negro baseball writer being barred from a major league press box.

Reds Sock Cardinals 6-1 Brooks One Game Behind

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

A hero in Brooklyn, a bum in St. Louis and just another pitcher to the fans in the other major league cities—that's the thumbnail sketch of Lefty Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati Reds.

Here's why:

A hero in Brooklyn—beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6-1 Friday night to keep Brooklyn within a game of the leading Cards.

Bum in St. Louis—the triumph was Vander Meer's third of the year over the Red Birds who have beaten him only once.

Just another pitcher to the rest of the league—outside of clipping the Cards, Vandy has won only two other games.

The Cards squared off against Vander Meer chuckling over the Dodgers' 10-1 beating by New York Giants in the afternoon at Ebbets Field. The smiles faded in the fourth inning.

Vandy yielded a run in the first and then slammed the door.

The Reds, who had bowed 11 times and tied the Cards once in their last 12 encounters, cracked Al Brazle for three runs in the fourth with the aid of two errors and were never headed.

Three more Reds crossed home in the fifth to insure Vander Meer's 22nd triumph of his career against the Cards.

Turns Back Dodgers

Lefty Dave Koslo turned back the Dodgers, scattering nine hits while the Giants mauled Preacher Roe, Ralph Branca and Rex Barney for 12 solid whacks.

Koslo and Roe were hooked up in a scoreless duel going into the seventh when the dam broke. The Giants slugged Roe and Branca for six runs, four of them prancing across on a pair of two-run homers by Bobby Thomson and Hank Thompson. Roy Campanella homered for Brooklyn's run in the seventh.

Boston Red Sox stormed back into the American League pennant picture as Ellis Kinder pitched the Bosox to a brilliant 7-1 conquest of the pace-setting New York Yankees.

Kinder gave up four singles, walked nine and fanned eight in fashioning his 19th victory of the season and his ninth straight. The triumph moved the Sox to within 1½ games of the Yanks.

Edge Browns

The third-place Cleveland Indians advanced to within five games of the Yanks, beating St. Louis Browns 5-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Mike Garcia. Dale Mitchell, with a home run and a triple, was the Cleveland batting star.

Philadelphia turned back Washington Senators 5-4, clinching the game for little Bobby Shantz with three unearned runs in the first inning.

Chicago Cubs ripped the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-1 before 7,905 fans, smallest Pittsburgh night crowd of the season. The Cubs broke up a pitcher's battle between Monk Dubiel and Pittsburgh's Bob Chesnes with a seven-run blast in the fifth.

Philadelphia and Boston were rained out. Detroit and Chicago were idle.

Here and There In Sport

Kid Gavilan, sleek Havana puncher, twice floored Rocky Castellani, Luzerne, Pt., gamester, to whip the 1948 "rookie of the year" by a unanimous 10-round decision Friday night in the opener of New York's Madison Square Garden boxing season. Gavilan weighed 150, Castellani 154¾.

The tall and glittering Wightman tennis cup Friday night appeared destined to remain in the United States for another year as a result of the opening day's competition at Philadelphia which found the American team sweeping aside the British women in three matches.

The United States players won each of the two singles and one doubles match in straight sets, with no set by a smaller margin than six games to three.

Opening the day's competition over the windswept Merion cricket club court Doris Hart, of Jacksonville, Fla., turned back Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith, 6-3, 6-1.

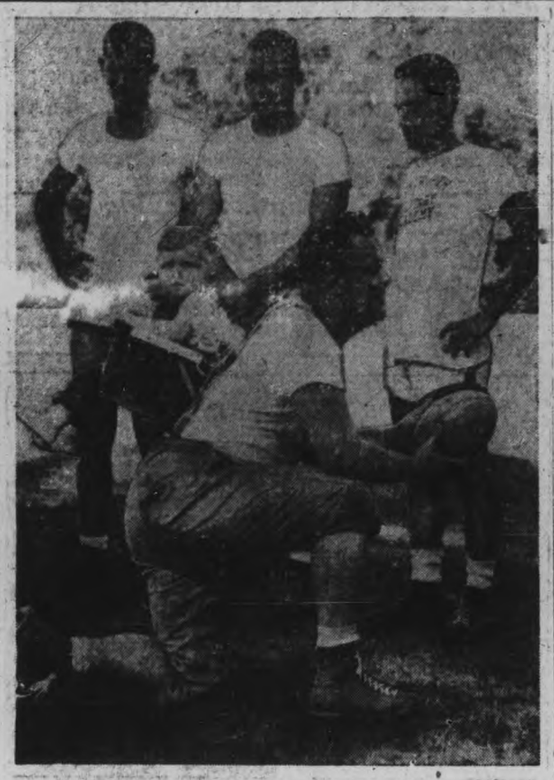
Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont, Wilmington, Del., the American champion, disposed of Briton's No. 1 player Mrs. Betty Hilton, 6-1, 6-3. She then teamed with Shirley Fry, Akron, Ohio, to defeat Jean Quertier and Mrs. Molly Blair, 6-1, 6-2.

At New Bern, B. C., Grant Bennett, New Bern golf pro, claimed a world's record Friday after playing 343 consecutive holes in 24 hours. The former record was 256 holes, held by Stan Gard of Australia.

Mrs. J. C. Seawright of Toronto Friday defeated Miss Daintry Chisholm of Montreal to win the ladies' totem pole golf championship at Jasper, Alta.

Miss Chisholm extended Mrs. Seawright to the 18th hole before losing the match on the green.

In the semi-finals of the men's totem pole, crooner Bing Crosby of Hollywood defeated Carl Haymond of Los Angeles 2 and 1 to enter the 36-hole finals today against George Coleman of Miami, Okla.



Although somewhat snowed under with hockey players—there are 106 attending the Detroit Red Wings' western training camp at Saskatoon—Coach Tommy Ivan had time Friday to look over most of them in practice and expressed approval of what he saw.

Players attending the Saskatoon camp come from various points in Western Canada. Assisting Ivan in the camp is Mud Bruneteau, coach of Omaha Knights of the United States Hockey League, a farm club of the National Hockey League Red Wings. The camp lasts two weeks.

The Quebec Senior Hockey League will have its earliest opening in the league's history this season when the Allan Cup-champion Ottawa Senators play host to Sherbrooke Saints Saturday, Oct. 8, it was announced at Montreal Friday night.

Mimico Gets First

Mimico defeated Peterborough midgets 15-9 at Miller Bowl last night to open their OLA two-of-three playdown series. The locals couldn't quite stand up to their heavier opponents, lacking their usual aggressive style of play. Mimico led 4-2 the first quarter, and had a 9-4 margin at the half, keeping in front 13-6 going into the closer fourth heat.

All the winners worked hard, passing well and checking close. Chapman was outstanding for the young Petes in the net, with Caravaggio, Fontaine and Brioux scoring two goals each for them. Passmore topped the victors in scoring with four markers, while Jones got three for them, and Rouse, Lytle and Walton two apiece. Referees F. Edge and J. Whitnall handled a good game.

Toronto Edges Buffalo In 7-5 Triumph

By The Associated Press

With two days of the season remaining, three International League teams still are squabbling over the last two playoff positions.

The three—Jersey City, Montreal and Toronto—may have to wait until Sunday to see which qualifies for the playoffs, commencing early next week.

Of the three, Jersey City is in the best position. A split of their final two games will put the third-place Giants in.

The Montreal-Toronto picture is a bit different, however.

The fourth-place Royals have one game to go—against Toronto Sunday. A game behind Montreal, have two left—today against league-champion Buffalo and Sunday's encounter with the Royals in Montreal.

So, if Toronto can beat Buffalo, Sundays contest will be the "decider."

Friday night all three won their games. Toronto edged Buffalo 7-5; Montreal slammed Rochester 12-6; and Jersey City blanked Baltimore 2-0.

Use 4 Hurlers

The Leafs used four hurlers to hold Bisons in check but Buffalo outhit them 12-9. An eighth inning rally by Toronto was good for two runs that gave them the win.

Buffalo opened the game with four quick singles off Jocko Thompson for two runs. Toronto retaliated in the third with two runs and then Si Block's homer over the left-field wall with one on base pulled Buffalo ahead 4-2.

Thompson hit a four-bagger in the fifth for Toronto and pinch-hitter Johnny Welaj's round-tripper in the seventh gave Leafs a 5-4 edge.

Coaker Triplett tied the game up in Buffalo's half of the eighth with a 375-foot homer over the left-field wall. Two hits, three walks and a sacrifice squeezed across the winning two runs for Toronto in the eighth.

Max Peterson, who hurled in the eighth was credited with his sixth victory. Lu Harris was charged with his seventh loss.

Have Things Easier

Meanwhile, the Royals, last year's playoff victors, had things easier with the second-place Red Wings, carving Rochester starter Johnny Yuhas for 10 runs in the first three innings.

Chuck Connor's three-run homer, his 20th, led Montreal's 12-hit drive. Johnny Van Cuyk, in relief of Clarence Podbielan, evened his season's record at 10-10 with a fine four-hit, five-inning stint.

The Wings counted three runs in the opening inning and Montreal banged five in the lower half of the first. Royals were never headed after that and a four-run burst in the second rally wrapped up the verdict.

Ford Smith gave the Lil Giants a superb four-hit effort for their victory. The Jerseys managed only four hits themselves off Oriole ace, Al Widmar, but bunched two of them in the sixth for their two tallies.

Syracuse and Newark traded shutouts, the Chiefs taking the first 2-0 and the Bears the second 9-0.

Jim Pendergast yielded only two hits in the opener. The nightcap went 10 innings before the somewhat-frustrated Bears ended a scoreless string of 40 innings by ramming over eight runs.

Rookie Bill Freese, making his first start, scattered seven Syracuse safeties.

Bell Telephone triumphed 8-5 over Grant & Loucks to start their best-of-five Civic Softball League finals last evening. They got a run in their first frame, adding three in the second, one each in the fourth and fifth, and two to clinch it in the sixth. The losers got two each in the first and third and one more in the fourth. They were held to five hits while Bell got eight, including a homer by James Wood got three hits for them. Teams:

Grant & Loucks: Dracup, Craig, Byers, Riches, Chenier, Birchenaw, Doucette, Gauthier, Little.

Private Network Under Discussion

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 10 (CP)—The Western Association of Broadcasters in annual meeting here Friday requested its resolutions committee to present a resolution regarding the questions of establishing a privately-operated network of Canadian radio stations.

The matter was discussed after the WAB president, William Gould of Lethbridge, Alta., reported to the meeting on the presentations made earlier this week by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters of which he is chairman of the board and the CBC before the Royal Commission on Arts and Science at Ottawa.

Mr. Guild said the CAB brief to the Commission did not suggest establishment of a private network. However, he had told the Commission in answer to a question that a private network was entirely feasible, could be established and he felt it would be a benefit to Canada.

Mr. Guild said that a news report of the Ottawa hearings had quoted him as saying that a private network would be economically unsound.

This, he said, was a misinterpretation. He had been asked before the Commission whether a private network, if established, would include all the 94 stations not affiliated with the Trans-Canada network of the CBC. He had replied that it would not be economically sound to include all privately-owned stations.

Self Satisfaction Allows For No Further Advances

REV. E. R. JAMES

The Pharisee said: God, I thank Thee that I am not as other men are. St. Luke 18; 14.

The Pharisee was a religious Jew who devoted his life to the practice of his religion. He was a man business men would delight to have dealings with; a man who was just and upright in all his dealings, of unblemished character. Yet the lord Jesus, Who knew what was in man, rejected him from entering into the Kingdom of God. You will surely be surprised at this judgement of the man who cried: "God, I thank Thee that I am not as other men are." Why does the Lord condemn this man's character. Because he is guilty of the sin of self satisfaction. He is satisfied with the character he has developed in his own strength.

Self satisfaction means that a man has advanced to a stage; he cannot go any further; but he may go back, which is his real danger.

A publican like St. Matthew becomes one of the Apostles because he comes into touch with the Pure One and is fascinated by that character and thinks of himself as utterly unworthy. No professional pharisee was ever invited to join the Apostolic circle. It is a truth to be pondered upon. Man's religion is not to be relied upon. This is the danger of all attempts to create character in a man's own strength, who says to his soul:—"I will do this; I will not do that. He is satisfied with the result that he is not as other men are.

A friend of a famous artist called and found him in a state of great depression. He enquired the reason. "I have finished my drawing of the Christ and am satisfied with; I shall never go any further or do any better. I am finsihed. My work is done."

Job in the time of his bitterest mysery cried: "I have heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear; but now mine eye seethe Thee; therefor I abhor myself in dust and ashes": Isaiah had a vision of God. As the result he cried: "Woe is me for I am a man of unclean lips. Simon Peter cried to the miracle Worker: Depart from me for I am a sinful man, O Lord. No sense of self satisfaction in these illustrations.

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. Lord, be merciful to me, a sinner.

Psalms Great Outpouring Of Prophecy In Song

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

Dangers constantly beset the people of Israel at times surrounded by hostile tribes, and later imperilled as their little land lay betwen the great empires of the ancient world, striving for conquest and mastery—Egypt on the south, and always some great power on the north, east, and west. Assyria, Babylonia, Syria, Persia Greece, or Rome, whichever it might be.

That the dangers of this situation were real was evidenced in the successive and terrible tragedies that befell the people. Not only did they suffer invasion, destruction, and exile, but other sufferings and persecutions were incredible. When Grecian conquerors sought to Hellenize and corrupt the worship of the Temple, 800 protesting Pharisees, then the party defending the purity of religion, were crucified in one day, and on another occasion 6,000 worshippers were put to the sword in the very precincts of the Temple.

That, in spite of all the tragedies of the ages in that little land, there should have been survival, until now, in the 20th century, the Jews are again seeking restoration in their homeland, is the miracle of the ages.

But even greater is the miracle that out of that little land of sorrow and tragedy should have come the richness and sweetness of a religion, with its uppermost note of triumph and joy.

The late Dr. George A. Gordon, famous minister of the Old South Church in Boston, once remarked that it was the quality of all true and great prophecy that it bursts into song. There are passages in the great prophecies, such as that of Isaiah, that fairly sing in their praises of righteousness and peace but the Psalms were the great outpouring of prophecy in song.

Here in the Psalms is the personal joy in religion, the joy manifest in the Christians of Jewish heritage, Paul and Silas, singing in the darkness of an inner prison, with their feet fast in the stocks (Acts 16).

What is the source and nature of this joy in religion?

It was, first of all, a profound confidence in God. A modern poet has said: "It fortifies my soul to know that though I perish, truth is so." This is a modern version of that unshaken faith in God that sustained Hebrew saints. It was the source of personal serenity and joy in religion.

Along with this was the sense of community. It found its strength in the sense of God's choice and call, and one's part in that chosen community. Its highest expression is in the passionate declaration of that patriotic citizen of Zion, in Isaiah 62: "For Zion's sake will I hold my peace and for Jerusalem's sake will I not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth."

Who could measure the joy and strength of a modern democracy, if its every citizen had a similar passion for the commonweal, and for all the high idealism that democracy professes?

Manager's Desk Remains Of What Was Once Thriving Local Industry

By HARRY THEOBALD

The manager's desk is all that remains of Central Bridge and Engineering Company which flourished here too briefly sixty years ago. In the eventual liquidation of the company's assets the desk gravitated to the Peterborough Club whose membership includes most of the managers and other executives of the present industries and other branches of business. If they ever wonder about its background of use by men much like themselves, it might evoke in their thoughts a quotation of disillusionment, adaptable even to the small stage of industrial Peterborough, which begins with the words, "Sic Transit".

Incidentally, the quarters of the Peterborough Club are in the building at the southeast corner of Water and Simcoe Streets.

Few References

Notes of the late Frank Dobbin provide only a few sketchy references to Central Bridge. They associate the old desk with the manager of that plant, W. H. Law, who appears to have been engaged with several manufacturing enterprises of the old town of several generations ago.

It may be recalled from memoranda of Mr. Dobbin, recently published, that Robert Romaine built in 1875 a plant for the making of bricks, along the river in the block between Sherbrooke and Dalhousie Streets. Mr. Dobbin wrote that it was one of the first structures to be constructed of concrete in Peterborough. Clay was its raw material, obtained in Otonabee below the locks, and transported on scows through the locks and across Little Lake to a wharf near the end of Dalhousie St.

To repeat from the Dobbin notation: "The plant was equipped with an elaborate system of continuous kilns for burning the brick. Power was derived from the installation of one of the disused Great Western locomotives. The industry failed, largely from being wrongly planned as to supply of material, too far from the clay beds, too expensive handling, lack of sufficient capital to carry on, and a product of doubtful quality."

Mr. Law, a Scottish engineer, is first mentioned in the Dobbin summaries of 1882. "Proposal to establish an industry for the manufacture of cars. W. H. Law gave details at a meeting. Town agrees to take $20,000 stock, as a municipality. Capital stock $200,000. Some of the subscribers: Cox, McKee, Dunlop, Rogers, Stevenson, Davidson and others. Bylaw to grant aid to the extent of $20,000 carried June 5."

Presumably, the car works did not emerge from its project stage. But, the vacant Romaine buildings invited industrial use.

Mr. Dobbin's only reference to Central Bridge is the following abridgment: "1888—The Central Bridge Works have moved into the Romaine brick works building, expanding facilities for the manufacture of steel for bridges and general structural purposes. Contracts have been taken to supply the steel for the York St. bridge, and additions to the Union Station, Toronto. Large capital invested in the plant and improvement of the premises."

From other sources it was learned that Mr. Law was president and general manager of Central Bridge and Engineering Company. It may be that the company was conceived and proposed by Mr. Law. Associated with him in its financing were R. A. Morrow, James Stevenson, George Hilliard, John Carnegie, and probably others.

Believed In Town

The Dobbin notes clearly indicate that the town of 60 and 70 years ago did not lack citizens who believed in its current opportunities and future development. Their interest in the community extended to administration of the municipality, for some of their names appear in town councils of that time, and Stevenson, Hilliard and Carnegie were elected representatives of West Peterborough in the provincial or federal governments.

The Toronto contracts must have encouraged the hopes and ambitions of the company. The old Union Station in Toronto occupied the central section of the Front St. block between the Walker House and York St., and the York St. bridge was south of Front St.

Central Bridge carried on operations for some years encountered financial straits, with the Bank of Montreal as its chief creditor. It remained idle for a considerable time, until the property was finally bought for $6,000 by Vincent Eastwood. By a rather strange turn of events, he found a purchaser in Jean Louis Houedry, of Brittany, France, proprietor of a large industry growing and selling peas, with a branch in Algiers, North Africa.

Deal Closed By Cable

The deal was closed by cable. Mr. Houedry arranged with farmers of this district to grow peas on contract basis. He sent his sons Maurice and Louis to manage the local business. Maurice was recalled to France at the outbreak of the war with Germany in 1914, and was killed in action. Louis married a Peterborough girl and

The younger daughter Gloria, 12, was uninjured. Passing immediately after the accident, J. Bolton, 804 George St. N., photographed the overturned car (above) and the scene below.

Establishing Parks Board Suggested To City Council

Ald. Herbert Young, chairman of the parks committee of the council, recommends the establishment of "a parks board or parks commission appointed in the place of the parks committee", as a considered proposal after observing systems in Brantford, Stratford, St. Catharines and Kitchener.

In that recommendation, Ald. Young says he has the concurrence of Ald. Hurrell Dodds, who accompanied him, with Armar Butcher, parks superintendent.

"This board should consist of six representative citizens, and the Mayor, some interested in horticulture and beautification, some interested in sports and others in recreation as a whole," Ald. Young suggests in a written report to the council.

Retain Revenue

"This Board would budget annually for their maintenance expenses, and in addition would retain the revenue received from the areas they manage, which should include our present Civic Arena and the Memorial Centre, when completed. In this way, a fund may be raised from these revenues for increasing the parks areas as well as the improvement of all the grounds controlled by them. If this board was constituted, it would then be up to them to decide as to the degree of maintenance and supplying of equipment to the recreation commission.

"I would also suggest that members of the council follow our example in visiting other communities as in addition to being very instructive, it is a profitable way of spending a few days."

Impressions Gained

Ald. Young summarizes his notes and impression of the two-day survey as follows:

Brantford

"In Brantford their parks are very much scattered throughout the city similar to ours, but we do not feel that they are as advanced by any means in their recreational programs as we are. Their parks are managed by a Parks Board. After a civic dinner at the Kerby Hotel we were taken

Detroit Couple Badly Hurt; Car Overturned

A Detroit family of mother, father and two teen age daughters were travelling in a car which turned over into the ditch on No. 7 Highway three miles east of Madoc Friday at 1.30 p.m. The car, after being in collision with a truck, landed upside down in the ditch.

Robert Venoit, 94 E Decota, Detroit 3, had a fractured pelvis; his wife had a cut head requiring 30 stitches; Shirley, their 17-year-old daughter had glass lodged in her scalp and the younger daughter, Gloria, 9, suffered no injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Venoit are in Belleville Hospital, where Shirley was also treated, but not detained.

Provincial Constables John Hatch and Thomas Lummiss, Madoc, rushed to the scene and before the injured were taken to hospital by ambulance, first aid was rendered on the spot.

Constable Lummiss said the car and the truck were proceeding west and east along the righway when the truck turned across the road to go into a gravel pit. As it made the turn the two vehicles collided and the car ran out of control. Joseph Fenton, Stoco, Ont., was the truck driver.

After the impact, Constable Lummiss says, the car went into the north ditch, careened along for 200 feet, crossing the highway into the opposite ditch where it overturned.

Parking Space Asked For Buses

Even schoolchildren have to worry about the parking problem these days. This was revealed at a meeting Friday night of the Peterborough High School Board which decided to approach City Council to reserve parking space near PCVS for the school buses.

Mayor M. J. Swanston had already written to the Board informing it that the five buses bringing in rural students could park in front of the Armouries, parallel with George St., to take on and discharge passengers.

This was found impracticable by the bus company which pointed out that there was not enough room there for them to turn around on the paved area. And there was a steep upgrade and sharp turn off Murray St. at the entrance to the property.

The city will be asked to reserve about 150 feet of parking space — deemed necessary for the five buses — on either Murray or Aylmer Sts. About 350 students from outside the city are brought in each morning and taken home at night by the buses, a taxi and a station wagon.

A three-man delegation from Cavan asked the Board if children attending business college in Peterborough could ride on the school buses. They were informed by Chairman John Kitney that the government regards business colleges as private schools and will not subsidize transportation to them.

The Cavan trustees were Wilfred Reynolds, spokesman for the group, Harry Stinson and Melville Carr.

FEELING RUNS HIGH

Basket collections in the west end of the city and especially in the Prince of Wales district were the cause of much discussion this week. It appears that the Trinity United Church cubs and scouts planned a collection of fruit baskets and made all arrangements. Then school opened and some way or other the school children started on a collection which beat the scouts and cubs by a few hours. Now the question being asked is who started these basket collections in the first place?

Finds Men Take Real Interest In All the Arts

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

EDINBURGH, Sept. 10 — The Canadian actors who are playing Eros at Breakfast at the Edinburgh Festival are quartered in the womens residences of the university. A great [illegible] of the Festival artists are lodged in these handsome quarters; we are with the Glynebourne Opera Company, some of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, the Oslo Dramatic Society and the Dusseldorf Theatre Company. It might be thought by persons of romantic temperament that we are all fused in one homogenous artistic mass, musicians chatting merrily with actors' and actors helping orchestra players to polish their horns. But the truth is that we are on extremely formal, though friendly terms, and each group keeps very much to itself.

The fact is that we who live in the university residences are too deeply concerned with our own parts in the Festival to have much time or attention for anything else. Are they liking us? we ask ourselves. Were we as good last night as we were the night before? If not, why not? Are they different from the audiences we are used to, and in what way? "They" are the real Festival-goers—the people who are here for pleasure and—not as we are—to work.

Many Men Present

What sort of people are "they"? Well, they are in some ways very like the people you see at Tanglewood in the Berkshires, listening to music, or the people you saw in Toronto last April at the Dominion Drama Festival. But there are differences. There are far more men at the Edinburgh Festival, for one thing. Nor are they aesthetes, in the common and somewhat derogatory sense of that word.

They are literate, cultivated men, engaged in business or the professions, who take this opportunity to steep themselves, for a week, in the element they like best. This keen concern with the arts—this belief that art is one of the final justifications and explanations of life—is felt everywhere in Edinburgh during Festival time in a measure which would gladden the heart of the Massey Commission. Nor is art regarded, as so often in Canada, as a hobby—an "activity," which is useful in keeping people out of mischief. Art is thought of here as one of the noblest of pursuits. This lays a heavy burden on the artists, and explains the intense preoccupation at the university residence to which I have referred. It is not egotism which makes us so concerned with ourselves; it is a sense of our responsibility.

How are we doing? We have caused a certain amount of surprise. It was expected that we would be good; we would not otherwise be here. But I do not think that our Scottish friends thought that our quality would take quite the character that it does. Our stage-setting, for instance by Mr. Grant Macdonald, has aroused the utmost admiration. With great economy of means it creates a brilliant effect. Here a man of his quality would not be designing for amateurs. In Canada, we explain the situation is different. Designers must design for amateurs, or not at all.

Our accents, also, excite remark. We are expected to have American accents, and we have nothing of the kind. Some of us are taken for Scots I, myself, have been asked if I am an Irishman. Canada, we explain, is a land of many kinds and levels of speech and Canadian actors quickly learn that an accent which is too flat is a much a handicap as one which is too broad.

Play A Surprise

Our play has caused surprise. It is not a serious work, and yet it is not trivial. Plays here, as done by non-professional groups, are "serious" or "comedies"; the subtler shades are reserved for the professional stage. It is on this subject that I, as author, am most frequently asked to comment. I explain, as well as I can, that I do not think a play must be depressing or pomous to be "serious"; if it has its roots in life itself, it is serious enough. And Eros, which is about the impact of first love on a young man, is serious in that sense.

Our acting—that of the members of the Ottawa Drama League who comprise the cast of Eros—has been the subject of extremely flattering comment. It has been called professional, and yet its professionalism is of an unfamiliar sort. Do we derive much from the French stage, we are asked? We reply that we really do not know—But in our hearts we dare to hope that we are developing a Canadian style of acting—in spite of our amateur status, and the hampering effect of radio upon so many of our best actors—and that our Canadian style can meet the test of a Festival like this without apology. And to us, as Canadians, that is a thrill that comes once in a lifetime.

District Shows 41.2 Pc. Jump Road Accidents

Motor vehicle accidents in No. 8 District of the Ontario Provincial Police, which includes Peterborough, Durham, Northumberland, Victoria, and Haliburton counties, were 41.2% higher in the first six months of 1949, as compared to the same period last year, according to figures just released by the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Department of Highways. The big increase in the number of road accidents in this district is also proven by the fact that the percentage increase is 15.6% higher than the percentage increase for the whole province.

The figures relate to accidents which occurred on both urban streets and rural roads. The total number of accidents reported in No. 8 District from January to June, 1949, inclusive, was 483, as compared to 342 in the same period of 1948. This year's total represented 3.4% of the total number of accidents for the whole province.

The percentage increase in accidents in the Peterborough district was the second highest in the province, only District No. 6 (Bruce, Grey, Huron, Perth, Waterloo and Wellington) being higher with 54.2%. However, Peterborough is in tenth place by districts in respect to percentage og the total number of accidents which occurred during January-June, 1949.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Drainage, Grade, Surface New Driveway Prerequisites

A rutted-up lawn seriously detracts from the appearance of the house even if it does go under the name of "driveway."

Winter is likely to be a poor time in which to begin driveway construction, so if repairing is to be done, or a new driveway is to be built, the time to start is early next spring. Plan on it now.

Planning experts say that nine feet is a desirable driveway width, although long driveways usually look better if made 12 feet in width. In locating the driveway, consider carefully the drainage angle, for if water collects under the surface, the road will eventually break up and will be subject to damage from freezing and thawing. Water on the surface of a road is equally dangerous and annoying.

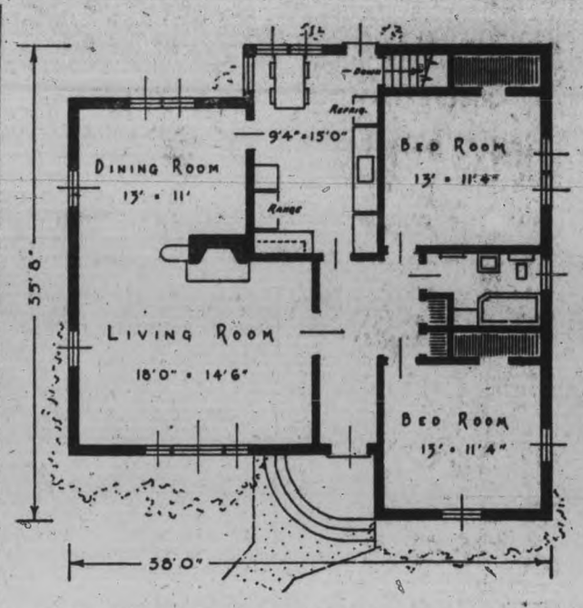
Tile Drains Help

In heavy soil, it is thought advisable to lay tile drains along the edges of the driveway, emptying into the street gutter or other low point where no damage will result. Care should be taken to prevent water in the street gutters from flowing into the driveway. This may be done by keeping the driveway several inches above the street pavement for several feet back from the curb before descending. Sharp breaks in grade should be avoided, otherwise the car may bump or scrape when driven at reasonable speed.

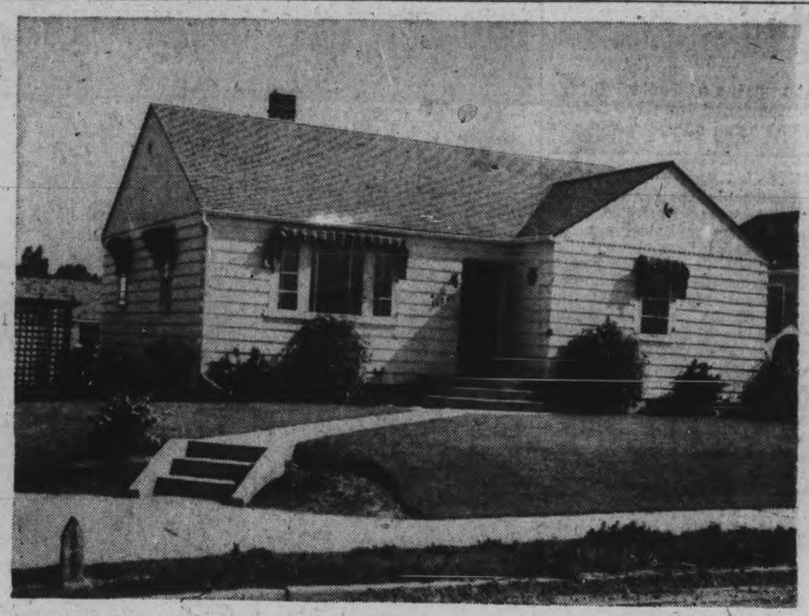
Driveways should be planned to permit easy access in and out. Home owners should avoid, for safety's sake, driveways which make it necessary to back out "blind" because of existing planting or other obstructions. In such cases, and if space permits, a turn or "Y" should be worked out. This manouvre will require a 13-foot radius on the inside straight piece of driveway for at least four feet at the garage entrance. Assuming a normal garage opening of 8 feet, it is possible to swing into the garage from a position against a wall with the garage door and 24 feet away.

However, 26 to 30 feet is recommended; 20 feet is possible with two toys.

Level Space Needed



Backing out and heading toward the street will require a space 13 feet longer than the wheelbase of the car, if the driveway is at the extreme left going out or somewhat less if it is not necessary to back fully parallel with the garage door before going ahead. Garage courts should have a level space out of the drive or turning way where a car can be parked. More space should be allowed if guests are to be accommodated, as well as the delivery boy. This extra space is handy for repairs or can be used as a washing space.



Three pavement surfaces are suggested. The least expensive would probably be eight inches of brickbats or rubble rolled on tamped firmly, topped with one or one and one-half inches of slag, chips, or good grade of local bank gravel, thoroughly compacted to a crown surface. This type is suitable on relatively flat grades. Calcium chloride or light oil binder may be added.

Macadam Formula

For a permanent pavement of rather rough driving surface, penetration macadam is suggested. This consists of six inches of compacted bluestone or broken washed gravel base penetrated with four-tenths of a gallon per square yards of cut-back asphalt. Chips or screening should be applied with each coat at the rate of 25 pounds per square yard or three-fourths-inch thickness.

Concrete wheel runs are sometimes desirable where the driveway is straight. These strips should be 20 to 24 inches in width, spaced 57 inches apart on centre. The concrete should be of good quality, six or seven inches thick.

HOUSE NO. 130—This little home has much to recommend it. Clean, simple lines greet the eye from any angle you see it. And the interior is equally attractive too! To the left on entering is the good-sized living room, with its open fireplace and chimney forming part of the wall separating it from the dining room. See the splendid windows in these two rooms. Both equal-sized bedrooms are well separated by the bathroom. Closet accommodation is good. Although there is no window over the sink in the kitchen, arrangement of equipment is efficient and the room is bright. A convenient breakfast area is provided. House contains approximately 24,450 cubic feet, and has a 38' frontage. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Factory Fined $3,120 By Court

TORONTO, Sept. 10 (CP) — A conviction and fine of $3,120 by Magistrate Polson of Kitchener against Canada Cabinets for failing to obey an order by Labor Minister Daley for reinstatement of eight employees dismissed for union activity, was upheld Friday by Judge E. W. Clement.

The men were dismissed in March, 1948. An investigation under the Ontario Labor Relations Act established they had been fired for union activity.

Mr. Daley ordered the company to reimburse the men for loss of pay as well as reinstate them. Prosecution of the company was undertaken by E. B. Jolliffe, counsel for the International Woodworkers of America, (CCL) after the company refused to comply with the order.

The company appealed the conviction but lost.

Have No New Clues

CALEDON, Sept. 10 —(CP)— Police said Friday they had uncovered no new clues in their search for the man who Tuesday night shot Charles Aiken on his farm near here.

Aiken was shot in the shoulder as he rolled a cigaret in the kitchen of his farmhouse before retiring for the night.

Puffed Into Bottle To Evade Army Call

LONDON, Sept. 10 (CP)—How a soldier during the war tried to dodge an overseas draft by blowing strenuously into an empty ginger beer bottle is told in the British Medical Journal.

Dr. Alan Ogden of Bournemouth said the soldier blew and blew until he had reproduced a parotic swelling—a swelling of the parotid gland just in front of and below the ear.

He then reported sick—but the dodge didn't work.

"Such an effort almost deserved to succeed," Dr. Ogden said.

"It would be very dangerous to do this," another doctor said, 'and also very painful. But a man might think it worth doing if it got him off an overseas draft."

Stock Markets Back, Fell During This Week

By The Canadian Press

Stock markets chalked up another period of backing and filling this week.

A slight upward trend was evident over the four days—markets were closed, Monday, Labor Day—but generally the price range was very narrow and investors remained cautious

Several individual issues came into demand following news from the companies. Business, in the opinion of many observers, is expected to improve considerably in the fall.

However, some observers wonder whether any fall increase in business will hold or will turn out to be a seasonal flash-in-the-pan.

Prices on the stock markets continued to hold at close to the year's high point and despite selling pressure that appeared when prices seemed all set to climb they marked up a small advance for the second successive week

Dull Sesion

At New York turnover was the best in three weeks. Prices barely dragged along in a dull session Friday The Associated Press 60-stock average closed the four days Friday at 64.5—a gain of .3 from the previous Friday.

In Toronto, stocks with property in the Malartic district, Northwestern Quebec, turned strongly but had to back down Friday under profit-taking. A few with property in the Larder Lake district, Northern Ontario, returned to the spotlight, climbing steadily following a period of realizing sales early in the week.

Sherritt Gordon Mines, a base metal issue, was the highlight in a stronger base metal list. The exchange's base metal index showed an advance of 1.02 over the four days.

Key senior and junior gold producers dipped quietly to lose 1.86 on the index.

Industrials followed the New York trend, adding .62. Western oils were under pressure of realizing sales, dropping .98.

Average volume for the four days was 1,201,250 shares, compared with a five-day average of 1,830,200 shares the previous week.

Wildcat Walkout At Chrysler Plant

WINDSOR, Sept. 10 (CP)—A A "wildcat" walkout Friday at Plant 3 of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Ltd., put more than 1,900 production men out of work for at least half a day. But there was every indication Friday night the men would be back on the job with the regular Monday morning shift.

Both union and company officials said they believe the men will report Monday morning.

The plant was closed down when a group of metal workers refused to go back to work after lunch. They said the walkout was precipitated by the suspension of production line man.

Earl Watson, president of Local 195, United Automobile Workers, (CIO), said he talked with some of those who walked out and advised them to return to work Monday, then follow the usual grievance procedure. He expected they would return.

Bomb Arab Fort

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Colonial Office reported Friday night that RAF planes had bombed and destroyed an Arab fort being built in the British protectorate of Aden by an armed band from neighboring Yemen. The attack took place last Friday after Yemenites ignored an ultimatum to withdraw from the protectorate.

Open $530,000 Wing At Niagara Collegiate

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 10 (CP)—Communism can be combatted by teaching better human relations in Canadian schools George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said Friday. He spoke at the opening of the new $530,000 wing at the Niagara Falls Collegiate Vocational Institute.

"Our civilization is the combined result of what happens in our cities, towns, villages and throughout the country; he said. "Each school and each community plays its own part."

Railways Develop Better Service

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 10 (CP) — British railway are being polished and streamlined to serve as the brightest jewel in the display of nationalized services.

The railways, with their 700,000 employees, £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) daily traffic receipts, 20,000 locomotives and more than 1,000,000 coaches and freight cars, have been owned by the nation since since Jan. 1, 1948.

Sir Eustace Missenen, railway executive chairman, said the purpose is to give the country "cheaper and better transport services without imposing a burden on the taxpayer."

The Labor government and friends of nationalization look to the railways to demonstrate quickly the benefits and economies of Nationalization. Trains operated by British railways, glistening with new paint, running on time, offering adequate accommodation and maintaining a high safety record would be a handsome contrast to the austerities of wartime travel.

The Conservatives in reply insist railways operated by private companies under government supervision could do the job just as well.

Meantime, the railway executive reports:

In 1948 there were 512 more trains each Saturday than in 1947, sleeping car services have been extended, more refreshment trolleys rumble about railway stations and there are 117 more trains with refreshment cars. Better freights services are being provided with more efficient use of freight cars.

For the future it promises:

New light weight steel cars.

Extension of buckeye coach coupling throughout the system, beyond two out of six railway regions where it is now used.

Twelve standardized types of locomotives will replace the 400 now in service.

Radio services will be installed after tests to allow communication, if desirable, between shunting engines and control points, between depot and road collection trucks and between staffs on engineering projects.

Automatic warning control systems wil be developed.

Three hundred miles of heavy flat-bottom rail will be laid within a few months to spread fast traffic.

All resources will be mobilized and new methods used to cut down pilfering.

Further use of battery electric delivery vehicles is in prospect.

Oyster Farmer, Royal Toner Uses Scoop To Harvest Crop

GREENPORT, N.Y., Sept. 10—(CP)—Royal Toner works a vast 6,000-acre farm lying 60 to 80 feet beneath the surface of Peconic Bay off Long Island.

Toner raises a single crop—oysters.

Although he gathers some of his crop during the summer months, most harvesting is done during the months with an "R" in them—from September to April. But Toner says the general belief that oysters should be eaten only during the "R" months does not stem from the fact that there is anything wrong with the oysters from May through August.

"It is a conservation measure. Oysters spawn most of the summer and if we marketed them in that season we'd soon run out of spats (seedlings) and have nothing left for future oyster crops."

Toner covers the more than nine square miles of his farm with a fleet of six oyster boats. The crop is brought up with dredging equipment, dumped under a canvas awning to protect it from the sun, then unloaded by conveyor belt to the processing plant.

There are many parallels between oyster-farming and conventional farming, Toner says.

Need Cultivation

The oyster beds are dragged with harrows to prepare them for the seedlings. The seed oysters, brought from the shoals where they grow best, are sown underwater much the same as seed is cast in land furrows.

"You have to be careful about sowing your beds, just as on a land farm. If you crowd your spats they compete for nutrition and the meats come thin."

Oysters are big feeders. An adult oyster—about five or six years old and ready to harvest—will drink about 26 quarts of water daily. The oyster ingests all the microscopic organisms which abound in sea water.

The underwater farmer also fights shelled and scaly pests and worries about the weather like an upland farmer, Toner continues. He makes war on starfish, mussels, drills and conches and stands in constant fear of violent storms, which stir up silt and mud.

Starfish and other oyster enemies open the bivalves and suck them dry. The silt and mud cover the beds and cut off oyster feed.

Level Head Needed When Bullion Near

VANCOUVER, Sept. 10 (CP)—How would you like to work alongside half a million dollars' worth of gold?

Employees of the Dominion government assay office here do it frequently, but it doesn't affect their equilibrium in any way.

"Why, it's just like a bunch of cheese to us," said one man, as he gazed at a pile of dull, yellow bars on a table.

Workers casually wander around the office with carts bearing the bars, each sufficient to keep a man financially happy for the rest of his days. As government merchants, the employees buy and value gold daily. This is the only office of its kind outside the Royal Mint at Ottawa.

The precious yellow wealth arrives from the provincial mines by airmail or air express. Some consignments are in powder or nugget form, which are melted down into ingots and assayed.

More than $4,000,000 worth of gold passed through the office in 1948. In the late '30s, it was common to have twice that amount.

Originally opened in 1901 to cope with the influx of gold from sacks an acre—and averaging 10-15 branches to each single head, the fabulous Klondike fields, the office has been doing a thriving business ever since.

Continue Study of China

St. Paul's Auxiliary of the WMS met in the Guild Room Friday afternoon, the president Mrs. D. P. Diplock presiding. Mrs. F. W. Brockley had charge of the devotions. Mrs. E. H. Howson prepared and read a paper on the chapter of the Study Book entitled "Chinese Christians face their task". This traced the steps of their great effort to consolidate the Chinese Christians into one church, the Chinese Church of Christ in China. In South China the natives are now able to take the initiative and missionaries go to assist. Some who fled to West China before the Japanese invasion are now operating the Border Mission, ministering to unevangelized tribes. The WMS is helping by furthering the translation of Christian literature into Chinese. Mention was made of the communists in China and the apparent difference in their motives to those of Russian communists, quoting a Chinese Doctor who believes they are helping the poor and down trodden while the nationalists appear to be after graft continually.

Style Lines Recall Middle Ages

By BARBARA STEVENSON

PARIS, Sept. 10—(Reuters)—Balenciaga has put his own touch on the 1950 silhouette with his collection, which shows in general a tiered effect, reminiscent of the draperies of the middle ages.

One example is in stone-blue cloth luxuriously trimmed with two bands of black fox. Another is a sports coat with loose fulness at the side. An afternoon dress of black taffeta shows irregular tiers, edged with black lace.

Balenciaga's suits, by now a Paris tradition, favor tiny waists, accentuated with pleated backs, gentle folds, pockets and interesting front panel closings. The same draped effect is seen in little black dresses for informal occasions.

These models are worn under the trickiest capes of the season, either buttoned front and waist, with a tiny jacket effect, or with a simple boy's collar fastening in front.

But practicability has not been forgotten. The full sweep of the cloth can be brought round to the front to fight cold winds.

Evening wear features gold and encrusted lace, lace or net, velvet embroidery and silk faille.

Balenciaga continues to approve the tiny shawl, either rounded or in handkerchief points over bare shoulders. Loose drapery falling hem length, with draped girdle, provide one interesting effect.

Stark white and bold black, always high in the favor of French women, are widely used, giving the collection an orthodox note. Second most widely-used color scheme is Balenciaga brown.

The collections shown recently in Paris have all produced the same exquisite detail and bandbox newness and have been presented with the traditional flair associated with Paris first showings.

Mary McCulloch Bride Of Stanley B. Nicol

Multi-colored gladioli in St. James' United Church this afternoon formed the setting for the wedding of Mary Rebecca, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McCulloch, Perry St., to Stanley Benjamin Nicol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nicol of Calabogie.

The Rev. F. W. Craik performed the ceremony. Mrs. Chas. Renaud was at the organ and Miss Nancy Leith, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "Through the Years."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely gown of white slipper satin with lace inserts in the flowing skirt, and the fitted bodice had lace trimming and long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of French embroidered net was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by Mrs. Isabel Butler of Toronto as matron of honor and her sister, Miss Barbara McCulloch, as bridesmaid. They were in similar frocks of shell pink and blue taffeta and wore matching head pieces and mittens. White roses and pink gladioli were in the bouquets they carried.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Les Pulpz. The ushers were Kenneth Dawson, cousin of the bride, and James Cross.

At the reception held at the bride's home, her mother received in a navy flowered crepe dress with which she wore navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother, assisting to receive, was attired in blue crepe and matching accessories and wore roses.

When leaving on her wedding trip the bride was wearing a navy suit, grey shortie coat and accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicol will live in Peterborough.

New Style School Threat to Paris

LONDON—(CP)—The London county council is to establish a fashion centre in the city's West End.

Everything a woman needs to know about her appearance will be taught at the centre. With the new school, the council hopes that Britain will soon take the lead from Paris in creating new styles.

The centre will be a large scale development of the present Barratt Street technical college. Classes will include dress designing, corset making, hairdressing, beauty culture, hat making, machine and hand embroidery, and artificial flower-making.

There will also be a men's clothing centre, and craftsmen from the continent will be asked to give practical instruction to student tailors.

A fashion theatre for full scale mannequin parades, and fully equipped laboratories, are to be built.

"We plan to go ahead with the scheme as soon as possible, but no date can be given yet," said a council official.

Musical Chair Game Going Full Blast At Parliament

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA, Sept. 10 (CP) — Parliament Hill's version of musical chairs, an election-year phenomenon, is in full swing. This year it is more frenzied than ever.

The game consists in shoe-horning members of parliament into the cramped quarters available for them in the centre block. And the problem of finding enough rooms is only one of the headaches that go along with the game.

This year the demand for a sedative is larger than ever, because parliament has swelled to 262 members from 245 and the Senate membership has been boosted from 96 to 102.

The big problems include keeping members of the same party together and matching up roommates so their interests and temperatments don't clash. And the multiplicity of shuffles—this year there have been around 150—must be done so as to give the least disturbance to the old-timers on the hill who like to cling to rooms they have held for years.

It works out largely on seniority. A veteran of 1935 or earlier can get pretty well what he wants. As the date of their arrival moves closer to 1949, the privileges members can demand are reduced in direct proportion, except for leaders and other major figures.

Cabinet Switches

Cabinet members, too, have been making some changes in their quarters. Prime Minister St Laurent's sessional office was moved this week from the fourth floor of the centre block to Finance Minister Abbotts former quarters on the first floor just outside the main entrance to the commons chamber.

Besides taking over Mr. Abbott's territory, the prime minister also acquired two additional rooms formerly used by the deputy speaker. That gives him a five-room suite.

Mr Abbott took over the prime minister's old fourth-floor office. Another change is that Revenue Minister McCann takes over the offices recently vacated by former Postmaster-General Bertrand, who has gone to the bench.

Attics Full of Old Clothes As Naked Children Shiver

Financiers have been telling us to get money out from under the mattress or out of the safety deposit box and put it into circulation. For unused money does not one any good.

A worse crime than the hoarding of money is the hoarding of things, and that is an offence of which virtually every mother's daughter of us is guilty. Nearly every woman has her house chuck full of things which are of no earthly value to her, but which she cannot bring herself to part with. Piles of old magazines. Clothes the children have outgrown. Shabby shoes. Year-before-last hats. Shabby furniture. Old party dresses. Odd pieces of china. Broken toys. Thousands of useless articles that clutter up the place, but which she clings to through some misguided idea that she is being thrifty in doing so.

Dorothy Dix

In the past hoarding was exploited as a virtue. There was even a proverb that if you kept a thing seven years you would find a use for it, which, of course, was the veriest nonsense, for in the majority of cases most things have rusted or rotted out in seven years. Besides, nobody ever goes back and reads old magazines or wears moldy shoes or finds a place where an old buckle or flower fits on a hat. Every woman knows from experience that having a dress made over is an extravagance that only the rich can afford.

Once upon a time I helped a friend clear out an attic in a house in which several generations of well-to-do people had lived. The walls were literally covered with overcoats and cloaks that the moths had eaten into rags. There must have been a truckload of moldering shoes in a corner. There were dozens of trunks filled with baby clothes and children's clothes and the clothes of the various members of the family who had died. There were boxes of rotting bedding. Bed springs falling to pieces with rust. Chairs and tables and bureaus falling apart. Barrels of yellow and tattered books covered with mildew.

When I had surveyed the room I turned to my friend and said: "I think this attic is the wickedest place I've ever seen, and I thank God I am not one of the women who piled up all of this useless junk when there were people about them who were cold and naked, and that I won't have to answer for this senseless hoarding on the Judgment Day."

And I meant it. Believe me, saying that you thought you might wear a pair of shoes another time isn't going to be a very convincing alibi for not giving them to some poor freezing wretch whose feet are on the frozen ground, nor are your sentimental feelings about the clothes Johnny and Mamie wore when they were little going to be a good excuse for not clothing the ragged children that live behind you on the next block.

I have heard good and charitable women boast that they had every stitch of baby clothes that every one of their children had worn carefully folded away in lavender. They would have been shocked if you called them heartless, yet not half a mile from where they lived were poor mothers who were bringing children into the world so poverty-stricken that they would have to wrap the newborn babe in an old shawl or a piece of sacking.

All of us know people who treasure as sacred the garments of their dead. The gay party dress some pretty young girl wore. The warm quilted robe that was such a comfort to Mother when she grew old and chilly and the blood flowed sluggishly in her veins. Father's thick overcoat and heavy brogues. The sweaters and sport togs that some boy looked so handsome in.

These clothes of our loved and lost seem so much a part of them that it is hard to give them away, but is it not laying flowers on their grave to make some living person happier because they lived? Will not the poor girl dancing in the pretty frock send a thought that is a prayer toward the other girl to whom it once belonged? Will not the old man and the old woman, warm and comfortable, call down a benediction on those other old people but for whom they would be cold and shivering?

And the old furniture that you have discarded. There are people sleeping on the floor or lying on hard boards to whom your old bed would seem as luxurious as the princess' forty mattresses of ease. There are rheumatic old men and women sitting in hard chairs whose old bones would cry aloud with joy at your shabby old upholstered chairs. There are thousands of poor women who would rise up and call you blessed for an old table or a cupboard or a chest of drawers to take the place of the soap-box furniture which is all they have.

So be not of those who commit the crime of the attic. Go over all your possessions and pass on to some one less fortunate than yourself everything that you can possibly do without.

Clothes and furniture and books and toys will bring you more happiness in bringing happiness to others than they will stacked away on a closet shelf.

Two Lakehead Cities Go After Pipeline

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 10 (CP) —The lakehead cities of Port Arthur and Fort William protested a proposal by Imperial Oil, Ltd., to build part of its multi-million dollar Alberta-to-Ontario pipeline through the United States.

The Port Arthur city council, the Port Arthur Trades and Labor Council, and a joint meeting of the Port Arthur and Fort William industrial committees passed resolutions requesting the Board of Transport Commissioners in Ottawa to defer the company's request for permission to construct the pipeline.

The lakehead groups asked deferment until advice could be obtained about comparative costs of constructing a line through the Canadian lakehead rather than through Superior, Wis., as proposed by the company.

Run Police Games

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—(CP).—Two police committees — representing Municipal, Provincial and R.C.M.P. forces—have been formed to run the annual junior police games at Galt Sept. 24, and Bowmanville, Oct. 1. Purpose of the events is to provide additional opportunity for competitive sports among youths and to foster a spirit of co-operation and comradeship between them and the police.

To Release Freighter

LONDON, Sept. 10 (AP)—After two British demands, China has agreed to release a 550-ton British-owned freighter seized 17 days ago by Nationalist-government warships. The Edith Moller was intercepted Aug 23 as she sought to run the Nationalist naval blockade of Communist-held Chinese ports. All the big western powers have told the Chinese Nationalists they do not recognize legality of the blockade.

MP's Get Same Size Chairs Regardless of Weight

OTTAWA, Sept. 10 (CP) — Members of parliament may stand on a lot of differences at the impending session of parliament but there won't be any such differences in what they sit on. All the chairs in the House of Commons will be the same size.

Hon. Gaspard Fauteux, who continues as Speaker of the House until Parliament begins Sept. 15, Friday spiked the speculation that oversize chairs would be provided for the oversize members.

"All the members will have the same chairs and the same desks," Mr. Fauteux said with finality. "I have given no orders for any special chairs for members of parliament."

Mr. Fauteux thus put an end to the varied reports that larger and specially-constructed chairs would be provided for Jack Garland, Liberal member for Nipissing, who is said to weigh about 500 pounds, and Mayor Camillien Houde, Independent member for Montreal-Papineau, who tips the scales at 300.

The whole affair began when a department of the House of Commons sent a request to the Department of Public Works asking for the special chairs to be placed at the desks of the two new members.

Mr. Fauteux added that if after Mr. Garland's arrival in Ottawa he finds he is not satisfied with the accommodation he has the privilege of asking for another chair.

"But that," said Mr. Fauteux, "is a matter for the new Speaker. It will not be my responsibility."

Highway of Ice!

Here's How It Done

To remove 110,000 logs from the limits to the mill-pond, Sawyer Stoll Lumber Company, operating at Massanoga, must prepare 25 miles of ice roads every winter, as a preliminary step in their operations. In the above illustration, the water-tank is being filled from the lake.

Logs are 'boomed' down the lake to the mill and afterwards, the band-sawn lumber is transferred to the Retail & Wholesale yards operated by The Sawyer Stoll Company at Kaladar on No. 7 Highway.

The picture below, shows the operator releasing the water in zero weather as the first step in the the preparation of the ice-roads.

Dr. Richardson Prexy Campbellford Hockey

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 10 — (ENS)—The annual hockey meeting was held in the council chambers Friday night with a small crowd in attendance. The prospects for players are bright as it is expected some of the boys who have been playing elsewhere will be back in the line-up next winter.

The following officers were elected: honorary president, H. J. Taylor; president, Dr. Ross

Car Driver Responsible For Bus Upset

COBOURG, Sept. 10—(ENS)—George Langevin, Montreal driver of the car which was involved in a collision with a bus near Newcastle on Labour Day, was fined $100 on a charge of careless driving yesterday. He did not appear in court to answer to the charge and his $100 bail was confiscated.

Provincial Constable Lyle Erskine told the court that he had accepted $100 bail and that Langevin at first said he would appear in court and later said that he did not intend to appear. He was then warned, the constable said, that his bail would be confiscated.

Constable Erskine, who investigated the accident, testified that after the collision, which occurred 75 yards west of the "hole-in-the-wall" near Newcastle, the bus went out of control and rolled down an embankment. Just before the impact, Langevin was turning south to go to the service station and the car was sideswiped by the oncoming bus.

"The driver of the car told me that he thought he had time to make the turn. There were no skid marks and apparently the driver of the bus did not have time to apply the brakes. The bus came to a stop on its side about 30 feet north of the highway. There were 35 passengers. three were admitted to the hospital," he constable said.

Judged 80 Classes Of Horses In 12 Hours

Hugh Stewart of Peterborough feels that he did a fair job in an emergency of judging horses at the Toronto Exhibition. An American doctor who was to divide an assignment with him telephoned at the last moment that he could not come.

"The directors in charge of horses asked if I thought I could do those classes myself," Mr. Stewart said. "I said I could try. I started around 1 p.m. and went right through to 12.30 a.m. with less than an hour off for supper. That meant I judged eighty classes of horses in that time, and many of them were big classes.

It was quite an experience. At any rate, they have invited me to be a judge at the Royal in November."

Kiwanis Radio Auction Set For This Evening

In the radio auction sale advertisement appearing in the Examiner of Friday the headings on the columns "reserve bid" and "retail value" were reversed. In each case it read as if the reserve bid was much greater than the retail value. This was an error as in each case the reserve bid is much less than the actual retail value of the article.

The auction, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, commences tonight at 7.00 p.m. over radio station CHEX and the list of articles which will be auctioned off along with the rules of the auctio appear again in today's paper.

Rev. C. G. Boyd Declares Scots Salt of The Earth.

The Rev. C. G. Boyd, minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, travelled more than 10,000 miles during June, July and August, when he exchanged pulpits with the Rev. W. A. Smellie of St. John's Kirk of Perth, Scotland. Accompanied by Mrs. Boyd, he travelled extensively in Scotland, Ireland and England, arriving back in Peterborough last Saturday. Many were the friends Mr. and Mrs. Smellie and their two children made during their time in Peterborough and it appears from the warm reception Mr. and Mrs. Boyd received in Scotland, and on their travels, that they also won esteem and affection among the people they visited.

"The Scottish people are the salt of the earth" is Mr. Boyd's summing up of his visit. He is, therefore, proud of his Scottish ancestry and also that of his wife's. He traces his forefathers back to the royal Stuart clan and Mrs. Boyd's ancestors were of the clan of Frasers.

"They take everything in their stride—even austerity conditions" he found. "They stood out in such contrast to the Americans' more rushing way of life. They get things done but do them more leisurely. They have time for kindness and consideration for others."

Not only did the ministers exchange pulpits, but also their homes and cars. Mr. Boyd's gas ration permitted him to travel 2,000 miles and he also covered a great deal of the British Isles by train and bus.

Cathedrals and medieval churches were Mr. Boyd's chief interests and he was greatly impressed with the Gothic architecture of the churches and castles. Mrs. Boyd especially enjoyed seeking out old antique furniture and jewellery.

Preaches at Glasgow

Before leaving Scotland, Mr. Smellie had arranged an itinerary of five preaching assignments for Mr. Boyd. Twice Mr. Boyd spoke in Glasgow Cathedral and also at St. Mary's, Dundee; Dunfermline Abbey and the West Church of St. Nicholas at Aberdeen.

For a time Mr. Boyd was a theological student at St. Andrew's University, Scotland, where he attended a summer course.

The people of Scotland are enthusiastic about the evangelical message, Mr. Boyd found. Their solid Calvinistic character was still very much apparent and resulted in strong church attendance. In Northern Ireland church attendance was even better.

In Ireland Mr. Boyd represented the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. Mrs. Boyd was one of a number of wives of ministers from overseas to say wdroofgsfaoIataaUt seas to say words of greetings to the assembly.

Mr. Boyd thought the more formal and liturgical services of the Scottish churches harmonised with the medieval architecture of the buildings. The church of which he took charge dated back to the 12th century and had been restored in 1927 by the city and district of Perth as a war memorial. The building contained a great deal of Gothic architecture.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd had a three day trip along Deeside with Mrs. Davidson and her son Bill, of Peterborough, who were also spending the summer in Scotland.

Cover Much Ground

Arriving from Canada at Southampton, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd started sightseeing immediately, visiting Salisbury, Bath and Gloucester, all cathedral cities, before taking the train along the west of England to Perth. During their visit they were also able to see London, Cambridge and Canterbury and around Carlisle, on the English-Scottish border, Mr. Boyd found many architectural interests.

Mrs. Boyd found Scotland a better hunting ground than England for antiques.

Housewives have to pay dearly for food, she discovered. A head of lettuce cost her 35 cents and tomatoes were close to 50 cents a pound. Greengage plums were the same price as tomatoes. She considered, however, that rationed staple foods were kept at a minimum price. Butter was 35 cents a pound.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd's visit to Scotland was the result of an advertisement inserted in the Presbyterian Record by Mr. Smellie. Mr. Boyd was one of many who replied to Mr. Smellie's suggestion to exchange pulpits with an overseas minister.

to a very large swimming pool which is under the same management where children are allowed to swim for a penny. They have a very active ball club which pays 15 per cent. of their net for afternoon games and 25 per cent. for night games under lights. All receipts are collected by the park superintendent and the club's share is paid out by them. Locally we work the other way around and I would advocate a change both in our ball park and any other area where a percentage of the gate receipts is taken."

St. Catharines

"In this city we had a pleasant trip through the park areas and a drive out to the swimming beach on Lake Ontario with the Mayor and the Crown Attorney, who is the Chairman of the Parks Board. We also had a conference with their Recreational Director, Mr. Scott.

"We find that they have a very comprehensive and wide recreational program, but this seems to be more concentrated on the young children with specialists in child training with graduated stimulating exercises and play. Health and cleanliness are a part of this programme. One of the points of difference in their program and ours, are trips to the beach and hikes to the country and to the woods under their supervisor. Buses are provided where necessary. They also have an extensive training in minor theatre, deportment, speech, dances, etc. Maintenance equipment is their own responsibility and is not carried out by the Parks Board. Their playground equipment does not in any way compare with ours. We had a very nice luncheon at their Country Club with the Mayor and the Chairman of the Parks Board."

Kitchener:

"At Kitchener, we were greeted by the Mayor and the City Clerk and shown over their City Hall. We were then taken on a tour of the city parks by Mr. Gress, their park superintendent. In this city their park areas are practically concentrated in one large park with playgrounds, ball park, beauty areas, flower gardens and bird sanctuary. There is one fair size garden area in the city that is taken care of entirely by the Horticultural Society. They have quite a large outdoor swimming pool whch is open during the summer months and usually closes around Labor Day. Rates are 10 and 15 cents; maximum 35 cents which includes locker and bathing suit. They seem to have very little organized recreation."

Stratford:

"We received a wonderful reception and welcome in Stratford and when we arrived at the City Hall there were several members of the Parks Board and Council waiting for us. They took us on a tour which lasted from about 10.30 in the morning until about 4.00 in the afternoon and included lunch at their Country Club.

"Their system of parks is concentrated for about a mile or more along the Avon River. This property has been gradually acquired over the last 25 years and beautified with playgrounds, scenic shores, flower gardens, municipal rink, dancing casino, bowling and tennis areas, all uder the Parks Board. For the size of the city we consider that their park system is unique and very complete and is evidence of a well planned and well managed Parks Board over a number of years and what can be done by them on a long term basis."

From 30 to 40 more students than last year are expected to take the one-year course that leads to the teaching profession. At present 116 have enrolled and a few more are expected. School opens on Tuesday.

There are only two changes in the staff. C. E. Potts, BA, of Toronto, has been loaned to the Training School from the Public School Inspectors' Branch of the Department of Education.

Mrs. John Allan has been appointed to the post of librarian She takes the place of Miss Cleland, who died this summer.

A number of the students attending this year are university grads.

remained in Canada. He died a year ago in St. Catharines, and is buried there.

The Houedrys exported large quantities of peas. They built the warehouse alongside the CNR. east of George St. and south of Romaine St., now used by Harold J. Inman.

The business declined after the father's death in France and partly as a result of increasing infection of pea fields of the district with a weavil, that reduced the value of the crop.

The old Romaine brick work finally was acquired by Mr. E. R. Wilson for the Peterborough Machine and Lubricator Company, which he established and operated until several years ago. Only a few segments of the once spreading buildings remain. And between times they housed what was known as the Dustless Sweeper Company, an industry which completed a few of the sweepers that were designed for the cleaning of streets then becoming paved in the cities and towns of the country, inviting invention to replace the squads of men with brooms and shovels.

WHOOPING COUGH!
DIPHTHERIA!
SMALLPOX!

THESE diseases attack all ages—but often people acquire immunity to them by the time they are adults. Babies and little children lack immunity—are easy victims of infection. Whooping cough is especially dangerous to very young children and causes more deaths among babies under one year of age than any other contagious disease. Diphtheria causes the highest death rate among children under five years of age.

MEDICAL science has the means to prevent these diseases. Every child should be given this protection by the age of one year . . . or earlier. Toxoid to prevent diphtheria; Whooping cough vaccine to protect against whooping cough; Smallpox which is a constant danger can be prevented by the use of smallpox vaccine. Parents do not delay!

Billboard Art Touchy Subject For Alan Ladd

By HOWARD C. HEYN.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10 (AP). —Maybe you like those billboard posters, plugging "The Great Gatsby," which show hairy-chested Alan Ladd flexing his muscles. Ladd doesn't. He says he shudders at the sight of 'em.

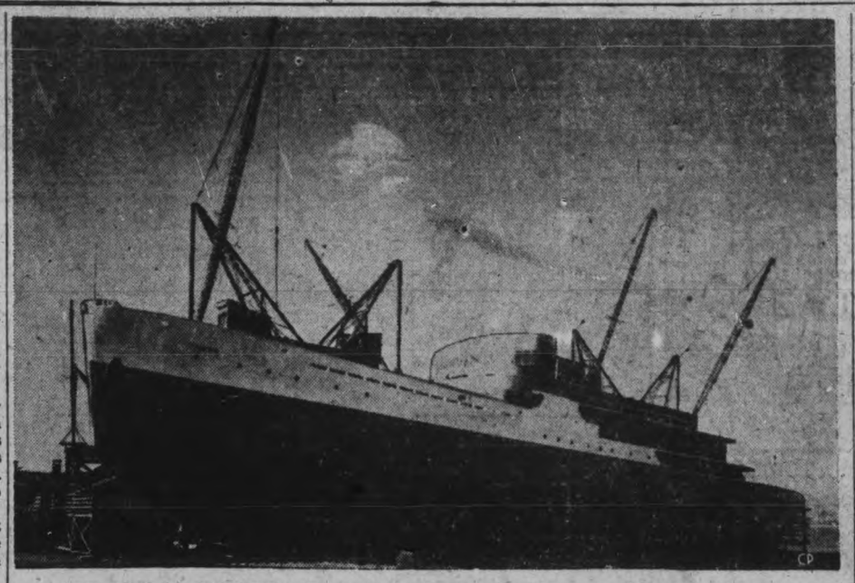
Billboard art is a touchy subject with Ladd. Again and again he is splashed in semi-nude poses on signboards and drama pages td advertise his recent pictures. He would like to put a stop to it, but he can't.

"I have nothing to say about these advertising layouts," he complained. "I never see them until they are used."

Alan thinks many of these ads misrepresent his films. In "Gatsby" he wore a bathing suit in one brief scene. Yet his figure, in scanties, gets plastered on signboards everywhere.

Remember Alice?

"Memories?" snapped Alice White on "The Cage" set. "Who wants memories? All I want is a crystal ball. It is the future for me."



The one-time star revived her career last year with "Flaming Road." She has no patience with patters-on-the-back who seek to console her with references to the wonderful recollections she must have of palmier days.

"Maybe I am not the star I once was, but brother, I'm not through," she declared. "What do they think I am, a has-been? I was never in a silent film in my life. I started in 1929. I'm not living on memories. I have burned all my scrapbooks; I haven't a clipping in the house. I am living right now!"

Valley Rudely Shaken Would-Be Cowboys

GODERICH, Sept. 10 (CP) — Five youthful, would-be cowboys Friday brought back the "wild west" to Sleepy Valley.

It all started when the junior cowpokes decided to lasso a demesticated stallion and take him on a gallop around the countryside of this rural hamlet.

Away they went on a rickety buggy—up hill and down into Sleepy Valley. The horse balked and ran away. Within seconds the apprentice outlaws were obscured in a cloud of dust.

The horse galloped through the main street, causing pedestrians to scamper for safety. It finally stoped in the cemetery—none the worse for wear.

Murray's Hollywood Revue Leaves New York Cold

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (CP). — New York this week got its first look at a revue which has been running in Hollywood for seven years, but the local reaction indicated that its life span here won't match the west-coast mark.

The show, Ken Murray's "Blackouts of 1949," opened to a mixed critical reception. The critical scribes outnumbered those who were enthusiastic.

"Blackouts" has some good numbers and some girls who are easy to look at and structurally shapely. But it boils down mainly to a vaudeville show rather than a revue. The result is that it loses its freshness after the first three or four scenes.

Ken Murray himself proves an apt comedian but needs to be more of a performer and less of an impresario to brighten the production. The humor is largely of the uncouth brand.

Reopening Notes

Lew Parker has been signed to replace Jack Haley in the tour of "Inside USA," which reopens in Toronto October 10. The production, starring Toronto-born Beatrice Lillie, closed in mid-summer to permit Miss Lillie to take a holiday....The hard-luck show of last season, "Diamond Lil," reopened this week at the Plymouth Theatre. The revival was launched in New York last February 5, but had to shut down February 26 when its star, the curvaceous Mae West, fractured her left ankle. The injury was slow in healing. It was July 30 before Miss West was able to resume her role, at Central City, Colo. She gave 33 performances there and nine in Detroit before the company returned to Manhattan.

Hold Suspect In Toronto As Smooth Gem Thief Operating In B.C. Circles

Charge Dancing School Instructor Used Vancouver Social Contacts To Carry Out $30,000 Jewel Robbery

TORONTO, Sept. 12—(CP)—Lou Ward, 27, free-spending former dancing instructor, faces six charges of jewelry theft and police are looking into the possibility that he may be the smooth-talking thief who charmed Vancouver social circles to pave the way for large-scale robberies. Ward, also known to police as Louis Molner, was arrested Sunday in a downtown hotel here on a charge of carrying a German automatic pistol. An exchange of telegrams between Toronto and Vancouver police led to additional charges, including one accusing Ward of a $30,000 Vancouver robbery.

Described by police as a one-time tutor at a dancing school in Brantford, the dark-haired Ward is said to have arrived here three weeks ago by plane. Police say that since then he has drawn on a big bankroll for a happy holiday splurge through hometown bright spots.

Police said investigation indicated that Ward lived for some time in Brantford before moving to the Pacific coast.

Continue Inquiries

Meanwhile, police in Vancouver continued their inquiries into the series of west coast gem thefts. They have arrested Donald McGrath, 26, on a charge of stealing $30,000 worth of jewels Aug. 26 from the Fraser Valley ranch home of E. S. Glaspie, wealthy Vancouver lumberman. McGrath is to appear in court Sept. 17.

Vancouver police said a second man they were hunting fled when they sought to arrest him in connection with seven daring thefts including the Glaspie robbery. They said the wanted man moved to Vancouver a year ago, took an apartment in the fashionable Fairview district and lived there quietly.

They said his good looks, careful grooming and cunning made it easy for him to form friendships with young women in the upper income brackets. Police believe that from them he obtained information about wealthy Vancouver residents, knowledge he later used in his gem raids.

Hospital Board Reform Urged In Report

WINDSOR, Sept. 12 (CP) — Reforming of the Hospital Board of Governors, an improved system of financing and budgeting and a system designed to bring citizens of Windsor "back into partnership in the operation of their hospital," was recommended in a 45-page, 12,000 word report released today on the Royal Commission inquiry into affairs of Metropolitan General Hospital.

Judge Eric W. Cross, one-man Ontario Royal Commissioner, who presided during the 11-day hearings which heard 33 witnesses, stated "if Windsor wants its good name restored by the kind of hospital I envisage, that can only be accomplished by subscribers or benefactors supplying funds whereby the most advanced ideas in specialized services and equipment can be put into effect."

He found that politics hampered operation of the present board and "that in any reconstitution of the board of governors care should be taken to prevent its recurrence in such positive form."

Referring to a Detroit hotel party which was attended by Mayor Arthur J. Reaume, Horace E. Atkin, deposed hospital head,

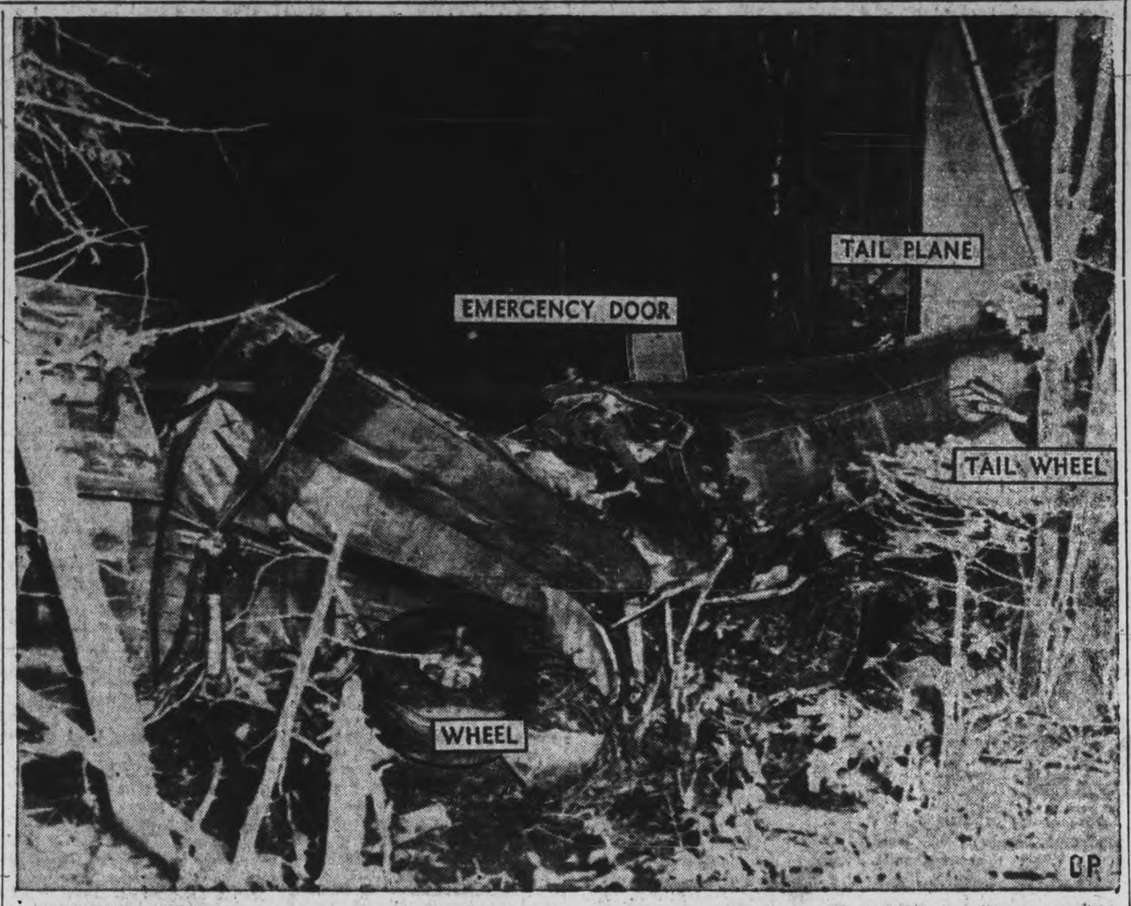
Chinese Reds Open New Drive

HONG KONG, Sept. 12 — Reports from Canton Sunday night indicated that a big Communist drive aimed at occupying the Nationalist refugee capital might at last be under way.

Nine Communist armies in East Hunan are reported to be on the move. Their intent seemed to be to slice down east at Hengyang, cut the railway below the city and then either close in to attack Pai Chung-shi's base there or bypass Hengyang and push on down toward Canton.

Gen. Pai's troops reportedly were ready to meet the Communist drive; one unit moving out to take the initiative captured Tzehsing from the Communists. Guerrilla bands co-operating with the Communists were cleared from the railway south of Hengyang.

It is thought here that the Communists may have stepped up their South China offensive at this time with the aim of capturing Canton by Oct. 10—celebrated as National Independence Day since the overthrow of the Manchus in 1911.



Chief Nazi Judge Jumps Into Lake

MUNICH, Germany, Sept. 12—(AP)—The chief judge of the Nazi Party Supreme Court, Reichsleiter Walter Buch, committed suicide by slashing his wrists and jumping into a lake, Bavarian state police announced today.

Buch's body was dragged from the lake last Friday evening.

Police said they did not know the exact date on which Buch killed himself or the motive for his deed.

Buch was adjudged a major offender in two denazification trials. At the second trial last July, however, the Munich Appellate Court reduced his forced-labor sentence from five years to the time he had already been under arrest — 3½ years.

Master Plan For Toronto Costs 180 Million

TORONTO, Sept. 12—(CP)—A master plan intended to shape Toronto's growth during the next 30 years goes before the city council today. The program, which may transform the present grimy community of confusion and congestion into a spacious city beautiful of the future, must be approved by the council before presentation to the Ontario Planning Department. If the department favors the proposals, the plan will be registered with the department as an instrument of control over future development.

Drawn up during the last three years by the city planning board, it is the seventh master plan for Toronto development. The others were brought out in 1908, 1911, 1915, 1929, 1932 and 1943. Not one of the former plans was put into effect in its entirety, chiefly for reasons of expense.

The latest program calls for expenditure of $180,000,000, with the city's contribution approximately $145,000,000.

To overcome traffic congestion on east-west traffic arteries, the plan proposes construction of a four-lane expressway for 10 miles across the waterfront from the Humber River in the west to Woodbine Avenue in the east at an estimated cost of $12,000,000. Another super highway would

Believe Hong Kong Safe From Red Sweep In China

HONG KONG, Sept. 12 (Reuters)—Well-informed sources say the impending climax of the Nationalist-Communist fighting on the Chinese mainland throws no immediate danger on this crown colony. Some Britons and Chinese here, however, express fear that a future Chinese government might try to regain Hong Kong, a former Chinese possession.

The general attitude of confidence is in sharp contrast to the uncertainty and nervousness which existed four months ago after Chinese Communist attacks on British warships on the Yangtze river.

Confidence concerning the colony's immediate future has grown in proportion to the enormous influx of garrison reinforcements together with the recent expansion of the naval and air force establishments.

Contributing to the general confidence also have been steps taken by the Hong Kong government itself to prepare for any eventuality.

Quietly but with increasing tempo, Hong Kong has been pursuing a policy, summed up recently by the Governor, Sir Alexander Grantham, of hoping for the best but preparing for the worst.

A series of emergency regulations provide for:

1. Compulsory registration of all residents except children under 12, and the issue of identity cards.
2. Expulsion of undesirables.
3. Imposition of the death sentence for breaches of certain regulations.
4. Restriction of movement in frontier areas and waters over which a nightly curfew is drawn.

A primary objective of these regulations is to control the unrestricted flow of Chinese into and out of the colony.

Grapple With Dollar Crisis

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—(CP)—Douglas Abbott, Canadian Finance Minister, said today that Britain, Canada and the United States have plans for an immediate attack on the British dollar problem. "We have made very encouraging progress," he said of the three-power conference which started last Wednesday and is expected to end late today.

"We have determined what step can be taken at this time and, above all, we have agreed on the direction in which we must all work," he said in a prepared speech at a National Press Club luncheon.

"Each of our governments must constantly examine the adequacies of our policies in the light of the ultimate goal. We have made a good beginning. In the words of your president (Truman), we must keep everlastingly at it."

But he emphasized:

"We must not expect that complete answers can be found in the course of a few days or that there can be any immediate relief from all our difficulties."

Profound Significance

The dollar crisis has a "most profound signifance" for Canada, Abbott said.

"As long as there is a world-wide dollar problem, Canada is bound to be adversely affected. These defects cannot be overcome by purely internal Canadian measures. A satisfactory solution can only be found in co-operative efforts between governments such as those in which we have been engaged during the past week . . .

"Canada doesn't often make the front pages here in the United States. Our friends have suggested that this absence from the

Sweeps Women Off Feet Romeo Collects $93,700

CHICAGO, Sept. 12—(AP)—Swindlin' Sigmund Engel, the 73-year-old specialist in women, came to court today with a trail of eight women clamoring he bilked them of $93,700.

Engel, a dapper romeo by his own profession, was arrested June 24 by the machinations of one of his intended victims. Another of his actual victims signed a complaint which led to indictment on confidence game charges. This is the charge being tried today.

But behind those circumstances was a trail of women across the continent, a glib tongue, multiple aliases, and quick disappearances.

Here are the women whose claims make up the total:

Mrs. Florence Barrette, 50, Chicago, $12,000 in cash, furniture and jewels. Mrs. Irene Grimes, 49, San Francisco, $16,000.; Mrs. Corinne Perry, 64, Los Angeles, $2,000.; Mrs. Annette Kubiak, 35, South Bend Ind., $5,000.; Mrs Pauline Langton, 39, New York, $50,000 in jewels; Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, 39, Chicago, $8,700.

Doesn't Press Charge

Then there was Mrs. Helma Spencer, 65, of Chicago who claimed he took $4,100 from her in 1925 but did not press the charge; Mrs. Vivien Huebler, 45, of San Francisco, who annulled a marriage to him; and Mrs. Genevience Parro, 55, of Chicago. All are widows or divorcees.

After his arrest in June, women from coast to coast identified pictures of Engel. They came to Chicago to identify him in person.

Engel remained calm through most of the furore. Women are my career," he said. "I've got womanmania. May be scientists will learn 20 years from now that's a disease.

"I've taken a lot of money from women. There's nothing to it. You ask a woman for money, and, naturally, she's going to give it to you."

Issue New Warnings Against Czech Clergy

PRAGUE, Sept. 12 (AP) — Roman Catholic Church authorities disclosed today that priests who have been fined by the Communist-led Czech government have been forbidden to disclose the fact to their congregations.

Church sources, meanwhile, accused the government of imposing increased restrictions on Bishops and priests to hinder their work and break their loyalty to the Czech hierarchy and the Vatican.

They said these measures ranged from infringements on freedom of movement to confiscation of the property of priests who refused to pay fines imposed for reading pastoral letters received from Bishops.

The complaints came after a week-end in which leading government and Communist party officials had issued new warnings and threats against what they termed the "Dissident" Catholic Hierarchy.

Young Mother Dies of Wounds

SUDBURY, Sept. 12—(CP)—Police said today Mrs. Cecile Rainville of Sudbury was murdered in the bedroom of her two room apartment shortly before 8 a.m.

Police are holding Edward Latour, a bushworker, for questioning.

The young woman suffered stab wounds in the back, abdomen, arms and hands.

Latour, bleeding from a knife wound on his hand, went to the police station about 8 o'clock and reported the stabbing.

Mrs. Kathleen Nechaj, owner of the house where the stabbing occurred, said she heard Latour come into the house and go to the downstairs apartment after Mrs. Rainville's husband had gone to work.

Mrs. Rainville's partly clothed body was found lying in a pool of blood between the bed and door of the bedroom. Her child, only a few months old, was sleeping in a crib beside the bed.

Latour, described by police as a frequent visitor at the Rainville apartment, was taken to hospital. Police said he had a knife wound on a finger of his right hand. The front of his shirt was bloody, they said.

Director Pledges UAW To Peaceful Picketing

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP) Striking CIO United Automobile Workers today resumed peaceful picketing at the Bell Aircrift Corporation plant.

A return of non-strikers following a normal week-end shutdown was without incident as an augmented force of 125 sheriff's deputies, 13 on horseback, controlled approaches to the plant in the nearby town of Wheatfield.

Convoys of automobiles and buses were escorted by sheriff's patrol cars. Picket lines at the plant were halted by deputies as the vehicles passed through the gates.

Michael Berdych, chairman of the top bargaining committee of UAW Local 501, which called the strike June 13 for higher wages and pension benefits, reiterated the union's pledge that it would engage in no more acts of violence.

Edward F. Gray, sub-regional UAW director, made the pledge to a State mediator last week after outbreaks of violence Wednesday and Thursday caused Governor Thomas Dewey of New York State to instruct the Niagara and Erie County sheriffs to call upon other communities for police help if needed to maintain order.

Gray, Berdych and Robert Sigler, Local 501 president, in a special bulletin to the strikers today, described the arrests of 41 unionists last week as an effort by the company to "give the foremen to stooges and the scabs more freedom of operation."

Police said 12 persons charged with riot and assault in connection with disorders in which at least 24 persons were injured on Wednesday and Thursday had not been found this morning.

Second Girl Breaks Away From Mother's Hold, Later Gets Woman Ashore

Cool Youngster Flags U.S. Tourist Car For Assistance In Rescue, Men Can't Swim But Tie Rope Around Girl

WALLACEBURG, Sept. 12—(CP)—An eight-year-old girl walked to her death in the Sydenham River near here Saturday and police said eyewitnesses told them she and her older sister were dragged screaming into the water by their mother. Drowned was Irene Doychak while her 11-year-old sister, Joan, who had managed to break away from her mother's grasp, effected the woman's rescue.

Police, who described the action of Mrs. Barbara Doychak a suicide attempt, said decision on whether she will be charged depended on the Crown Attorney.

They said Mrs. Doychak left a note written in Hungarian for her husband, Louis, and that its contents were unknown pending translation by an interpreter. They said even members of the woman's family could not make it out.

The woman was taken to hospital in Chatham, 18 miles to the southwest, where her condition remained critical. Firemen from Wallaceburg used an inhalator to revive her after she was rescued.

Grabs Mother

Police said that Joan went back into the river, a fishing line tied about her body, and grabbed her mother. Both were pulled from the water by Clarence Brown and Ulysses Fuller of Detroit, whose car had been stopped on the roadway by the girl.

Describing his part in the rescue, Clarence Brown said later:

"In the car I had a couple of lengths of rope. I tied them together as far as I could, fastened the end around the girl's waist and told her to grab her mother. I couldn't swim well enough to try it myself.

"The little girl waded out and caught hold of her mother's clothes. The smallest child was gone by then. Mr. Fuller and I pulled the two of them to shore."

Takes Taxi

The woman and two girls drove two miles from the town limits in a taxi, police said. John Foster, the taxi-driver, told police that all three "seemed cheerful enough." He said he had known Mrs. Boychak for a long time and that she seemed no different than usual.

Police quoted Foster as having reported the woman instructed him to drive over a bridge and along the river, and that about two miles from town she got out saying she intended to visit friends in the country.

Turns Gun On P.M.

TEL AIVIV, Israel, Sept. 12 — (AP). — A visitor in the Israeli Parliament gallery pointed a Sten gun (machine gun) toward Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion today as the Prime Minister entered just before the legislators began an eight-week recess. The House was thrown into an uproar but the guards seized the man, disarmed him, and removed him from the building.

Deny Charges Fruit Pickers Badly Treated

OTTAWA, Sept. 12 (CP) — Charges that a fruit-picking camp for men near St. Catharines is being run like a "concentration camp" are being investigated, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, said today.

The charges were made in a letter by 22-year-old Graham Lapierre of Ottawa. The letter received by a friend, Alfred Kelly, was turned over to the Ottawa Citizen and referred to the deputy minister.

Mr. MacNamara said the manager of the Ontario Farm Service office at St. Cartharines now was on his way to the camp, located six miles from the city, to investigate.

In his letter the youth said conditions at the camp "are awful." When he first arrived "135 men were talking of striking if living conditions did not improve."

"For breakfast we got one bowl of corn flakes and one bun (cold) and either one glass of coffee or one glass of milk only."

After 10 tours in the fields, the workers, said Lapierre, got "two slices of tomatoes and beans." The supervisor walked around the camp in an army officer's uniform, the youth continued, "giving orders and firing men who talked back to him. . ."

Mr. MacNamara discounted most of the charges. He said it appeared that the youth had not been away from home very often.

In Toronto, Alexander Maclaren, director of the Ontario Farm Service, said there had been "some basis for complaint" about conditions at a St. Catharines district fruit-picking camp "but there had been a readjustment and everybody is satisfied."

Say Egg Prices To Hit 90 Cents

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (CP) — The retail price of grade A large eggs is expected to soar to 90 cents a dozen, the highest price since the First World War, it was reported here today. Prices on the wholesale market today were up four cents from Saturday and six cents over a four day period.

The Dominion Department of Agriculture here, reported the increase was due to light receipts and prices are not expected to drop until the supply improves. One poultry dealer believed the small number of grade A eggs on the market was caused by farmers selling their old hens, the layers of grade A eggs, to make room for pullets in the cold weather. The demand for pullets has not been great and their price is below that of grade B.

Rescues 5 People From Burning Boat

STROUD, Sept. 12 (CP)—Lloyd Keith of Toronto rescued five persons Saturday from the roof of a 15-foot inboard motor boat which caught fire and exploded near this Lake Simcoe summer resort. Names of the five were not available.

Keith said he noticed the flames from his cottage and put out in his own boat. He took the yelling passengers from the room of the burning boat and took the boat in tow. As he towed it towards shore it exploded and sank in three feet of water. No one was seriously injured.

Nine Die, Two Survive As Storm Wrecks Cruiser

NANTUCKET ISLAND, Mass., Sept. 12—(AP)—Nine persons, including five women, were drowned and two men struggled against stormy seas all night to safety after the 38-foot cabin cruiser Constance was smashed to bits late Friday in a raging storm. One of the survivors saw five members of his family and finally his fiancee die in the tossing waters.

Bodies of the victims were picked up Saturday in the waters between this island and Martha's Vineyard Island, some 20 miles away.

Dead were:

Rev. Hubert Allenby, 52, of Falmouth, Mass.; Mrs. Allenby, 49; their son, Leighton Allenby, 20, John Hadley, 19, Falmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nairn, 25 and 22, of Rochester, N.Y.; Emily Foster, 21, Falmouth; Jane Mange, 19, Staten Island, N.Y., and Patricia Dickinson, 18, Verona, N.J.

The survivors of the ill-fated pleasure cruiser are Russell Palmer, 23, skipper of the craft, and Alfred Allenby, 23, another son of the clergyman. Both were taken to hospital.

Reaches Shore

First word of the tragedy came when Palmer staggered ashore Saturday morning on Dionis Beach on the north side of this island.

The U. S. Coast Guard was notified and several boats, aided by planes and two helicopters, began a search of waters near this island, some 30 miles off Cape Cod.

Young Allenby was brought ashore at Dionis Beach by coast guardsmen, tied with three other castaways, later found to be dead. The four including two girls, had been tied with line from the sunken cruiser.

Palmer said a storm blew up half an hour after they left Nantucket on the return trip to Falmouth about 5 p.m. Friday.

For about an hour the craft struggled against the wind and waves before one of the engines failed.

As he tried to repair the engine, a wave washed in and swamped the other one. Then the craft began to break up.

He instructed his passengers to hold on to a line he tossed into the water.

No Panic

"There was no panic," Palmer continued.

"Somebody suggested they sing and they started one song. But that one song was drowned out by a huge wave.

"I went back aboard to get another line. The passengers were slipping off the anchor line and I thought I'd better cut the boat adrift from it.

"When I jumped overboard again, I couldn't find the people. I kept yelling for an hour but they weren't around."

Then the navy veteran told of climbing on to the roof of the cruiser's cabin after it broke loose.

Drifts All Night

He said he drifted through the night with a blanket over his head to keep from swallowing too much water.

Young Allenby, the other survivor, saw his father, his mother, his younger brother, Leighton, his sister, Mrs. Nairn, the latter's husband, Robert, and Allenby's fiancee, Miss Foster, died in the tragedy.

Alfred Allenby, who was picked up Saturday by a coast guard motor surfboat, attributed his own survival to stamina acquired while working all summer as a lifeguard.

Allenby said his father was the first to die after Palmer lost touch with the passengers. His father died about 7 p.m. Friday.

May Become US Base Maltese Ultimatum

VALETTA, Malta., Sept. 12 — (Reuters)—The Maltese cabinet's recent "ultimatum" to Britain warned that the island might offer itself as a base to the United States in exchange for Marshall Plan aid, Prime Minister Paul Boffa told Malta's parliament Friday night.

The Maltese cabinet watered down the "ultimatum" before it was presented to Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones during the London talks on Malta's economic problems, Boffa said.

The original draft had referred to the possibility of offering the island as a base in exchange for economic aid from the United States "or any other major country," which could only mean the Soviet Union, Dr. Boffa said. The amended draft deleted the reference to "any other major country."

U.S. Steel Union Will Rule On Wage Dispute

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12—(CP)—Policy-makers of the United Steelworkers Union (CIO) gathered today to decide if the presidential fact-finders' report offers a satisfactory solution to settle the United States Steel wage dispute.

Similar decisions from more than 60 steel companies also are expected soon.

The fact-finding board suggested a 10-cent hourly "package" of benefits covering pensions and insurance, but not wages.

Also before the union's 36-man executive board and 170-man wage policy committee today is President Truman's request that a strike deadline—now set to expire at midnight tomorrow— be extended for at least 11 days, until Sept. 25.

The Big Five of the United States Steel industry have told Truman they would continue operations at least until Sept. 25 as he requested if the Steelworkers report for work.

The five major steel companies who comprise the Big Five are United States Steel Corporation, Bethlehem Steel Company, Republic Steel Corporation; Inland Steel Company, and Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

Second Strike Worry

U.S. Steel Corporation and more than 50 other steel plants in the Pittsburgh district have another strike to worry about, in addition to the one called by the steelworkers. At 7.30 a.m. Tuesday EDT the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is scheduled to strike on the Union railroad.

If the 1,200 B.R.T. members strike United States Steel says it will have to lay off 30,000 men. And the other plants will have to let out some 20,000 employees.

Encourage Public To Read Hansard

Another campaign is being conducted by the King's Printer in an effort to encourage the public in subscribing to Hansard and other official papers, issued during each session of parliament

Although Canadians are taking more and more interest in politics, a great number still do not even know about Hansard. People should be brought to base their opinion on facts and, when it comes to judge the work being done by their representatives, Hansard tops all sources of information. As a verbatim report of the proceedings of the House of Commons, it provides with plain facts, offering little chance of misunderstanding.

6,000,000 words per session, as an average, are registered in Hansard; it is published first, as daily issues mailed regularly to all subscribers, as the session proceeds. All this for the amount of $3.00, no more. For full information, just write to The King's Printer, Ottawa.

Development of the three islands across Toronto harbor into an area of apartment houses and hotels reached by a tunnel is another major proposal.

Other highlights: $50,000,000 for expanding water and sewerage facilities; four new public squares; replacement of buildings in "blighted" areas; four new combined health and welfare centres and one health centre.

River Captain Locates Body

QUEBEC, Sept. 12 — (CP). — The captain of a St. Lawrence River vessel which arrived at Donnaconna Que., 40 miles upriver from here during the weekend, was reported to-day to have landed the body of an unidentified person recovered offshore near Sault Au Cochon, scene of Friday's air disaster.

It was not known immediately whether the body was that of Henri Paul Bouchard of Baie Comeau. A search for his remains is continuing around Cap Tourmente where the crash occurred in the Laurentians.

Captain Francis Lavoie of Riviere St. Francois, skipper of the little river boat, said the body was found Sunday afternoon a short distance out in the St. Lawrence from Sault Au Cochon.

and hospital nurses. Judge Cross was critical of the Mayor's conduct.

Up To Voters

"It will be noted that I have criticized Mayor Reaume's conduct in this incident as a member of the Board of Governors and refrained from comment as to his conduct as Mayor."

He stated "as to what standards the citizens of Windsor expect from their Mayor it is for them to pass upon.

Much of the inquiry into hospital affairs dealt with attendance of the Mayor, Mr. Atkin and nurses at a press photographer's ball in Detroit. Mildred Maybee stated that this and other attempts by the former superintendent to date nurses resulted in interference with discipline and was the main reason for her resignation as superintendent of nurses. Her resignation touched off the inquiry.

Improper Conduct

While the evidence showed "no reflection on the personal conduct of Mr. Atkin and Mr. Reaume—it was improper and indiscreet for them, both married men, to entertain unchaperoned in a Detroit hotel suite four nurses from the hospital," the Royal Commission report states.

Judge Cross stated: "I am convinced that Atkin knew what circumstances had caused Miss Maybee's resignation and deliberately withheld the information from the house committee (of the hospital board).

"His motive in so doing obviously was to protect his own reputation and that of the Mayor as well—so the first false step was taken when the house committee failed to find out from Miss Maybee herself the reasons for her resignation."

Held On Suspicion

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12 (AP)—A 41-year-old divorced tennis coach is in jail today on suspicion of incest after his tennis champion daughter, age 16, told officers he forced her to have sexual relations with him. The accusations, made by pretty Laura Lou Jahn, U.S. girls indoor singles champion, were denied by Leslie E. Jahn. He said his daughter made them because he refused to permit her to have dates during tennis tours.

But he said the visit will be a personal, not a business one, and that Miss Munn, who competed last week in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City, N.J., has not been asked to audition for the Metropolitan. Johnson said in an interview that he agreed to receive Miss Munn, who comes from North Vancouver, B.C., after being asked to do so by the Vancouver Daily Province in a long-distance telephone call.

House Expected To Act Early On Tax Refunds

OTTAWA, Sept. 12 (CP)—Income tax refunds to some 750,000 Canadians are due for early consideration at the session of parliament which starts next Thursday.

Those refunds will go to people clipped from the income tax paying roles by increased exemptions contained in the federal budget brought down last March 22.

The 20th parliament was dissolved before the budget was passed, thus holding up the refunds.

Just before dissolution of parliament at the end of April the Commons passed legislation providing the government with $497,000,000 to cover expenses until a new parliament was called.

That money was supposed to last until the end of September, and the budget will have to be reintroduced and passed by that time or else the government will have to ask for further emergency expenses.

The three-quarters of a million Canadians who will receive refunds are those who were earning between $750 and $1,000 a year as single persons, or between $1,500 and $2,000 as married persons.

Also included are those with children who fell below the taxpaying level when exemptions for dependents were increased.

Mining Issues Slip On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 12—(CP) — Mining issues slipped slightly as trading slackened in early afternoon trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Western Oils held a firmer trend while Industrials recovered early losses to steady in midsession.

Sherritt Gordon held the bulk of attention on the board, trading briskly for a loss. The stock opened firmer but steady selling pushed the price down 25 cents to $2.95. Noranda and International Nickel dipped fractions in base metals while Consolidated Smelters added ½ at 98.

A wide list of Senior and Junior Gold Producers slipped under slow, steady selling. McIntyre, Lake Shore and Kerr Addison were down fractions in Seniors. Upper Canada Mines was forced 20 cents lower at $3.80 in Juniors.

Key Western oil issues showed gains ranging up to 15 cents. Anglo-Canadian added 15 cents at $3.70 and Calgary and Edmonton and Foothills went up five cents.

Industrials were down in early dealings but support appeared in mid-session wiping out many early losses. Papers were fractionally brighter.

2 Fliers Turn Back In Atlantic Crossing

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 12 — (AP)—Two Italian fliers, attempting to fly the Atlantic in a single-engine plane, were forced to turn back early today and landed safely at Lagens airfield in the Azores.

Airline authorities here said they had been told the plane headed back to the Azores when the pilot, Capt. John Brondello, found a gasline obstructed.

When the plane reached Lagens Brondello circled the field for almost 80 minutes to consume surplus gas and reduce the danger of an explosion when he landed.

Brondello and Capt. Camillio Barioglio of the Italian Air Force had hoped to make the 3,500-mile flight to New York in 26 hours.

A neighbourly exchange of air masses between Canada and the United States resulted in afternoon temperatures in the 70s in nearly all parts of Ontario Sunday. Moosonee at the foot of James Bay reported an unseasonably high 78.

On the other hand, the cold air which held Alberta temperatures to about 40 on Saturday limited temperatures to the 50s on Sunday in the northern plains states. During the night an increasing southerly flow of warm air brought showers to the White River region and a thickening cloud deck to most of Ontario. The cloud deck will thin during the daytime today in central and eastern sections and the showers will move only slightly eastward. Tonight, however, the cloud will thicken again and the showers spread further eastward.

Agree On Plans To Ease British Crisis

WASHINTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Britain, the United States and Canada today were reported to have agreed on plans for a many-sided attack on Britain's dollar crisis. An announcement of specific steps was promised soon.

Officials familiar with the work of the three-power conference here said these steps will include:

1. Greater freedom for Britain in spending Marshall Plan dollars for Canadian wheat.

2. Acceptance by the United States of Britain's need to discriminate against American goods in order to conserve dollars.

In addition to these and other trade measures Britain is reported turning to the international monetary fund for loans which could total $312,000,000 in the next 12 months.

One agreement, a decision to promote more overseas loans by the world bank and the United States Export-Import Bank, was announced Saturday.

The others are expected to include creation of one or more three-power committees to provide continuous consultation on Britain's dollar problem and to seek long-range solutions, mainly along the line of selling more British goods in the United States.

Completion of the dollar conference today will clear the way for a new round of high-powered financial and diplomatic talks scheduled to begin here tomorrow.

BESL Assists 8,000 Vets In Two Years

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—(CP). — Dedicated to helping veterans, their dependents and widows in every part of the Commonwealth, the British Empire Service League took on an increasing load during the last two years.

The 105th biennial conference of the BESL Empire Council today received an outline of the work in its many phases in the two-year report which was placed before delegates from 25 countries.

"Political and economic difficulties which affected the whole world during the period were, of course, reflected in the experience of a body which is so closely identified with all the territories of the British Commonwealth," the report said.

During the two years since the last conference the BESL, which described itself as "the biggest British institution that exists — over 14,000 branches throughout the Empire," handled more than 8,000 cases of distress among veterans of war widows, requests for tracing relatives, war graves, and other matters relating to pensions, medals and discharge.

The report noted entry into the BESL of several new Commonwealth organizations, bringing league membership to 30 countries.

New members were Sierra Leone, Nigeria, Antigua and Honduras.

Fenella Church Anniversary Widely Attended

ROSENEATH, Sept. 12 (ENS) —"The youth of today is launched into an adult population which has lost its moral moorings," said the Rev. J. E. Griffith, pastor of Castleton United Church, as guest speaker at the anniversary services Sunday at Fenella United Church. The Fenella choir was in charge of the morning service with Mrs. Laurie Hope at the organ. The local choir was assisted by Mr. Lewis Roberts, Port Hope and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Coyle, Roseneath.

The choir of Bethesda (Harwood) United Church had charge of the music for the evening service.

Trafalgar Boys Present Program

The first big effort to acquaint the citizens of Peterborough with the Optimist Club Boys' Town at Trafalgar House, Nicholls Oval, was staged at the band shell on Sunday evening. Evidence of public interest was shown in the attendance, 1,500 people, and after listening to a splendid program of musical offerings presented by the boys themselves, 11 new boys in the audience made application to join. Their acceptances will be tabled before the boys' council at an early date.

Terry Roberts, youthful mayor of Boys' Town, introduced the director, Walter Bent, who appealed to the audience to attend "open house" on Sunday, Sept. 18. The complete executive of the Peterborough Optimist Club was present, from President Leo Edwards down the line, and chairman of the boys' committee, Dick Quimet, thanked the audience for a splendid turnout.

It is gratifying to the club to see a boys' membership enrollment of 121 accepted during the last month, which in effect has been the result of the organizing ability of their new Boys' Town director, Mr. Bent, officials say.

Besides four movie films shown at the Oval on Sunday evening, the following program was presented by the boys: Choruses, "O Canada," "Monday," "Old MacDonald" and Brahm's "Lullaby." Soloists included Paul Board, Dick Foley and Doug Galvin. Dick Atkinson and the group sang "Grandfather's Clock," Dick and John Munn sang a duet, "Billy Boy," and the whole group whistled "Santa Lucia."

Because of the fact that the great majority of family men need more protection while they are paying the costs of raising and educating their children, this Double Protection Plan was designed so that the face amount will be twice as high up to 65 as it will be after that age.

And furthermore, at age 65, the rate is reduced by 50%. ($1.81 per week.)

The cost of this Double Protection Plan is exceptionally low. This low cost is possible because the plan is issued only to first-class risks in minimum initial amounts of $5,000 (ultimate amount $2,500). The savings in mortality and in cost of administration thus effected are passed on to you.

For The Good Of Lakefield

Reeve W. C. Grant of Lakefield spoke last week to the Peterborough Kiwanis Club of his hopes for the village's municipal development during the next few years. He mentioned specifically the construction of a modern waterworks and sewage disposal plant, the establishment of a modern High School which would serve the entire district, and the improvement of the village as a tourist centre. All these projects appeal to us as being not only progressive and in keeping with the times, but also necessary if Lakefield is not to become a stagnant backwater, its natural advantages corrupted because advantage is not being taken of them.

* * *

The argument is not valid that what was good enough for Lakefield's fathers fifty years ago is good enough for their children now. The Lakefield of today is not the Lakefield of a generation or ten years ago. Even a village which wishes to remain static cannot do so. It either moves forward or backward; it does not stand still. Lakefield has advanced in many ways, some of them despite itself. For instance, it has grown in area and population tremendously, and that growth shows no signs of stopping so long as the city of Peterborough grows closer to it and the trend for people to seek village life continues. This increment to Lakefield's size has brought with it the growing pains which have hit all municipalities.

* * *

And so, while the village has advanced thus, it has moved backwards because of this advance, since little improvement has been made in municipal services to cope with the new population conditions. Lakefield needs and should have a water and sewage system. It could get along without this twenty years ago, but for the health of the bigger village, as well as its amenities (which must be brought up to date to make life there as pleasant and convenient as it was fifty years ago), drains and mains must be laid.

* * *

The Lakefield High School has served the community faithfully, but now it can and should take on a larger role, and be adequately constructed for that task. The High School can and should afford an education as good as offered in any city Collegiate, and should also provide for the special needs of a rural district.

* * *

If Peterborough is the gateway to the Kawarthas, Lakefield is the first lock through which tourists pass by the tens of thousands. It is to the financial benefit of the village that it offers them a clean, convenient and efficient physique as well as a pleasant face.

* * *

The reclamation of Lakefield from the bogs of the 1900's will be not inexpensive; nevertheless recent Ontario legislation to give financial aid to small municipalities, and the residual wealth as well as new money that is in the village, make Reeve Grant's proposals entirely feasible and no real taxation hardship. Norwood's High School and new water system show what can be done. Lakefield can do as well and better.

The Lull Before The Storm

The American steel industry and the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) have completed their respective cases before the fact-finding committee appointed by President Truman. As was to be expected, the parties involved presented recommendations which differed greatly. The union maintained that a total increase of thirty cents an hour could be put into effect without raising prices and that it would provide extra purchasing power to combat recession; the companies contended that any increase in labour costs would intensify the drop in business by forcing prices up and creating additional unemployment.

As the report of the board went to President Truman Saturday, strike threats involving 3,000,000 workers in steel, coal, automobiles, electrical manufacturing, rubber, shipbuilding and other key industries were hanging fire, as was the fate of organized labour's demand for a fourth round of post-war wage increases. The steel issue is regarded as an important "test case" on the fourth round.

Although neither side is legally bound to accept the recommendations of the fact-finding board, the findings will have a strong effect morally on both labour and management, and cannot help but influence public feeling. When the recommendations are made known, the parties will resume direct negotiations in an effort to arrive at an amicable adjustment of their differences. The sixty-day truce obtained from management and labour by President Truman when he appointed the panel expires at midnight of September 13; if no agreement has been reached by that time, the union will be free to strike.

The board's recommendations will be limited to the steel industry, but they are expected to have a big effect on the outcome of the battle over wages, pensions and welfare benefits in all major industries. Negotiations in most of the basic industries have been in suspension since the sixty-day truce period was established for the steel industry. Walter P. Reuther's United Automobile Workers (C.I.O. and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers (Independent) have held off strikes, apparently waiting until the steel situation settled down and produced a wage pattern which they could follow. An exception to the mark-time attitude is the strike by employees of the B. F. Goodrich Company, which is involving 17,000 men. However, the United Rubber Workers (C.I.O.) have given no indication that this strike will spread throughout the rubber industry.

If an increase is recommended by the fact-finding commission there it little doubt but that the steel companies will resist, especially if the recommended increase is a substantial one. And if the pattern set for steel is followed by unions in other fields, there is even less doubt that management in those fields will resist even more vigorously.

On the other hand, if the proposals of the board are small, strikes will likely follow in several big industries. As well, a decision which favoured the companies would mean that President Truman could count on losing labour votes at the next election. In all probability, the panel will advocate a total increase of about ten cents an hour, which might be acceptable to both parties, since it quite closely follows the wage-trend established by the first three rounds of increases.

John L. Lewis and his mine workers remain an enigma in the present situation. The original contract between the union and the coal operators expired June 30, but the UMW stayed on the job. Bituminous workers were instructed by Mr. Lewis to work only three days a week, and this move, by reducing coal stocks above ground, has placed the union in a better bargaining position when Mr. Lewis decides the time is ripe. Negotiations have been postponed to September 15, which seems to indicate that Mr. Lewis will be watching closely the outcome of the steel dispute, and that he will scale his demands accordingly.

Under the present circumstances, if either management or labour is dissatisfied with the proposals put forth by the fact-finding commission, we can look forward to a series of strikes in the basic industries of the United States. In all probability, the repercussions will spread throughout related industries, and into Canadian industry.

Native Trees

Government publications are often dull, though usually informative and written by experts in the subjects of which they treat. Whether they be dull or bright publications, citizens generally are not affected because they rarely trouble to find out what the King's Printer is printing. One book just reissued should have a considerable sale and find its way into many homes, particularly in a district like ours, if people learn of its existence. So we point out to our readers that the fourth edition of Native Trees of Canada is now available from the King's Printer, Ottawa, for $1.50.

This book is handsome enough for the most selective of home libraries, with its colourful dust cover of eastern Canadian trees in autumnal flame, its sturdy binding and good paper. It is a book for reference and reading, or merely for thumbing through its 293 pages of story, maps and illustrations. We place the volume high on our recommended list.

Hazards Of Atomic Energy

By WILLIAM E. DICK

(Editor's Note: Last Monday American, British and Canadian experts assembled in London to exchange information about the most vital point of atomic energy production —the safety measures which must be applied in atomic energy establishments. In this article William E. Dick, B.Sc., F.L.S., editor of the monthly science magazine, DISCOVERY, discusses the problems these experts faced.)

* * *

THE first atomic pile ever constructed had a very short life. It took months to design and build, but only a few weeks after Enrico Fermi and his band of fellow scientists first set it working they hurriedly pulled to pieces this cunningly contrived heap of graphite bricks in which were scattered lumps of uranium metal. They had settled the main question they wanted information about, whether atomic fission could maintain itself in a controlled chain reaction, but there were many other vital facts they could have learnt from running the pile "flat out".

The reason why they destroyed their handiwork was because they were afraid, justifiably afraid, that radiation from the pile might injure people using the road outside the squash court of Chicago University which housed the pile. Radiation they recognized as the greatest hazard of the atomic age. Yet during the war atomic piles many times more powerful than the Chicago No. 1 Pile were built, and the atomic fires that seethed within them liberated even more intense radiation. Huge quantities of radioactive material had to be handed in America and complicated radioactive processes carried out on a vast scale before enough of the atomic explosives, Uranium 235 and Plutomium, could be produced to make the two bombs that devastated Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

* * *

WHAT sort of facts have the Canadian, American and British experts been discussing in London? To provide the reader with a clearer picture of what the experts are interested in, it may be worth recalling one or two essential points about atomic energy production. Plutomium is the key material in this, so let us look for a moment at how it is prepared from uranium.

There are two main steps in its manufacture:—

1. Pieces of uranium (called slugs) are "cooked" inside an atomic pile; the cooking is done by neutrons and some of the Uranium 238, the main constituent in ordinary uranium metal, is converted into plutonium.

2. The plutonium has to be separated from unchanged uranium. This is done by a series of chemical processes carried out after uranium slugs have been taken out of the atomic "furnace".

As regards the first step in this process, vast quantities of dangerous rays are liberated in cooking the Uranium 238 — not only gamma rays and X-rays, but also neutrons. For this reason the greater part of the bulk of any pile is accounted for by the protective shielding—great walls of concrete have to be built round the atomic furnace to prevent radiation escaping and imperilling life. Left to itself the atomic furnace would become seriously overheated. One way of keeping its temperature down to a reasonable level is to build into the pile a system of pipes through which water can be circulated. But the water that has done its job will be radioactive when it leaves the pile.

NOW it is a truism of radioactivity that it cannot be destroyed except by self-decay. Radioactive substances have to be allowed to "rot" away. This decay is never complete, but after a time radioactive waste can be safely disposed of like sewage waste in rivers: it is allowed to flow out at such a rate that the radioactivity diluted by the river water to a safe level does not constitute a threat to human life or river fish.

In Britain there is a special unit for sampling the water of the Thames to see that effluents from Harwell (the British atomic research station) do no harm. The Americans have great experience of similar work. Details about the extent to which radioactive "sewage" needs diluting before it ceases to make river water poisonous were exchanged at the tripartite meeting.

IN the chemical separation of plutonium the first procedure is the dissolving of uranium slugs in acid. Those slugs are intensely radioactive when they are taken out of the pile, and they must be handled mechanically in such a way that no human being ever comes near them. The solution process releases a gas, so that there is the problem of dealing with the radioactive fumes. These have to be carried high into the atmosphere by tall chimneys, and the problem then becomes similar to that of effluent disposal in rivers, the noxious gas being diluted by air below the danger point. Radioactive dust particles must be filtered out of the gas before it is allowed to escape into the atmosphere.

The plutonium factory has to be a miracle of remote control. But with all the precautions and remote control techniques workers run some slight risk of meeting radiation. For this reason they must wear special clothes, and when they change before going home at night they must hand these clothes over to a safety officer who can check, by mean of a German invention, the Geiger counter, whether or not they have picked up radioactive dust during the day. In addition every worker in an atomic energy factory must carry a photographic film in this pocket all the time: these films are developed once a week, and then examined to make sure that the total amount of radiation the workers have encountered is well below the safety limit.

Radioactive poisons are most insidious, tending to be concentrated in vital regions of the body like the bone marrow and germ cells. Not only can radiation cause sterility, it can actually change the chromosomes which determine heredity—so that a worker who survived a big dose of radiation might have a deformed grandchild, or great-grandchild or even great-great-grandchild.

Finally, the experts discussed the emergency measures that would have to be taken in the event of an atomic factory being wrecked by accident or sabotage.

HUMPTY DUMPTY

How That Statue Started

(TORONTO GLOBE AND MAIL)

READERS of "One Hundred Years Ago" on this page may have noticed that the past often rhymes with the present in curious ways. However, it is not often that the century-old files of The Globe provide so neat a tie-up with current events as in this item from the issue of September 11, 1849. It is headed "News by the Niagara," indicating the ship that brought it to Toronto, and says:

A project has been formed to commemorate the Royal visit to Ireland by a statue of the Queen, to be erected by public subscriptions. Subscription to this testimonial should be limited to £2, in order to embrace the largest number in public manifestation of loyalty to the Queen. During the Queen's stay in Dublin she ordered three large pots, in which shamrocks were growing, to be conveyed from the Lord-Lieutenant's gardens to the Royal yacht, in order that one might be sent to Balmoral Castle, another to Osborne, and the third to Buckingham Palace, at which Royal residences these Irish shamrocks will be preserved, as memorials of Her Majesty's first visit to Dublin.

The statue for which loyal Dubliners were preparing to subscribe a century ago is, of course, the very one about which Ontario cities have lately had a mild argument. Whatever may have happened to those shamrocks, whether their progeny still blooms in Royal residences, the other half of the memorial to Queen Victoria's visit is now out of favour. Dublin wants to get rid of the statue. Peterborough and London, Ontario, both expressed a desire for it, or at least readiness to retrieve it from a disgraceful end on its home soil, but they balked when they learned that it would cost $8,600 to bring it out. The Dubliners, willing though they evidently were to chip in two pounds a head to build it, won't spend a penny to have it carted away.

So there the matter stands a hundred years later. But one wonders how the shamrocks are doing.

The Uncommon Man

(By HERBERT HOOVER)

RECENTLY, in my opinion, there has been too much talk about the common man. It has been dinned into us that this is the century of the common man. The idea seems to be that the common man has come into his own at last.

Thus we are in danger of developing a cult of the common man, which means a cult of mediocrity. But there is at least one hopeful sign: I have never been able to find out who this common man is. In fact, most Americans, and especially women, will get mad and fight if you try calling them common.

This is hopeful because it shows that most people are holding fast to an essential fact. We believe in equal opportunity for all, but we know that this includes the opportunity to rise to leadership—in other words, to be uncommon.

Let us remember that the great human advances have not been brought about by mediocre men and women. They were brought about by distinctly uncommon people with vital sparks of leadership. Many of the great leaders were, it is true, of humble origin, but that alone was not their greatness.

It is a curious fact that when you get sick you want an uncommon doctor; if your car breaks down you want an uncommonly good mechanic; when we get into war we want dreadfully an uncommon admiral and an uncommon general.

I have never met a father and mother who did not want their children to grow up to be uncommon men and women. May it always be so. For the future rests not in mediocrity, but in the constant renewal of leadership in every phase of our national life.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.... Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him....

These things have I spoke unto you, being yet present with you. But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. (John 14: 19, 22, 23, 25-27.)

* * *

Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me....

These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full. (John 15: 4, 11.)

Steep Rock

(St. Catharines Standard)

The financial pages carry an interesting item of news today, which may well be linked with Canadian destiny. D. M. Hogarth told the representatives of the 7,500 shareholders in Steep Rock Iron Mines, Limited, that by 1954 the mines would be producing enough iron ore of first quality to take care of all the steel industry needs of Canada.

That forecast has pretty good backing. In fact, it amounts to an additional eight millions in capital. Five million was secured from the U.S. Import-Export Bank, and three million by sale of preferred and common stock shares. This new money was necessary to quadruple the iron ore output as of this year, over 1,000,000 tons.

In a very few years, Labrador will be producing in prodigious quantity, probably feeding new steel mills in New England. The uses of steel are unlimited. We glance from the window and see the rising structure of a great new business building at St. Paul and William Street intersection. Steel is the framework of every heavy industry and a myriad of light industries. It is an integral part of everyday life. With the initiative and capacity for mass production, generations to come will see Canada as the greatest iron ore bed in the world.

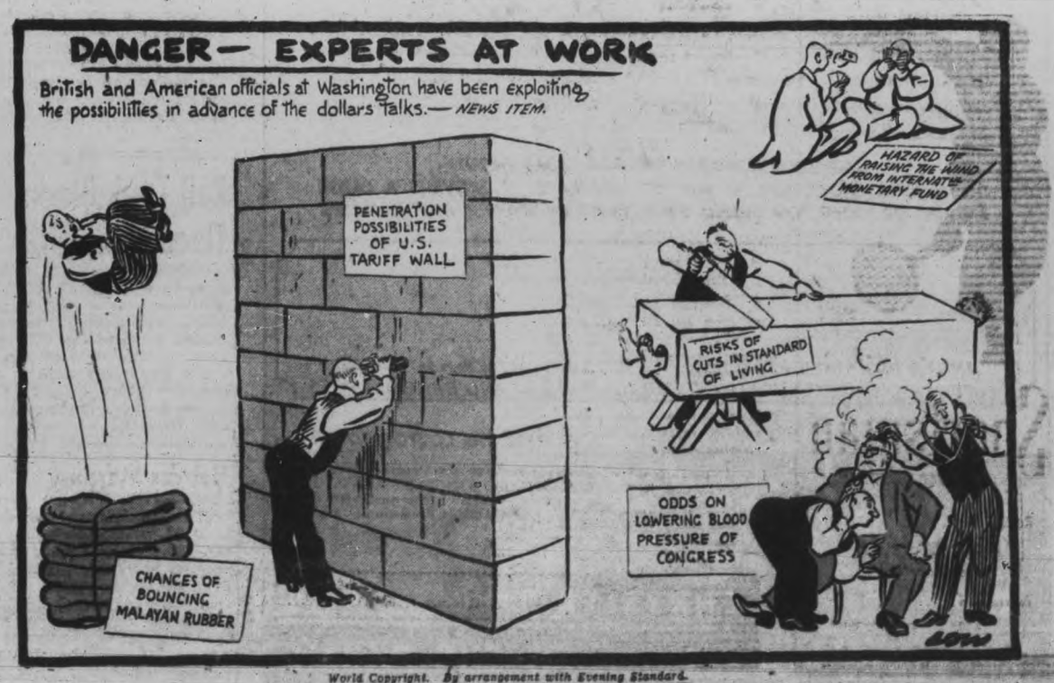
"Only in a roundabout way."



"How was that?"

Maisie—"That's right, my dear; I cook corn beef and cabbage for them."

Want Congress To Preserve Forest Land

By FORBES RHUDE

MONTREAL, Sept. 12 (CP) — Canada should hold a forestry congress, in the opinion of the Canadian Forestry Association.

Why? Because her forests at present are being depleted. But:

Reasonable investment in forest management would not only halt the depletion, but enable her, in due course, to double the value of her forest products.

Says Dr. John S. Bates, chairman of the association's board:

"In 1946, the last year for which all figures are available, the federal government received more than $100,000,000 revenue from forest industries and workers, and put back $2,655,000.

"Provincial governments took more than $20,000,000 and put back $11,000,000. Forest industries reinvested $16,500,000.

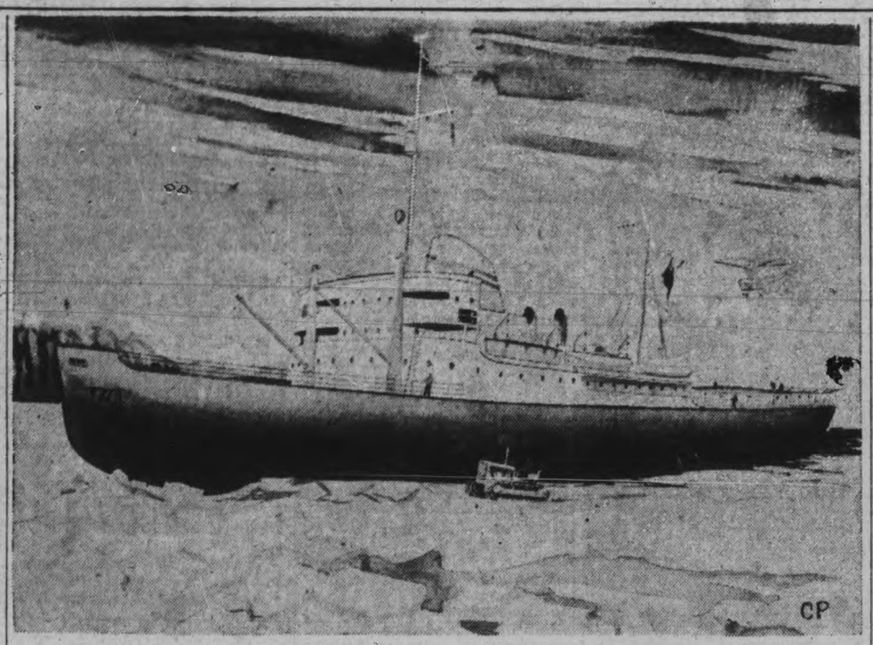
"According to studies the reinvestment should be raised to $100,000,000 annually" (against the present approximate $30,000,000).

Must Get Together

The association has outlined the matter in a brochure, "The Case For Forestry in Canada," released today, and Dr. Bates comments:

"The recognition of fundamental responsibilities on the part of the federal and provincial governments, the forest industries, Hydro-Electric companies, tourists, and other forest users for the care and perpetuation of Canada's forests is vital to agreement on the raising of the necessary funds."

The brochure says the earliest feasible date for a forestry congress would be September, 1950, but only if governments and other national bodies offer support promptly. It suggests Ottawa as the logical place and it thinks consideration might be given to calling similar congresses perhaps every fifth year. The last and only congress was held in 1906.



Here is the stake which such a congress would consider:

"The wood taken from Canadian forests in 1946, in the form of pulpwood, logs, fuelwood and other products of woods operations was valued at more than $412,000,000.

"Manufacture of these raw products into pulp and paper, lumber, plywood, furniture and a multitude of other products increased the value by nearly $663,000,000.

"This totals $1,075,000,000 and contains no duplication of wood values and no transport costs of manufactured wood products.

In 1946, woods operations gave 139,000 man-years of employment, accounting for $277,000,000 of salaries and wages."

NEW ICEBREAKER—The 300-foot icebreaker shown in this architect's drawing is being built at Lauzon, Que., for the federal Transport Department. The largest in North America, it will have a range of 12,000 miles, accommodate a crew of 70 and will carry a helicopter.

12 Fatalities In Ontario Reported Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Traffic accidents accounted for five of the 12 fatalities reported in Ontario during the week-end, a Canadian Press compilation showed today. There were three drownings in the province and four other persons died from various causes. Altogether there were 21 violent deaths in Eastern Canada during the week-end with three double fatalities in Quebec heading the list.

Frend N. Silver was killed Saturday in one of Ontario's fatal traffic accidents when his car went out of control and struck a tree at Bowmanville.

Harland E. Freemantle, 34, independent news agent in the Muskoka district, was killed when his truck left the road and turned over.

Carol Diane Bailey, 11, of North Bay was killed in an accident which injured four other persons when the car in which they were riding went out of control and smashed into a pole.

Running into the path of an automobile while she was playing near her home in North Bay, Yvonne Ouellette, three, was killed Saturday.

Madeleine Maxiangelo, nine months, was crushed to death on Sunday when a truck passed over her carriage.

Falls Off Boat

At Midland, Harry Watmeaugh, 46, was drowned when he fell from an excursion boat while on a company outing. Eileen Doychack nine, was drowned in the Sydenham river near Chatham, under circumstances still being investigated. Two-year-old Herbert Seguin was drowned when he fell into a tank of water on his father's farm near Ottawa.

Philip Doherty, 43, St. John Ambulance first-aid man, died in hospital Saturday from injuries suffered at the Peterborough Exhibition grounds when a stunt car went out of control and struck him.

At Windsor, Dominic Marinacci died while waiting in a hospital emergency room for treatment for a bump on the forehead. Cause of the injury is unknown.

Mrs. E. Boehmer, 73, of Galt, Saturday died from burns suffered Thursday when a gas furnace she was lighting exploded.

Mrs. Matherine Kyrzakos, 76, was killed Saturday when struck by a locomotive at Sudbury while hurrying to catch a bus.

Reichbold Quits Symphony Board

DETROIT, Sept. 12 (AP)—Henry H. Reichhold, Detroit industrialist, said Sunday he is resigning as president of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra board.

His announcement followed the Saturday resignation of Conductor Karl Krueger.

Reichhold said his resignation will be presented at the board meeting Tuesday and he declined further comment until that time "in the best interests of the orchestra."

Reichhold, president of a large paint concern, has been the chief financial supporter of the orchestra for some years.

Krueger issued this statement after announcing his resignation:

"I have better use for my time and energies than combatting tawdy intrigue of disappointed and abusive local musicians.

Besides, I could not continue my association with an oranization which has given the shabby treatment it has to such a public benefactor as Henry Reichhold."

Cosmos Beaten In OASA By Oshawa, 8-2

Oshawa Pedlar's ousted the Cosmos in two straight of their OASA Intermediate A series, beating them here Saturday 8-2 before a good-sized crowd at the Bowl. Back of Meulemeester's five-hit flinging (he fanned 11), they hit Ron Akers solidly and fielded well for the most part. The homesters also fielded in good style but lacked power at the plate and only four reached third all through, including the two who scored. The game was interesting enough, but Oshawa took a first-frame lead and added to it.

Stock led the winners at bat with four for five, including a homer and double. Rospond had three in five tries as Nelson got a double and single in four, and Logeman a homer and a single in five. Weatherup doubled. For Cosmos, Bob Crowe led with a double and single in three tries, and Dalton hit a two-bagger. While both sides were good defensively, there were no fielding features.

Woollens lost, Kinsmen lost, Cosmos lost, Panthers lost—gosh, 'twas the lost week-end for local teams, huh? Woollens go to Toronto next week-end for another PWSU try, Kinsmen likewise in OBA play, whilst Cosmos have had it, and Panthers are just opening their grid season. Looked like lack of practice for the peewee ballsters as they were swinging at a lot of bad balls tossed by the Toronto chucker in that 7-4 tilt at Riverside. And their fielding wasn't the best. Pitching was okay and they may even it up next game. Ray Pammett's bantams are still in the hunt but may not play before Saturday. About 75 fans saw the peewees go.

Oshawa Pedlar's were potent at the plate to dunk Cosmos 8-2 and take the OASA intermediate "A" series two straight. A goodly gallery and a fair fray. Hootch Meulemeester—who once offered to come here for a job paying 40 cents an hour 'way back when landlords said "only 20 a month and children welcome" — limited the locals to five hits, Bob Crowe getting two of 'em, while whiffing 11. Stock, Rospond, Nelson and Logeman swung mean maces as Oshawa chalked up still another triumph o'er Peterborough softball squads. Thus, after tomorrow eve here, windeth up another men's softball semester in this borough at the Bowl.

Tip Tops A-Coming

Tip Top Tailors of Toronto tangle with the local all-star Merchants at 8.30 tomorrow night in the Bowl, an exhibition men's game to aid minor ball here. Tip Tops are oustanding senior "A" performers—an ace attraction wherever they go—and they've promised to bring a full squad and loan a battery to the local team. So, the Merchants may have that American star flinger, Charles Justice, blazing the apple in for them against the Toronto crew. Johnny Russelle is piloting the Merchants, who lost out in CNE semi-finals to Toronto Crothers—the latter taking the title. Ought to be a swell scrap before a huge crowd.

Senior "A" lacrosse folded here for this year more than a week ago, but Peterborough minor gutted-stick teams are still in OLA play. Lou Vitarelli's good juvenile "B" bunch have an 8.30 p.m. tilt on the morrow at Miller Bowl, second of their two-of-three series. Scarboro won the first and if the young Petes take it tonight, third game will be on the grounds of the club with the best total. Winner will go into provincial finals. Port Dover awaits the winner of Orangeville-Fergus in the other semi-final bracket now. Our peewees, bantams and midgets are also very much in the OLA hunt yet, too. These kids all play good lacrosse.

Raiders Squeeze In

Coach Spike Matthews and his hustling young ORFU grid squad, the Panthers, had tough luck in their opener Saturday aft at Oshawa, losing 3-2 to the Red Raiders. That's a mighty low and tight count for football, and with any breaks at all, Panthers would have had it. They didn't, so they'll have to hustle that much harder the rest of their short season. Two singles was the best our crew could garner, when placements missed, whilst the Raiders cashed in to win on a field goal. Certainly not much to choose between these clubs and we'll see how good the Orillia Bombers are this coming Friday when they meet Panthers at the Ex. under the lights. Looks like a fine football season for the next two months or so.

Some wretched fielding was seen by Woollens in their PWSU playoff Saturday aft in the Bowl, as they booted 11 to let the Toronto lasses coast to a 20-4 triumph. Visitors looked okay but the score should have been much closer but for home miscues. The local girls were held to six hits by M. Mitchell, M. Laing getting three of them. She and C. Ferguson turned in a creditable performance, as D. Beatty, J. Tyndall and J. Reaner were the pick of the victors. Round-robin games at the Bowl tonight: CGE vs. Marines at seven, followed by Lindsay vs. Ashby's. This serial is nearly over and a winner should be declared this week to wind up girls' softball in the city for this year.

Fred Jackson, of the Toronto Star with a low gross of 79 ranked second among the sports writers and Emil Rajnovich of the Sault Ste. Marie Star, was third with 81. Oshawa Edges Panthers 3-2 To Open ORFU Schedule

Oshawa Red Raiders edged a 3-2 victory over Spike Matthews' hustling young Panthers as the Senior B ORFU football schedule opened in Oshawa on Saturday. Despite the usual early season lapses on the part of both teams and the odd fumble, it was a clean, hard-fought game with the issue always in doubt till the final whistle.

Peterborough opened the scoring at the 10-minute mark in the second quarter when Matthews 55-yard kick to the Oshawa 22 put the Raiders on the defensive and Plunkett later gained 35 yards on three successive plunges after Gilbert kicked to midfield. When two passes failed on the Oshawa 20, Plunkett kicked a single from placement. The ball just missed the uprights, but cleared the end wall for a point. Further hard plunging and fine work by the front line as a whole as well as the backfield brought Panthers to within scoring position just before half-time and once more an attempted placement by Plunkett though wide, scored one as Reg Burns nailed Jackman hard behind the line.

Had An Edge

Panthers dominated play pretty well up to this point from midway in the first quarter after a rather shaky start. Play continued fast and hard in the third as the teams battled for the breaks. Raiders got one late in the quarter following a blocked kick on their own 32 to give them possession. A no-yard penalty to Panthers followed by a short plunge by McGowan and Gilbert's punt to Crowley backed Peterborough to their own 22. They lost on downs at the 31 and Gilbert plunged for nine as Panthers' line weakened a little at this point. Brodie crashed for a try on the next down, but was called back on a holding penalty.

Raiders played safe and scored three from the 20 as Pete Grice kicked a neat field goal from placement. Panthers fought hard in the fourth as both teams featured good defensive play. Fred Garvey intercepted Gilbert's pass to Krawec on Panthers' 30-yard stripe and ran 55 yards to his rivals' 25 for the best run of the game. Victory seemed near, but Lady Luck frowned as a 10-yard holding penalty forced Panthers' back to the 40 and Plunkett's long attempted placement was run out of danger by Gilbert and the play wound up in Raider territory a few plays later.

Gilbert, Griec, McGowan, Brodie, Luke, Krawec and Filipowicz were strong for Oshawa in this game.

For Peterborough, the work of Conlin, Matthews, Plunkett, McGillis, Garvey, Burns, R. Van Allen, Hills and Miller was particularly good, with every man on the squad giving his best in a smart game. The teams:

Peterborough — Flying wing, Conlin; halves, Hodgson, Plunkett, Wyatt; quarter, Matthews, snap, Hills; insides, Rush, Masters; middles Farr, Beatty; outsides, Burns, McGillis; alternates, Lynch, Trimm, Bartley, Fraser, Foster, Miller, R. Van Allen, M. Van Allen, Garvey, Davidson, Board, Russelle, Thompson, and Harris

Oshawa — Flying wing, Solanski; halves, Filipowicz, Brodie, Krawec; quarter, McGowan; snap, Anderson; insides, Howie Wilson; middles, Bouckly, Lawson; outsides, Luke, Armstrong; alternates, James, Dionne, Grice, Hodgson, Gilbert, Beaton, Lindsay, Zakarow, Freeman, Smegal, Powless, Siblock, Fairhart, Lyzun, Almond

Referee—C. Hiltz; umpire, J. Gurney; head linesman, L. Deadey.

Kinmen Lose OBA Tilt To Toronto 7-4

Toronto Legion defeated the local Kinsmen 7-4 here Saturday to open their best-of-three OBA peewee playdown series. Less than a hundred fans saw a good game, with Mike Curran pitching two-hit ball for the visitors and getting fair support, while Paul McIlmoyle of Kinsmen allowed but six hits, yet had shaky support as Kinsmen showed lack of practice. They were weak at the plate, but walks and several costly miscues gave them their runs Curran fanned 12, while McIlmoyle sent back none on strikes. Toronto stole eight bases.

Garvey and McIlmoyle each hit safely for Kinsmen, for their only safe blows. Sherman led the winners at bat with two safeties in five tries. They got a run each in the first and ninth, two in the fifth and three in a loose sixth. Kinsmen counted two in the sixth and two more in the ninth. Neat catches were pulled off by Penna and Ayotte. The return game will be next week-end in Toronto.

The teams:

Toronto—Cody lf, Shoemaker 1b, Brown c, Spafford 3b, Brooks ss, Curran p, Sherman 2b, Menezel cf, Penna rf.

Toronto Gains First One Over Woollens

Toronto Shediacs defeated the local Woollens 20-4 here Saturday afternoon to start their two-of-three PWSU junior playdown series. The victors looked good but Woollens turned in a terrible effort afield to boot 11. M. Mitchell allowed six hits and had neat support from her teammates as she whiffed eight and walked four. S. Harris was hit hard and had wretched support by the home squad before a slim crowd.

J. Tyndall and J. Reaner looked good defensively for the visiting juniors, while C. Ferguson and M. Laing were the pick of the Woollens in the field. The latter led them at bat with three of her team's six hits in four attempts. D. Beatty led her side at the plate with a double and four singles in six appearances. The Woollens lacked the experience of their rivals but the score should have been considerably closer but for sloppy work in the field.

Freeport Man Wins Harwood Trophy Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 12—(AP)—George Sarant, of Freeport, N.Y., Sunday gunned his high-powered speedboat, 355-, to a record-breaking victory in the anual Harwood Trophy race around Manhattan Island.

Sarant toured the 29 miles of the course in 27 minutes, 14 seconds for an average speed of 64.4 mfles an hour, knocking a big chunk off the record set last year by Wild Bill Cantrell, of Louisville, Ky. Cantrell won in 34.04 at 51 m.p.h. last year.

Three Ontario competitors finished among the also-rans.

Band-leader Guy Lombardo and Joe Van Blerck, two more speed demons from Freeport, also cracked the 1948 mark as they finished two-three behind Sarant. Thirty-three started the race.

Lombardo, originally from London, Ont., averaged 61- m.p.h. and was timed in 28.30 in his Tempo VI. Van Blerck, driving the Aljo, was clocked in 29.25 at 59.5 m.p.h.

Athletics Give Red Sox Two Shocking Setbacks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Doff your lid to Connie Mack. The old boy hit it right on the nose when he said his Philadelphia Athletics could decide the American League race.

"They'll have to beat the A's first," he said last week. Sunday, he proved it for the benefit of Boston Red Sox who suffered two shocking setbacks at Shibe Park.

The Sox, only half a game behind New York Saturday afternoon after the Yanks lost the first game of a doubleheader to Washington, now are three full games back. Furthermore, they have only 15 to play.

Boston belted the A's 14 out of 20 this season until they blew Sunday's pair, 6-4 and 4-0. It may have cost them the pennant.

New York took care of Washington, 20-5 and 2-1, setting a major league record in the opener by drawing 11 bases on balls from the Senators' "pitchers" during a 12-run rally in the third inning. The second game was called because of darkness after 5½ innings.

Detroit on March

Detroit continued its surge as Virgil Trucks shut out Chicago 1-0 for the Tigers' 10th straight victory. They have won 18 of their last 20 and hold third place, a half game ahead of the defending world champion Cleveland Indians who lost to St. Louis 5-4. The Tigers are 5½ games behind the Yankees with only 14 to go. They could do it but it would require a miracle finish.

Stan Musial smashed three homers, upping his season total to 32, in the St. Louis Cardinals' double killing of Cincinnati, 7-5 and 7-4. The victories added half a game to their National League lead which now measures 1½ games over Brooklyn.

Whip Giants

The Dodgers pumped across six runs in the seventh inning, including a grand-slam homer by Carl Furillo, to whip New York Giants 10-5. Shortstop Pee Wee Reese was injured during the big inning when hit by a ball thrown by Larry Jansen. X-rays dispelled early fears of an elbow fracture but it is not definite when he will be able to play.

Ken Heintzelman and Russ Meyer pitched the Phillies to a pair of victories over the staggering Boston Braves, 3-1 and 6-3. As a result the Phils' hold on third place now is six games and the Braves, 1948 league champions, have been eliminated mathematically from the race.

Ralph Kiner, only bright spot in the Pittsburgh picture, hit his 45th and 46th homers in the Pirates' decision over Chicago, 7-3.

In that American League battle the Mackmen also tied the league record for most double plays—198—making the final killing in the ninth inning of the second game.

The "big walk" was the story of the Yanks' first-game victory as Allie Reynolds picked up his 16th triumph.

Ross Predicts Early Steps For Trans-Canada Highway

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 12 (CP) — Allan C. Ross, president of the Canadian Construction Association, today predicted early steps towards the building of a trans-Canada highway.

Addressing the Association western regional meeting, he said "there appears no doubt that legislation will be introduced at the coming session of parliament, which will provide from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 as a Federal contribution.

"It also appears that this contribution is likely to be predicated on the provinces and the Federal government sharing the cost on a 50-50 basis.

"It is also clear that the work is to be carried out under the jurisdiction of the provincial departments of highways, and it seems that the routes will be determined by the provinces, each of which will have to bear in mind the necessity of joining their portion of the road with that of its neighbor provinces.

Symbol of Unity

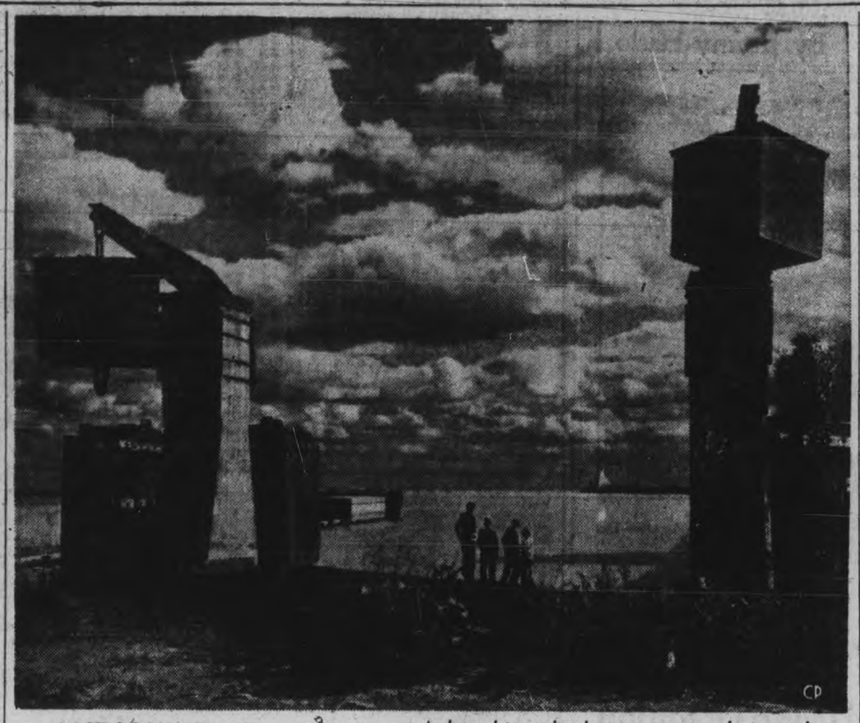
"The trans-Canada highway is a symbol of national unity and an extremely practical way of promoting that unity as our citizens from one part of the country to the other use their national highway to know better their fellow Canadians.

"It is therefore of the utmost importance that the Federal and Provincial governments take advantage of the great opportunity being provided through this large fund to bring this dream to realization as early as possible."

Mr. Ross, who is from Ottawa, suggested that consideration be given to establishment of a consultative or advisory body which might be in the nature of a Dominion-Provincial Highways Commission.

Study Whole Question

"Such a body would study the whole question of major Canadian roads so that the best interests of the development of our natural resources, our tourist trade and strategic requirements would be thought of in national terms and from the standpoint of their development over many years ahead."



Mr. Ross said that the outlook for construction, and indeed for the whole Canadian economy, is optimistic when one looks at long-range prospects, for Canada is undergoing a large-scale development at a rate considerably faster than the United States.

"Comparing Canadian conditions in 1929 with those of 1949 gives many assurances that we do not stand on the threshold of disaster as we did 20 years ago. . .

"In 1929, Canada was still primarily an agricultural and primary-producing nation. Twenty years later, Canada is a leading industrial nation with a much more balanced economy. . ."

5 Die In Crash

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 12 — (AP) — Five occupants of a crowded automobile were killed Saturday as it smashed head-on into a coal truck on a mountain road near here. Police said four persons perished in the wreckage of the car, a light coupe, and the fifth died while being taken to a hospital.

LAST LOOK—Four boys looked across Lake Erie for the last time before starting bac kto school as a news photographer caught this view of the harbor at Port Stanley.

Plan Joint Project

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (CP) — A multi-million-dollar aluminum smelting plant may be built by Canadian and United States aluminum companies, either in Alaska or in western Canada, the New York Times says Sunday. The paper says the Aluminum Company of Canada has a party investigating a proposed site in the Ootsa Lake valley, east of Prince Rupert, B. C. It says it is understood that the Aluminum Company of America is considering erection of a plant in southeast Alaska.

Plan Committee To Study Trade

MONTREAL, Sept. 12 (CP) — Formation of a committee of British and Canadian business men to study Anglo-Canadian economic problems and help in finding a solution to trade difficulties between the two countries was announced Sunday.

An announcement, made simultaneously from headquarters of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce in London and national headquarters of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Montreal, said the committee will meet twice annually. One meeting will be held in the United Kingdom and the other in Canada.

Chairman of the Canadian section of the committee is C. Gordon Cockshutt of Brantford, past president of the Canadian chamber. John McLean, president of the British chambers, heads the British section.

Between its two yearly meetings the committee will carry on studies and exchange views on the economic relations between the two countries. Secretaries are being set up in Montreal and London to carry on this work.

Looking Ahead In Ottawa

Forces Planning To Unify New Disciplinary Code

OTTAWA, Sept. 12 — (CP).— The forces are going to unify on a new front—discipline.

Pay, rank, food and other factors in the day-to-day existence of the Army, Navy and Air Force have already been placed on the same basis in the drive for unification that started in 1947.

A Bill to be placed before the new session of Parliament, opening Thursday, would consolidate the Militia Act and a number of other measures and inaugurate a new disciplinary code applicable to all three services.

For years, the Army's discipline has sprung from the Army Act of the United Kingdom and the Air Force has penalized its offenders under the provisions taken from the UK's Air Force Act.

Navy Differs

The Navy, on the other hand, has disciplined its sailors under a Canadian statute, the Canadian Naval Service Act. The result, officials say, is that the provisions for the land and air forces are similar, but "differ quite widely" from those for the Navy.

They report that a number of changes will emerge from the consolidation and that penalties will be standardized and brought up to date. The penalties also will be related as closely as possible to the provisions of the Criminal Code which governs penalties for civilian crime.

Maritime Commissioner to Resign

John V. Clyne, chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission, will resign that job this month. Announcement of the resignation and of Mr. Clyne's successor will be made by Transport Minister Chevrier about September 15, though the chairman may stay on the job for another couple of months.

A proposed program to aid shipbuilding went to Parliament Hill this week. Its nature is still secret, though it is understood to call for government bonuses for certain types of shipbuilding to help Canadian builders meet the low-cost competition from abroad.

Police Bullet Strikes Robber

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 12. (CP)—One man is in hospital, seriously wounded by a police bullet, and another is held in jail after an attempted robbery of two business place early Saturday.

Bert Shemley, 19, from Virginiatown near Kirkland Lake, was taken to hospital at 4:23 a.m. after he was shot in the back by police officers who said he was attempting to escape from the premises of the Household Finance Corporation. William Little of Biggar, Sask., was arrested on the rear roof of the building.

Police said they are seeking a third man. Nothing was taken from the finance corporation office or from the adjoining office of Foch Dry Cleaners which was also entered.

Constable Fred Clark, who discovered the break-in at 4:19 a.m., turned in an alarm and three more constables came to the scene. Two fired at a man they saw climb from a rear window and rush along the roof.

U.S. Justice Rutledge Great Liberal Dies

YORK, Me., Sept. 12 (AP) — Justice Wiley B. Rutledge, whose six years on the United States Supreme Court bolstered his "liberal" reputation died here Saturday night. He was 55.

Justice Rutledge, eighth and final appointment made to the court by the late president Franklin D Roosevelt, was regarded by many of the legal profession as one of the court's most ardent "liberals." Another was the late Justice Frank Murphy, who died recently.

Justice Rutledge was a former law-school head who believed in a democracy that changes with the times. He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1943.

Warkworth WMS Has First Fall Meeting

WARKWORTH, Sept. 12 (ENS) —The first fall meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Neil Thompson. Business meeting was conducted by Mrs. A. M. Smale, president. The society were recipients of a quilt top made and donated by Misses Hattie and Anne Osborne.

Mrs. H. G. Lester took charge of the following program: Scripture reading, Mrs. Bruce Hopkins followed by prayer lead by Mrs. Joe A. Greenly; solo, Mrs. R. F. Jolliffe. A paper prepared by Mrs. N. Gummer entitled "Friendship and Worship" was read by Miss Ina Bound.

Bicycles In Big Demand 6,426 Licensed In City

The bicycle as a means of transport had its heyday during the war when gas rationing restricted mileage and it looks as though the two-wheelers may soon be making a re-appearance in large numbers again. As car sales and particularly used car sales have been dropping during the latter part of the summer, more and more people have been getting out their old bicycles for an overhaul.

New bicycles have not been selling so well this year as last, dealers said today but business has been brisk with trade-ins and repairs.

Demand For Credit

One of many other pointers that the post war boom in business is being slowed down is a far greater demand for credit than in recent years. One bicycle dealer would have been able to sell 50 per cent more bicycles than he actually disposed of if he had been able to give credit. "I would have had to employ a bookkeeper to look after it, though," he said.

Another dealer said he had sold a great many bicycles this year on a $25 down payment basis with no carrying charges. He also had found that many people who might have brought their bicycles into his store for repairs, had taken spare parts home to do the repairs themselves.

The larger dealers have been selling bicycles on a $5 down payment plan with a carrying charge. Average price for a bicycle is around $50.

Few Buy Motorized Bikes

Motorized bicycles, and motor scooters have failed to attract Peterborough people, dealers say. Although less than $150 to buy and giving high mileage to the gallon, they have proved expensive to maintain. "They are fine when they are working properly but difficult to repair when something goes wrong," one dealer said.

Another dealer, who sold eight motor bicycles last year, sold only one this year, although the price had dropped nearly $100 from $411 to $325.

Repairs kept dealers busy this year with the result that business was far from slack, but there was little easy money made on purchases.

City police say 6,426 bicycles are licensed at the present time.

375 Test Men Of CGE Hold Re-Union

Approximately 375 test men from many parts of Canada, and as far away as Brazil, gathered Saturday in Peterborough for the 21st annual Test Alumni Association reunion. All the members of the association are test graduates or are in the CGE test course at the present time.

The day began with a round of golf on the Kawartha course in the morning, with official registration of members at 11 o'clock in the cafeteria. Registration was followed by a dinner at 11.45 in the plant cafeteria.

Mr. H. M. Turner, president of the Canadian General Electric, was present at the dinner and welcomed the TAA members on behalf of the company. The secretary-treasurer, William McKie, gave his report, and new men in the Test course were introduced to the group by William McMullen and Gordon Davis.

The chairman of the TAA Vincent Young, from Headoffice, Toronto, and Mr. McKie, organized Saturday's program and were responsible for all arrangements.

Following the dinner, the members went to the Kawartha Club, where golf was resumed, and a full sports program including tennis, softball, horseshoes and volleyball was begun.

Officers elected at the dinner were L. D. W. Magie, honorary president; Hugh Todd, president; E. Noble, vice-president for Test men employed in outside companies; Ken Thompson, vice-president for the Toronto office; O. Boyd, Hamilton, vice-president for district offices of the CGE; Don Emery, vice-president for the Peterborough Works, and S. C. Phillips, secretary-treasurer.

The afternoon of sports was concluded with a buffet supper at the Kawartha Club, where Ian F. McRae, Peterborough Works manager and Alf Hardwick, who was in charge of the sports program, presented prizes to the winners.

Highlights of the noon dinner session were a skit presented by members, and remarks of C. A. Sisson a veteran test man.

Award Of Merit Presented To Lock Co.

The Horticultural Society's framed award of merit for window boxes is to be presented to the Peterborough Lock Company

About a month ago, the Examiner mentioned the attractive floral display this company had accomplished at its plant and along its narrow Hunter St. front over the Jackson Park creek. Boxes of flowers were set along fences in places which most people would hardly recognize as offering an opportunity even for artificial gardens. A similar effect is worked out every summer at the plant of Campbell's Dairy, at Reid and Sherbrooke Streets.

No Space For Beds

At both these industrial locations there is no ground in which a garden could be planted, but there is a wish and will to have floral color about the premises. In each of these cases, the handicap of lack of ground was overcome, and the boxes bloomed all summer.

At the time of the Examiner's discovery of Peterborough Lock's hanging gardens, W. C. Wilks, secretary of the Horticultural Society, said they had been noted, and would be included in announcements of awards before the season ended.

Increase Window Boxes

"The Society has been trying to increase the popularity and use of window boxes," Mr. Wilks says. "They can be of great value in beautifying homes, factories, service stations, where land suitable for flower plots is not available. This year the Society offered an award of merit for the most artistic display of the miniature gardens. It was awarded to the Peterborough Lock Co. who created beauty in a most unlikely place. That is the kind of initiative the Society would like to recognize and encourage. We hope that company's example may be a means of interesting others in this desire to contribute beauty to the summers of this community."

Scenic Drive Cup

The Joseph S. Bell cup for the most improvement of homes along the Scenic Drive this year has been awarded to Mr. and Mrs. J. Huggins, 147 River Road. There was so much merit and so much praiseworthy work done by citizens that the judges have recommended a secondary award to Mr. and Mrs. Blake Collins, 57 River Road.

The judges were Dr. A. J. Madill, R. F. Downey and James Rigden.

"The judges reported," Mr. Wilks informed the Examiner, "that, in their opinion, this contest has done a great deal in improving the beautification of our residential areas. The example of those who have won the Bell cup gives an incentive to others for greater care of their lawns and their planting of flowers and shrubs."

GOLF CHAMPION — Fraser Dunfield of Kawartha Club won the city golf championship Sunday as the final tournament finished on the Peterborough Club course. He carded 160 for 36 holes, one better than clubmate Stan Whiddon, last year's winner. Mr. Dunfield won this title two years ago.

Fraser Dunfield Captures City Golf Title

Fraser Dunfield of the Kawartha Club on Sunday captured the city golf championship he lost last year to clubmate Stan Whiddon when he carded 160, one better than Whiddon, on the Peterborough Club course. He had a 78 for the final 18 holes to go with his 82 of the first 18, played previously at Kawartha. Whiddon had 82 after his 79 for 161. The J. E. Girven Trophy goes with the title.

Each of the playoff rounds had an entry of 36. Competition was keen with the course good and the weather ideal as the city's best golfers strove for honors. Top players for each club in the first round were Bob Buchanan of Kawartha with 78 and Ross Cutmore of Peterborough with an 82.

Don Marquis of Peterborough, was third high with a total of 163, while two Kawartha men, E. Hanbidge and F. Todd, were next with 165 each. R. Buchanan turned in a 167 for the 36 holes. Following are the other scores:

Kawartha—J. Condon 168, M. Akers 168, J. Menzies 169, R. Hay 170, M. Reid 174, H. McLean 174, A. Clark 174, W. Maulton 176, W. Crowley 177, W. Harle 189.

Peterborough—R. Abbott 167, H. Bradburn 168, R. Cutmore 168, H. Thompson 170, F. Hollowell 170, S. Payne 171, J. Watson 171, O. DeGraw 172, S. McBride 172, A. O'Heron 174, D. Smith 177, W. Vanstone 181, D. McIntyre 184, W. Brady 185, G. Whatman 187.

City Assessment Rates Keep Same Level

Assessment Commissioner Norman A. Wilkes said this morning his department was not making any material changes in the general level of assessment for 1950.

"The total assessment will be increased by the new property values which have been developed this year," Mr. Wilkes said, "but outside of that there will be little change from last year."

The assessment department has been busy writing the assessment notices which are to be in the mails before Sept. 30. These assessments become the basis of the taxation for 1950.

"Property owners have the first two weeks in October to make out any objections to their valuations if they wish to apply to the Court of Revision," Mr. Wilks said. "These appeals, it should be remembered, must be filed within that time, and we wish taxpayers to be fully informed within the fixed time.

"We are also sending duplicate notices to tenants so that they may know that their names are on the voters' list, and also the detail of school support."

Canadian Highway To Western Canada

Reeve M. H. Johnston, North Monaghan, recently home from a trip through Canada to the Pacific Coast, said today he read with fresh interest and information an editorial in the Examiner last Thursday about a transcontinental highway.

"I think this idea is quite prevalent that you still can't motor from Toronto to Vancouver on Canadian roads," Mr. Johnston said. "It is only fair to ourselves to know that there is good driving all the way. That was my experience. When we were leaving North Bay we were told that there might be 50 or 60 miles rather rough, but I didn't encounter them The most of it is a macadam road, and it is in good shape, and anybody who is thinking of this trip by the Canadian route need not hesitate about it."

Run Down Wolf

COBOURG, Sept. 12 (ENS)—A party of four U. S. vacationers on their way in from Rice Lake Friday, killed a wolf on the highway where it borders the Northumberland Forest. They did it without a gun.

The four were driving past the forest when they struck what they thought was a large police dog as it darted across the highway. When they examined it they saw it looked more like a wolf. At Cobourg they stopped for gas and the garage attendant told them they had a wolf.

The four proceeded to Toronto where they dropped in at the Department of Lands and Forests to register their claim for the $50 wolf bounty. Several wolf hunts by the Northumberland Fish and Game Club have been unsuccessful.

Reserve Units Parade Tuesday Night

The two local reserve force units, the 50th AA Regiment RCA, and the 37th Heavy AA Workshop, RCEME, will commence their fall training Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. when all ranks will parade at the Armoury on Murray St.

Equipment is being readied by the A. and T. staff at the Armoury. Among the equipment received is the new Heavy AA trainer which will go towards making training even more realistic. This will help prepare the regiment for firing practices at Point Petre next summer. Intensive courses are planned for all departments.

Further equipment of a technical and mechanical nature is expected by the Workshop unit. They will aid in the training of an increased number of craftsmen.

Plans call for more attention to sports and physical recreation, with rifle shooting and general military training. There will also be increased co-operation with the RCAF on target flying.

In addition to the regular training the regiment expects to take part in a number of schemes, both military and civilian, including wireless-controlled fox hunts similar to last year, co-operation with the RCAF on air raid warnings, mobile tours with full equipment and other ventures of interest to the gunners.

Boy, 7, Knocked Down Jumping Off Wagon

A seven-year-old boy, Patrick Murphy, 470 Park St., was hit by a car driven by Keith F. Goodfellow, 466 Bonaccord St., as the boy jumped from a milk wagon on Monaghan Rd. near Queen Mary School Saturday afternoon.

Young Murphy was taken unconscious to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was reported Monday morning in good condition but still a bit dazed. He had concussion.

Slight Decrease In Circulation

Circulation in the adult and juvenile departments of the public Library dropped slightly during the months of July and August. In the adult department the decrease was 69 in July and 242 in August while the juvenile department was up 2187 on last year's August figures and down 1158 on July's figures. With these slight decreases the Public Library's circulation figures are above last year's by over 30,000 books

Reason for the large increase is the addition of the branch library in the south end of the city. For the summer months the adult department there averaged over 1,000 books per month while the juvenile department averaged over 1 300 The total circulation for the adult department to the end of August was 7813 and in the juvenile department 13,996.

Total figures to the end of August for both libraries were: adult department, 74,643 and the juvenile department, 52,105.

Two Boys Held, Police Solve Series Break-ins

Two boys, 13 and 10, have admitted breaking three times into and stealing money from Hec Gray's garage, north Reid Street, breaking into and stealing cigarettes, cigars and gum from McClennan's barber shop on McDonnel St., near Reid and stealing two blankets from a car.

The younger boy was reported missing from his home all Saturday night by his mother. When Constable S. Keliele questioned the boy, he found out the two boys had spent the night sleeping in a car It was the same car in which the owner reported he had found two blankets which didn't belong to him.

Another man had reported to police he had had two blankets stolen from his car. The boys admitted being responsible.

A Week's Marauding

Bit by bit police got the story from the two boys of their crimes over a period of more than a week

Mr. Gray reported to police Sept 6, that someone had entered his garage twice during the Labor Day week-end and taken about $25 in bills and silver. He had checked Sunday night and found some money gone. Sept. 8 about 11 p.m Mr. Gray reported again someone had broken in and pried open the cash register taking $11 and some cigarettes.

On each occasion, the work looked as if it had been boys. The window by which they had gained entry was small and there was a bar across it making the opening only nine inches by one foot. The boys confessed, police say, to making this entry.

Drunk Driver Jailed One Week

A man who "made too big a turn" and hit another car at the corner of Simcoe and Water Sts., but did not stop until he was a block away, was found guilty of drunk driving and given seven days in jail by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K. C., in police court Monday morning. His licence was suspended and his car impounded for three months.

Asked by his lawyer W. J. Arthur Fair, K. C., whether he was intoxicated, Frederick Sherard, answered, "I don't think so." He said he was not used to drinking.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, in cross questioning the accused said, "Do you remember enjoying yourself dancing and singing all night in the police cell?"

"That was my brother-in-law," Sherard answered.

Constable Grant Gillespie testified he had been in the police station when he heard the crash Aug. 12, about 6:15 p.m. He went out to the accident but found only one car at the scene. He went east down Simcoe St. and found Sherard stopped in front of Dewart's mill looking at the front of his car.

When he asked Sherard why he had not stayed at the scene of the accident, Sherard had told him he thought if the police wanted him, they could come down the hill and get him.

Constable Gillespie said Sherard appeared very drunk. His speech was thick; he was staggering and there was a strong smell of liquor on his breath. Constable Louis Rodreque told the court when Sherard arrived in the station he was drunk.

Sherard said, "where I come from, they don't want you to stop at the accident." He said the police of Washington State wanted people in an accident to take their cars out of the way.

He said he had had six or seven glasses of beer during the whole afternoon, but had not been in a beverage room all the time. He said he and his wife, his brother-in-law and his niece had been shopping and had eaten during the afternoon.

Workmen started this morning to fix the main, and children were kept in classrooms only an hour and then were dismissed, because there is no drinking water or water for the sanitary system in the school. School resumed this afternoon for one hour, and the students were dismissed again. The break will be fixed this evening.

CNE Attendance 2,651,000 Directors Told

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—(CP).—The 70th Canadian National Exhibiton closed Saturday and plans are already being made to a bigger 71st.

C. R. Marshall, C.N.E. president, said in his closing address that more than the $35,000,000 worth of city-owned permanent buildings were built before the First World War. The business equipment building and manufacturer's building were more than 50 years old.

Mayor Hiram McCallum told a directors' luncheon Saturday that the city planned to build a civic auditorium on the grounds that would be available all year round.

During the two weeks 2,651,000 persons from all over Canada and the United States trekked to the Fair. That was 39,000 more than last year. Closing day saw 261,000 admissions, 3,500 more than closing day last year.

Mr. Marshall told thousands of people before the outdoor bandshell "never before have we had such generous participation from the United States."

The Fair brought to Canada each year "hundreds of thousands of Americans who discover anew the wonders of Canada's pageant of progress."

Slightly more than $250,000 in United States currency was deposited in a bank at the Fair Grounds during the Exhibition. Officials said they believe that amount was only part of the money spent by visitors from the States, many of whom exchanged funds outside the grounds. In addition, before the Exhibition started, officials took in $67,000 in U.S. funds for tiskets to the grandstand show alone.

Candidate For Mayor Sues For Million

DETROIT, Sept. 12 (AP)—Luke Tiller negro candidate for mayor here, and his campaign manager, Joseph A Clahassey, Saturday sued the Ford Motor Company for $1,000 000 damages. They claimed false arrest by company police while distributing campaign literature Thursday.

The suit asserted that three company policemen ordered Tiller and Clahassey at gunpoint into a car. It declared the policemen drove them around for half an hour and then told them to get in Tiller's car and "get going."

The plaintiffs contended the incident at the Rouge plant constituted false arrest.

SHIPBOARD SURGERY has a good advertisement. Here Mrs. John Porter, of Toronto, smiles happily aboard the Ascania as she explains just how quickly she had her appendix removed after she was suddenly stricken while travelling on the Cunard White Star liner from England to Canada. The operation took only 35 minutes—and Mrs. Porter, shown here with her husband in their cabin, looks none the worse for it.

Strong Revival of Church Seen At Belmont Mission

HAVELOCK, Sept. 12 (ENS)—Summer services held this year on the Belmont Lakes Area Mission Field of the United Church of Canada for the first time in 18 years, resulted in enthusiastic support surpassing all expectation. The summer ministry was brought to a close on Sunday when J. Ralph Watson, student minister of Montreal preached farewell sermons at South Lake, Rush Point and Victoria, the three churches comprising the mission.

At a recent meeting of the official boards of the Havelock, Trent River and the Belmont Lakes Area Mission Circuit, Mr. Watson gave a gratifying report on the summer's work on the field. The total average attendance for the three points has been 101 worshippers every Sunday. The average attendance at South Lake was 50 per cent of the residents there, which Mr. Watson said was an outstanding record for any community to achieve and serves as a challenge to the congregations of the sister churches.

18 Years Lapse

After about 18 years without summer services and more than 20 years since the mission was closed as a regular preaching station owing to the amalgamation and to the lessening of the population, there were few when a student minister was assigned to the field this year who were willing to predict the splendid response that had been made to the work of the church. When the statistical and financial reports were received there was no doubt about the outstanding response that had been made in all parts of the field although the work had been experimental.

Strong Revival

Mr. Watson has visited 180 homes in the area and has found that 105 families claim fellowship with the United Church. The names of these people, together with those of other denominations who are interested in the work of the United Church, have been entered on the roll of the church and will be used in the future plans of this area.

Congregational meetings have been held when election of church officers took place. The following is the list of officers and financial statement for each church:

South Lake

Finance committee: C. Pollock, secretary-treasurer; R. Pollock, E. Gerow.

Victoria

Session—Miss L. Fraser, E. Dafoe. Stewards—Mrs. A King, secretary-treasurer; A King, M. Fraser, E. Simpson, E. Dafoe, W. Harris Receipts—Cash on hand $178.95, weekly offerings and social $235.95, missions $6. Total $420.90 Expenditures $307.10, balance on hand $113 80. Families 47, total persons 185, members 8, baptisms 7. Number of persons on the field 444.

Mr. Walton struck a note of warning in his farewell message. He stressed that organization is not enough to establish the church. The reports for the summer were commendable but he felt sure the people would want to reach even higher goals next summer, not only financially but spiritually as well. He reminded them of St. Paul's words to the Corinthians, "Therefore my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

Synod Studies Changing Marriage Law

HALIFAX, Sept. 12—(CP)—The 17th general synod of the Church of England in Canada reconvened today and indications were that discussions mainly would be on general topics with the possible exception of a deferred motion asking a survey of conditions among the Indians.

Two motions from the Diocese of Calgary dealing with marriage and divorce are scheduled for consideration. One asks that church laws be revised to permit the "innocent" party to a divorce to remarry and still be eligible for all church services and sacraments. Which, if either, was the "innocent" party would be decided by a church court.

The other motion requests the publication of bans or regulations forbidding a marriage until a week after notice to the clergyman concerned.

Indian Question

A meeting of the Lower House—clergy and laity—today preceded a joint session with the House of Bishops. Meetings of the General Board of Religious Education occupied the rest of the day.

The deferred motion, entered by the Church's Missionary Society, asked that a bishop with expert knowledge of the Indian question be named to make a survey of present conditions in that field, then report to the Synod. This motion may be considered tonight.

Canon H. G. Cook of Ottawa, Superintendent of the Indian School Administration, said Saturday: "I am at times ashamed at some school conditions but not all are the same."

Want Private Radio Have Own Networks

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 12 (CP)—The Western Association of Broadcasters wants privately-owned radio stations to be allowed to establish radio networks and hook-ups.

The association approved a resolution at its annual meeting here Saturday asking for such permission as circumstances and conditions warrant. Operation of networks is controlled in Canada at present by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The resolution was inspired by a request from the Canadian Association of Broadcasters for the opinion of the western association on the question of a private network.

PENTICTON, B. C., Sept. 12—(CP)—The Penticton Sawmills Ltd., and its president, Hugh Leir, Saturday were fined $24,000 for attempted income tax evasions involving $86,254. Contest Illegal Post Office Officials Rule

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (CP)—Post office officials Saturday declared the widely-advertised legionnaire "mystery man" contest an "illegal undertaking" and said mail is prohibited from being sent to Toronto headquarters.

P. Biggs, secretary of the Ontario Command, Canadian Legion, said the contest is sponsored by the General Wingait Branch of the Canadian Legion and has the approval of the provincial Command. Proceeds, he said, were for the Ontario Poppy Fund and to raise money for a new Legion hall for the Wingait branch.

Full sanction has been obtained from Ontario Attorney-General's department and from the federal Attorney-General's department, said the spokesman at downtown Toronto headquarters.

Catch Two Prisoners

SUDBURY, Sept. 12 (CP) — Roger Charbonneau, 24, of Hull, Que., escaped Sunday from Burwash industrial farm near here. But guards recaptured him in a few hours later at Romford Junction, 24 miles north of Burwash. Officials said Frank McGann, who escaped last Tuesday, had been found hiding on prison property. Edwin Walcosh, who disappeared at the same time as McGann, still is at large.

life insurance dollars invested in housing projects to earn money for policyholders, are providing many new homes throughout the nation!

3. Is there a narrow bridge that chokes traffic and causes accidents in your locality? You may be surprised to find it replaced some day with . . .

one of the many wide, safe bridges being built — thanks to life insurance dollars—in places where they're needed. Then watch the traffic flow!

2. Are you a farmer, or farmer's wife, doing hard chores by hand? Electric power may soon save you time and energy with machines, provide convenient light and water because . . .

electric power lines are being brought into more rural areas. Invested life insurance dollars are helping to finance many of these labour-saving power developments for farmers.

4. Are waters polluted by raw sewage in your community? A new sewage filtration plant will solve this problem. And . . .

perhaps your city will soon have one of these disease-reducing plants which life insurance dollars are helping to build.

A Helpful Citizen in Your Community

These aids to better living are founded on the work of the life insurance representative. It is largely because of his efforts that so many people buy life insurance and pay premiums — the major part of which is invested in vital projects that benefit Canadians from coast to coast.

Thus your life insurance representative is more than a helpful advisor on financial security. He's a helpful citizen, too!

5. More silver linings will be provided by life insurance dollars, invested in government bonds, which help build new roads, schools, harbours, recreation centres.

So you can see that life insurance companies do not keep policyholders' money stored away in vaults! A large part of every premium dollar is invested in sound enterprises that help raise living standards for all!

Toronto Loses Playoff Spot Downed Twice

By The Associated Press

The 17th edition of the Governor's Cup playoffs, emblematic of International League supremacy, commences tomorrow night—but no one knows just who will play whom.

Here's why:

The league's 66th consecutive season came to an end yesterday with Jersey City and Montreal deadlocked for third place.

Hence, the two will meet in a playoff game tonight at Montreal. The winner will meet second-place Rochester and the loser will tangle with the league champions, Buffalo Bisons.

Buffalo and Rochester will be the host club in each series. Both are best-of -seven affairs.

Squelch Leafs

Toronto's playoff hopes were squelched Saturday when Buffalo downed the Maple Leafs 6-1.

The Leafs could have made the playoffs by wining both Saturday's game and the closing contest of the season Sunday against the Royals in Montreal.

When 5,431 fans went through the turnstiles to witness Saturday's game it lifted Toronto's season paid figures to near the 350,000 mark, breaking the local attendance record by more than 60,000.

Buffalo banged out four home runs in the game—by Ense Moore, Ray Coleman and Lonnie Frey. Starter Nick Strincevich, who yielded to Ed Wright in the eighth, was charged with the loss, his 15th of the season.

Bow to Orioles

Sunday Jersey City lost to Baltimore, 5-3, while Montreal was slamming Toronto, 13-2.

The Little Giants' defeat was particularly bitter, coming in the 11th inning after they had fought from a 3-0 deficit to finally tie the score with a run in the eighth.

Then in the 11th, George (Bingo) Binks uncorked his second home run of the game with a man on for the deciding runs.

Montreal whacked four Toronto pitchers for 17 hits to give Dan Bankhead his 20th victory. Only Baltimore's Al Widmar has won more—22.

Other action saw Rochester shade Buffalo, 7-6, and Syracuse twice defeat Newark, 4-3 and 4-1.

Rochester's triumph over Buffalo was its 15th in 22 games this season.

Red Wing fans—12,569 of them—honored Russ Derry before the games. The lean Rochester flychaser was given a tractor for his farm, mainly of his imposing record of 42 home runs, which led the league.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Vancouver's belting Irishman, Jimmy McLarnin, punched his way to a three-round knockout over Al Singer, world lightweight boxing titlist, at New York 19 years ago tonight. The title wasn't at stake as McLarnin was over the weight limit. He later entered the welterweight class and held that title from June, 1933 to May, 1934.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12 (CP)—The National Research Council announced Sunday it plans to continue next year its postdoctorate fellowship system by which scientists from Canada and abroad are given training in advanced research projects at the Council's laboratories here and at Chalk River. Fellowships are worth $2,820 a year, tax free.

May Have Used Bus

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (CP)—The lone bandit, who Friday held up the Armor Heights branch of the Bank of Montreal in north Toronto and escaped with about $3,000, may have used a city bus to get away from the district, police said Saturday. A boy, Ian Fraser, said he saw a man at the bus stop with a white bag. The gunman carried the money in a white bag.

B.C. Flier Wins Trophy

WINDSOR, Sept. 12 (CP) — Canada's top amateur flying award, the Webster Trophy, was won here Saturday by Donald Jacques, a member of the Vancouver Aero Club after two days of tests. The Webster competition calls for soundness in all basic flying requirements. Points are awarded for technique, smoothness, control and judgment.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Britain's faintly flickering hope of regaining the Wightman Cup perished in just 22 minutes Saturday on the sun-drenched Merion Cricket Club court, and the prized women's international tennis trophy remained in the possession of the United States for the 19th straight year.

It took Miss Doris Hart, of Jacksonville, Fla., just 22 minutes to defeat Mrs. Betty Hilton 6-1, 6-3 in the "must" match as far as the British women were concerned.

The Americans had won the two singles and one doubles match Friday and needed only one victory out of the four matches Saturday to assure a best of seven edge in the competition. Miss Hart's victory relegated the remaining two singles and one doubles match to a "formality" status, although the matches counted in the final standing.

In the other singles matches, Mrs. Margaret Osborne Du Pont of Wilmington, Del., defeated Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith, 6-4, 6-2 and Miss Beverly Baker of Santa Monica, Calif., substituting for Miss Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., defeated Miss Jean Quertier, 6-4, 7-5. Miss Brough injured her hand.

Yates Senior, a brown colt owned by W. J. Yates of Calgary was wearing his crown at a jaunty angle today. The classy colt by Fairmond out of Nut Brown captured the $5,000-added Canadian Derby at Winnipeg Saturday in a stretch drive.

The Toronto Maple Leaf hockey school, beginning its week-long session at St. Catharines today, will see 32 young hockey hopefuls trying out for berths on the Leaf team and on the roster of the Pittsburgh Hornets, Leaf farm club.

Only regular Leaf player at the school will be net veteran Turk Broda who will be stopping shots as 28 prospects do their stuff in front of Hap Day, Leaf coach, Bob Davidson, coach for the Pittsburgh Hornets, and Squib Walker Leaf's chief scout.

Philadelphia Phillies Sunday called up an outfielder, an infielder and a righthanded pitcher from Toronto of the International League.

Outfielder Ed Sanicki and infielder Bill Glynn are to report as soon as the International League setson ends. Pitcher Ed Wright will report to the Phils' Clearwater, Fla., training camp next spring.

Sanicki, one of the top sluggers of the class-AAA circuit, has a current batting average of .286, with 33 home runs, 102 runs batted in and has received 270 bases on balls, a league record. Glynn has a .265 average, 99 runs batted in and 23 homers. Wright's season record shows 11 victories and 11 losses.

The Ontario Lacrosse Association executive at a Toronto meeting Sunday reinstated Roy Morton Bill Nelson, Stewart Scott and Jim McMahon of St. Catharines Athletics in the OLA senior circuit.

The four were suspended for playing lacrosse with Rochester without first obtaining the permission of the OLA. George Cleverly, former Athletics coach, also was reinstated following suspension for similar reasons, but W Evans and J. Hogan, who were also included in the widespread suspension will have to apply for reinstatement. They played in Detroit.

George Coleman of Miami, Okla., Saturday won the Totem Pole golf championship by downing his friend, singer Bing Crosby of ot Hollywood, Calif., 4-3 in the 36-hole final at Jasper, Alta.

Jerry Kesselring, Kitchener golfer who is Ontario junior champion, completed a clean sweep of the Kitchener district golf championships when he won the Westmount Golf and Country Club's tournament Sunday.

He now holds the Westmount and Rockaway Club's championships, the Kellerman Memorial Trophy and the Rockaway course record of 63.

Kesselring shot a course record of 66 (Par-71) and picked up a 13-hole lead, an eagle, four birdies, 12 pars and one bogey in the morning. The former course record is shared by Nick Weslock, Windsor; Lex Robson, pro at the Kawartha Club, Peterborough and Tony Matlock, Westmount.

Dick Savitt of South Orange, N. J., and Baba Lewis of Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday won top honors in men's and women's finals events at the Toronto Cricket Club's annual invitation tennis tournament.

Arizona Girl Named New Miss America

ATLANTIC CITY, N.Y., Sept. 12 (CP)—A dark haired 18-year-old Arizona ranch girl who would rather go trout fishing and play golf than rid a horse is the new Miss America.

To the cheers of 22,000 spectators who jammed Convention Hall, Jacque Mercer of Litchfield, Ariz., was selected Saturday night as Miss America of 1949. She won a $5,000 scholarship, a $3,000 automobile and numerous contracts for personal appearances.

"I'm dazed," she said after Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey placed a jewelled crown on her head.

Miss Mercer stood in her white cotton evening gown with ruffled hoop skirt, plunging neckline and strapless bodice, holding tight to the sceptre she won.

Her victory climaxed a week of competition among 52 lovelies from 45 states in the United States, Canada, four major cities, Puerto Rica, and Hawaii. They appeared in bathing suits, evening gowns, and displayed talents ranging from violin playing to horseback riding.

These are the new Miss America's statistics:

Five feet four inches tall, 106 pounds, 34-inch bust, 22-inch waist, 34-inch hips.

Miss Mercer was picked from a final round of five after the field had been narrowed down from 15 earlier in the evening. Miss Canada—Margaret Lynn Munn of North Vancouver—was among the 15 finalists, but she failed to enter the select five circle.

Pray For Rain

Calgary Edges Regina 22-19 As Ottawa Swamps Argos 19-1

Calgary's fighting Stampeders showed their championship quality Saturday by defeating Regina Roughriders 22-19 in a grimly-fought game on a snow-covered western field.

Struggling under the twin handicaps of an apparently-irresistable Regina ground advance and an aerial attack that failed to click, the Dominion champions were swept back into their own bailiwick and lagged 19-0 shortly before half-time.

Then Calgary started to roll. Their pass-flinging sharpened, their end-running improved. By the end of their third quarter they had run up three touchdowns. They won the game on a last-minute field goal by Vern Graham.

It was the most exciting of the week-end's six senior football contests. The other western game saw Annis Stukus' Edmonton Eskimos chalk up their first victory, 14-11, over Winnipeg Blue Bombers mainly on the strength of two first-half touchdowns.

Swamp Argos

In the Eastern Big Four loop, a smooth-operating Ottawa machine run roughshod over Toronto Argonauts 19-1, to put the Rough Riders in the clear atop the league. In the other game, Montreal Alouettes made use of ground power to overwhelm Hamilton Wildcats 38-16. It was Alouette's first win after losing two close decisions to Ottawa.

In the Ontario Rugby Football Union results were as expected, though the unbeaten Sarnia Imperials had to pull off a last-minute touchdown before edging Hamilton Tigers 13-11. In the other bracket, the second-place Windsor Rockets again smothered Toronto Beach, beating them 25-0.

Blast Hopes

The expert Ottawans blasted the hopes of Toronto Argonauts that they could re-scale the championship heights simply by importing a batch of United States stars. The Riders gave the scullers a lesson in team-play in marking up their third straight victory.

Howie (Touchdown) Turner was the star. He scored two touchdowns and a single to account for 11 of Rough Riders' 19 points.

In Hamilton it was just a case of Alouettes having too much power for the Wildcats. The Montrealers, paced by field general and quarterback Frank Filchok, rolled for six touchdowns, three in the last quarter.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT
1889 1949

Fifty years ago, fruits and vegetables out of season could only be provided through the skill and industry of the housewife. A goodly store of dried apples and canned fruit was laid away during the summer and fall. Today commercial canneries and quick freezing plants help to make housekeeping easier. In these plants, equipment and utensils which come in contact with food are usually made of pure Nickel or Nickel Alloys. Such metals are rust-proof, sanitary, durable and extremely easy to keep clean. They safeguard the flavor and color of foods, because they resist the corrosive action of food acids.

Nickel Brings Dollars to Canada

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

Four Frocked Alike Attend Miss Rosemary Blaiklock

St. Luke's Anglican Church was setting for the lovely wedding on Saturday afternoon of Miss Rosemary Audrey Blaiklock and Mr. Kenneth John Duncan. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Blaiklock and the late James Frederick Walter Blaiklock, Peterborough, and he is son of Mr. John Neville Duncan and the late Mrs. Duncan, Toronto.

The Rev. Walter Gilling performed the marriage ceremony. The altar was decorated with red and cream gladioli, flanked with pink zinnias and snapdragon, shading to pale pink. Wedding music was by Mr. Coon and Miss Lexie Jones of Toronto was soloist. Before the service she sang the "Lord's Prayer" and at the signing of the register, "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle Mr. Wilfrid Field Huycke. Her gown was of French mousseline de soie and Chantilly lace over heavy bridal satin, the skirt forming a long circular train. The neckline was heart shaped and the sleeves long with points of lace over the wrists. Her veil of French illusion net formed a court train, falling from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress of Chantilly lace with seed pearls, and she carried a white prayer book with small bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia attached.

Her matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Carley of Toronto and her bridesmaids were Mrs. C. E. Whitten of Montreal; Miss Rosamund Duffield of London, Ontario, and Miss Altilie Rose Huycke of Toronto. They were dressed alike in frocks of parchment colored taffeta, made very full in the skirt with moulded bodice finished with low neckline and double over-shoulder capes. Sashes in flame red taffeta were tied in bows at the back and the streamers fell to the hemline. Their hats were also in flame red and were trimmed with rosettes of the parchment taffeta. They carried bouquets of pink, red and cream zinnias in a cascade effect.

The groomsman was Mr. William Duncan of Toronto. Ushers were James Blaiklock, brother of the bride, and Roy Murcotte, Roy Sharpe and Robert Carley, all of Toronto.

The wedding reception was held at the bride's home on Engleburn Ave., Mrs. Blaiklock receiving in a gown of bonnet blue and wearing a hat of the same material with matching blue feather, and a corsage of Sweetheart pink roses.

Leaving later for northern points where the couple will spend their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a suit of regal red with matching topcoat, a hat of the same material trimmed with black feather and black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will live in Toronto.

The marriage took place in George Street United Church on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock of Eunice Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Armstrong and Clarence Aubrey (Joe) Weir, son of Mrs. Weir and the late Marshal Weir, all of Peterborough. The Rev. Dr. James Semple officiated at the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, ferns and palms. Wedding music was played by Mr. Charles Allen and Mrs. D. Landry sang "O Perfect Love" before the bride entered the church and "Through the Years" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride's gown was of embossed nylon with high neckline featuring a sheer yoke trimmed with folds of nylon caught with bands of pearls. The long fitted sleeves came to points over the hands. The moulded bodice came to a point in front and the full skirt with a slight train had a padded hipline and a peplum effect at the back. She wore a veil of silk embroidered nylon net in fingertip length caught in a coronet of seed-pearls, and carried a cascade bouquet of deep red gladioli and bouvardia.

Mrs. R. L. MacGee as matron of honor was frocked in a sea blue nylon gown made on the same lines and she chose a matching halo hat and mittens and carried a ring bouquet of pink gladioli.

Mr. Ormond Weir was groomsman for his brother. Ushers were Robert Armstrong and Archie Weir, brothers of the bride and groom.

The reception was held in the church parlors where the bride's mother received in a gown of gray printed silk with black accessories and a corsage of Butterfly roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore black printed silk with black accessories and Talisman roses.

For going-away the bride wore a gold suit of butcher lines with emerald green accessories and carried a fur neckpiece. Her corsage was Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir will live at 740 Curtis Road.

LEAVING GEORGE ST. UNITED CHURCH after their marriage Saturday afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aubrey (Joe) Weir. The bride is Eunice Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Armstrong, 214 Carlisle Ave. The groom is son of Mrs. Marshall Weir, 213 Dublin St. —Choate Studio Photo

A host of friends honored Miss Eunice Armstrong prior to her wedding on Saturday to Mr. Clarence A. Weir.

Miss Florence Scott was hostess at a dinner party and handkerchief shower. Girls of the Westclox office staff held a corn and weiner roast at the Vernor cottake on Buckhorn lake at which Miss Armstrong was presented with several pieces of sterling silver.

Presents to the bride from the office staff of the Westclox were a bleachwood cocktail table and end table to match. The groom was honored by associates of the Automatics Department, Westclox, who gave him a bleachwood end table and a reflector.

Phoenix Winner Is Short Girl

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 12. — (AP).—Petite Jacque Mercer of Phoenix, Ariz., the new Miss America, says she is proud to represent the beauty of short women.

"Half the women in the United States are short and it's about time they were recognized," the 18-year-old brunette said in an interview.

Five feet 3½ inches tall, she was chosen Miss America Saturday night from among 52 girls representing 45 states, Canada and Puerto Rico.

Miss Mercer is the shortest girl selected as a beauty queen since Margaret Gorman won the first title in 1921. Miss Gorman was five feet one inch tall.

The new Miss America also is the lighest ever chosen. She weighs 106 pounds, two pounds lighter than Miss Gorman.

Miss Mercer neither drinks nor smokes. Her high school sweetheart, Douglas Cook, 20, interested her in dramatics five years ago.

To see a play on the West Coast she drove a tractor for a month, sowing 50 acres on her father's ranch.

She will return to Phoenix Junior College, registering Sept. 28, for a second year of drama study.

McMahon-Fallis Vows Taken At Millbrook

Mrs. G. A. Spicer sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the bride entered the church and "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and she wore a gown of blush satin with jewel neckline buttoned down the back, with tight fitting sleeves buttoned at the wrist and forming lily points over the hands. The gown had a full skirt which ended in a short train. Her full length veil was caught to her head with a halo of lily of the valley. She carried a muff of red sweetheart roses and white pom-poms with trailing of satin ribbon and flowers.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. J. T. Shannon of Toronto, sister of the bride as matron of honour, and Miss Lorraine Henderson of Millbrook, and Miss Velma Stewart of Galt, as bridesmaids. Mrs. Shannon was frocked in rust velvet with law cameo neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the hands with the skirt fullness caught in the back by a bustle. She wore a rust velvet bonnet with ribbons tied at the side and carried a green feather fan with yellow pom-poms The bridesmaids' gowns were of green velvet with cameo necklines and fulls kirts. GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

NATIONAL IMMUNIZATION WEEK—SEPTEMBER 11TH-17TH

Each year communicable diseases cause needless sickness and suffering. Too often, they have claimed the death of some youngster. To-day medical science with its effective preventative measures has conquered many of the so-called "childhood diseases". But modern science is worthless without the co-operation and support of every parent. By having your children immunized now, you safeguard their future—ensure their continued good health. That's a practical way to show your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Some Men Bad Examples Not All Are Philanderers

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I was married at the age of 33. For fourteen years previous I worked in an office, where I came in close contact with men. Day after day I heard these men devise stories to hand their wives to cover up improper association with women. This experience has been the cause of a complex, which is becoming more serious. For I am now married and miserable because I cannot trust my husband. Every time he leaves the house I work myself into a state because I mistrust him every minute. When we were first married I trusted him implicitly, until one night he received me about where he had been. Since then I have been so unhappy over my suspicions that it is seriously affecting my health. There must be a sane way of thinking about a subject of this kind. Will you be kind enough to give me a start on the right track?

X

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: Perhaps the wife who is wise to the ways of men can never recapture the faith that she has lost, but she can look two facts in the eye. One is that the reason most husbands lie to their wives is that their wives drive them to it. When a husband knows that if he tells his wife the truth about what he is going to do, or even about some innocent thing that her jealousy will distort into a crime, he is going falsehood.

Never shall I forget one young man who, in recounting to me the virtues of a girl he had married, wound up his panegyric by exclaiming: "And just think, Miss Dix, I can tell her the truth. Isn't she grand? I thought a man always had to lie to his wife."

The other fact is that it is futile to watch a man. Somewhere the espionage system always breaks down. No woman is clever enough to keep tab on her husband's every movement and prevent him deceiving her if he wants to.

So in the end you have to trust your husband all in all, or not at all. If he loves you well enough to be faithful to you, he will be, and, if he doesn't, he won't, and there is nothing in the world you can do about it. If he isn't trustworthy, he is simply not worth losing sleep about.

To think that every time your husband leaves you he goes on some orgy; to suspect that he is having a liaison with every woman he speaks to; to believe that he has nothing of honor in him, is to degrade your own mind as much as it is to insult him.

Snap out of this morbid state of mind. The fact that you have known a few philandering husbands doesn't argue that all are.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man of 32 and have always told every girl I went out with that I loved her. Now, a girl that I told that to believes me and wants me to settle down and marry her, which I don't want to do. I feel sorry for her and I haven't got the nerve to tell her that I don't care for her. What must I do?

ROSE PETAL PETE

ANSWER: I should think that a man who signs himself "Rose Petal Pete" would have imagination enough to cope with any situation, so I feel that any advice of mine is superfluous.

However, as you ask my opinion, I urge you to undeceive the girl at once as to your sentiments. Probably it won't astonish her nearly as much as you think it will. At any rate, don't marry a girl whom you don't love just because you haven't the courage to let her know you were kidding her. She would find it out soon enough after you were married and that would mean misery for her and for you.

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We have four children, the youngest a baby 4 months old. My husband says three children are all we can take care of and wants to give the baby to a nice couple whom we know and could do for the child more than we can. My husband is crazy about the three other children, but doesn't seem to care for this baby. I am afraid if I do not yield to my husband about this that it will break up our family and we have always been so happy and congenial. What should I do?

MRS. G. G. M.

ANSWER: I think that when it came to really giving up the child that your husband would find that he couldn't do it. His love for the little creature would be too much. So why don't you get the couple who want the child to keep it for a few months and see if the arrangement works?

Of course, if you are not able to feed the the child and give it the proper care, it will be better for it to be in a home where it can be given the things it needs, but many of the greatest men and women in the world have come from homes as poor as yours.

DOROTHY DIX

Social Situations

SITUATION: You and your husband stop by in your car to pick up another couple who are going to a movie with you.

WRONG WAY: Get into the back seat when you stop for them, so the two men can sit in front and the two women in back.

RIGHT WAY. Keep your place and let the other couple sit together in the back seat.

HARD WAY—Liz Sharp holds one water ski aloft just to make it perfectly clear that she can get along on one while holding the towrope with the other foot. The national junior titleholder participated in the Canadian championship in Toronto.

THE ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I have followed your column regularly for some time now, but this is my first request.

Last year during canning season, I made a relish similar to that served with hamburgers. It contained ground unpeeled cucumbers, ground cabbage and onions. Other than that I do not know the ingredients. It contained no mustard nor was it thickened with flour. I lent my recipe out and did not get it back as it was lost. I would appreciate your publishing this recipe if you have it.

Also, do you have a good recipe for home baked beans, one without meat, as we are vegetarians.

ANSWER:

Cucumber Relish

Eight dill-size cucumbers, 1 pint ground raw cabbage, 5 medium-sized onions, 1 sweet red pepper, 1 sweet green pepper, 16 cups cold water, 1 cup salt, 3 cups vinegar, ½ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons mustard seeds, 1 teaspoon celery seeds, 1 teaspoon turmeric. Wash the cucumbers very well and put through medium coarse knife of food chopper; cabbage may be put through coarse or fine knife—until you have 2½ cups; mix together the cucumbers and cabbage (If desired the peppers and onions may be ground too, but give a better appearance to the finished relish if chopped.) Soak the mixed cabbage and cucumbers in the water and salt overnight then drain very well. Combine all ingredients and if desired add a lump of alum size of acorn and let stand 5 min. stirring, then remove alum. If alum is not used put on to boil at once and boil uncovered for 10 minutes. Pour into hot sterile jars and seal. (These quantities make 50 oz.)

Boston Baked Beans (Vegetarian)

Two cups dry white beans, ½ teaspoon baking soda, 1 cup mixed ground onion, sweet pepper and dill pickle and celery OR any one or combination of these vegetables, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon each powdered mustard and pepped, ¼ cup molasses boiling water. If celery is not used in the vegetable mixture use 1 teaspoon celery seed too. Wash and pick over the beans and soak in cold water to cover generously overnight. In the morning drain, cover with fresh cold water, add the soda, and simmer covered until tender. Drain again and rinse with cold water. Pour into 2-quart bean pot. Mix together the salt, mustard, pepper and molasses in a measuring cup and fill cup full with boiling water. Add this to the ground vegetables and stir into the beans. If beans are not covered with liquid add a little more boiling water until they are. Cover. Bake for 6 hours at 300 deg. Fahr. adding boiling water as needed to keep beans just covered. Remove cover during last hour to brown and dry off top of beans.

Can You Keep Surplus Fruits Used?

By MARY MOORE

There are so many canning and preserving recipes that I want to give you these September weeks, and readers are asking for so many specific recipes that I feel like the chameleon on the Scotch plaid—I'll bust if I try to please everybody, including myself.

Readers come first after all, and half a dozen want peach jam and peach conserve and some more want grape juice and grape jam, so I will postpone my current enthusiasms for a week or so and then see if there is some spare space.

Peach Jam

Wash peaches (or apricots) and pour boiling water over them and let stand for 1 minute, when, if they are ripe, skins will slip off easily. Drain hot water from peaches while you are peeling. For each pound of peaches peeled and sliced measure ¾ lb. sugar and sprinkle this ration of sugar over the layers of peaches in the preserving kettle as you peel and slice them—this prevents them from turning brown (If apricots are used add 2 tablespoons lemon juice for each 1 lb. apricots.) When finished peeling and slicing, and sugar is all sprinkled over fruit in preserving kettle, let stand 4 hours. Then heat slowly until sugar is dissolved, stirring. Bring to boil and cook, while stirring constantly, until fruit is clear and jam somewhat thick. Seal in sterile jars.

Peach Conserve

Select 14 very large choice peaches, 4 oranges, 4 pints sugar, ½ lb. coarsely chopped or broken pecans or walnuts. Scald and peel peaches and cut into small pieces. Add sugar, pulp and grated rind of oranges. Cook together 45 minutes, stirring almost constantly; add nuts for 10 minutes longer. Pour into sterile jam glasses and seal with 2 coats paraffin. Sliced maraschinos may be added when nuts are added.

Bottled Grape Juice

Use only perfect grapes—do not accept grapes that growers know are split but sell for juice. Wash well and remove grapes from stems. Place in kettle, barely cover with water and boil until seeds float free. Strain through heavy bag made of about 4 thicknesses of cheesecloth. Do not squeeze unless you do not care if your finished juice is cloudy. Measure juice and replace over heat and bring to boiling point. Add ½ cup sugar for every 4 cups of juice, and let boil 5 minutes. Pour into hot sterile jars or bottles and seal at once. If old narrow—necked bottles are used, use new corks for them which have been sterilized, and then when bottles are corked dip tops of bottles in hot parrafin twice to seal.

Grape Conserve

Wash and drain Concord grapes and remove from stems. To each 4 lbs. grapes allow 2 lbs. sugar, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 orange, 1 cup blanched almonds and 1 teaspoon salt. Slip the skins from the grapes and keep them separate from the pulp. Peel the orange and discard the seeds. Chop orange pulp and peel finely. Chop the nuts coarsely. Boil the grape pulp, stirring until the seeds float free. Strain to remove seeds. To the strained grape pulp add the sugar, raisins, orange and salt. Boil hard until mixture begins to thicken. It must be stirred. Add the grape skins and boil 10 minutes, then stir in chopped nuts. Pour almost at once into sterile hot jam glasses and seal with hot paraffin at once, adding a second coating when cold.

Peach Chutney

(Since peaches are so plentiful some of you might like this chutney recipe—our family thinks it is "tops.")

Four quarts peaches, 5 cups spirit vinegar, ½ cup each chopped onion, sugar, ¼ lb. raisins, ¼ lb. white mustard seeds, 2 ounces scraped ginger root, 1 ounce red peppers, 1 ounce garlic.

Peel peaches after immersing in boiling water and remove stones. Add 2 cups vinegar to each 4 quarts and cook until soft. Add another cup of vinegar, the chopped onion, sugar, raisins, white mustard seeds, ginger root, pepper and garlic. Mix well and add 2 cups vinegar. Boil about 15 minutes, or until thick enough to bottle. Pour into sterile jars and seal at once.

Directions:

The first dinner is surprisingly satisfying for such a low-calorie meal. We had it last night for dinner and I liked the baked green peppers stufed with the meat so much I crave them again tonight, but instead, so I will not be accused of being in a rut, I am going to make beef croquettes with the remainder of the ground beef from the leftover roast beef.

I think cream of tomato soup made from fresh tomatoes is better than from canned tomatoes and usually make it at least once in September: Stew enough peeled and cut up fresh tomatoes to make 2¼ cups with 1 slice onion, cut up top from 1 stalk celery, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ bay leaf, 2 pepper corns, ¼ teaspoon mustard seed for 10 minutes, then strain. Add ⅛ teaspoon soda mixed with 1 table-soft butter and stir until it stops bubbling. Make a very thin cream sauce of 2 cups hot milk stirred into ¾ tablespoon flour stirred into 2 tablespoons butter, until thick. Add this while hot to the strained tomato, stirring, and taste for salt and pepper and serve at once. These amounts make 6 generous servings.

Ports Take First Against Hastings

HASTINGS, Sept. 12 (ENS) — Port Robinson defeated Hastings Saturday 3-2 at Port Robinson in the first game of the OASA junior "C" finals.

West on the mound for Hastings worked in fine style giving up but two hits and mowing down 15 on strikeouts. However, the eight free passes he issued put him in trouble several times and indirectly led to the three runs gained by the opposition.

Kowaski, twirling for Port Robinson was a trifle more liberal with his hits, giving up six, but his support was airtight, time after time breaking up Hasting's rallies.

Port Robinson opened the scoring in the first half of the third when, after Michael struck out, Walters and McCombs were issued passes, and Walters came home on a hit by Siemans, West then struck out Walker and Densham flied out to end the innings.

Hastings came back in the fourth to score their only runs. Morrow started it off with a single, but was forced at second by Beavis, who in turn was forced by West. With two out, Richardson pulled out a long homer. Fennell then reached first on an error, went to third on a hit by Thomas, but Fife was thrown out at first to end the threat. Hastings held the lead till the seventh when two walks, an error, and a hit, gave Port Robinson the tying run. In the bottom half of the ninth Port Robinson capitalized on two walks, and a fielder's choice to push the winning run across.

This is Port Robinson's second year to reach the finals.

Second game is slated for Hastings, Saturday, Sept. 17, under the lights.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

To honor the 1949 graduating class of Queen Alexandra School a well attended meeting was held Friday evening in the Kindergarten room.

President Mrs. O. J. Hayward welcomed all present, expressing the wish that those graduating would return often. It was announced that October 3 will be the date of the next meeting, "Parent-Teacher Rally."

On behalf of the Association Mrs. F. Shaw made Mr. J. Telford a presentation, congratulating him on his new appointment, and expressing appreciation of his regular attendance.

Mr. F. Pulver was chairman for the remainder of the program. He introduced six members of the Peterborough Accordion Club, who delighted the audience with piano-accordion selections, including a vocal solo by Mr. Roy Wilfong.

Valedictorians were Skippy Pulver and Mildred Hayward. Skippy, top ranking student, received from the Board of Education a $10 scholarship. Mildred, in second place, received a prize of $5 from the Home and School Association.

Mr. J. E. R. Munro, principal, speaking also for his teachers, offered the 27 graduates congratulations, enlarging somewhat on the significance of "Success," and how it may be achieved. He then presented diplomas to the following: June Anderson, Marion Easson, Barbara Ephgrave, Beverley Gould, Mildred Hayward, Carolyn Hendren, Lois Jackson, Evelyn James, Doreen McClure, Myrna Schwartz, Barbara Stewart, Sheila Warburton, Shirley Webb, Audrey Willshaw, Dennis Bell, Keith Brown, Chane Carter, Fred Griffin, Clarence James, Bob Kingston, Ronald McIlwain, Ronald Nicholls, Bill Oliver, Skippy Pulver, Harold Valois, Donald Wood, Ray McFayden.

Part songs by the graduates, led by Mr. Telford and accompanied by Mr. M. Duke at the piano, were greatly enjoyed. Mr. G. Gatfield joined in with his violin and the entire assemblage sang favorite songs.

Mrs. G. H. Hutchinson and her committee served refreshments.

Chinese Writers Changing Style

NANKING, Sept 12 (AP) — Literature in Communist China henceforth is to be closely identified with politics.

The romanticism and "art for art's sake" which characterized Chinese literature for centuries are to be replaced by a militant purpose of furthering the Communist revolution.

This is the tenet of the all-China writers and artists conference recently held in Peiping. More than 600 revolutionary writers, poets, dramatists, actors and others attended.

Sounding the keynote of the conference, Kuo Mo-jo, well-known writer, declared:

"What is our historic mission? It is to combine the strong weapons wielded by writers and artists and use this great strength to heighten the morale of the revolutionaries encourage production and bring to early realization chairman Mao Tze-tung's new democracy."

For centuries Chinese literature was singularly detached from politics and reality. In 1915, the Nationalist Dr. Hu Shih sparked a popularization movement. Since then, there has grown up a group of so-called proletariat writers whose themes have dealt with the common people rather than with aristocracy and royalty of old.

Finds Canada Safety Conscious

LAKE LOUISE, Alta., Sept. 12 (CP) -The people of Canada are becoming increasingly safety-conscious through information distributed in the press, radio and motion pictures, the Canadian Good Roads Association was told today.

R. A. Stapells of Toronto, president of both the Ontario Safety League and the Canadian Automobile Association, told delegates at the annual convention that the association was one of the chief agencies promoting safe highways.

Safety education is aimed chiefly at youth, he said. The Ontario Safety League 20 years ago was a pioneer in safety education in school and more than 7,000 illustrated lectures have been given to 2,500 000 pupils in the province.

R. M. Hardy, dean of engineering at the University of Alberta, described the findings of recent research on the compaction of soils, a new contribution to scientific road planning.

He said extensive experience in highway and earth dam construction and in wartime building of airfields had demonstrated the value of the process and had led increasingly to its inclusion in highway contract specifications.

Russia Charges Canada In Arms Race

MOSCOW, Sept. 12 (CP) —The newspaper Red Star said Sunday that Canada is engaging in "an armaments race."

The Soviet armed forces newspaper said:

"The Canadian war industry did not cease its activity at the end of the war."

Red Star listed the series of large plants in Canada which it said are producing armaments:

A light arms factory; an ammunition factory; an optical factory for producing instruments for armaments; an artillery armaments factory; and explosives factory; another artillery factory which is about to be put into operation; three airplane factories all of which are producing jet planes, and shipyards working on warships.

It did not name the plants or give their locations.

In Ottawa, defence department officials denied that Canada is in an armaments race and said the Red Star story was "grossly inaccurate" and distorted.

One official said the paper was "implying that a number of completely innocent factories, producing things like dynamite for the mining industry or shotgun shells, are producing munitions of war."

For example, the official said, Red Star's statement that three Canadian factories are producing jet aircraft is incorrect.

Actually, A. V. Roe of Canada, Ltd., has produced one jet airliner, designed for commercial work Canadair, Ltd., of Montreal, was scheduled to go into production of North American F-86 jet fighters. But at the present time no Canadian factories were producing jet aircraft on an assembly-line basis.

"Someday" comes closer with every dollar you save

Most of us have to plan for the good things of life. And a big part of that planning is a matter of dollars and cents—of earmarking a certain part of our earnings for the things we want most.

It's not always easy, especially these days: But the fact remains that what you save is still the most important—the most satisfying—part of what you earn.

Are you hoping for something...or saving for it?

Dresses Have Built-Ln Underwear Now

By GLORIA YARBRONGH.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12 (AP). —Dresses with built-in underwear are Marusia's latest enthusiasm.

"When bra and slip are part of the dress," says the Polish designer, "there is no problem of finding appropriate undercloth-ing to match the gown."

These are chiefly cocktail or dinner frocks, intended for dry-cleaning.

Marusia, who clothes such screen attractions as Paulette Goddard, Roz Russell, Dinah Shore, Mrs. Ray Milland, and Joan Fontaine, has just returned from a style-viewing trip to France.

"Prices are much too high in Paris," she reported. "Wives of many designers can't afford the creations of their husbands. Americans buy them."

Designs, too, are much too extreme, in Marusia's opinion. "French women don't mind having yards of material billowing around them because they aren't figure-conscious like American women. Of course fashions are not created for young girls with nice figures. The matrons are the style leaders."

Fur Necklace Tops

The fur necklace should rate tops among fads this season, says Mary Kay Dodson, Paramount designer. These, styled along the choker lines, can be made of your favorite fur. Spats, too, will be prominent in new wardrobes, she predicts.

You don't need a pin-up figure to look well dressed, says Dorothy O'Hara. The former movie designer thinks any woman, fat or lean, can look smart if she takes advantage of a few tricks used in film studios.

"A common mistake is the use of the round waistline or belt," she says. "The round line cuts the figure in half, making the short woman look even shorter and plumper.

"The slim skirt," says Dorothy, "is the most flattering to the most women. A peplum over the hips gives the thin girl curves, hides the plump girl's poundage. An inverted pleat in the skirt allows a girl to walk normally without detracting from the slim waistline effect."

Canadians Rap British Failure In Competition

BIGWIN INN, Sept 12 (CP)—A permanent organization should be set up to act as a clearing house for commonwealth economic ideas, Maurice Webb, chairman of the British parliamentary Labor party, said Saturday.

He told delegates attending the British Commonwealth Relations Conference here that the proposed organization could also be, as far as possible, a centre for the formulation of economic policy on a continuing basis.

In an interview following the meeting Mr. Webb explained the nature of his proposal.

He said he recognizes that the economic positions and interests of the different countries are so diverse that any kind of common policy would be difficult to work out and limited in scope. But he feels strongly that some sort of continuing exchange of views is essential.

Wants More Effort

He said he hopes that this will lead to more concerted efforts to meet common economic problems.

Press officers of the conference reported after the closed meeting that the proposal for an economic administration was strongly opposed by members of the Canadian delegation, one of whom stated flatly that any common economic policy for the Commonwealth was impractical for Canada.

Canadian delegates told the conference that Canadians are concerned by the apparent lack of enthusiasm on the part of British manufacturers to meet price competition.

There was no direct criticism of Britain's economic policies, but several Canadian delegates questioned whether the United Kingdom is sufficiently interested in trading to tackle the severe readjustments involved to compete with the United States on a competitive price basis.

N. Stratas of Toronto, ridden by Jim Pogue.

With the obstacles raised for the jump-off Miss Buscher reached the seventh before knocking one down. None of the men got over the first obstacle.

Stolen Gems Recovered In Envelope

Jewels Worth $15,000 In Deposit Box Believed Loot From BC

TORONTO, Sept. 13 — (CP).— Stolen diamonds and emeralds valued at more than $15,000 were found early to-day in a safety deposit box of a downtown vault by police who said the box had been rented by Lou Molnar, suave, good-looking former dancing instructor, who is being held as the suspected leader of a Vancouver jewel theft ring.

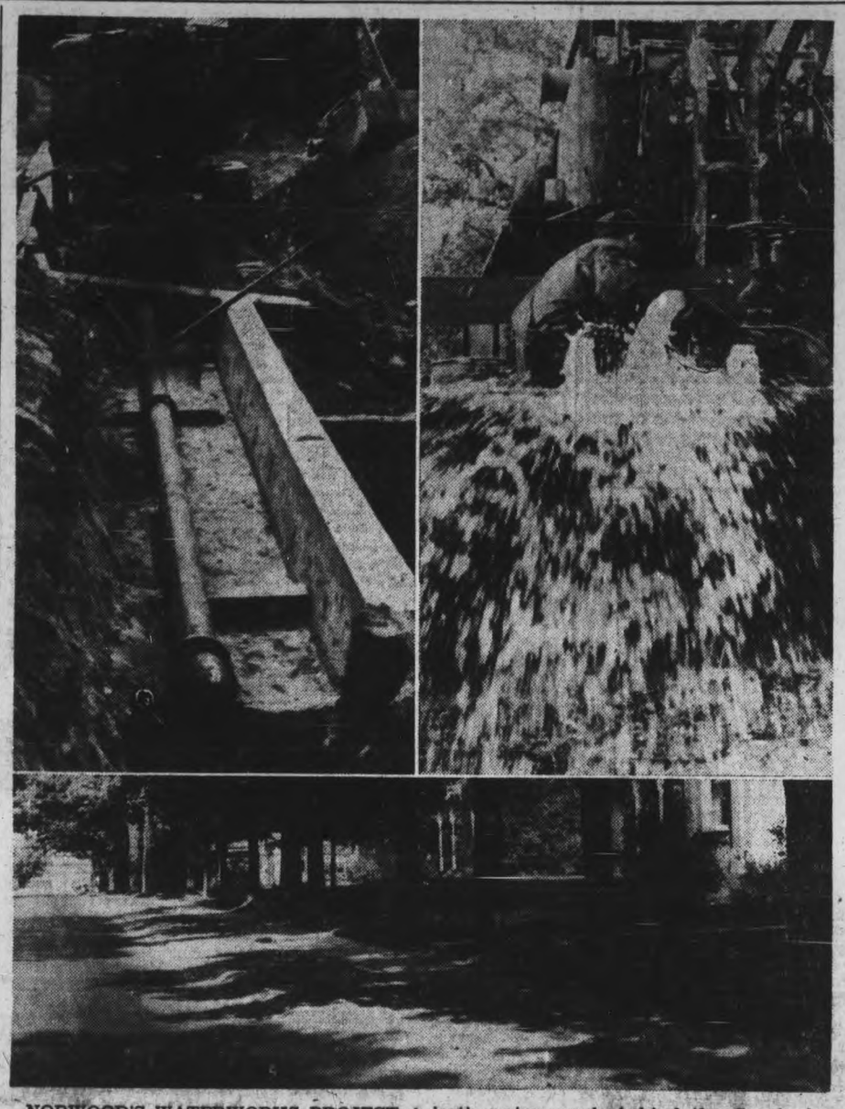
Police said the jewels discovered today were about half the loot taken from the Fraser Valley estate of C. S. Glaspie, millionaire lumberman, several weeks ago.

The seven diamonds and three emeralds had been taken out of their setting by a jewel expert leading police to believe another member of the gang still is at large either here or in Vancouver.

One emerald is valued at $5,000 while a diamond is reported to be worth at least $4,000.

Question Friends

The safety deposit box was discovered following a 48-hour investigation in which 10 friends of Molnar had been rounded up and questioned. It was from one of the friends that police learned about the safety deposit box



Police believe the rest of the loot is hidden in safety deposit boxes in Vancouver.

Police said only that the jewels were found in an envelope in a safety deposit box and declined to say whether the box was kept in a bank vault.

A British Columbia Provincial Police escort was expected to arrive today to take Molnar back to Vancouver where he will face seven charges of jewel theft.

Molnar, known also as Ward, was arrested in a downtown hotel suite where he had been throwing lavish parties. Police said he was arrested on information supplied by Donald McGrath 26, charged in Vancouver with the Glaspie robbery.

Molnar, former RCAF bombaimer who made 26 wartime operation trips over Germany, was charged with having an offensive weapon when a search of his room uncovered a German automatic pistol. The charge was later withdrawn. Also found in his room was a jeweller's magnifying glass. He wore an eight-stone diamond ring which he said he bought in a Vancouver poolroom.

$200,000 Fire Sweeps Pier

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 13 (AP)—A $200,000 fire ripped through 300 feet of the famed million dollar pier early today.

The well-known landmark, which juts 1,900 feet into the ocean on the downtown section of the boardwalk, caught fire about 4 30 a.m.

The piers huge ballroom, near the shore end, was gutted completely. Twisted roof girders fell into the blaze. The long pleasure palace was closed on Labor Day for the winter.

No one was injured. Caretaker Walter Merchant and his wife were helped down a ladder to the beach.

The resort's fire department brought special high pressure equipment into play.

These special measures enabled firemen to contain the blaze in a relatively small shoreward section of the pier.

Held For Smuggling U.S. Outboard Motors

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP) — Ross McIntyre, 35, today was remanded to Oct. 11 and released on $2,000 bail on a charge of smuggling $10,000 worth of outboard motors into Canada from the United States.

Police said they had uncovered "one of the biggest rackets of its kind ever to come to their notice."

Records showed that in about four months 28 motors were smuggled across the border.

Stalin Reported Ready To Abandon Balkan Plans

(London Observer Special to Examiner)

VIENNA, Sept. 13—Normally highly reliable sources in close touch with Moscow affairs are convinced that the Kremlin, on Stalin's insistence, has made a fateful decision that will mark a new epoch in European postwar history. Moscow, runs this information is about to abandon its plans for colonizing Central and East European countries—with the exception of Romania—and an elaborate effort is to be made to consolidate Russia's position behind her present borders.

The story is strongly supported by independent private reports reaching Vienna from the satellite capitals, where news of the drastic change of plans is said to have shaken the Communist parties to their foundation.

It is reported that Stalin has won over the Politburo to the idea of reversing Russia's postwar foreign policy. Molotov, who has been mainly responsible for Russia's grave errors in foreign affairs, has been thrust aside, and his future is obscure.

The timing and actual withdrawal from the Balkans, it is held, might depend on Russia's ability to come to terms with the West. Stalin, apparently, is now quite ready to adhere to the principles and agreements established at Yalta.

All the sound and fury of the past few months is considered nothing more than a rearguard action. This applies even to the latest war of nerves against Tito. Stalin, it is said, has never contemplated using force to bring Tito to heel.

The reasons given for this suggested dramatic change in Stalin's policy are threefold:

First, realization that Molotov's grandiose scheme to return to the ways of the old imperialism cannot be achieved by cold war and bluff.

Second, realization that the Kremlin was as misled by its experts on the attitudes of the Balkan peoples as was Hitler when he attacked Russia.

Third, the low state of public morale in the Soviet Union.

Approve Pipe-Line Route By-Passing Head of Lakes

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners Monday gave the go-ahead to a plan to build an oil pipe line from Regina to Superior, Wis., by-passing Canadian ports at the head of the lakes.

The Interprovincial Pipe Line Company, authorized to build the line, said the $90,000,000 project will be finished by early 1951. Earlier this year, it obtained permission for a line from Edmonton to Regina.

The Board said it had no jurisdiction to hear protests from the Lakehead cities of Fort William and Port Arthur on the route.

Mayor F. O. Robinson of Port Arthur asked to have the ruling deferred until the possibility of a Federal subsidy for an all-Canadian pipe line could be studied.

Traditional Canadian transportation policy, developed during the early years of the Dominion, has been to keep all East-West transport facilities on Canadian territory.

The company, a subsidiary of Imperial Oil, said it would cost an extra $10,000,000 to push the line through the rugged rocky country between the Lakehead and the Manitoba border.

The board—empowered only to decide on the company's ability to build, finance and operate the pipe line—ruled it must be finished by Oct. 31, 1951.

Company officials said the line must go through U.S. territory if Alberta oil was to compete in eastern Canada with oil shipped from the U.S.

Relax Ruling To Assist Waterworks

For the first time since the Norwood waterworks project started, several weeks ago, Monday was inactive while a delegation of village officials had audience with Deputy-Minister of Highways J. D. Millar, to iron out a technicality in the problem of putting the last 5,000 feet of mains along the main street, which is also Highway 7.

The department have made a ruling that trenching must take place 25 feet from the centre of all highways. If it held to this course in Norwood, village fathers were going to be put to an added expense of $5,000, chiefly in labor costs, to lay the trenching along the street-end of private properties which, in the main, are lined to the edge with large shade trees.

The delegation was made up of Reeve Rork Ferguson, Councillors John Nixon and Rod Webb and village clerk Richarl Dean. It was learned today from Reeve Ferguson that their visit was entirely satisfactory. The department will allow them to trench on the site of the present sidewalk and since it is not in its proper place anyway, eventually it will be moved behind the highway tree line to create a boulevard strip. This arrangement met with the approvol of the contractors and village delegates.

6,000 Gallons an Hour

While trenching operations were temporarily shut down, the contractors capped the water supply well behind the Cenotaph with a deep well pump on Monday morning which is turning out 6,000 gallons per hour. The excavation for the pressure tank tower, 500 feet north of the well and on a high ridge, was completed and it is expected that the pouring of its cement footings will get underway at once.

Bank Fund Advises Devaluation

Pressure Growing Against Sterling, Ask Change In Rates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) —The international monetary fund today advised dollar-short countries to devalue their currencies, if need be, to boost their dollar-earning exports.

Without singling out the pound sterling, but with Britain's dollar crisis obviously in mind, the report was laid before the opening session of the fourth annual meeting of the boards of governors of the multi-billion dollar fund and world bank.

Shortly thereafter, the financial leaders of the 48 member countries were to hear an off-the-cuff address by President Truman.

It may be better for a country to change an "unsuitable" exchange rate than to clamp on restrictions which "endanger its well-being and efficiency," said the report of the fund's executive directors.

Although the document referred to all "deficit nations," its effort was to spotlight the British problem—and to add pressure to numerous past suggestions for sterling devaluation.

Impact Greater

The impact was the greater because a cabinet level British-Canadian-United States conference ended Monday with agreement on a 10-point treatment for Britain's dollar ills—without including revaluation of the pound as one of the points.

The pound's value now is $4.03 Its devaluation, in foreign trade, would amount to lowering the price of British goods.

In a similar report to its governors, the world bank emphasized its own inability to "provide the answer to all or even a major part of the world's financial ills" through its lending powers.

"It s beyond both the purpose and the power of the bank, for example, to cure the "dollar shortage,'" said the report presented by the bank's president, Eugene R. Black of the United States.

Top-Ranking Official Investigates Police

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP) — A top-ranking official of the Ontario Provincial Police, Deputy Commissioner E. T. Doyle, Monday began an investigation into charges of maladministration levelled by 15 police constables against Inspector S. T. Hunter of Cornwall.

The accusations were made when the officers recently applied for transfers out of Inspector Hunter's district, comprising most of Eastern Ontario.

Eight of the constables appeared before Deputy Commissioner Doyle Monday and he is expected to interview the other seven today. Inspector Hunter was reported to have been present throughout Monday's hearings, which were held in camera.

Deputy Commissioner Doyle said there would be no announcement on progress of the investigations at least until the inquiry is over. The hearing is expected to end Wednesday.

Drop Murder Charge

SIMCOE, Sept. 13—(CP) —A murder charge still outstanding against Seth Linton, district farmer, is to be dropped. Linton now is serving eight years for manslaughter. Following a shooting affray on Linton's farm June 6, 1948, in which two men were slain, two charges of murder were laid. One charge was reduced to one of manslaughter. Crown Attorney D. E. W. Tisdale said Monday that Attorney - General Porter has directed that the second charge be stayed.

Divorce Change Wins Approval Of Lower House

HALIFAX, Sept. 13 (CP). — The Lower House of the 17th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada today passed a resolution permitting the remarriage of persons where nullity of the previous marriage has been established by the Church.

The measure was entered by Mr. Justice W. H. Harrison of Saint John, NB and seconded by Canon W. H. Davidson of Montreal.

Before gaining final approval, the motion must be passed by the House of Bishops. Indications were that the House would consider the motion today and report tomorrow.

Previously, re-marriage was possible in cases where the civil courts returned verdicts of nullity—no marriage—but not divorce or dissolution.

Review of Factors

The motion provides for a review of the factors behind the separation and if the Church can establish nullity — regardless of civil court verdict — re-marriage is permissible on the grounds that there has been no previous marriage.

Earlier the Synod received a report of the Commission on the Church's marriage and divorce laws. This report has been temporarily shelved and will come up for adoption or rejection at a later session along with two resolutions from the Diocese of Calgary dealing with the laws.

The Synod began debate of the report of the whole Council for Social Service, last of three major reports, just before the noon recess.

Wants Issues Clear

Dr. R. C. Blagrave, of Hamilton, who presented the Commission report, commented: "I had hoped it would be clear in people's minds just what the issues are."

In presenting his motion, Mr. Justice Harrison said re-marriage should be possible where a review by the Church established nullity, that is, where no marriage had been consummated. A case of nullity would be the result of unrecognized conditions present at the time of the marriage: Not factors like adultery, for instance, which occurred after the marriage and which were not grounds for nullity.

Dan C. C. Robinson of Timmins said he saw an attempt by the Synod to make "a serious differentiation" of two kinds of sin. These were marriage with the knowledge by one or both parties of some kind of defect and marriage which later disintegrated through adultery or other sin.

U.S. Decides To Give Britain More Freedom In Spending ERA Dollars

Planning To Increase World Bank Loans For Overseas Investment, Give Easier Access To American Markets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson and Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin today began charting new western moves in the cold war. They apparently are confident that Britain has once more been rescued from the threat of economic disaster. A 10-point attack on Britain's plight, worked out by Acheson, Bevin and other American, British and Canadian Cabinet ministers, was announced here as assuring Britain's prompt recovery from its current dollar crisis and also promising her a more secure economic future.

Final agreement in the week-long three-power conference came late Monday. Acheson and Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder decided that the United States could find ways to give Britain more freedom in spending its Marshall Plan dollars, easier access to American markets and an increased volume of sales to the United States of such items as rubber and tin.

These and other measures, including probable British trade discriminations against the United States in order to save dollars by buying elsewhere, were welcomed by Bevin. He viewed them as securing the economic basis for Britain's active role as a partner with America, the United States and other western countries in the conflict with Russia and in the drive for greater western security. Acheson agreed with this statement of the economic program's political importance.

Another Conference

Against this background, the two men open today another series of conferences. They deal with British and American far-eastern policy, Germany, Tito's split with the Kremlin, the development of an Atlantic defence system under the new Atlantic Treaty and other issues with which both countries are vitally concerned.

An increase in world bank loans for developments in British colonial or commonwealth lands is the number one point of the 10-part program which was set forth in a communique issued jointly by Sir Stafford Cripps, British Chancellor of Exchequer,

Stanley Has Fun

Boisterous Bull Leads London A Merry Chase

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 12 (CP) —Stanley, the fugitive steer, who caused quite a furor in the district since he escaped from a truck here, was captured Monday night about four miles north of London —but it took two policemen and six civilians to do it.

Stanley and a fellow steer, owned by Harold Carrothers of Glencoe, were jolted from a truck at a mid-town intersection as they were being taken to the western fair.

The other animal was soon caught, but before the more boisterous Stanley was rounded up this is what resulted:

Indirectly caused an accident between a police cruiser and a truck.

Had four city, one provincial and one township cruiser cars after him, and hundreds of citizens on the look-out.

Swam the Thames river at least twice.

Slipped a noose thrown over his head by city police.

Went through or over several fences.

Travelled an estimated 25 miles in city and country in his flight.

Stanley was finally located on the farm of Peter Lewington, who discovered him "quite placidly sitting down" among a herd of cows.

Six men, including the two policemen, herded the cattle into the barn, finally dropped a noose around Stanley's neck. Then they hired a truck to haul him to the London township pound.

Get 6-Cent Increase For Packing Plants

TORONTO, Sept. 13 — Swift Canadian Co. Ltd. announced Monday night signing of an agreement with the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL), providing for a six-cent-an-hour general wage increase for 2,600 employees in six plants.

This would bring the basic rate in Toronto to $1.02 for men and 87 cents for women.

However, Fred Dowling, Canadian director of the UPWA, said the agreement could not be considered as concluded until the proposals are approved by the locals

H. H Stedman, Swift's consulting superintendent, said the agreement covers employees in Toronto, St. Boniface, Moose Jaw, Edmonton, New Westminster and Moncton

Ottawa Asked To Raise Dam

LINDSAY, Sept. 13.—A request to the federal government to raise one foot of the height of the local dam controlling the level of the water of Lake Scugog was proposed here Monday at a meeting of interested district groups including Lindsay and Port Perry. Mr. T. J. Ryan of Peterborough, Superintendent of the Trent Canal, was present.

Water levels throughout the Kawarthas have been low this year as a result of the long dry summer. Scugog is one of the lakes affected, and Port Perry men complained of new shallows and mud banks appearing this year.

Even in a normal year, it was said, the department should raise the lake level by putting in another stop log at the dam adjacent to Lindsay St. in the centre of this town.

Radio Ambush May Conceal Air Invasion

Polar Blackout Can Be Used Against North America Experts Fear

ITHACA, N.Y., Sept. 13. (AP) —The chances for a radio ambush to conceal air invasion over the North Pole are under investigation at Cornell University.

This polar ambush is not something man can create at will.

It is a natural blackout of radio signals and sometimes ground wires too, due to magnetic storms Planes might use this blackout for cover the same as ground troops use fog.

Like the weather, the radio ambush can be predicted. But predictions are not good yet, particularly in the most vulnerable spot. This spot is all the area of North America that lies under the region of the aurora, or northern lights. That region is from Northern Canada south to a line running across the United States from New York, through Pittsburgh, Idaho and the state of Washington.

A Disadvantage

This auroral cover, 60 to 400 miles up in the sky, extends much farther south over North America than over Europe, possibly to American disadvantage.

It is known that the aurora is associated with radio blackouts and magnetics storms. But much of the data needed for defence in the vast air reaches is still unknown

Cornell for 10 years has been the main centre of study of the northern lights in North America. The auroral studies are by Dr. Carl W Gartlein, who now is adding to them with a continuous analysis of the light of the night sky.

Auroras come from the sun. They are caused by impact on the upper atmosphere of atomic-size particles which shoot from the region of sunspots like spray from a hose. It takes these particles about 24 hours to make the trip to earth. As they close in, they are caught in the earth's magnetism and deflected north and south toward the magnetic poles. This confines them to high latitudes.

These northern lights sometimes form a belt clear across North America, with its lower edge south of the Canadian-U.S. border

Police Find No Tie-Up In Schumacher Theft

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 13 (CP)—Police said today five suitcases of allegedly stolen merchandise taken from Walter Shembley, 19-year-old Kirkland Lake man, one of three men arrested on charges of breaking and entering and theft here last Saturday have not been identified with a robbery at Schumacher.

Police Chief I. L. Robertson would give no description of the merchandise and said "we are still checking on its source."

He added that he did not believe there was any connection between the suitcases and the Schumacher theft.

City Employee Asks Leave To Take Course

A general policy governing all city employees requiring leave of absence to attend courses to improve their qualifications asked for by the Board of Health Monday, when it was announced that R. M. MacPherson, Sanitary Inspector, had been chosen to attend a Dominion-Provincial course necessitating his absence from the city for at least seven months.

On the Mayor's suggestion, Jas. Dutton, chairman of the Board of Health will meet the Executive Committee of the Council to thrash out a policy. Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, will also take part in the discussion.

On behalf of Mr. MacPherson, Dr. Kelly asked the Board to allow Mr. MacPherson leave of absence to take the course, stating that for the inspector to take advantage of the opportunity he would require two-thirds of his salary. The Dominion would allow Mr. MacPherson a grant of $175 a month. If the Board allowed him two-thirds of his salary, which totalled $237.50 a month, his gross income would be greater than at present. He would, however, have to maintain two establishments while away from his family.

Need Uniform Policy

Neither the chairman, Mr. Dutton, nor the Mayor, Max Swanston was opposed to the scheme, because they realised the advantages of the staff attending such courses, but they thought some uniform policy should be established.

The Board would have to employ another man during the inspector's absence.

Dr. Kelly thought the son of Bert Tyler, a provincial sanitary inspector, would replace Mr. MacPherson for a salary of $150 a month. That scheme would cost the Board a total of $62.50 a month in salaries.

No decision was taken by the Board, pending the report of the Executive Committee of the Council.

Finance Committee of the council passed for payment last night the first account from Gore & Storrie, Toronto engineers, for their planning of the sewage disposal work. This bill was for $9,583. Gore and Storrie have been working with the council on a contract that extends back to 1945. They prepared the plans for the enlargement of the plant, and among other services they advised the council at one time that scarcity of materials and other costs advised delay in letting a contract for construction. Ald. Raine's motion for payment was seconded by Ald. H. Dodds.

MORE ABOUT--

U.S. Decides

Finance Minister Abbott of Canada, Snyder, Bevin, Acheson and Lester B. Pearson, Canada's Minister for External Affairs, late Monday.

Sir Stafford told a press conference that the program, coming on top of Britain's 25 per cent cutback in dollar spending, ends the threat of further dangerous drains on Britain's dollar and gold reserves. It was the dwindling of those reserves, due to Britain's spending dollars so much faster than it earned them, which constituted the immediate dollar crisis.

Over the long pull, however, the British problem was defined by the three-power conferees as being one of balanced trade by raising Britain's dollar earnings to a level at which it can afford to buy the things it needs without direct American financial help. All three countries agreed that the Marshall Plan of aid will end on schedule in 1952.

Immediate Benefit

Sir Stafford said that four of the six points will be of relatively immediate benefit to Britain in its efforts to earn more dollars while conserving the supply it has. These four points are:

1. Canada will increase its reserve stocks of tin and rubber and the United States will review its stockpiling program with a view to stepping up its tin and rubber purchases.

2. The United States agreed that Britain should have more freedom in deciding how it will spend its Marshall Plan dollars. They will be used in part at least for purchases of Canadian wheat, which has been barred by the economic co-operation administration since the first of the year because American wheat is a surplus commodity.

3. Both the United States and Canada promised to do what they could to facilitate the movement of British goods through customs.

4. The United States and Canada agreed that Britain may have to discriminate against their goods in order to build up its non-dollar imports from western European countries. While they did not make blanket concessions on this point — which would have been impossible for the United States without Congressional action—they did declare their willingness to review British import regulations which may be imposed to reduce the flow of goods from this side of the Atlantic.

Six Other Points

In addition to action along those four lines, the three countries agreed on six other points beginning with promotion of overseas investment as a means of putting more dollars to work, through the world bank, the United States export-import bank and private capital.

Their second long-range agreement was that a creditor country such as the United States should not have "big tariffs." The American government promised to seek further tariff cuts in order to build up foreign imports by negotiating new reciprocal trade agreements.

Third, it was decided that the drain of war debts on Britain's current production should be a subject of continuing study among the three powers. Britain ended the war with debts of $13,500,000,000 and has recently been exporting goods to pay off those debts without, of course, getting any current return.

The fourth and fifth points of agreement for long-range assistance to Britain concerned efforts by all three governments to improve Britain's dollar earnings from the production, refining and distribution of petroleum and from shipping. It was not explained in the communique what effect the moves in these two fields might have on the American industries.

Opposes Provision

However, in the case of shipping, it is known that the state department opposes provisions in American law which specify that goods bought with government funds, as in the case of the European Recovery Program, should be hauled at least in part by American ships. The state department's argument is that the dollars spent on shipping, as the dollars spent on the goods themselves, should where possible, benefit foreign shipping.

The sixth and last of the long-range points was a general agreement of the three powers to keep in close touch with each other on problems arising out of Britain's economic troubles and to review constantly the steps that were agreed on here.

Some officials of all three countries considered this consultation agreement one of the surest means of keeping British recovery on the track from now on. It also could provide a degree of co-ordination among the three countries in the economic field comparable to that co-ordination which they have already achieved in diplomacy and military strategy.

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP)—Hog prices were not established at Stratford today. Other markets unreported.

Rats To Front As Board Plans Rodent Control

City-wide control of rodents was discussed by the Board of Health Monday but no concrete plan to tackle the problem was suggested.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health R. M. MacPherson, Sanitary Inspector and Dr. H. Worton, Food and Dairy Inspector were asked to "put their heads together" and devise a scheme for consideration by the Board.

Mr. MacPherson thought that the service clubs might divide up the city and organize groups of people to put down poison.

When the chairman, J. J. Dutton, said it would be unwise to put poison into the hands of anyone outside, Mr. MacPherson pointed out that some poisons which kill rodents are not harmful to human beings.

Dr. Worton said it would have to be a long term policy as the problem would not be solved in less than three or four years. As soon as they were cleared from one place they went to another.

All members of the Board agreed that Jackson Park creek was "an excellent place for spreading the problem right through the city."

During the past three months the inspector had made 25 calls in connection with rats.

The rat has taken prominence over all other pests and the bed bug and cockroach, once common, are now being exterminated, the inspector reported.

Heuss President Of German State

BONN, Germany, Sept. 13 (AP)—Theodor Heuss, white-haired professor who wrote 20 books burned by the Nazis, Monday night was elected first president of western Germany.

In an acceptance speech he pledged to make the infant republic "a living democracy." He was sworn into office immediately.

Heuss, 65-year-old chairman of the Conservative Free Democrats, third largest party in Western Germany, was elected on the second ballot by the Federal Electoral Assembly.

Dr. Kurt Schumacher, one-armed victim of Adolf Hitler's concentration camps, was the candidate of the Social Democrats, second largest party, and received 312 votes.

Heuss received 416 of the votes, made up mostly from a solid combination of support from three Conservative parties which hope to rule Western Germany—the Christian Democrats, largest in Western Germany, Free Democrats and the small German party.

The circumstance of Heuss' election—a solid line-up from the three Conservative parties—seems to assure the naming of the Christian Democratic leader, Dr. Konran Adenauer, as Chancellor (Prime Minister).

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

A car stolen from Aylmer St., Monday evening was recovered a few hours later abandoned in Nicholls Oval minus a radio and two motor rugs. The car was owned by Raymond Laton, 507 Albert St.

FIVE MEN RISKED their lives in a successful attempt to rescue Alpine climber Ian Kay, 31, who suffered a broken leg and head injuries after a 75-foot fall down the face of a hanging cliff on Red Tusk peak, 45 miles northwest of Vancouver in the Tantalus range. The crack mountain rescue party which flew to Kay's aid is shown on one of the easy patches on the 7,000-foot mountainside. Kay's basket stretcher is visible.

Steel Union Extends Truce

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13 (AP)—There won't be any steel strike in the United States for the next 11 days—and after that maybe none at all.

Chances look bright for peaceful solution of the steel wage dispute that threatened to tie the country in economic knots.

The United Steelworkers (CIO) and six major steel producers have agreed to an 11-day extension of the strike truce sought by President Truman.

That truce begins at midnight tonight—the hour originally set for the country-wide steel walkout. It will continue until Sept. 25.

The Steelworkers also accepted the recommendations of the President's fact-finding board—even though it meant giving up a fourth-round wage increase.

The men who make steel will have to be satisfied with the average $1.65 an hour they now receive. The union won three increases totalling 46 cents since the end of the Second World War.

PROGRESSING

Patrick Murphy, the seven-year-old boy who was hit by a car on Monaghan Rd. Saturday afternoon after jumping from a milk wagon, was reported progressing favorably by hospital officials this morning although he has remained unconscious a large part of the time with brief moments of consciousness.

Council To Intervene

QUEBEC, Sept. 13—(CP)—The Quebec city council may intervene in the Quebec bus strike if it can get permission from the Provincial Transport Board. Mayor Lucien Borne Monday ordered city lawyers to appear before the Board to see if the city has the legal right to intervene in the strike of 122 garage employees of the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company, now in its fifth day.

Murder Charge Laid At Sudbury

SUDBURY, Sept. 13 —(CP)—Adelard Latour, 49-year-old bush worker today was charged with murder in the hunting-knife slaying of 23-year-old Mrs. Cecile Rainville, his cousin's wife.

Handcuffed, his hands and wrists bandaged, Latour appeared briefly in court today and was remanded to Sept. 20.

The two Latour children were taken today to live with relatives.

Mrs. Rainville died Monday in a two-roof basement apartment while her two-year-old adopted daughter, Jeannette, sobbed by her side. In another room, the woman's infant daughter Adrienne slept in her carriage.

Police found the woman's body, with numerous knife wounds, clad in a dressing gown. The former Cecile Vardon of Rockland, near Ottawa, laid in a pool of blood on the floor of her bedroom. An autopsy showed death was due to knife wounds in the lungs and abdomen.

Latour was kept under police guard Monday night at a hospital where he was treated for cuts on his right hand. The index finger and a tendon in his hand had been cut deeply.

With blood dripping from his wounded hand, Latour walked nearly half a mile to police headquarters. Police, who had been looking for him, took him into custody.

Investigators quoted Mrs. Kathleen Nechay, landlady of the house on Van Horne street in which the Rainvilles had lived for two years, as saying that Latour visited the Rainville apartment twice early Monday morning. She said that after the first call he left with Rainville when the latter set out for work at the nearby Copper Cliff Smelter. She said that about 7 a.m. Latour returned to the apartment.

Mining, Oil Issues Lead Recovery Trend

TORONTO, Sept. 13 — (CP).—Prices climbed upwards from Monday's drop in brisk dealings on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. A few mining and oil issues held the bulk of attention.

The recovery trend in golds was slow and steady. The international monetary fund annual meeting begins today in Washington and reports hint at proposals of devaluation. South Africa will propose an increase in the price of gold.

Western oils continued their advance supported by the approval given to build a pipeline from Edmonton to Superior, Wis. Pacific Petroleum was strong and active following news af a gas and oil find. Royalite touched a new high following announcement of plans to drill on an island off British Columbia.

Waite Amulet and Wiltsey-Coghlan, with adjoining property in the Rouyn district Northern Quebec, suddenly jumped upwards in base metals and golds. Sherritt Gordon held even in brisk dealings.

Guard Of Honor Pays Tribute At Doherty Funeral

One of the most largely-attended funerals was held today for the late Phillip Patrick Doherty, 43, of 256 Aylmer St., from the Anglesley Funeral Home to the Sacred Heart Church. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. by the Rev. P. P. Butler assisted by the Rev. F. Morrocco, deacon, and the Rev. J. Owens, CSSR, of Woodstock, subdeacon. They also officiated at the graveside service at St. Peter's Cemetery together with the Rev. Claire Maloney of Campbellford.

Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough was in the Sanctuary with the Right Rev. Monsgr. J. J. O'Brien. With them were the Rev. V. Corkery, Father Maloney, the Rev. R. Macdonald, CSSR, the Rev. M. Kennedy, CSSR, the Rev. G. Sullivan and the Rev. G. Gaughan.

Pall-bearers were Peter Moore, William Whibbs, Leo Wilson, Ernest Wolff, Edmond O'Brien and Hubert Masterson. Executives of both the CGE and the Canadian Legion were in attendance. A guard of honor comprising the Knights of Columbus, the St. John's Ambulance Corps and executive members of UE-CIO, Local 524, was present at the funeral home, the church and the cemetery. There were a great many spiritual and floral tributes.

Mr. Doherty died on Saturday in hospital, the victim of a by-stander accident at Exhibition Park on Friday evening when he was hit by a racing car that went out of control. A member of St. John Ambulance Corps, he was on duty at the time of the fatality.

Born in Asphodel Township, son of Patrick Doherty and the late Mary McGillen, he received primary and secondary education in the township and trained as a Redemptorist Missionary priest at Brockville, in New Brunswick and in Montreal. Ill health forced him to withdraw from this vocation.

One of the five certified instructors of St. John Ambulance, Mr. Doherty was granted leave of absence from the CGE on two occasions to train foresters in Northern Ontario. He was well known in Bell Telephone and Boy Scout circles and had been named honorary leader of All Saints' Rover Crew.

Since coming to Peterborough he had taken an active part in trade union work and was formerly recording secretary of the UE-CIO Local 524. Mr. Doherty was also former Chancellor of the Knights of Columbus, member of the board of trustees and lecturer of the local council of that society.

section of townspeople were questioned to learn how it was being received to date and what future benefits would accrue.

William Robb, homeowner and resident for 40 years said: "It will be an added expense that we could do without, since the initial expense of the system means additional costs to the homeowner to install plumbing from his house to connect with the mains at the street. My well and cistern have given me adequate water supply for 40 years and will continue to do so."

Merchant-property owner Perrin Rorke said: "It's a good thing for the future of the village for two main reasons. First, adequate fire protection and, secondly, an attraction for small industry which the community needs for its labor pool. Although I know it will be more expense in taxes, the overall picture will benefit, providing the present council is careful in paring down all expenses to keep in line with the 20-year debt it has incurred."

Maker of The Community

Councillor Dr. A. R. Atkinson said: "It will be the making of the community and is bound to attract small industries and will most certainly reduce the present high fire insurance rates.

"Norwood is in an excellent financial position, having been able to secure $100 cash for its debenture rate of $100.777 on its project's $100,000 loan. It will cost the community $7,000 per year for the next 20 years to retire their debentures and assuming that there may be 300 consumers at $20 per year each, the $1,000-balance can be taken up in the village mill rate without an undue burden in its increase. Property owners who originally voted against the plebiscite are gradually seeing the benefits that waterworks will bring the village and are now in favor of it."

Bank Fund

The fund seeks to stabilize the world currencies by temporary "sales"—actually loans—of currencies needed to meet international payments. It requires the members to consult it before changing their currency values.

The report dealt briefly with proposals for increasing the price of gold—a subject due to be raised in a pending resolution from South Africa. While an increase would aid the gold-producing nations, it said, other effects might be less beneficial:

"The predictable effect of such a measure on the United States would merely be increased exports in exchange for further additions to its gold supply which is already about two-thirds of the world's reserves....

"A rise in the dollar price of gold could have no positive effect in correcting the maldistribution of gold, unless and until the present payments difficulties have been met."

The 14-country executive board of which Britain is a member, noted in its annual report that wholesale prices for manufactured goods in Western Europe are about 16 per cent higher than those in the principal western-hemisphere nations.

"Where a price reduction of the magnitude indicated above is necessary to expand exports, it would in many cases seem possible only through an adjustment of exchange rates," the report said.

The fund's comments on the touchy subject of valuation are expected to spark a full-fledged debate on par values generally. Most of this talk, however, may be in secret session, after the delegates—including the finance ministers of member countries — gather for the annual bank and world fund meeting today.

Anxious For Adjustment

Treasury Secretary John Snyder, the chief United States delegate, is known to believe that the time is overdue for Britain to cut the value of the pound and to lead the way to a general readjustment of European currencies.

"If the public recognizes that an expansion of exports is necessary to maintain the flow of imports, and is prepared to accept higher import prices without insisting on corresponding changes in incomes, exchange adjustments in the deficit countries should involve only a relatively small rise in the cost of living," the fund warned.

On the other hand, the fund said peoples in various countries affected by devaluation insist on wage increases to offset the "moderate rise in the cost of living" the benefits of devaluation will be wasted.

Cabinet Meets To Review Legislation Plan

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP)—The Federal Cabinet meets today to review the legislative program to be presented to the first session of the 21st Parliament opening on Thursday.

Since the general election June 27, the Cabinet has been meeting only on Wednesdays. However, Tuesday and Wednesday meetings were called this week to give final approval to the speech from the throne, which will forecast the government's legislative plans for the coming session.

There is speculation that the speech will forecast new housing legislation aimed at encouraging home ownership through reduced down payments. It may also mention plans to join with the provinces on low-cost, low-rental housing projects.

Both matters were discussed by Reconstruction Minister Winters with the Premiers of all provinces during his recent trans-Canada tour.

Highway Plans

Also discussed were plans for completion of a trans-Canada highway. It is expected the government will revive legislation, not passed at the last session, providing for federal financial contributions to the construction project. The federal grants may run as high as $250,000,000, about half of the estimated cost of completing the highway.

References likely will be made to the current trade and currency problems, but it is believed the government will not be in a position by Thursday to forecast any legislative steps it may have to take as a result of the economic talks in Washington with representatives of Britain and the United States.

The government may call for early passage of the budget and the department estimates of expenditures for the 1949-50 fiscal year.

Some supplementary estimates of expenditures likely will be introduced to cover expenses unforeseen when the original estimates were prepared last year.

Some observers believe the government will leave over for another session, its legislation to abolish appeals to the Privy Council and make the Supreme Court of Canada the highest tribunal for Canada.

Peterborough District Horses Win CNE Prizes

BETHANY, Sept. 13 (ENS). — "Buddy's Don" owned by Mr. Clarence Neals, Bethany, captured first prize in the two-year-old class for the Best Agricultural and General Purpose horse at the Canadian National Exhibitions. This is not the first time this gelding has been a winner . . . he took first prize as a foal in 1947 and first in the yearling class in 1948.

Mr. Neals is well known for his fine breed of horses. Fifteen years ago saw his first entry at the CNE and his collection of prize medals and ribbons have been added to each year. "Jean Surprise," the dam of "Buddy's Don," has taken several first prizes as a General Purpose mare and was awarded the Senior and Grand Championship in Toronto in 1947.

There have also been some fine race horses raised at the Neals farm. "Beth Peters" has raised seven colts, everyone of which has been in the money with their own racing records. Her three-year-old "Wanda Harvester" sold to Mr. Jeffries of Waubashene as a foal, took first money in the 27 class of aged horses at the Peterborough Exhibition this Fall, also winning the cooler blanket donated by Kresges.

Millbrook Entries Win

David White of Millbrook took first prize and Reserve Junior Championship with his "Buddy's Molly" in a class of nine at the CNE; third on "Jerry's Linda; third on "Buddy's Dolly Layette" and fifth on "Buddy's Queen." These are all Percheron horses, general purpose and the classes were the largest on record in Toronto. Mr. White was also a prize winner in the Get of Sire and Progeny of Dam classes.

Gets 18 Prizes

Roy Ferren, Cavan, collected 18 prizes . . . showing 13 times and in the money every time. Some of his entries included "Buddy's Linda," who was awarded first prize as the best agricultural general purpose mare and went on to win the Grand Championship for that class.

"Weyburn Belle," a 12-year-old brood mare has been a winner at the Canadian National Exhibition and Royal Winter Fair for many years, this time took fourth prize and her tenth foal, "Buddy's Roxy" won second prize . . . and shown again in the boys' foal class, won another third prize. All "Weyburn Belle's" colts have been in the top money each year. Second prize went to Mr. Ferren in the get of sire and progeny of dam classes and another second on the best group, stallion and two mares . . . "Monarch's Emblem," "Buddy's Roxy" and "Buddy's Belle."

All the aforementioned horses owned by Clarence Neals, David White and Garold Robinson were sired by stallions from the Ferren farm.

Return True Bill

WINDSOR, Sept. 13—(CP) — The grand jury Monday returned a true bill in the case of Michael Stancek, charged with murder in the Feb. 18 slaying of his wife, Pauline Stancek, 56. The 63-year-old laborer goes on trial Wednesday. The woman's bludgeoned body was found in the kitchen of her home when a neighbor went to investigate smoke coming from the premises. Firemen said fires had been set in several places.

Gives Bad Cheque In Exchange For Car

COBOURG, Sept 13 (ENS)—Walter Spry of Toronto was remanded for sentence when he appeared in court Monday on a charge of obtaining credit in the amount of $225.00 by false pretenses. Chief George Hardy of Campbellford testified that in April the accused tendered a worthless cheque at Campbellford for a used car and then took the automobile to Tweed where he dealt it in on another one. He was picked up later at Belleville on a drunk driving charge and also one of false pretenses and was sentenced to three months.

Tired Driver Was A Danger

COBOURG, Sept. 13 (ENS)—Bernard Dewan of St. Catharines, the tired taxi driver, was fined $50 and cost for dangerous driving in court Monday. Dewan, heading for Kingston to pick up a fare, went into the ditch on Labor Day near Port Hope and was taken unconscious to the hospital. Provincial Constable W. Baluk said that Dewan was under the influence of liquor and also was very tired.

"I had had some beer in the afternoon but took nothing from then on and the accident happened early the next morning. I work in a plant during the day and then at night I drive a taxi. On my day off I work at a service station I am trying to save enough money to get married. I was very tired but not under the influence of liquor," testified Dewan.

"Whether liquor or fatigue, he was still a hazard to be on the highway," said Crown Attorney Harry Deyman.

"Was the taxi covered by insurance?" the magistrate asked.

"No, it was the one car that had none on it so I have to pay for it and the hospital bill too," replied Dewan.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter imposed a fine of $50 and costs and as the accused had no money with him gave him until the end of the week to send the amount of the fine.

Dies From Wounds

CANTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Willard Freeman, 41, died early today of wounds suffered in a shooting brawl that ended with a Canadian-born explorer badly wounded and a British trader dead. Police made no move to make an arrest although they said they had "100 per cent proof" of who did the shooting Thursday at Freeman's home. The gunplay climaxed a drinking party after Freeman's attractive blonde wife, Maya, retired. Harold Harris, 45, Shanghai-born British subject, was killed. Leonard Clark, 42, Canadian-born San Francisco explorer, was wounded.

Child Training Lecture Series Held In Village

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 13 — (ENS)—Mrs. Harry Johnson, M. A., of the Institute of Child's Study, University of Toronto, started a series of lectures in the Parish Hall Monday afternoon on family relations. The object of the lectures is to train leaders for community service in dealing with every day problems of training children in the home. The course will end on Sept. 16 and it is under the auspices ofthe local Home and School Association.

Mrs. Johnson said that emotionally the usual child is unstable. The peak of irritability came at the age of three. She stated that two year olds very seldom played with one thing more than two minutes. Children should be given a variety of interests.

"By the age of six children develop definite individual traits This is the period of rapid growth and the balance between rest and activity should be well regulated," she said.

"The school age child has abundant energy," she declared. "and he should be kept active to use it up. His motor skills are increasing rapidly and he is beginning to show more control over his emotions. There are fewer temper tantrams," she added.

"Parents become worried about school age children because they want to be into everything. Some collect stamps, others fossils and some collect toads. Their enthusiasm is of short duration. Let the child develop his own interests," she said.

Tact Needed

Mrs. Johnson stated that the adolescent period needs tactful supervision. "The patterns in earlier years," she said, "determine what is going to happen now. A routine check should be kept on the adolescent but a reasonable excuse should be accepted for infringement of the rules," she stated.

"This is the period of physical growth spurts," Mrs. Johnson continued. "The uneven growth of the body and limbs make him look awkward. It is a serious mistake for parents to laugh at his awkwardness," she added.

"The adolescent," she stated, "is interested in the opposite sex and is becoming concerned with social customs. He wants to know how to act at parties. How to dress for certain functions. Parents should be able to give him the required information," she said.

Taking the courses are Miss Bessie Hinton, Mrs. F. G. De Carroll, Mrs. E. J. Wilmink, Mrs. Frank Osborne, Mrs. A. C. Newman, Mrs. Gerald Mitchell, Mrs. W. C. Tatham, Mrs. H. R. Hendershot, Mrs. Kenneth Robins, Mrs. John Cowell, Mrs. Kenneth Cairns, Mrs. J. D. Mills, Mrs. Edwin March, Mrs. J. R. Anderson and Miss Leone Dockendorff.

Painters Blow Torch Starts House Fire

COBOURG, Sept 13 (ENS)—Cobourg fire department was out twice Monday. The first time was to a fire at the home of Mrs. S. B. Sherey on Henry Street, caused when a painter's blow torch ignited a window frame and the second time, at night, was in the nature of a celebration. At 10 p.m. the bell rang and the truck tore out of the fire hall but not to a fire. It was to welcome the Orphans returning from winning the championship tilt at Lindsay. The members of the team piled on the truck and were borne up and down the main street.

Church Members Attack Priest

BERWICK, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP). —A Greek Orthodox priest was dragged from a church, beaten and pelted with eggs by church members angered because he said he had been sent to replace their present pastor, church officials reported on Monday.

The attack was made after the early mass Sunday on Rev. Basil Stabalaski, about 40, who came here last week from Jeanette, Pa. The report was made by George Pypiak, vice president of the congregation.

The beaten priest said he had been sent to replace Rev. John Bilanich, about 35, who had been priest at St. Cyril and Methodius Church for nearly two years.

According to Pypiak, members of the church became angry when the new priest conducted early mass.

After the mass, a group of women pulled Father Stabalaski outside the church where about eight men beat him and then threw eggs at him, Pypiak said.

Planning Hospital Ceremony At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD Sept. 13 — (ENS)—The April canvass netted the new Memorial Hospital fund about $13,000, A. J. Meyers, chairman of the building committee, told the Rotary Club on Monday "This is not enough," he continued "but the effort was worth while."

"The hospital is making excellent progress," he said, "although we are short of funds at present. There are several ways of making this up," he added.

He asked the Rotary Club executive to make plans for the laying of the corner stone. "Let us make this day an outstanding event in the history of Campbellford and surrounding district. The hospital is erected in memory of those who served so faithfully and well in two world wars."

Plans are underway to lay the corner stone on Oct. 12. Invitations will be sent to government officials, both provincial and federal; presidents and officers of ladies' organizations in Campbellford and the surrounding rural areas and reeves and councillors of the adjacent municipalities.

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning to Work With Copper and Brass

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of workers to become proficient in the art of shaping and moulding copper and brass, will mean greater industrial progress—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy—that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.

Pigeon-Holed City Plans

Yesterday Torontonians were showered with a City Plan which raised their hopes—and the expectations of outsiders who have to frequent its streets from time to time. This Plan seems to have the virtue of financial practicality, if not of radical, comprehensive and imaginative design. The improvement of highways, parks, bridges and streets would cost, it is calculated, $179,000,000. That is not an excessive amount for a place the size of Toronto. It is equivalent to spending six and a half million dollars on a Peterborough plan. In fact, from the financial view alone, Peterborough's present Plan is much vaster. Moreover, Peterborough is dong something about its Plan, (very modestly, it is true) and this Toronto paper-project is merely the latest of a series of seven. The 1908, 1911, 1915, 1929, 1931 and 1943 plans were pigeon-holed.

* * *

Even outsiders like Peterburians are hopeful that Toronto will stir its stumps and improve itself. It is now really an atrocious place—from many points of view including those of a motorist—for about a million people to be inhabiting. Lacking adoption of a tailoring method, the city has sprawled like an adolescent, and has the worst blotches, gawkishness and lack of civility and dignity which the most mal-formed adolescent can exhibit.

* * *

The flurry caused by the publicizing of the Toronto Plan calls to mind Peterborough's Plan. It is time that it was dusted off, and the public again informed what it is, what has become of it, what aspects of it have been adhered to and developed thus far, and in what ways it has been ignored. It is so important to Peterborough that it should be kept before the public eye, by neighbourhood displays, by Council reference to it when new projects are considered or authorized, and by private and group discussion.

The New German State

A country called The German Federal Republic—or in journalistic parlance, West Germany—has been set up. The first democratically-elected German parliament since 1933 assembled last Wednesday at the university town of Bonn on the Rhine. It has two Chambers: the Bundesrat, or Federal Council, and the Bundestag, or Parliament (analogous with our House of Commons). The first is a small deliberating body of Minister-Presidents, Ministers and high civil servants; it is the federal organ of the various State governments. It is an appointed body. The Bundestag, whose President Theodor Heuss, was chosen yesterday, is elected by general vote of the people. Konrad Adenauer has been named Chancellor, or titular head of the new state.

These two Parliamentary bodies, from which political power in the future Germany will spring, are realities. Power is now vested in them, and not in the remaining occupation authorities. Germany is now back in the European field, even though the field, so dismembered and ravaged, hardly exists. What will be the fate of the new Republic? Will it fare better than did the Weimar Republic established after the Great War? Has the second defeat taught the Germans better than the first defeat how to live in a political democracy; has it taught German governments how to govern?

In our Third Column today Peter de Mendeissohn, who has been in Germany as an English political observer almost continuously since 1945, reaches some sombre conclusions. He believes that the flood of refugees into the new state from the eastern German zones, is creating conditions of unemployment, social tension and national feeling comparable with the conditions which made Hitler's rise to power in 1933 possible. It is not a reassuring view.

If an explosion occurs, the occupying powers (the U.S.A., Britain and France) will have to deal with it, for two reasons. No German government could handle it successfully and still retain support; it would be accused of being traitorous to the "national cause". Secondly, the partition of Germany and the creation of the new State were the work of the Occupational Authorities. The Germans will say that these outside Powers have been responsible (for in hours of great crisis the Germans have always known how to wash their hands of their fate), and the western authorities will have the whole mess back on their hands. As a matter of fact, under the Occupational Statute (still in force) internal security in Germany is an Allied responsibility.

Master Of The Orchestra

When a great or famous man of our times dies we take a sort of personal pride. We are proud that our life-span has crossed his, and that we can claim a vicarious lustre for having lived when when he did. Richard Strauss, the German composer, died last Wednesday. He was the foremost master of the orchestra, a great musician, and some of his compositions are immortal.

It seems rash to say of a man of our own times that he has composed immortal works. Not so with Strauss, for he lived so long (he was born in 1864) that Time has been able to make judgement. His best works were composed near the turn of the century, and he has written little of account since the first World War. Don Juan was composed in 1889 when he was twenty-four; Death and Transfiguration, Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks, Thus Spake Zarathustra (after Nietzsche), Don Quixote and Eien Heldenleben were all written before 1903, when he conducted them in the United States, and when a Strauss festival was given in London.

The year 1903 is nearly half a century before these times. Can Strauss therefore be called contemporary? His orchestration is proof that he is. Purists and pundits have called his work vulgar and sensational. It is still "vulgar" in the sense of portraying the mass Ethos; it is still sensational, in the sense of touching the senses. The onslaught of the opening measures of his Don Juan never fails to thrill.

Strauss is Bavarian rather than German (he was born in Munich, son of a chamber-musician and horn-player — which may explain his predilection for that beautiful instrument.) Incidentally he is no relation of the two Johann Strauss's of Austrian waltz fame. Richard Strauss, though schooled by Von Bulow, and master of counterpoint and harmony, discarded both classical and romantic forms. There is no German thump in his music. On the other hand there is not the sensitive lyricism of Debussy, his contemporary. He is descended from Berlioz of the program symphony, of Liszt of the symphonic poems, and of Wagner of the music dramas. His genius is in torrid, lush and violent orchestration. His most famous scores are "program" music, music in which analysists claim to find pictures and stories. So be it. But despite obvious banalities, a philosophy of our times emerges in his music.

We write of him in the present tense, though he is now dead. We do so with reason: his music lives.

Europe In Council

The Council of Europe has now concluded its first Asssembly of a month's duration. It was set up by a Statute last May, signed by the Foreign Ministers of the ten founder Governments. Its aim, as stated in Article 1, is "to achieve greater unity between its members for the purpose of safeguarding and realizing the ideals and principles which are their common heritage, and facilitating their economic and social progress." It is unlike the European Movement, which is a visionaries' crusade to create one governing Parliament for Europe, and has no official governmental support. Though the Council of Europe has official status, it is quite outside U.N. Whether the Council of Europe can achieve anything practicable, such groups and discussions do help to create a favourable climate for integrating Europe and promoting its health.

For centuries men of good will, through individual effort and organizations, have tried to unify Europe. It was more or less of a unity under the Holy Roman Empire, but the growth of nationalism from the fifteenth century on has destroyed any unity except for brief periods when, by force of arms, a Napoleon or a Hitler have almost succeeded in imposing superficial unity.

Mr. Churchill is one of the ardent proponents of the urgent need as well as desirability of a united Europe, where national legislatures will take second place to a Parliament of Europe in all matters affecting more than one country. But Mr. Churchill, out of office, can go further than Mr. Attlee, who is responsible to his own people. So, at Strasbourg during the last month, the Consultative Assembly (to which Mr. Churchill was a delegate) went farther than the Committee of Ministers (composed of Foreign Ministers or their deputies) could go. If the Assembly's powers are widened, and the Ministers' thereby curtailed the Council is likely to be less effective, since it would be unrepresentative of the various Governments. Nevertheless, this League of European Nations seems deserving of financial support and continued official status.

Western Germany Prospect

By PETER DE MENDELSSOHN

ON the eve of the opening of the first democratically elected Parliament for sixteen years, the prospects for the emergence of a reasonably balanced community in Germany which would be economically stable and mentally sound, are not good. They are, in truth, distressingly poor. Of this the present writer, who has spent the last four and a half years almost uninterruptedly in Germany, both in an official capacity and as a newspaperman, feels sadly convinced.

There is no doubt that the return of economic prosperity to Western Germany has been accompanied by a noticeable spiritual slump. This manfiests itself not only in politics and in cultural fields but quite generally in the conduct of public and private affairs. Germany is still at war, with the Allies and with herself. She is further from being pacified, internally or externally, than she was four years ago.

CURRENCY reform and the abundance of goods and services which are being pumped into Western Germany under the Marshall Plan, have given most Germans a highly exaggerated view of their economic weight. Very few of them admit that only a limited proportion of this prosperity is due to Germany's own efforts, and many, with a typical German twist, declare with satisfaction when foreign criticism of German economic management is heard, that "the others are merely envious because our efficiency has put us back on our feet so quickly."

Similarly in the sphere of politics, the necessity, from an international point of view, of rapidly establishing the West German State and endowing it with a medium of sovereignty, has led, on the part of West German politicians, to an almost pathetically exaggerated view of their own importance.

There is an acute consciousness among the public and the politicians that Germany's stock abroad has fallen noticeably during the past few months, and as a result there has been much murmured indignation, particularly during the recent election campaign, about British and French "unreason" and "outlived vindictiveness." Few people stop to ponder whether they might not themselves be responsible, in part at least, for this deterioration. There is much talk about Germany's "rights", and very little about her "duties."

✧ ✧ ✧

ONCE again, it seems, Germans want to have their cake and eat it. While insisting on all the benefits of Western integration they seem to reserve for themselves the right to behave as if they had no responsibility for it. The atmosphere is one of divided counsels and mutual recrimination, in which nationalists tendencies and a new brand of neo-Nazism are flourishing happily. The revival of military trappings and the complete collapse of the entire denazification system have gone hand in hand. Hyper-sensitivity in regard to the evil record of the Hitler years goes to astonishing lengths.

It is definitely no longer "good form" to mention those years: they are treated as if they had never been, and no denazification chamber dares any longer treat their more prominent representatives as they deserve, for fear that the tables may be turned.

HOW can the Allies tolerate all this? The question is frequently asked in genuine anxiety and apprehension by sincere and forward-looking Germans. The answer seems to be that it is too late for Allied intervention in the reshaping of the German mental make-up. After some thought those asking for this intervention usually agree that most probably it would only make matters worse.

For even if all other things were equal, which they are not, there would still remain one factor of such overwhelming weight as to reduce to utter futility all attempts to consolidate this nation and its new State. That factor is the refugees. The prospects of the West German State are the prospects of its refugees. These prospects are black and are becoming blacker every day. As likely as not the refugees will wreck the new Republic.

THERE are over twelve million of them in Western Germany today. Only a very small proportion of them can be integrated in the social and economic life of the community. There is nowhere for them to live, and there is no work for them. Despite all plans and sacrifices they could never be absorbed, even if their number remained stable.

Unfortunately it does not. The influx continues. More than one thousand enter the British zone alone from the Soviet zone every day. The population of the West German Federal Republic is swelling by at least 40,000 destitute people every month. They represent a vast, amorphous, desperate mass which sooner or later is bound to cause a massive social eruption.

IN 1933 Hitler needed a mere six and a half million unemployed to lift him into power. How is a semi-sovereign Government to deal with double that number unless it hermetically seals its eastern frontier (provided the Allies, who insist on the right of asylum, permit this) and thus finally divide the distracted nation against itself?

Potentially the situation is infinitely more dangerous than in 1933. The twelve million homeless and workless from Eastern Germany are surrounded by walls of hostility. Apart from individual cases of kindnesses and sympathy, which are rare enough, they are treated with abominable heartlessness by their better-off fellow-countrymen.

The West German Republic is born with a revolution in its bowels, and this revolution, as likely as not, will wreck the State before it has travelled very far.

In Mob

Another attempt has been made to break up a Paul Robeson concert, this time at Peekskill, N.Y. As a result, Robeson will be given something of the stature of a martyr, and will thus, no doubt, attract sympathy from outside the Communist party. Also, if mob violence against the Communists may be exercised with impunity, many people will be less inclined to oppose the Communist doctrine of violence. (Ottawa Citizen)

CHILLER!

A Month's Achievements At Strasbourg

By SUSAN STRANGE

THE last few days of the European Assembly were hard, hot and hectic. But in between meetings its delegates tried to sort out their impressions of the past month in Strasbourg. They went home last week-end, and people will be asking them all sorts of questions.

"Everyone says the Council of Europe has been a great success", they will say, "but what have you actually been doing there? We know there have been a lot of speeches about European union, but what have you really done to get any nearer to it?"

The short answer is that the Assembly has made up in its mind where it wants to go and has made every preparation it possibly could in four short weeks to get there as soon as possible.

First of all, where has the Assembly decided to go? Its 101 deputies—Conservative, Liberal, Christian-Democrat and Socialist (there are no Communists here) — have agreed that "the aim and goal of the Council of Europe is a European political authority with limited functions but real powers". That was the important Mackay-Philip amendment to the political report. They are also on record in favour of an economic union for Europe, a single Continental market with convertible currencies within which men, money and goods could move freely, protected to some extent by a preferential tariff such as Britain already has with the Commonwealth. This is the big decision.

WHAT are the preparations for the move? The Assembly has decided here to follow three main lines. First, to get more independence for itself; second, to push the Governments hard to start working together now; and third, to work out for itself the details of the journey. In all three it has agreed to use every means in its power, and, some would say, beyond its power too.

To be more independent of the Committee of Ministers, the Assembly has claimed the right to sit when and for as long as it wants (instead of only once a year for a month), and to debate what it likes without the ministers' approval. Then it wants its own Assistant Secretary-General and staff. It demands to share with the Ministers the right to admit new members. And it has proposed doubling its own size from 101 to 202 deputies. The Assembly has refused to go into hibernation through the winter. It has set up a permanent standing committee to act for it at all times. This can call for special sessions of the whole Assembly—probably one in January to deal with the admission of Germany, Austria and the Saar, and another at Easter to press on with plans for political and economic union. It will co-ordinate all the special permanent committees and subcommittees and will sit alongside the Committee of Ministers in November as a sort of "ginger group".

The pressure on Governments to work co-operatively right away is being exerted chiefly on the economic side, which, everyone agrees, is Europe's most urgent problem. The Ministers have been told, almost peremptorily, to make some concrete proposals on eleven points. They cover, between them, all the deep-rooted sore spots of Europe's economic sickness. They include proposals for organizing productivity conferences industry by industry, for convertibility of currencies and freer trade and investment, and for getting all the central banks working in unison on credit policy.

WHILE Governments work on these points, the Assembly's own Economic Committee under M. Paul Reynaud is going to sit on the doorstep of O.E.E.C. (Organization for European Economic Co-operation) in Paris preparing the way towards economic union, and four sub-committees will be studying a dozen specific economic problems—from the Ruhr coal industry to a European Investment Bank and the development of trade with Eastern Europe. Then, the Assembly says, there must be an economic conference between Europe and the British Dominions to agree on preferential tariffs and on a "common economic policy". Armed with this, the Council of Europe, would then send a joint delegation to Washington to negotiate with one voice instead of twelve for lower American tariffs and other related problems of Europe's dollar gap.

A permanent Political Committee, meanwhile, will be working out the details of the journey towards political union. Starting in Rome in November, it is to sort out all the various blueprints for European federation, confederation and limited union and come back by May 1st with a detailed plan and a full report of the changes each country would have to make to bring it about. It is a tremendous task to agree on United Europe, in whatever form, in less than six months.

These are the big things this Assembly has agreed on. But it has not ignored the importance of more innocuous problems such as human rights and social and cultural questions.

This is only a rough sketch of what the European Assembly has done. It has, necessarily, left the main responsibility for the time being to the twelve Governments. But it is also looking ahead to the time when the Council of Europe will be bigger and stronger than it is today. It remains to be seen whether in the next year these twelve European countries can agree to take the next big leap in the dark together.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will watch to see what he will say unto me, and what I shall answer when I am reproved. And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it....

Behold, is it not of the Lord of hosts that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves for very vanity? For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea....

What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a teacher of lies, that the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols? Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

But the Lord is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him. (Hab. 2: 1, 2, 13, 14, 18-20.)

O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me....

Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost paris of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me. (Ps. 139: 1, 7-10.)

Nurse Fined On Two Counts

Found guilty on two charges of leaving the scene of an accident and driving without a licence, Margaret O'Reilly, 444 George St., was fined $25 and $15 costs on the first and $10 and $2.50 costs on the second by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court Monday morning.

Provincial Constable David W. Coffey laid the charges as a result of an accident on Highway 7 about two miles east of Peterborough Aug. 25.

He testified when he arrived at the scene of the accident Miss O'Reilly was not there. He said he spent about two weeks trying to find her without success.

He finally was able to serve the summons when she was driven to his house by her lawyer, Emmett F. Sheehy. He said he had checked at the hospitals, where she had previously been in training as a nurse.

Constable Coffey testified Miss O'Reilly had shown him a mark on her arm which she said she had suffered from the accident.

Dr. Ralph Green testified he had been driving behind the O'Reilly car before the accident. He pulled up after the accident and asked Miss O'Reilly and a passenger, Frederick English, R.R. 3, Indian River, whether either was hurt. Mr. English answered no, and Miss O'Reilly shook her head negatively.

Miss O'Reilly said she had been on holidays after the accident. She had left the scene of the accident because she was hurt. She said she couldn't bend her knee.

She had accepted an offer to drive into the hospital from people in another car. When she reached Peterborough she told the people she thought she would go home and would go to a hospital later if she felt any worse.

She said she has been very nervous since and has been taking treatment for it. She testified she was a friend of Mr. English's daughter and was driving with Mr. English to have dinner at his home.

Mr. English, who was the owner of the car, told the court he had first told Constable Coffey he had been driving the car. About two days later he had told the constable the right story.

Mr. Sheehy argued that even a man with a leg cut off was bound under the law to stay at the scene of an accident. But in such a case he wouldn't be prosecuted for leaving for the hospital. He said Miss O'Reilly's case was similar, but not so extreme.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw said the injury was not enough to confine her to a hospital and in fact she had gone on her holidays. He said there was no real reason for leaving the scene of the accident other than to evade the police.

Canada, Land of Plenty Has Nutritional Problems

Studies conducted by the School of Hygiene at the University of Toronto, indicate that there are nutritional problems in Canada, despite the ample supplies of food. Mr. E. W. McHenry, professor of nutrition, told Rotary members at the Monday luncheon. "If we were in India or China, the prime worry would be to get enough to satisfy hunger," Dr. McHenry said, "and thus it seems strange that there should be nutritional problems in this land of plenty."

Dr. McHenry described the two worst problems facing the public in the nutrition lines as being overweight — "more than 1/6 of Ontario adults are overweight" and goiter, resulting from idoine deficiency.

Tests in a suburban Toronto public school indicated that, of the 600 children given examinations, 27 per cent were underweight, 12 per cent had a slight degree of anemia, and nine per cent showed evidence of having had rickets. Dr. McHenry emphasized that all these children came from good, middle-class homes, where there was sufficient funds in the family to buy the right foods.

Further studies showed that 29 per cent of the children were given too little milk (Dr. McHenry said that the child should have at least one half-pint of the beverage each day, 18 per cent. too little fruit, and 91 per cent no Vitamin D which is essential for the growth and development of teeth and bones. In addition, 27 per cent of the children were getting too much sweets in candy, cakes, pastry, and soft drinks.

The school has carried on studies in other centres, Dr. McHenry said, and because the figures already stated were borne out by other results, none could be considered isolated cases. The study of the 600 children was made in the Spring of 1946.

In a breakfast study made in York township in 1947, in which 8,000 children were involved, it was found that 45 per cent had very poor breakfasts, and that 17 per cent were forced to prepare their own breakfasts.

Dr. McHenry said that all this was happening when there were "excellent economic conditions, with high employment, wages rising, and family allowances being paid by the government."

While on the subject of economic conditions, Dr. McHenry condemned those people who insist that malnutrition is due to the economic standards. He also stated that the movement to let the government remedy the problems of the nutritional situation "is one of the most deplorable things existing at the present time. If the plan were followed, we would have government-masticated food dropped into our mouths."

Dr. McHenry said that in preference to feeding children some of their meals at school, he was in favor of educating the parents so that the children were nutritionally well fed. He said that two-thirds of Ontario children are adequately nourished, and that a more effective approach must be made to educate the parents of the remaining one-third, whose problems are due to "ignorance, indifference and inertia." Dr. McHenry said that he was strongly in favor of a movement in Ontario composed of four departments of the government: Education, Health, Welfare, and Agriculture, working in harmony. This interdepartmental committee is concerning itself with one simple story to present to the public, highlighting four important points. The points are: 1. Every child in Ontario should have at least one pint of milk each day; 2. Every child should have a source of Vitamin C, as in oranges or tomato juice; 3, Every child should have at least 400 units of Vitamin D, in cod liver oil or other form, every day; 4. The consumption of sweets of children should be decreased (a) because it affects the appetite for healthy foods; (b) because it increases tooth decay.

Dr. McHenry finished by saying that these four points are simple, altogether possible, and that "we need the healthiest children we can get in this country."

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, introduced the speaker, and Dr. Ross Smyth moved the vote of thanks.

Duck Production Up

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13—(CP) — Man's work, coupled with nature's bounty, has been gradually increasing duck production from the low of the early '30s, George R. Fanset, of Winnipeg, general manager of Ducks Unlimited (Canada), Monday told the opening session of the 39th annual convention of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners. He claimed a substantial increase in duck production has taken place this year despite drought conditions over a large part of the prairies.

His condition was described as critical.

PCVS Champs Presented Writing Cases

Nineteen boys, members of the 1949 Senior COSSA Championship and the Canadian Juvenile championship teams, were presented Monday with leather writing cases by Dr. Ross Matthews, representative of the Board of Education.

Dr. Matthews told the students in the PCVS auditorium that the cases were being presented by the Board for the particularly fine showing the boys made in bringing the school their first Senior COSSA basketball championship, as well as winning the Canadian Junior championship. He added that Mr. G. B. (Bev) Goulding, the coach of the teams, deserved a great deal of credit in bringing the titles to the school.

On behalf of the boys, Mr. Goulding thank Dr. Matthews and the Board of Education for the cases. He then showed the students the three trophies won: the Lord Byng Trophy for the Dominion championship; the Senior COSSA Trophy, and the District Trophy.

The Senior COSSA Trophy, he said, was donated by Shockey Mein this year. He added that he was glad that the trophy was won by Peterborough in the first year of its competition.

Mr. C. S. Browne, principal, in expressing his thanks for the cases from the Board of Education, said that the school was proud of the coach and championship teams.

For the Senior COSSA champions there was for each a red leather Julian Sale case. On the outside of the case in gold letters was printed the player's name, the championship and the year. The Dominion champions' cases were of light brown leather by Julian Sale with the gold lettering on the exterior.

The boys who received the cases were Bryon Young, Edward (Ted) Evans, Garth Joyling, Darreil Ackford, Peter Bailey, James Grant, Al Northcott, Harold Grafstein, Carl Sargent, Neil Thompson, Henry Dinsdale, Donald Griffin, David Dibben, Thomas Taylor, Howard Hempstead, Hugh Dibben, Donald Richardson, Blair Thomson, Richard Rutherford.

Baxter Urges Plan For Dual Currency

TORONTO Sept. 13 — (CP).— A system of dual currency for Canada as a partial solution to the current dollar-sterling problem was suggested Monday by Beverley Baxter, British Conservative member of Parliament.

"Somehow the relentless logic of events will move the United States toward the sterling bloc into some kind of working partners," the Canadian-born MP told the Empire and Canadian Clubs.

An all-inclusive pooling of the resources of the Western world is the surest safeguard against war with Russia, he said. Canada had become "a great world power."

"She can no more deny her coming of age than could my son who paid the penalty of becoming 18 by being drafted into the services—and I approved of that."

Do You Know...

The first man-made glass comes to us from the Egyptians living prior to 3,000 B.C.! At this time they discovered how to make a colored vitreous glaze to cover objects of stone and moulded sand. Centuries later this glaze was made thicker and was used for inlay and surfacing work. Still later they tried laying it thickly around a shaped core which was afterward removed. In this way were made the first self-standing glass objects.

Do You Know . . . that the earliest glass known to mankind is Obsidian, a greyish, glassy volcanic rock made by Nature herself?

Do You Know . . . that amazingly enough this natural glass of acid composition differs very little in analysis from our own man-made product?

Marines Edge Out CGE In Girls' Fray

Marines edged out CGE 10-9 last night at the Bowl in a round-robin girls' softball game, and the loss eliminated CGE from a chance at the finals for the city title. Two twirlers held them to nine hits and CGE errors hurt. There were plenty of arguments in the keen contest. Marines kept picking up the odd run and finished with a brace in the ninth to take it, earning the duke in a fairly fast fray.

Marg Perrin and M. Batley of CGE, with E. Whittaker and M. Behan of Marines, were best defensively in this fray. M. Hill had three hits for the winners, as M. Walling got two for two, and E. Whittaker and H. White each hit a homer. Marg Perrin led CGE with a triple and two singles in four, with E. Boyce hitting a homer. The crowd was not big.

The teams:

MONCTON, N. B., Sept. 12 (CP)—L'Evangeline, a 61-year-old French language newspaper published here, joins the ranks of New Brunswick dailies today. Ashby's Defeat Lindsay To Gain Playoff

Ashby defeated Lindsay lasses 12-6 Monday night at the Bowl to earn the right to meet Westclox in finals—opening tomorrow — and eliminated Lindsay. They deserved their victory with a heads-up brand, coming through strongly the last half of a neat tussle. Lindsay should have made it closer but just lacked enough hustle. The crowd was only fair for this round-robin contest, and the tilt lasted slightly more than an hour.

J. Dunk and L. Jordan stood out in the field for Ashby's, as M. Chase and A. McDonald looked best defensively for the losers. E. McFadden led the winners at bat with a triple and three singles in five appearance at the plate, D. Callan hitting a homer. For Lindsay, B. Archer got three in five tries and M. Chase banged out a four-bagger to wind up their season.

The teams:

Lindsay: D. Wakelin, c; M. Owen, 3b; B. Archer, rf, 3b; A. McDonald, lf; M. Chase, ss; H. Deyell, 2b; P. Graham, 1b; P. Richards, cf; F. Reynolds, p; D. Dawkins, rf.

Cobourg Wins League Title

LINDSAY, Sept. 13 — Cobourg Legionnaires won the Lake Shore League championship and advanced into the OBA Intermediate "B" playdowns by walloping Lindsay Merchants, 9-1, in the fourth game of the best-of-five series.

The outcome was never in doubt from the first inning, when lead-off hitter George Campbell led off a four-run rally with a triple.

Chuck Harriott, 19-year-old lefthander, was much too good for the locals. He fanned 12, walked three, scattered seven hits, left eight Merchants stranded, and received top support.

Big Bob Cooper, who starred at short during the whole series, led the Legion's 14-hit attack with three singles. George Campbell, Ross Zealand, Fred McMillan and Don Goody each had a pair. Arn Karrys and Lew McTaggart banged out two each for the losers.

Barring a few minor loop playoffs, the East City Bowl can be wrapped up after tonight and put away for the season insofar as the men softballers are concerned. Weather permitting, Tip Tops of Toronto tangle at 8.30 tonight there with the local all-star Merchants—proceeds going for minor baseball here—and that winds up the men's Bowl activity for this year of grace and few postponements owing to rain. Girls' playoffs should end there this week, and then the place has about had it. Tonight's tilt will see one of the strongest senior "A" squads in Canada performing, with the locals borrowing a battery from them, and it should prove quite an attraction.

Morrow Park will have floodlights suitable for night football this grid season, and there's talk of floodlights there for baseball next spring. A committee will check into this before the end of the year, members being Ross Dobbin of the Exhibition Board, Rollie Glover of the Morrow Trust, Vern Dawson of senior baseball, Haig Kelly of the rugby club, with Mayor Swanston and Ald. Hugh Waddell representing the city. It is felt that the big southend park should be put to more use for athletes. Different types of floodlights, of course, are used by football and baseball, the latter costing considerably more, perhaps $22,000.

Arcs At Riverside

This is all very well, but we feel that such a set of lights should be erected at Riverside Park. It is city-owned and has always been Peterborough's ball park. With floodlights in this park, there would be no need for some years of a new $60,000 grandstand. The present bleachers would do okay. Folks don't mind sitting in the open under the arcs during the summer—lacrosse fans averaged some 2,000 a game all season here at Miller Bowl in open stands under the arcs. The city could install floodlights at Riverside and charge an annual percentage in repayment. They'd have the lights paid for by ball clubs in time. It sounds like the sensible thing to us.

An interesting item appeared recently in the Toronto Star, the writer saying: "High school football in Toronto secondary schools this year may be a drowned duck unless the Board of Education and the pigskin coaches can see eye-to-eye on the subjects of extra remuneration." Seems the idea originated with Toronto public school teachers, who claimed they should receive extra pay for the extra time they put in coaching teams. Last winter, no organized sports were held in the Toronto grade schools. However, we haven't heard so far of any question brought forward by high school teachers to the board for extra pay.

* * * * * *

Not Much Likelihood

A lot of arguments were heard pro and con last fall and winter when the public school mentors declined to work extra for free. They had some sound points, but in rebuttal it was pointed out that certain qualified teachers were employed on the understanding they would have extra-curricular duties in athletic instruction. A certain amount of athletic activity is pretty much a "must" in high schools today, and has been for years. High school instructors here have always recognized this and were willing to give unstintingly of their time without looking for a cash payment. We don't anticipate any teacher strikes in this respect locally during this school year.

Girls' softball has reached the final stage for the city championship now, with Ashby's meeting Westclox at 7.30 tomorrow eve in the Bowl. Beginning the best-of-three finals, with one or two (if necessary) playoffs between these teams there the following night. Ashby's looked convincing last gloaming as they eased out Lindsay 12-6, while Marines rubbed out Electrics 10-9 in a tidy tussles. Woollens have a return junior PWSU fray in Toronto this Saturday, and it looks like the lasses' season is about over. Westclox are by no means unfamiliar figures in city playoffs, and Ashby's have come a long way in the past several seasons to rate as one of the two best teams in the girls' city loop.

Westclox Victors Over Raybestos

Westclox went one up in the fastball finals last night by downing Raybestos 5-4 in eigh innings. Called for darkness. They now lead the best-of-five series two games to one, the next game being at six p.m. Wednesday at Quaker Park.

There were few errors in the good scrap with both infields showing up well. Tyndall of Rays stood out at short and McMasters had a fine catch in deep left with the bases loaded. Morin of Big Bens bounced a homer off the bridge for the longest hit of the series. McMasters had three for four and Morin two in four tries. E. Maudsley and Tyndall led the losers with two apiece.

Westclox scored two in the first on Watson's single, McDonald's double and an error. Rays made it 3-2 in the third on three walks, three hits and a miscue. Quigley replaced B. Guerin then. In the fourth, Westclox made it 4-3 on McMaster's double and Morin's hard homer, but Rays tied it in the fifth on a walk to Nichols and hits by Crompton and E. Maudsley. Westclox shoved over the winner next heat on hits by McMasters, Morin and M. Guerin. Teams:

Raybestos: Crompton, r; E. Maudsley, 1b; Simpson, 3b; Giles, c; Murphy, p; Parsons, rf; Stuart, lf; Tyndall, ss; L. Maudsley, 2b; Nichols, cf.

King Ordered Defend Title

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP)—Li'l Arthur (Tiger) King, a hard-hitting Negro who holds the Canadian and British Empire lightweight boxing crowns, will have to defend his Canadian title by Sept. 20, agree to lay it on the line, or consider it vacant.

That's the terse ultimatum issued by the Canadian Boxing and Wrestling Federation handed down at the annual meeting here Monday.

If the 22-year-old King decided to defend his title it will be the second time since he won it from Montreal's Danny Webb here in February, 1948.

Where is a strong contender? The Federation hasn't yet named one but listed nine hopefuls after their meeting. Atop the list is Webb. Others include Solly Cantor, of Toronto, Dick Howard of Halifax, Wilf Desjardins of Winnipeg and Percy Paris of New Glasgow.

The 135-pound, five-foot-eight champion is currently carrying his fistic prowess in the United States. He is ranked seventh among the world lightweight contenders.

NHL Schedule Establishes An Innovation

MONTREAL, Sept. 13 (CP) — The National Hockey League 1949-50 schedule released today establishes an innovation whereby a team remains over in a city to play the same club after an interval of one or more nights.

This occurs six times in the 70-game schedule for each club, stepped up from last season's 60, and the increased playing dates also man an earlier start than ever and a finish as late as any NHL schedule has ever wound up.

There are "week-end double-headers" for Saturday-Sunday play, as in previous seasons, but the same teams do not meet on those successive nights.

Montreal Canadiens, Toronto Maple Leafs, New York Rangers and Detroit Red Wings play 20 week-end "double-deaders." Boston Bruins play 22, and Chicago Black Hawks 21.

The stay-over innovation brings about these games:

Chicago at New York Nov. 9 and 12; Canadiens at New York Dec. 4 and 7; Chicago at Toronto Jan. 4 and 7; Detroit at Canadiens Jan. 26 and 28; Toronto at Chicago Jan. 29 and Feb. 1. Toronto at Boston Feb. 5 and 8.

Basic Night

The four United States clubs—Chicago, Detroit, Boston and New York—all have Sunday as their "basic" playing night. Saturday is the "basic" night for the two Canadian clubs, Toronto and Montreal.

Toronto plays 24 of the 35 home games on Saturday, Montreal 21. Boston has 18 Sunday games, two more than Chicago, Detroit and New York.

Last year, with a 60-game schedule for each club, the season opened Oct. 13 and closed March 20, the full schedule played over a 20-week period.

With the additional 10 games for each team this year, the season covers 24 weeks, opening Oct. 12, earliest on record, and closing March 26.

Home opening dates for the six clubs, previously announced, are: Oct. 12, Boston at Detroit; Oct. 13, Chicago at Montreal; Oct. 15, Chicago at Toronto; Oct. 16, New York at Boston; Oct. 25, New York a Chicago; Oct. 26, Boston at New York.

The annual All-Star game sends the "dream team" selection against the Stanley Cup winners, Toronto Maple Leafs, in Toronto on Thanksgiving night, Oct. 10.

Can't Beat Machines

HULL, Que., Sept. 13 (CP)—A 15-year-old boy Monday learned the hard way—that slot machines can't be beaten. Jean-Lys Pilon, curious to see if an automatic soft-drink machine would vend without having its coin box crossed with silver, thrust a hand in the outlet. The outlet clamped the boy's hand in a firm grasp. He was released by police an hour later after they broke the lock.

Frank Turnesa, 51, second oldest of the famous golfing brothers, died Monday at White Plains, N. Y.

He entered the hospital April 7 but in June was reported recovering from a serious illness.

Former professional at country clubs in this area, Turnesa more recently was associated with a manufacturer of golf equipment.

His youngest brother, Willie, is a past United States and British amateur champion, the only one of the brothers who didn't turn pro. Joe, Jim and Mike, other brothers, have been outstanding in professional tournament play.

Some 46 aspirants from Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba will report at Galt Monday when Galt Black Hawks of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series start training.

A farm club of the National Hockey League Chicago Black Hawks, Galt will also get a batch of recruits from the latter's North Bay training camp.

Philadelphia Phillies of the National League announced at Philadelphia Monday that Bob Miller, promising right-handed bonus pitcher, will report to the club within a few days. Miller, a native of Detroit who was signed last year by Toronto Maple Leafs, won 19 and lost nine for the Phils' Terre Haute, Ind., farm club in the three-eye league this season.

George Chenier of Toronto Monday night was tied, six frames each, with Sidney Smith of Britain at the end of the first day's play in their 71-frame exhibition snooker match at London.

Sunday Chenier eked out a 36-35 decision over Joe Davis, former world champion, by rallying superbly in the final two frames of a week-long 71-frame match.

Bobby Locke, South African professional golf star who was barred from this summer's American PGA tournament, left New York Monday by air for Johannesburg.

Locke said the British Professional Golfers' Association is conducting an inquiry into the reasons for the action of the American group. The Americans, in banning Locke, said they no longer regarded him as a "visitor."

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MART

On account of the men's open treble tournament being held this coming Saturday afternoon and evening, the "Family Hour" mixed rink tournament will take place on Wednesday night at 7.30 p.m. Phone your name in early. There might be quite a crowd.

In the first round of the club championship games, R. Hopkins won from J. Fitzpatrick and R. Hutchinson won from M. Fletcher. The games continue this evening.

Yesterday afternoon N. Routley won the club's singles championship from T. Parker, and it seems too bad that this important game was played at a time when most of our bowlers are working. These final games are always interesting to watch and they deserve an audience.

J. Cullen and C. Williamson came in for high two wins at the Loblaw doubles, played in Toronto Saturday.

The date for our annual masquerade mixed rink tournament has been set for Saturday, Sept. 24.

So far we have received no information regarding Friday night's tournament.

Tennis League Honors For Cobourg

The round score was 11-3.

In ladies' singles, Jean Vass of Quakers won from Kay McCaig by default men's singles went to Jack Adams over Bun Kingdon of Quakers 6-0, 6-1; in men's doubles, C. Royals Get 3rd Playoff Spot Turn Back Jersey City 5-1

By The Associated Press.

The International League playoffs get under way tonight with Buffalo, the pennant winner, entertaining Jersey City and Montreal playing at Rochester.

The line-up for the best-of-seven opening series was established by an extra game which saw Montreal turn back Jersey City Monday night, 5-1, to clinch third place in the standing. The two had finished with identical 83-70 records.

The Schedule:

Tonight, tomorrow—Jersey City at Buffalo, Montreal at Rochester.

Thursday, Friday, Saturday — Buffalo at Jersey City, Rochester at Montreal.

The teams shift back to the original sites if further games are necessary.

Rogovin will face either Red Hardy, 26-year-old righthander who has won eight and lost nine for Jersey City, or Roger Bowman, a young lefty who has an imposing 14-9 record.

Montreal's Royals have named Don Bankhead, the big Negro righthander, who has won 20 games and lost six, to oppose Rochester, which is expected to counter with Cloyd Boyer (15-10).

Second Victory

Ronnie Lee, rookie southpaw who only joined Royals a week or so ago from Newport News, gave the Little Giants only five hits Monday night. He walked only two, but one of these walks was bunched with two hits in the second inning when the visitors scored their only run. It was Lee's second victory.

Vinnie Dilorenzo, another rookie southpaw from Sioux City, hurled the entire game for Little Giants. Making his first start, he walked seven and was nicked for 11 hits.

Swift Sam Jethroe, the Royals' Negro outfielder, stole three bases Monday night to run his season's total to 89. President Shaughnessy said before the game started that the game would be included in the records, so Jethroe set a new modern mark for steals, eclipsing the one established by Ed Miller, of Newark in 1919. Miller pilfered 87 that season.

Relief Pitchers Key Men In Pennant Drive

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Joe Page and Ted Wilks, baseball's celebrated firemen, loom as key men in the stretch drive of the favored New York Yankees and St. Louis Cards.

The team standings and schedule give the Yanks and Cards the edge—but only as long as Page and Wilks continue to produce. Each has appeared in 15 games.

As their teams move into the final three weeks of the season with the opening today of the last intersectional series, the relief aces figure to tell the story.

New York, out front by three full games after Sunday's double win while Boston was dropping out, used Page in five of their 11 September games. Three times he helped Tommy Byrne out of trouble. He saved Allie Reynolds and Fred Sanford once each.

Boosts Morale

Return of Yogi Berra to home-run hitting form was a tremendous boost to Yank morale. They got another lift from Tommy Henrich injured first baseman-outfielder, who again is taking batting practice.

But most important is Page, who saved three big games in the last five days.

While the Yanks play a pair with the Brownies, the desperate Boston Red Sox must take on the steaming Detroit club. Winners of 9 straight and 18 of their last 20, the Tigers invade the east for the last time, intent on becoming a pennant factor. Time is fast running out on all Yankee chasers but particularly for Detroit which has only 14 to play and trails by 5½ games. They are eight back on the important losing side.

Edge Over Dodgers

In the National, the slugging of Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter and the efficient relief work of Wilks (11-3) have given the Cards a 1½ game edge over the Dodgers.

Wilks has been bumped in his last few outings but the St. Louis staff required his strong right arm in four of their last nine games.

The Cards, as did all 16 major league teams, had an open date Monday, but they're looking ahead to the big three-game series at Sportsman's Park with second-place Brooklyn, Sept. 21-22. Those games probably will decide the pennant race.

Tonight's series opener with New York Giants is the first of 12 straight home dates for the Red Birds. After that they finish up with five at Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Lawson Little, then a 26-year-old San Franciscan, blasted Canadian Open golf records when he totalled a 72-hole score of 271 at St. Andrew's, Toronto, 13 years ago today. Giving par a beating in every round, the burly shotmaker finished eight strokes up on Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-Delaware ace.

Finds Everyone Knows How To Run Movies

By ALLEN RIVKIN

(Editor's Note: Allen Bivkin has written 75 screen plays, among them "The Farmer's Daughter" and MGM's forthcoming "Tension.")

HOLLYWOOD, Sept 13 (AP) —"Everybody has two businesses —his own and the movies." I don't know who said that, but it was a mouthful.

Here's how it works: A friend of mine from Syracuse came to Hollywood this summer. He's a manufacturer in the upper brackets, lives in a 10-room house, has two cars and a swimming pool.

I took him to a famous director's house for cocktails. This director too, has a 10-room house, two cars and a swimming pool. And a gracious host he is, also. When my pal and I left, he remarked, "Hmm, these movie people live well!"

While we were there we got into a discussion of national politics and international economics. The director had one point of view, my Syracusean another, I a third. My friend was so patronizing to the director's opinions that I mentioned this to him when our host left the room for a moment.

"But he's only a movie director" said Syracuse. "Why doesn't he stick to what he knows?"

What About Reds

The next day we had lunch with a writer whose name you've seen on many a screenplay. The subject of how to write movies came up, naturally, and with that the other usual question that many non-Holywood folk ask: Aren't all Hollywood writers Reds?

No, all Hollywood writers are not Reds. There are 1,200 writers in the Screen Writers' Guild. Maybe one or two of them are Reds.

"Well, all right," Syracuse allowed, "I've been misinformed. But certainly you won't deny that the stories we get on the screen are pretty shoddy."

I still didn't blow up. I asked Syracuse how often he went to the films, since he seemed to know so much about our business. Loftily he replied, "Oh, perhaps three times a year."

Have Good Record

Then, of course, I had to tell him about "The Snake Pit" and "Treasure of the Sierra Madre" and "Johnny Belinda" and "Sword In The Desert," and how the movie stories show a better percentage of excellence, a greater contribution to cultural advancement, than the theatre, the book published field, radio or television.

Mr. Syracuse looked thoughtful for a moment. "You know what you fellows need?" he finally said. "You need a good public relations campaign. You writers ought to start telling the people something about yourselves."

"When you get back to Syracuse," we suggested, "be a decent guy and tell them for us, will you?"

Hucksters Make Use Of Market

Hucksters using the market who were not qualified under the city by-law to do business there were the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Board of Health Monday. Mayor Max Swanston said some people had been buying produce in Toronto and bringing it to the market in Peterborough for both retail and wholesale purposes.

The by-law stipulates that only producers may use the market, he said, and a watch was being kept to check this.

During the summer, a number of fowl had to be condemned owing to spoilage from heat, Dr. H. Worton, food and dairy inspector reported.

The spoilation was not the fault of the producers, but of the market, he said. Cold storage facilities were necessary. He thought there should be a closed-in market, with vegetables being sold outside.

"Either we must provide cold storage facilities or utilize the facilities already in the city," the chairman James Dutton, said.

Dr. Worton said he did not think any plant in Peterborough could handle the job.

Suspend Police Chief

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 13 (CP) —Chief of Police F. M. Hall was suspended by the police commission Monday for alleged failure to carry out instructions to divide work equally between two justices of the peace, Mayor Wilson Milburn announced in city council Monday night. He said that Chief Hall will be given a hearing before the next commission meeting, the date of which has not been set. In the meantime, Inspector James Enals will be acting chief.

Jailed For Contempt In Communist Trial

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP) — Carl Winter, a defendant in New York's Communist conspiracy trial Monday was jailed for contempt by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina. He was held guilty of "wilful and deliberate contempt" for refusing to answer a question on cross-examination.

He was sentenced to jail for 30 days or until he purges himself of the contempt action.

Winter is a member of the National Board of the Communist party and party chairman in Michigan.

Two Men Fined For Drawing Unemployment

Taking unemployment insurance payment which were not coming to them cost two men fines in police court presided over by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, Monday morning.

Irwin E. King, 623 George St., said he was not guilty of drawing nine days' unemployment insurance in January because he had paid the money back. He was found guilty and fined $15 and costs.

Oscar Spinks pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs and was ordered to pay back $65 he had drawn as unemployment insurance for 29 days in January and February.

W. D. Muirhead, who conducted the prosecution for the Unemployment Insurance Commission, said King had drawn the insurance payments while working for a refrigeration company.

King said he was given to understand by one of the employees at the insurance office at the time that he could draw one week's pay. He said he got only one payment and paid it back March 15 and 16.

"I didn't do it intentionally. I know that — not for the sake of doing wrong," he told the magistrate.

Restaurants Abandon Dish Washing by Hand

Two restaurants have abandoned dish washing by hand for mechanical machines and operators of two more are at present considering obtaining machines R. M. MacPherson, city sanitary inspector, told the Board of Health Monday.

This trend is definitely for better sanitization of eating utensils, the inspector comments.

Insect and vermin control is being carried out systematically by proprietors, the inspector reported. The fly problem was aggravating this year, and many proprietors were induced to switch to newer insecticides.

Halifax Leads Cost-of-Living Increase

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 — (CP). — Halifax led the way with a 1.6-point increase as the July cost of living barometer climbed upwards in seven of eight regional cities, the Bureau of Statistics reported on Monday.

Only Edmonton showed a decline. In the Alberta provincial capital the regional index dipped one-tenth of a point.

Higher food prices were mainly responsible for the index advance, the bureau said.

The regional cost of living index compared with previous standings:

Investigate Ring Passing $350,000 Forged Cheques

MALONE, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP) —Arraignment of a Buffalo racehorse owner before a United States Commissioner here disclosed Monday the investigation of a ring that authorities say passed about $350,000 worth of forged and altered American Express Company cheques.

The man was identified by Commissioner Milton J. Valois as Louis Leonard Alpert, 35. Alpert was arraigned before him Saturday on a charge of forging an express money order for $50 and was committed to jail in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Frank Kaiser, a United States Marshal, said he had been given custody of the man by agents of Federal Bureau of Investigation after Alpert was turned over by Canadian authorities.

Officials, who declined to permit use of heir names, said Alpert was being investigated as a link with a ring which has passed false money orders estimated to total $350,000.

Authorities here refused to say how many persons are believed to be involved in the ring or the area in which it was operated.

Alpert was turned over to the FBI after his release from Bordeaux jail in Montreal, according to an innformation filed with the United States commissioner.

He first was arrested last July 4 at Niagara Falls, Ont., and was sentenced to 30 days in Welland County jail on a charge of passing stolen money orders.

Niagara Falls police said Montreal authorities took Alpert into custody when he completed his sentence there.

G. K. Fraser Cup Won By Mrs. L. Mitchell

Mrs. L. R. Mitchell, 209 Geraldine Ave., is this season's winner of the G. K. Fraser Cup in the Horticultural Society's lawns and gardens competition. The second award in this class goes to Mr. C. Davis, 390 George St. South.

These honors in the beautification of residential premises are "for the best amateur lawn, garden and floral display, lot 50 ft. frontage or over; no professional help."

The Horticultural Society's Trophy for the best amateur lawn under 50 ft. frontage, went to James R. Richardson, 253 King George St., with Lorne Ritchie, 255 McGill St., second.

Other awards were:

Best rock garden any size; neatness, design and variety of plants and their condition, to be considered: 1, Ray Stabler, 541 Bethune St.; 2, L. Titterinton, 207 King George St.; 3, Mrs. S. O. Shields, 9 Anne St.

Wm. C. Wilks, secretary of the society, said the entries this year were not so numerous as usual.

"Weather and moisture conditions were decidedly adverse through the Summer," he said. "The necessary restrictions imposed on the use of water for lawns and gardens probably kept quite a number of citizens out of the competition this year. It is likely that they felt they could not do justice to the standards of lawns and gardens set in previous years.

"We think that must be the explanation, because we did not have one entry in the class for home owners who employ professional help. This is something we greatly miss, but we are hopeful that conditions will be more favorable and helpful next year."

Honor Gillespie In Street Name

City council is naming a new street in the south end of the city for George A. Gillespie. It will extend when open from Monaghan Road to Erskine Ave. and will be south of McKellar St. and parallel to it.

This street will be on one side of the property the council intends to buy for future requirements of the Board of Education.

The suggestion to perpetuate municipally the name of Mr. Gillespie was proposed in a motion by Ald. Douglas Miller, and was seconded by Ald. A. B. Burrows.

"Some people might get the idea that it was for me, or that I had something to do with it," Ald. J. A. Gillespie remarked with a note of humor.

The present generation is not aware that Mr. G. A. Gillespie once served the city as a member of the council, about 25 or 30 years ago. That was back in the days of E. F. Mason, Robert Hicks, John J. Turner and others.

Friends of Mr. Gillespie used to recall that an anticipatory clause in the city's agreement with the Peterborough Light and Power Company required that in the event of sale of their properties to the city no claim could be made by the company for such intangibles as goodwill and franchise.

The company's extensive assets, including light and power and the street railway service, were later expropriated, and in the settlement of terms nothing was allowed for the franchise rights which the company had actually received from the city.

That is only one of the many works of Mr. Gillespie on behalf of the community. Much of it has grown dim and out of mind, but as one man's contribution to his city and community it mounts up to a big score.

128 Homes Offered For Sale In Dutton Place Project

One hundred and twenty-eight houses are being offered for sale by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, but families who are now living in them will have first chance to buy. John W. Wocker, district manager announced today. Letters were sent out Monday night to the tenants of the houses which were built by Housing Enterprise Ltd. in the Dutton Place subdivision a little more than two years ago. This is the first time that any of these houses in Canada have been put on sale.

The price tags on the four types of houses will range from $6,050, for a four-room frame bungalow, to $8,600, for a six-room storey and a half brick veneer house with a garage.

Type of loi, varieties of siding and other differences will account for variations in the prices in each type.

$1,000 Down Payment

The general terms of the sale will be a down payment of $1,000 and monthly payments of a few dollars less than the rent they have been paying.

Payments for the $6,050 house, for instance, are set at $39. Rental for the same house has been $44 a month. The monthly payments fill cover, principal and interest, taxes and fire insurance.

The $8,600 which rented for $81 will have payments of $59. The permanent improvements which have been added since the houses were built are paid for and are included in the sale price.

A tenant has first right to buy the house he occupies, but tenants who do not purchase their house can remain tenants of the Corporation although perhaps not in the same house indefinitely.

At the moment Mr. Wocker has four vacant houses. The order of preference for people who want to buy one of these houses is a veteran who is a tenant of one of the other houses; any one who is a tenant of one of the other houses; and finally a veteran who is not a tenant of one of the houses.

The order of preference for the other houses which are now occupied is: the tenant of the house; a veteran tenant of another Corporation Housing Enterprise house; a non-veteran tenant of one of the other houses.

Sherbrooke Now Through Street

As a means of diverting some of the heavy traffic from Charlotte St., the council intends to make Sherbrooke St. a through street from Reid St. to Aylmer St.

This is a recommendation of City Engineer Chalmers following the recent completion of the new paving job on Sherbrooke St. The only change from present practice is that north and south bound traffic on Rubidge and Reid Sts. will be stopped at Sherbrooke St. and Reid.

"It will have to be pretty well publicized when the bylaw has been amended because people are now accustomed to Rubidge being a through street," said Ald. Dick Raine.

Aylmer St. will retain priority over Sherbrooke, and it is contemplated by the council that traffic lights fill be set up at George and Sherbrooke Sts. as a further encouragement of traffic across the centre of the city.

EXPLAIN FLOW CHARTS

The membership of Local 524 UE-CIO have been requested to attend a meeting tonight at the Brock Street Summer Gardens to express their opinions on the use of flow charts as a basis for the transfer or layoff of employees. The executive has already accepted this method and has been strongly criticized by members of the District Council, as well as District Representatives, for doing so. The latter advocate the basic principle of "last hired first laid off."

Three-Year-Olds Should Wear Labels Says Policeman As He Sorts Out Children

Three-year-olds should wear labels, a police constable said at noon today after two straying young boys had been sorted out and returned to anxious mothers.

About 11.30 a.m. police received a report from Mrs. Stevens who was staying with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce L. Payne, 734 Lock St., that her three-year-old son Ricky was lost.

A short time later, a lady at the north end of Reid St. called to say she had a boy who was lost who had been playing in front of her house.

Police were doubtful that this could be Ricky but they went to see him. The youngster insisted his name was Stanley Weisman, but there was no such name in the city directory in that district.

Shortly after, Mrs. Weisman, 734 Downie St., phoned to say her young son had strayed away. She had moved to that address just recently. Stanley was returned, but Ricky was still missing.

A few minutes later another woman from Crescent St. phoned and told police she had a boy whose first name was Ricky. A cruiser was despatched and the youngster was taken to his mother. As the officer said, three-year-olds should wear tags.

Canadians Find Scots Also Have Drama Problems

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

EDINBURGH, Sept. 13. — The Canadian actors who are in Edinburgh to perform "Eros at Breakfast" have admirable opportunities to observe the art of which they are amateurs. They have quickly made friends with some of the Scottish actors, and have known that the problems which beset the theatre in Canada, and which appear at times to make our desire for a national drama and a national theatre a vain fancy have their exact counterparts here. Scotland now boasts in this Festival the finest thing of its kind in the world; those who knew Salzburg say that this surpasses it; those who know the great American music festivals declare this to be superior. But the Scottish artists are not satisfied. To have the finest in the world for three weeks, and to be without a theatre or an orchestra for 49 weeks, is not good enough, say they.

We understand and sympathize with our Scottish hosts, but we feel that at least they have three weeks in the year when the arts are magnificently served.

We have been enthralled by the magnificence of some of the theatrical work which we have seen here. This magnificence has not been achieved merely by spending money. It is a magnificence of imagination and artistic insight. Consider one of the great attractions of the Festival, the sixteenth century Scots play "The Three Estates"; it is presented in the Assembly Hall of the Church of Scotland — the great chamber in which the General Assembly meets — eight times a week and this large auditorium is jammed full at every performance.

Sees Stage Genius

The direction of the play is by Tyrone Guthrie, an Irishman of international reputation. There is no stage in the conventional sense — only a platform in the middle of the amphitheatre. Upon this platform are such groupings of actors and such massings of color as are impossible on the ordinary stage. And in spite of the unusual nature of the production all of the cast of 85 can be seen and heard perfectly at all times. This is stage genius as we have not known it in Canada.

It is an astonishing thing, by the way, that this play should be performed at all, for it is a violently anti-clerical work, and was burned by the public hangman in 1558.

In contrast to the lavishness and pageantry of "The Three Estates" is the exquisitely quiet and charming product of "The Gentle Shepherd" at the Royal High School. This pastoral play is the work of the eighteenth century Scottish poet Alan Ramsay. Music plays a great part in its effectiveness and it is doubtful if Ramsay ever heard or saw his play so well done as this.

The Royal High School, by the way, must not call up a picture of our Ontario High Schools which, though possibly, useful, are not beautiful. The Royal High School is the gem of the Classical Revival architecture as shown in Edinburgh. "The Gentle Shepherd," too, is done on an open stage, and gains greatly in effectiveness by the intimate relationship which this creates between actors and audience. The director of this delightful, quiet trifle is the same man who created the grandeur of "The Three Estates" —Tyrone Guthrie.

Use Elizabethan Setting

As well as these exciting experiments in a new manner of staging (which is really a return to the Elizabethan stage) the Edinburgh playgoer may visit the performance of Goethe's "Faust" which a group of German actors from Dusseldorf are performing at the Lyceum. I do not understand more than a few words of German, and have read "Faust" only in English. Any criticism of the performance on my part, therefore, would be impertinent. It appeared to me to have moments of great nobility, of theatrical effectiveness and of imagination. But there seemed also to be a heaviness about the actors' approach to the play which was a little damping to a non-German audience.

"Faust" has not been drawing large houses. Many people, I hear, complain at the box office that they expected to hear Gounod's opera! Goethe must turn in his grave.

An Edinburgh physician said to me yesterday that he thought the Festival was the greatest assemblance of artistic talent that had been brought together anywhere in the world since the Congress of Vienna. If that is so — and I see no reason to doubt it — it is fortunate that Canada has some representation in it. Great numbers of people here seem to think that it was the Canadian government which sent "Eros At Breakfast" abroad, and are surprised (but politely silent) when we explain that our government refused us any assistance whatever. Nevertheless, the Dominion Drama Festival, the Ottawa Drama League, and generous private patrons of the arts made it possible for us to come here and show a great international gathering that Canada can produce more than wheat. Our great reward is that Edinburgh critics and Edinburgh audiences tell us that we are worthy of our country and of this magnificent Festival.

Survey of City's Finances Until 1959 Presented Shows Peak Rate 52 Mills

An increase of 3.5 mills in the 1950 tax rate was indicated in the forecast which City Auditor Edward Humpage presented to the finance committee of the council Monday night. This year's rate is 45.5 mills. The Humpage tabulation estimates 49 mills for 1950; 50 mills for 1951; then 50.5 mills for 1952; and 52 mills for 1953. That 52-mill rate is the high point for the ten year period from 1949 to 1958, inclusive, at the end of which the rate may have receded to 50 mills, assuming that capital expenditures are confined to municipal works that are now contemplated as probabilities up to the year 1953.

In his statement, Mr. Humpage translates the annual rate into the annual payment of taxes, on three assessments, chosen for illustration of the trend. One is a property assessed at $2,000, another $3,000 and the third $5,000.

Referring only to the $3,000 valuation, as an example, the tax payment for 1949, at 45.5 mills, is $136.50.

At 49 mills next year the taxes on the $3,000 assessment would be $147, or an increase of $10.50. That simply means that the owner of a property which is assessed for $3,000 would pay $10.50 more in 1950 than in 1949. And the same property in 1953, according to Mr. Humpage's figures of increase would be $156, or an increase of $19.50 over this year's taxes on that property.

The survey was submitted in tabulated form, the third statement of probabilities prepared by the Auditor, the first of which was drafted in association with the finance committee in 1946, when Herbert I. Bradburn was chairman. Mr. Humpage explained to the committee that, in his figures, he allowed for only a normal increase in assessments.

Divided Into Three Sections

In arriving at the total annual tax rate he divided it into three sections, one being the charges on borrowings by issue of debentures, a capital charge; another lists special rates, such as the requisitions for schools, hospital maintenance and so on, and the third is the general rate (plus garbage collection) including such items as the board of works department, fire and police departments, administration of justice, health and welfare and other expenditures, most of which are directly controlled by the council itself.

This general rate is 22.55 mills this year; is estimated at 22.33 mills next year; and remains at 22 mills and a fraction through the ten-year period.

Special rates amount to 16.60 mills this year; are estimated to total 16.50 next year; and then remain at 17 mills until 1958, again assuming that expenditures in this column remain stationary from year to year.

The increase in the total rate is found in the debenture charges. In this year's tax rate, payments on city borrowings are represented by 6.35 mills; next year, the Humpage estimate is 10.17 mills; and by 1953 the rate is figured at 12.27, receding to 10.54 mills in 1958, if capital undertakings are restricted to the works which Mr. Humpage expected to be completed or in progress by 1953.

Mr. Humpage set forth a list of projects some of which are already begun, others in planning stage, which in his anticipation of borrowings should be included in the general debt column. He does not refer in that statement to the new Civic Hospital, the financing of which is already provided for, and is reflected elsewhere in his figures.

These projects, the year in which they may be carried out, and the estimated cost are as follows:

Sewage disposal works, 1949-50, $600,000; new city hall, land and furniture, 1952, $300,000.

Memorial Centre, 1952, $250,000; miscellaneous capital expenditure $25,000 annually for 1949-50-51; fire hall extension, 1950, $50,000.

School Projects

Prince of Wales extension, 1950, $125,000; Grove School, extension, 1951, $80,000; Ashburnham (new school) 1951, $125,000; new High School, 1952, $400,000.

Sewers, Local Improvements

Trunk sewers, etc., $100,000 yearly for 1949-50-51; Ashburnham sewer, 1949, $100,000; Park St. drain, 1950, $102,000; street paving program, $150,000 annually for 1949-50-51.

The total of these projects in period from 1949 to 1952 is an estimated $2,957,000. The first payments on the work done this year and financed by borrowing will be in 1950; and those expected to be started in 1952 reach the debenture payments column in 1953.

The following paragraph is from Mr. Humpage's comments: "The above list estimates debentures to be issued up to and including 1953 only, while the annexed schedules show the estimated costs of these debentures to 1958. Therefore any debentures issued after 1953 for projects not shown in the above table would increase the debenture debts cost after 1953."

Obviously, some of the projects mentioned by Mr. Humpage may not be begun in the years he forecast; but they are all recognized as pending works, including new schools and the street paving program for next year and 1951.

This year's interest and sinking fund charges amount to $224,496, of which $145,126 is general debt; $50,163 Public Schools; $18,010 Collegiate Institute, and several others items for sewers and sidewalks.

That general debt includes any hospital financing prior to this year's borrowing.

If no new school building were undertaken the debt charges by 1958 would be reduced to $22,132 for Public Schools; and the levy for Collegiate Institute debt would be down to $4,885.

$214,521 Debt Charge

The general debt this year, as quoted above, requires a levy of $145,126; next year it will be up to $214,521; and then would gradually decline each year to $203,948 in 1951; $163,977 in 1952 and finally $143,239 by 1958, once more providing no other capital expenditure was incurred. But, as shown above there are proposed new expenditures for sewage disposal enlargement, new city hall, Memorial Centre, schools, pavements and so on.

If all the projects which Mr. Humpage conceived as probabilities were in progress within the next three years, the total annual cost of financing by borrowing would reach $472,528. And his estimate of the mill rate for debt charges in that year would be 12.27 mills as compared with 6.35 mills this year. That is the peak of his computations according to the conditions already repeated several times.

Defence Pacts Reviewed By Conference

By GEORGE KITCHEN.

BIGWIN INN, Sept. 13 (CP)—Delegates to the unofficial Commonwealth Relations Conference turned today to study of the strategic question of regional defence pacts after greeting with cautious optimism the Washington announcement of steps to relieve Britain's immediate dollar anxieties.

The Washington statement, stemming from a three-country parley and embodying a proposed 10-point program of relief, came late Monday as the delegates here were in the midst of a discussion on currencies difficulties facing Commonwealth countries.

Delegates from many of the 10 Commonwealth countries represented here expressed cautious satisfaction with the Washington development. Some of them felt it left many questions still unanswered.

Leaving economic studies, the delegates will deal today with regional security arrangements such as the North Atlantic Pact and discuss their possible application to the defence of the various Commonwealth putpsts.

Meet Every 5 Years

This conference a non-governmental body which meets once every five years to talk over the problems confronting the Commonwealth, meets behind closed doors, largely because its delegates, though meeting privately, are closely associated with their governments. Spokesmen meet the press daily to outline developments.

Hon. R. A. Butler, chairman of the British delegation and ranking British Conservative, commented on the Washington announcement and said it now was up to Britain herself to "take drastic steps to reduce our internal expenditures to a point worthy of this further help."

Disappointment was expressed, however, by Maurice Webb, the chairman of the British Parliamentary Labor Party, who said he had hped for "something more definite" than a promise by the United States to consider tariff reduction.

"It may be that this promise will lead to action," he added "If it does, then we are getting somewhere If it doesn't then the whole plan is useless."

From the Canadian side, J. Douglas Gibson, economist for the Bank of Nova Scotia, described the statement as "very encouraging."

HELD IN ROBBERY—Lou Ward, alias Louis Molner, 27, faces six charges of jewelry theft and police are probing the possibility he may be the smooth-talking thief who charmed Vancouver social circles to pave the way for large-scale robberies. Ward, shown being led into a Toronto police station, was arrested in a Toronto hotel Sunday as he answered the description of a man wanted by the Vancouver police in connection with several thefts including a $30,000 jewelry robbery. He is a former resident of Brantford, Ont.

Exonerate Death Car Driver At Probe Into Doherty Death

"An unfortunate act of fate" killed Philip Doherty, 43, 256 Aylmer St., a St. John Ambulance first aid man, a coroner's jury decided at an inquest Monday afternoon in the police court. A stunt car careening out of control while the driver hung half way out of the car smashed into Doherty Friday night during a daredevil stunt car show at the Exhibition grounds. Doherty died the next morning in St. Joseph's hospital.

The jury, under foreman Harry Yuden, included John Thompson, Cecil Lapp, A. J. Arnott and Harold Freeman. They found stunt driver Frederick Potter, 29, Worcester, Mass., "used all means of driving to avert the accident."

Recommendation

The verdict also said, "We, the jury, strongly recommend, that, in the future, where shows of this nature are permitted, only those people directly connected with the show be permitted in any danger zone."

That is a very good verdict and I agree with it, said Coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young.

Doherty together with the head of the five-man St. John Ambulance detachment, Harry Ferguson, and Norman Nesbitt, had moved to the west side of the judge's stand because they thought it would be safer.

Multiple Injuries

Dr. J. R. Epping who attended Doherty, said he had multiple injuries. He had severe shock, had both shoulder blades and collar bones broken, a collapsed right lung and partially collapsed left lung, seven ribs on the right side and one on the left broken and a compound fracture of the right ankle.

Dr. Russell Morgan, who performed the autopsy, said the crushing injuries to the chest had been the cause of death. He said there was nothing else discovered in the autopsy which would be a cause of death.

The stunt driver, Gerry Potter, said he had checked his car before the accident and mechanically it was 100 percent sound.

He said as he was coming out of the north-east turn about 30 miles an hour, the right front wheel hit a muddy pot hole throwing him part way out of the car. He drove down the track partly out of the car but was not able to reach the brake pedal.

His car swung to the right and when it hit a steep 13-inch bank at the edge of the infield he was thrown almost completely out of the car.

He managed to hang on until the open car door hit the north west corner of the judge's stand knocking him out, but the closing door trapped his feet in the car and he was dragged a short distance before he fell clear.

He received multiple bruises and cuts to his legs and some cracked ribs. He was wearing a crash helmet but not pads.

He said he had been thrown partly out of the seat at the start because he had unfastened the safety belt which held him in place by his upper legs.

He had unsnapped the safety belt after his act so that he could jump out quickly to take his bow with the other drivers.

First aid man Ferguson said he had been hit and knocked down, but suffered no serious injuries. He said he saw the car travelling fast down the track and appear to go out of control, then veer toward the infield and him.

Stay Back From Track

He said they had been told to stay back from the track when they went on duty. They had volunteered to be on hand in case of any accident.

Two ambulances, Nisbett's and Bellegham's, had been brought voluntarily by their owners for any emergency. Norman Nisbett, owner of the one ambulance was one of the group standing with Doherty

He said he had had his ambulance moved back where it had been in line with the judge's stand because cars had been skidding and splashing mud up on him and the others.

He explained when he saw the car coming straight for them he ran behind a pole. He said all those in the group scattered. He heard a bang.

"The next I saw of Doherty, he was coming out from under the car like a ball," Mr. Nesbitt said. He said the car was not going very fast after the accident. There was no driver in the car and both doors were closed.

Track Was Bad

John Crahan, manager of the stunt car show, said the track was in "tough" shape, but they had put on shows on tracks as bad. He said Potter was their senior driver and had been with the show about five years.

Constable John Morrow, who investigated the accident, said the car turned over on its left side after it hit the judge's stand and slid 34 feet on its side before righting itself. There was a small mark near the northwest corner of the judge's stand which looked as it might have been made by a door handle.

Dr. Young told the jury he thought there was no law against such shows being held on private property and therefore the Highway Traffic Act didn't apply to the situation. He said what the jury had to consider was whether there had been criminal or gross negligence.

He said the St. John Ambulance men were there on a voluntary basis They had moved from the east side of the judge's stand where they thought there would be less danger, but had in fact moved into a more dangerous position

Urge English Book Boycott Till Irish Works Admitted

By MICHAEL O'MARA

DUBLIN, Sept. 13—(CP)—Lovers of celtic literature want to launch a world-wide publicity campaign to seek money from fellow-celts and distribute celtic books on a large scale. The idea was discussed at a Celtic Congress meeting at Bangor, Wales. It was put forward by Liam Gogan of Dublin's National Museum.

Gogan blames the slow development of Irish literature on "the negative influence of bureaucratic elements." One of the major stumbling-blocks to wider sales of Irish books was the import ban imposed against them by the United Kingdom Board of Trade.

Some Irish literateurs would like to see the Republic set up a counter-ban against English books which sold to the extent of £208,000 ($832,000) in Southern Ireland last year. They argue that they do not want to "censor" English ideas, but merely to use a trade boycott as a weapon to have Irish books admitted to the United Kingdom.

One of the ways Ireland's Government has sought to preserve and revive the Gaelic tongue has been to make knowledge of it necessary for passing senior civil service examinations. "The "Irish Test" now has been dropped.

Instead, knowledge of the language will be examined in tests which are merged with normal efficiency tests. Thus a man who speaks poor Gaelic but otherwise has excellent qualifications for a higher civil-service post stands a chance of passing.

Turtle Story

Charlie Hearne went fishing off Bagenbun Head, County Wexford, and netted a huge turtle by mistake.

The beast, five feet long and about a quarter-ton in weight, put up quite a scrap before Hearne landed him.

Hearne, embarrassed by having so much turtle around, offered it to the Dublin Zoo. While waiting to learn if the Zoo will take it, he keeps it in his garden, where it is rapidly demolishing everything that grows there, and — as the local report understates the matter — is "attracting much interest."

Schooling System Under Eye Of Top Brass

By KAY REX.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 13 (CP)—Canada's schooling system this week will come under the eye of the "top brass" in the field of education.

Provincial Ministers of Education and teachers, parents and school trustees are among the 300 delegates assembled here for a convention of the Canadian Education Association.

The country school-house made the agenda this first day of the three-day meeting when L. A Thurber of Red Deer, Alta., chaired a discussion on the problems of rural administrators trustees and inspectors.

This is the 26th annual meeting of the CEA, which its executive secretary F. K. Stewart of Toronto, has described as "an inter-provincial association of education authorities supported by the Departments of Education in the 10 provinces."

Prominent Directors

Among its directors are all the provincial deputy ministers of education and several school superintendents and representatives of important local administrative areas.

Apart from its value in promoting mutual acquaintance and understanding throughout the Canadian educational systems, one of the CEA funuctions has been to conduct surveys into various aspects of education.

The recommendations from one of its most recent studies — the LaZerte report—will be one of its high spots at this convention. The report—on the status of the teaching profession—was prepared by a CEA committee under the direction of Dr. M. E. LaZerte, Dean of the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta. It will be tabled at a meeting tomorrow.

The profession was studied with respect to living and working conditions of teachers, teacher supply and demand, salaries and pensions, teacher selection and training and professional standards.

Men Of Fishing Fleet Honor Lost Comrades

HALIFAX, Sept. 13 (CP) — In Lunenburg Sunday the men of Nova Scotia's deep-sea fishing fleet will pause to honor the memory of their comrades who sailed to the banks—never to return.

It's been an annual service since 1926 when a howling August gale whipped up the Atlantic, wrecked two Lunenburk bankers and took with them their entire crews.

And it seems only fitting that the service should be held during September, the second month of the August-September gale and hurricane season in the North Atlantic.

Already this month the storms have taken their toll.

See it Today! Hear it Today!

• TODAY at your RCA Victor dealer's you can see a completely new system of recorded music. It is not just a new size of record or a new type of player, but an entirely new kind of musical enjoyment . . . the climax of ten years of RCA Victor research and development.

This research aimed at a new standard for recorded music by creating for the first time a record and player to work together:

1. It had to sound better than any heard before.
2. The instrument was to load more easily, and to change records more quickly, more quietly and more dependably than any ever built.
3. The new record had to carry as much music as a conventional 12-inch record. All records for all types of music had to be the same size.
4. BOTH the record and the instrument were to fit modern living by being at once smaller and lighter.
5. It must do all this . . . and cost less.

The result is here, for you to see TODAY! The world's simplest, fastest changer. And such glorious TONE . . . so clear, so lifelike, so completely free of distortion!

But you must see and hear it for yourself. For in the new 45 rpm Victrola system, RCA Victor sincerely believes that a completely new standard of value and performance has been established . . . a standard unmatched by any other record or record player available to the public. Give yourself a demonstration today!

The secret of "Live-talent" quality

As the diagram shows, all records have a "quality zone" where the music is undistorted. But toward the center of conventional records is a "distortion zone" where the music loses clarity and brilliance. On the new Victrola 45 rpm recordings, for the first time in history, ALL the music grooves are in the distortion-free "quality zone". And, with the new non-breakable vinyl plastic records, there is virtually no surface noise!

Playing surfaces can't touch!

Raised label surfaces on the new 45 rpm records act as "surface saver" shoulders so music grooves cannot slide across each other. They stay apart as you stack them, as you hold them, as they stand in your bookcase shelf.

Why they cost less . . .

These smaller records cost less, despite their finer quality, because of economies in manufacture and packaging. You get non-breakable vinyl plastic for less than most standard shellacs . . . only 75¢ for popular . . . only $1.25 for Red Seal!

World's fastest changer!

Acts silently with trigger-action speed. Has far fewer parts than conventional changer . . . works from within the center spindle. No more changer-damaged records. You can load up to 8 records with one hand . . . just press one button to play more than 40 minutes!

An end to record storage problems!

All the new 45 rpm records—classical and popular — are the same, easy-to-handle size. All fit the same changer, play in any 'mixture' or sequence of classicals and pops you choose. They can be placed in regular bookshelves, desk drawers or between bookends. 18 albums or nearly 150 single records to the foot!

If you own a conventional player

you can still enjoy a full selection of standard 78 rpm recordings. All RCA Victor releases on the new 45 rpm records will also be available on the standard 10- and 12-inch discs.

Eskimo Ruins May Hold Clue To Arctic Life

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 — (CP). — Hundreds of years ago Eskimos lived on barren, treeless Cornwallis island, far inside the Arctic Circle and some 1,200 miles north of Churchill, Man.

They probably came there from Alaska, 1,000 miles to the southwest, and dropped colonies along their migration route.

Those are some of the tentative conclusions reached by an archaeological expedition, just back from studying Eskimo ruins first discovered nearly 100 years ago on Cornwallis Island.

It may take years before archaeologists sort out some of the puzzling bits of evidence gathered by the party, headed by Dr. Henry Collins, Jr., of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, and Jean Michea of Canada's National Museum.

Today, for example, no Eskimos lived on the island.

Pieces of wood were found in the ruins—but there are no trees on the island and no driftwood collects on its shores.

The remnants of this former civilization were first found in 1851 by Capt. Penny, an Englishman who was searching for traces of the ill-fated expedition of Sir John Franklin. There were no Eskimos on the island then.

First Investigation

The expedition just returned is the first to investigate the ruins Penny found.

The archaeologists estimate the island was inhabited from 500 to 800 years ago by "Thule"—pronounced "Tooley" — Eskimos, a type of Eskimo living on the coasts and distinguished from the other types of Arctic natives such as the Caribou, Copper, Greenland and Labrador Eskimos.

Archaeologists say evidence indicates the Eastern Arctic and Cornwallis Island might have been a vastly different place when the Thule stock lived there. The presence of wood, for example, may indicate that Arctic currents flowed in different directions and brought driftwood to the shores.

Five Canadians Denied Entry Into U.S.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 13 (AP) —E. E. Adcock, district immigration supervisor, disclosed Monday that five Canadians Saturday were barred from entering the United States because of alleged leftist affiliations.

The five, he said, were denied entrance at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. They claimed to be on their way to attend the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union convention in Chicago. All were from the Sudbury area.

Entrance, Adcock said, was denied under a Justice Department ruling providing for the temporary exclusion of aliens suspected of belonging to any group advocating the overthrow of the United States government.

The case, Adcock said, has been reported to the office of the United States Attorney-General, who will rule whether the five are to be permanently excluded.

Adcock said that the five were believed to be entering the United States for propaganda purposes. Many other Canadians, he noted, were admitted to the United States to attend the same convention. The names of the five were given as John Patrick McCool, John Irenee Doucet, William Hywarran, Norman David Jaques and Leonard Dollard Gauthier.

There are 500 re-checks to be made between now and next Summer.

These announcements were made by Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, at a meeting of the Board of Health Monday.

Further comment on the survey will not be made at present, the officer said, as the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association had not had time to review the reports.

The Board decided to send letters of appreciation to the Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Boat Explodes In Canal Lock

FORT ERIE, Sept. 13 (CP) — Three Buffalo residents escaped serious injury Sunday when their 26 foot motorboat exploded and caught fire as it was passing through the locks in the Black Rock ship canal, opposite here.

The flames attracted attention all along the upper Niagara water front. The three men are George Klein, 50, Joseph Mertes, 50, and Felix Christiano, 51, the $2,500 craft was owned by Klein.

Klein told the US coastguard he was standing by waiting for the locks to open. There was a terrific explosion and a sheet of flame roared through the cockpit. A sailboat nearby threw a line, and the burning boat was pulled to the side, enabling the three men to leap ashore.

The vessel burned and sank in 25 feet of water. It is believed a leaking fuel line may have been the cause of the explosion.

Practical Clothes Theme Of Week Long Fashion Show

First showing Monday evening of a week-long fashion review by Black's of Peterborough highly pleased their 100 guests. This new idea, which the management hopes to make a twice yearly event, gave the women a chance to see a wide range of regular stock merchandise as it will look when worn, without the tiresome job of "trying-on."

Because they were seated on either side of a narrow carpeted runway on the store's second floor, everyone could see the style points of the garments and inspect the quality of the material. This will enable making wise decisions on fall buying before entering the store—a budget saver no end for those who must be practical.

Rustling taffetas highlighted the parade of cocktail, informal dinner and dance dresses. Some were in sophisticated black, depending on inserts of lace, costume jewelry and simple style lines. Newest were the delightful shimmering shot colors, orange and black, brown and gold, smoke blue and silver made up in figure-flattering designs, featuring Empire waistlines, stiff wing collars and very becoming necklines. The new collection also features lustrous satin stripes or coin dots, metallic design and colored eyelet embroidery. Flying panels were shown on a lovely wine crepe afternoon dress.

Petite Marie Adams modelled the high school girls' dream for dates—a black velvet suit, available in colors also, with metallic buttons fastening the fitted jacket and the graceful flaring skirt made to stand out with rows of tucks around the bottom. Also to please the girls, and their mothers too, were smart warm coats priced under $30.

Very new and highly practical is an evening coat that protects from any weather. Made of water-repellant moire in floor-length, it is exceptionally full to accommodate frills and flounces of the gown beneath, and the sleeves with elasticized cuffs can be left open making it a cape Hood of the black coat was lined with red velvet for elegance

A strapless evening gown of green taffeta was accompanied by a full length coat of yellow sheer with long full sleeves, which might conceivably double as a negligee. A sheer blouse suggested for wear with a pleated evening skirt had elasticized neckline and cuffs to make it wearable in many ways.

Zippers Used For Sports

Zippers were everywhere on the sportswear, including shirt cuffs, and on slacks they make the waistline adjustable to any size. The very popular jersey blouses were shown with slim-line skirts, featuring hip pockets. Suits had very straight skirts and were slit or had pleats at the hemline to give walking room. The jackets were enhanced by embroidery and collar and pocket detail.

A charming woollen dress was in honey beige and featured a wide low neckline that would make it right for evenings too. With it the model wore a black velvet and satin bonnet tied under the chin and black accessories. Other woollen dresses had fur and velvet trim and a grey plaid had a wide fringed sash.

Station wagon coats in full length are new in this city and will be appreciated by the working girl. They were shown in evening blue, and irridescent gabardine as well as darker colors and had warm sheep's wool underneath quilted linings.

Dressy coats had lavish collars of Arctic fox fur which keeps their price in easy reach. Small collars of persian lamb or bands of muskrat trimmed others. Several had smart capes of self material.

This show opened and closed with a bridal scene. Traditional white satin and lace was used for each of the wedding gowns, but the styles were entirely different. For the matron of honor dusty rose satin was suggested, the bridesmaids in lovely gowns of brocaded taffeta.

Midway in the review, tea and cakes were served the guests by Black's staff members. Roses were given to each lady with compliments of the management.

A special feature of the first evening was modelling of two new brassiere styles by a representative of the manufacturer. Three of these were offered as door prizes as well as nylon hose, and will be offered each night.

Kidd - Johnston Rites Held At Bride's Home

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Johnston, 188 Rubidge St., on Saturday afternoon the wedding of their youngest daughter Betty Mae to Mr. Leslie L. Kidd, son of Mrs. Kidd and the late Bruce Kidd of Warsaw, was solemnized by the Rev. E. D. Snelgrove of Grafton.

Baskets of gladioli decorated the house and an arch of pink and white streamers with large white bell in the centre was arranged for the bridal party.

Pale blue marquisette was the bride's choice for her gown and it was made with a full skirt extending in a slight train, the bodice tightly fitted with a large draped bertha collar, caught on the shoulder with a self bow. Her crown headdress and shoulder veil was of matching net and she carried pink carnations. Mr. Johnston gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Mrs. R. Blackwood. The latter wore pale yellow dotted marquisette styled with high neckline and puff sleeves and a softly shirred shoulder frill long full skirt with bustle effect. She wore a halo hat of yellow taffeta and carried carnations tied with mauve velvet ribbon.

Mr. Marvin Kidd was groomsman for his brother. Mr. Lawrence Johnston, uncle of the bride, and Orville Kidd, brother of the groom, ushered in the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnston chose a two-piece dress of Maple leaf red crepe, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother was in navy printed crepe and wore grey accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Museum Holds Little Known Pioneer Legend

PORT ROWAN, Ont. (CP)—Gathering dust behind locked doors in the county museum at Simcoe, 14 miles from this quiet Lake Erie fishing village, are relics of one of the wildest legends in southwestern Ontario.

Yet no one here has bothered to use the tale as tourist bait. Most residents haven't even heard the story.

The story, well-authenticated in historical journals, is that of Dr. John Troyer, first white man to settle in the district, in 1789

Where he got the title of "doctor," nobody knew. He understood the use of herbs and is believed to have possessed what then passed as a medicine chest A blacksmith, he served the settlers as dentist also, chiefly because he was skilful with his blacksmith's pliers.

But the amazing thing about Dr Troyer was his superstitious dread of witches and demons.

Ran From Dark Eyes

He was bitterly afraid of dark-eyed women and thought them all witches. When he saw one he would rush to his cabin in deathly fear and barricade the doors His dreams were nightmares of terror about witches.

He nailed horseshoes over every door in the belief that these witches could not pass cold iron He kept a huge bear trap at the foot of his bed, in the hope some unwary witch would step into it

There is no record that Troyer, a deadly shot up to the day of his death at the age of 99, ever raised a finger against these dark-eyed tormenters among the women settlers, some of whom teased him and gibbered at him as he passed

The ability to control his obsession made Troyer a wealthy man by pioneer standards. He was constable, water diviner and shipbuilder, and his land was richly productive.

The bear trap and his famous musket have been taken to the little-used museum at Simcoe and few strangers ever hear the strange story of the dark imaginings of this well-loved pioneer

Strub-Miles Rites Are Solemnized

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the rectory of St. Peter's Cathedral on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock when Muriel Ada Miles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miles, 556 Homewood Ave., was united in marriage to Mr. George Raymond Strub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strub of Kitchener. The Rev. G. Gaughan performed the ceremony.

The bride was charming in a blush pink lace over taffeta street-length dress with hat to match and she carried a ring cascade of pink gladioli and Briarcliffe roses. Miss Joan Miles was her sister's bridesmaid and was similarly dressed in powder blue lace over taffeta and matching hat, and carried cream gladioli and coral serenade roses in a ring cascade.

Mr. Harvey Strub was groomsman for his brother.

A reception was held at the bride's home. Mrs. Miles receiving was wearing a pearl grey crepe dress and corsage of orchid gladioli. The groom's mother, assisting to receive, was in navy flowered petit point crepe dress and wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

The bride and groom left later to spend their honeymoon in New York city, travelling by plane from Toronto. For going-away the bride chose a tailored suit of puppet blue gabardine, matching hat and topcoat and grey accessories and she carried grey squirrel furs. Her corsage was of pink Butterfly roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Strub will live on Antrim St., Peterborough.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Husband's Hideout Sacred Woman Has No Place In It

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I have been married eight years and have always got along splendidly, with one exception. He set aside one room for his den for his exclusive use. I have no objection to this, but to the way he keeps it. He doesn't want me to clean it up or even touch a thing in it. Everybody who comes to the house goes in this room and it mortifies me. I like to keep my house nice. Is there any suggestion you could offer me? I see no occasion for this messs, but when I remonstrate with my husband, we quarrel.

Dorothy Dix

ALICE

ANSWER: I have one suggestion to make you, Alice, and I trust you will follow it. LET YOUR HUSBAND'S ROOM ALONE.

Keep out of it. Don't dust it. Don't straighten things up. It is his taste and his idea of comfort, and, if he gets any fun out of it, he has a right to it. You've got all the balance of the house that you can scrub and vacuum-clean until it shines. Why begrudge your husband the privilege of having things as he desires in one poor little room?

It seems to me that you are borrowing trouble when you are worrying over what other people think about the mess. Evidently it doesn't get on their nerves; otherwise they wouldn't gravitate there, as we all instinctively do to the most comfortable part of a home.

Did you ever think, Alice, that one of the reasons why there are so many wandering husbands is that there are few men with wives who let them do as they please at home, or who ever let them have even a closet for their own benefit? Sometimes, a wife will concede her husband a den, but invariably it ends by her moving her sewing machine into it, or the baby's crib, or taking it for her card games, and she always feels that she has the right to furnish it and run it as she pleases.

Many a man has to watch his step from the time he wipes his feet on the mat in front of his own door. He musn't lie down on a couch, no matter how tired he is, because he will muss the pillows. He mustn't drop ashes on the rug and scatter newspapers. He mustn't throw a towel on the bathroom floor. He mustn't sit around in slippers, no matter how his feet ache. He mustn't turn on the radio if wife doesn't want to hear it or listen to any program that isn't to her taste.

Before marriage he may have been a collector of butterflies or coins or old prints. After marriage he never sees them again because wife has relegated the trash to the attic, where he can't get at it. He can't spend an evening going over his fishing tackle because it messes things up. He can't make a noise because it wakes the baby. He can't sit in the living room after the children are adolescent because Mamie's boy friend is calling or Bobby is entertaining the Scouts. The house belongs to the wife and children and poor old husband has nothing to do with it except support it. And there is nobody in it mean enough to do him reverence.

It is no wonder that he sometimes gets tired of it and thinks that he gets mighty little for his money.

Many a woman, Alice, sweeps a good husband out of the door in her zeal for cleanliness. Put that in your cigarette and smoke it.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young woman who recently married a widower of middle age. He has a son who has been studying abroad the last five years. Four months ago this boy, two years my junior, came home to live and we have fallen very deeply in love with each other. As we realize what it would mean to my husband to lose both of us, we don't know what to do.

C. V. D.

ANSWER: There are two honest and honorable things you can do under the circumstances. One is to go to the husband and father and tell him the truth. The other is for the young man to go away at once, and for you never to see each other again or hold any communication.

It is a terrible thing for a man to be betrayed by both his wife and son. Don't add to his misery by carrying on a secret liaison in his own house. Decency and pity alike forbid that.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Should a man pay a girl's gambling losses when he takes her out of an evening? The other evening I escorted a girl to a party where she lost a sum of money at bridge and she bawled me out because I let her pay it. I would not let a girl that I took out pay any part of my expenses, but I believe that gambling should be governed by a different standard. Also, it seems to me that to offer to pay the debts of a woman who is not your wife is insulting.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think you are right, and that a girl who gambles should pay her own losses. If she had won, she would not have thought of dividing the spoils with you, so why should you make good when she loses? I think she is a poor sport.

Hamlin-Nelson Wedding

A pretty wedding in George St. United Church Saturday afternoon, performed by the Rev. Dr. James Semple, was that of Lois Evelyn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Nelson, and Mr. Bernard Walter Hamlin, only son of Mrs. Hamlin and the late Percy Hamlin, all of Peterborough.

New York Bureau Discovers Enthusiasm for Quebec Visit

By MARIENNE IZSAK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (CP). — If you doubt the popularity of Quebec as a vacation spot, sit in the New York office of the Provincial Tourist Information Bureau and listen to the questions of 100 visitors a day.

This year it seems that everyone wants to visit Gaspe.

"You know how Americans are," shrugs brown-haired Annette Fortier, one of the two girls who advise the would-be tourists. "One visits a place, like it, and goes home to tell others. Consequently, they all want to see it."

Miss Fortier is one reason why New Yorkers enthuse about a trip to Quebec. She is attractive and courteous, listening patiently and trying to answer all questions, no matter how strange they may sound. Her home is in Quebec City but she studied at Columbia University here before taking her present job.

One girl called Miss Fortier from Grand Central Station to ask if the train from St. Marguerite to Quebec would be late that night. "I have to catch it, you see," she said excitedly, "but won't be able to unless it is late."

Calling two weeks in advance, a man who was going to spend a weekend at Perce on the Gaspe coast, was somewhat incensed when Miss Fortier couldn't tell him whether it would rain or not.

Know Little of Size

"Americans have no idea of Canada's size," says Miss Fortier. "Sometimes we're asked by people who plan to stay a week in Quebec whether they can spend the rest of their 10-day vacation in Banff."

The information bureau was opened in 1940. It is in the heart of New York's own tourist district — famed Rockefeller Centre. Its acting chief is Georges Pothier.

While the small staff is busiest during the Summer, there is a brisk year-round interest.

"In the Fall it is the sportsmen," says Miss Fortier, "and in the Winter we have the skiers."

Many New York business men fly to Quebec on hunting or fishing jaunts in their private planes. At one such outing last year, there were 55 private American planes outside a well-known sports lodge.

Union Members Pay Last Tribute

A final tribute to Philip P. Doherty of Aylmer St., who died Saturday as a result of injuries received on Friday when a stunt rider's car went out of control, was paid today in a leaflet issued by the Publicity Committee of Local 524 UE-CIO.

Describing Mr. Doherty as "one of the finest and most conscientious members who ever belonged to the UE," the tribute stated in part: "(He) . . . was an outstanding and active participant in the affairs of this Local. He served for a term as Recording Secretary, was a member of the Negotiating Committee and represented this Local at practically every District and CCL convention for the past two years."

"He was a delegate to the Allied Labor Council and was one of the four delegates elected to represent Local 524 at the UE International Convention in Cleveland this week."

"Brother Doherty brought to his union tasks a keen, well-trained mind and a warm personal regard for the welfare of the members. Not only has this Local lost a capable and loyal member, but each member of this Local has lost a tried and trusted friend."

The court presided over by Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow, was to proceed first with the trial of Howlett.

Association Picnic To Cedar Lake Project

Members of the Kawartha Conservation Association are planning a picnic to their Cedar Lake project on Sunday, Sept. 18. Located about four miles north of Burleigh Falls off Highway 28, the rough nature of the ground between highway and lake will make rugged walking.

They are therefore reserving this junket for men only and ask each participant to bring lunch and tea pail and they are welcoming visitors to join them. During their lunch period their progress report will be discussed as well as future plans. It is the hope of present Association officials that a new unspoiled picnic spot can be developed in the Cedar Lake area to enable the public to be assured of an uncrowded outing area.

Doesn't Fear Reds

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—Sir Zafrullah Khan, foreign minister of Pakistan who arrived Monday to head his country delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, said there is no danger of Communist influence in western Pakistan. He added however, that eastern Pakistan borders on Burma, which adjoins China, and there is a consequent "risk by circumstance."

Optimists Hear About Progress Of Boys' Town

The grand opening of Optimist Club's Boys' Town will take place on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. Richard Ouimet reported Monday night to the club at the bi-monthly dinner meeting. The city council, the Hon. Harold Scott, G. K. Fraser, M.P., and members of the Recreation Commission have been sent invitations, he said. The general public, he added, are all welcome to attend to see the work the Club has been doing there.

A preview of this week's two-hour show which will be presented by the boys was given the club by Walter Bent, director of Boys' Town. He had the Boys' Town Quartette lead the club in a singsong. The boys were entered in the Amateur Show at the Peterborough Exhibition at the last moment and reached the semi-finals. The boys are John and Murray Munn, Murray Hynes and Richard Atkinson. On Sunday Mr. Bet expects to have a choir of 40 boys.

Mr. Bent gave an account of the work he has been doing at the Boys' Town in the past five weeks. He reported that from the first day with 11 boys the population has increased now to 121. Terry Roberts, the mayor, was introduced as well as the other civic officials.

Winter activities, he said, would include the operating of four hockey teams, peewee, bantam, midget and Juvenile. The boys will tend to the work about their rink at the Oval with each boy working at least twice a month.

A plan will be carried out this year by Mr. Bent similar to the one followed last year in Galt. During the Christmas holidays he took 26 bantam hockey players to Oshawa for four days of hockey education, the total cost per boy being a little over $5. This was the cost of transportation. The team stayed at a boys' camp and Mr. Bent cooked their meals. His team won the championship of the Galt district.

Baker, Roy Baker, Baxter, L. Burtt, S. S. Breckon and F Andrews served tea.

Can't Lower Paper Rates

JASPER, Alta., Spet. 13 (CP)—It is economically impossible to produce a weekly newspaper at a subscription rate of less than $2 a year, the circulation committee reported to the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association convention Monday.

The report said circulation on a community basis and service go hand in hand, while it should be the aim to provide 100 per cent coverage in a trading area. Importance of audit bureau circulation also was stressed.

The paper committee reported that the supply situation across Canada has improved during the last year.

The editorial committee noted that three weekly newspaper publishers were elected to parliament at the last general election.

Harold Barton of Vancouver, representative of a printing machine supply firm, said in a luncheon address to the delegates "the challenge to every publisher and his craftsmen is to produce a finer product and have a positive objective to sell Canada to new Canadians for security, prosperity and a highly productive nation."

Reports On Two New Public Health Nurses

Two nurses have joined the staff of the Board of Health to replace Miss M. Florence Stewart who left in July and Miss Ruth Aitken, who left in August.

The newcomers, Miss Gene Clark, supervisor of Public Health Nurses said, were Miss Elsie Crawford, who had the Board of Health's scholarship last year to train as a public health nurse and Mrs. Laura Shepherd, who transferred from Saskatchewan, where she did similar work. Miss Clark said there was still a vacancy for one more public health nurse.

Fogging Machine Grant Refused

The Board of Health's request to the Provincial Department for financial assistance in renting a fogging machine during the hot weather to clear away flies and mosquitoes from establishments where food is handled and in other public areas has been refused.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health told the Board Monday that a letter had been received stating that the fogging was not a new or extended service and did not therefore, qualify for a grant.

"We should not let them get away with that", J. J. Dutton, chairman, declared and the doctor was instructed to write again.

A machine was rented on two occasions this summer R. M. MacPherson, Sanitary Inspector said. The first time the cost was $276 and the second time $198. Harold Coleman had bought a machine which had been used for the second operation by the city.

Mr. MacPherson said fogging was a great asset. One day it was almost impossible to go into the city barn because of flies. The day after the fogging machine had been used it was clear and he could still see the effects two weeks later.

Among the places fogged were the wartime housing area, dumps, East City bowl, lanes behind the stores and Jackson Park.

Dollar Talks Adhere To Basic Facts

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The program agreed upon in Washington by Britain, the United States and Canada, might be described as an amazing accomplishment, if it were not that we have become accustomed to amazing accomplishments.

It adheres to two basic facts of the post-war Western world:

That what must be done will be done; that the Western world must not be allowed to fall into economic collapse.

It will be seen its amazing proportions if it is considered against the bitter Trans-Atlantic argument which preceded it; which in any other time was sufficient to have precluded any substantial agreement.

In this time, however, the bitter arguments served only to clear the air for the accomplishments which were inevitable.

Immediate Necessity

The immediate necessity was that Britain's gold and dollar reserves be saved from collapse, because this would have pulled down the whole Western trading world.

Apparently the Washington program will accomplish this for the present at least; and even goes beyond what was absolutely necessary.

Now we can only watch its working out; but with an added assurance that if it is not sufficient then other steps will follow in due course.

Neither the Washington program nor public opinion is ready yet to acknowledge the full implications of the changes that have taken place in the world.

United States public opinion, especially, probably does not realize how that country's economy must be integrated with that of other countries.

It probably does not realize that the same free interchange of goods which has taken place within the United States itself to make it the most prosperous country in the world, must be extended bevond its boundaries.

The Washington program seems to make a considerable step in this direction.

Mike Pearson and U.S. Kidders All Square Now

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (CP)—Mike Pearson listened gleefully today as the National Press Club ribbed him about his service in the First World War When he got the microphone he kidded right back.

And when the good-natured sniping ended, the score still was about tied.

The Canadian Minister of External Affairs was a guest at a Press Club luncheon, at which Finance Minister Abbott of Canada was principal speaker. Pearson introduced Abbott.

Club President John C. O'Brien of the Philadelphia Inquirer, introducing Pearson, said he'd often wondered how a man christened Lester Bowles came to be called Mike.

It all started when Pearson was a buck private with the University of Toronto Hospital unit in Salonika, said O'Brien

"It seems that Mike wanted to transfer to the Royal Flying Corps, and when he found the Flying Corps officials decidedly indifferent to his desires, he got word of his lack of progress to Sir Sam Hughes (Canada's Wartime Minister of Defense), who put in a 'must' on Mike's transfer orders.

"By the time the orders reached Salonika, they had acquired the signatures of so many members of the general staff in London that Operation Transfer almost took precedence over the war in the Salonika sector.

"Mike was ferreted out and sent to London in a manner befitting a buck private in whose career the entire general staff appeared to have a consuming interest"

Ball Team Episode

O'Brien told another one: How Pearson, when Canadian Minister to the United States, organized a baseball team, which defeated a State Department team four times in four starts.

Later, said O'Brien, the State Department discovered that Mike had had the foresight to ring in a former Canadian semi-pro to do his legation teams pitching."

Pearson said later the pitcher wasn't a former semi-pro .What's more, the Canadians didn't win all four games, he added.

"We had too much of a sense of the fitness of diplomacy to do a thing like that."

Pearson's own anecdote was about the U.S. customs officials who tried to collect duty from Canadian soldiers entering Alaska in 1943 to help American troops clear the Japanese out of Kiska

The State Department had arranged with the White House to overcome the problem by classing the Canadians as "distinguished foreign visitors."

Actually, said Pearson, it didn't matter anyway.

"The Japs heard Canadian troops were coming after them so they gave up without a fight."

Women Not Stopped At 40 More Glamor In Last Thirty

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13 — Ladies over 40, buck up. A movie expert said today you can be glamorous without youth, beauty or money.

You have just got to accentuate the positive.

"There is no reason to grow old," said Helen Rose, who guides Lana Turner, Judy Garland, and 70-year-old Ethel Barrymore at MGM. "American women give up living at 40 and wither for the next 40 years. They have got 30 years more of fascination ahead."

And you don't have to worry if you don't have a face like Elizabeth Taylor, can't buy duds like Lana's and will never see 50 again. You can overcome every defect, she said, with perfect neatness.

"European women get more fascinating with age, and some still hold court at 70," she said. "A sophisticated Frenchman won't bother with a woman under 35. They are not interesting."

Some of the most fascinating women in movies—Greta Garbo, Gloria Swanson, Irene Dunne, and Joan Crawford—are over 40. Miss Barrymore is glamorous at 70.

As for clothes, most women could buy half what they do and be twice as well dressed.

"I've seen some of these starlets stuff their closets with $100 a week of clothes, and never have one smart costume."

And some of the most glamorous women Miss Rose knows — including movie stars — have a face full of bad features.

"I see women every day who have prettier faces than movie stars," she said. "But they don't dramatize their beauty and they don't keep themselves immaculately groomed, the most important thing.

"Everybody has one good feature. It can be your eyes or your hair or your hands or even the graceful posture. One woman I know has a face in which every feature is bad. She studies herself in the mirror two hours a day. She always sits in the most flattering light, and she knows which are the most flattering angles of her face.

"Everybody always says, 'Isn't she beautiful!'."

"One of the most attractive women I know has a huge beak nose and a harelip. But she has such fascinating eyes nobody notices. She has done very well. She has had two handsome husbands—two."

Mosley Parade Ruled Lawful

LONDON, Sept. 13—(Reuters)—A London magistrate today told anti-Fascist demonstrators that a parade Sunday by supporters of Sir Oswald Mosley's Union movement at Hackney, East London, was a "perfectly lawful procession."

"This is English law" he added. "It is not Jewish law or Communist law or Fascist law."

The demonstrators had clashed with police who were protecting the parade.

The Mosleyites were marching after a meeting in Ridley Road, an east-end area with a large Jewish population, which has been the scene of a series of disturbances since the end of the war.

One demonstrator, charged with using threatening behavior, was sent to prison for two months. He was alleged to have thrown a piece of wood at the procession and to have been carrying a piece of slate.

Boy Perseveres Back In School

WAKEFIELD, Mass., Sept. 13—(AP)—Glenny Brann is back in school for the first time in 2½ years.

"Gee," he says, "it's swell."

Glenny's story is one of courage.

The 13-year-old boy lost both legs after being burned at the stake by playmates while playing "cowboys and Indians."

But he never gave up and isn't giving up now.

"I feel more like a normal person," he said on reporting for classes at Wakefield High School.

And Glenny wants to be treated that way.

He made that clear when he was excused from gym due to his disability. With his two artificial legs and a cane, Glenny hurried to the principal's office.

He emerged beaming:

"They're going to let me take it. The gym teacher said there are quite a few things I could do. I can do exercises and take shots with the basketball and tumbling on the mattresses if I take my legs off."

Two Hotels Ordered Improve Conditions

Two hotels inspected by city Sanitary Inspector R. M. MacPherson were found lacking in adequate sanitary conveniences for beverage room patrons, the Board of Health was told Monday. In each case additional conveniences were ordered and are now provided, the inspector said.

Beverage plants examined were otherwise in full compliance with regulations, and all samples of beverages examined for bacteriological content were quite satisfactory, the inspectors' report claimed.

Tito Defying Stalin Anew

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 13 (AP)—Marshal Tito flung new defiance into the teeth of the Russian Bear today.

Yugoslavia, he declared, "steeled by tremendous experiences" in the Second World War, is ready to overcome any present troubles as it did in past ones.

The Yugoslav Premier, prime target of Moscow and the Cominform as a heretic from Marxism, addressed a group of engineers and workers from a motor factory near here. They came to Belgrade to show him three new types of tractors they developed in the country's industrialization campaign—the campaign which so irks Moscow.

Rallying to Tito's standard, his navy informed him today it is ready to defend the country against any attacks, "regardless if they come from east to west—regardless whether they are led by Churchill or Stalin."

FIREMAN TRAPPED IN RAIL WRECK

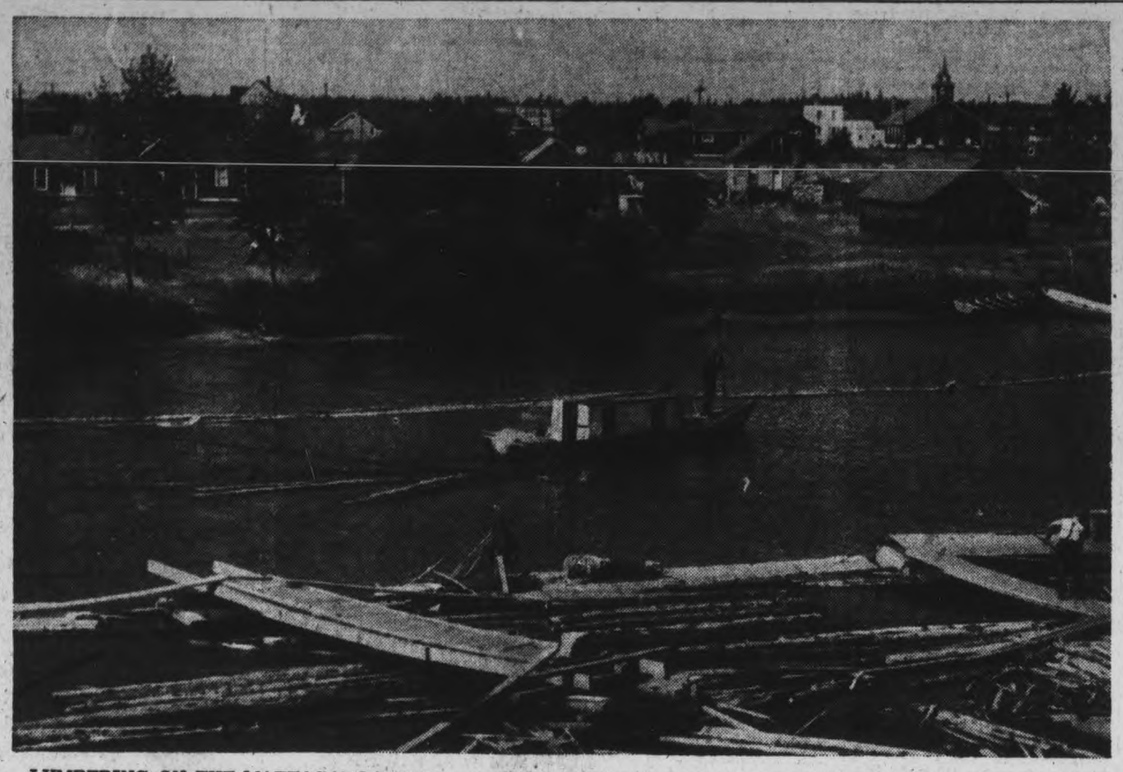
Pair Killed On Way To Wedding

Car Causing Crash Flees Scene, Truck Driver Burned

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Sept. 14—(CP) — A Vancouver - bound couple was killed and a truck driver injured last night when an automobile and truck collided on the "Devil's Strip" near this Oxford county city.

The victims, occupants of the car, were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Best of Toronto, who were enroute to their son's wedding at Vancouver.

Truck driver Gordon A. Lasalle of Brantford, is in hospital with second degree burns, suffered when the cab of his vehicle caught fire after the collision.



Seek Third Car

Police today are seeking a third car, which they said caused the accident by cutting in and forcing the two vehicles to crash head-on. The third car swerved into a ditch, back onto the highway and sped away.

The accident occurred on a stretch of No. 2 Highway known as the "Devil's Strip" on account of the frequency of accidents. It is about five miles east of here.

Mr. and Mrs. Best were believed to have been killed instantly. Trapped in his truck when it burst into flames, LaSalle managed to squirm out of the wreckage and drop to the pavement.

The fire was extinguished by the Woodstock Fire Department. LaSalle was taken to Woodstock Hospital where he was suffering second degree burns, a head injury and other injuries.

LUMBERING ON THE MATTAGAMI RIVER, near Timmins, is an important industry in the Porcupine gold-mining area. The river is often choked with log drives to the several modern saw mills which line its banks with acres of drying lumber piles, material for more new Canadian homes. No Sign of Yielding Pound Devaluation

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Treasury stood firm today on past declarations by its chief, Sir Stafford Cripps, that Britain has no intention of devaluating the pound sterling.

A spokesman made this clear in commenting on a report published by the New York Times that the pound might be devalued this week to $3.20 from its present level, $4.03.

The spokesman told a reporter: "The story is not new. I can only refer you to past pronouncements on the subject by the Chancellor of the Exchequer."

Sir Stafford has told Parliament the government has "not the slightest intention of devaluating the pound."

Withstand Pressure

In Washington, silence from Britain's monetary delegation emphasized today it has no intention of yielding to US. persuasion. The World Bank and International Monetary Fund report, also brought the heaviest pressure to date.

It invited the deficit countries —those like Britain which have a critical dollar shortage—to revalue their currencies if such action will help to increase their exports and their dollar-earning capacity.

Before the same 48-country forum, Eugene R. Black, president of the world bank, said he fails to see how devaluation "can be avoided." He later stated this was his personal view.

No Changes

But after a closed committee discussion of the fund's report, at which Britain was one of the 17 countries participating, managing director Camille Gutt told reporters he saw "no indication" that any country had changed its mind.

Gutt revealed that one country raised its voice in opposition to devaluation in the closed meeting. This was later discovered to be Czechoslovakia, whose delegation yesterday demanded unsuccessfully that the bank and fund's discussions be opened to the public and the press.

American officials expressed the opinion that Britain is satisfied that the 10-point agreement reached in last week's Anglo-American - Canadian conference will tide them over the present dollar famine and afford time to work out longer-range methods of balancing the foreign trade accounts.

However, it was predicted that the fund will not relax its rule barring the lending of its money to any country receiving Marshall Plan assistance, as long as some fund countries are dissatisfied with the par values prevailing.

Crews Work Feverishly To Free Him

14 Cars Derailed, Engine Upsets As 2 Freights Collide

GRAVENHURST, Sept. 14 — (CP)—One man was injured and 14 cars derailed early today in the collision of two Canadian National Railways freight trains at Kahshe Lake Crossing, six miles south of this Muskoka Lakes district town.

Engine crews worked feverishly with crowbars to free Fireman Frank McDonald from the cab of his engine which tipped over after the crash. He suffered burns from live steam escaping from the engine boiler.

Workers were hampered in the rescue of the Toronto man because the engine was lying over a creek. Back of the engine, scattered and telescoped over the main line were 14 box cars, some of them on end leaning against Hydro and telephone wires.

Furniture, rolled strips of wallpaper and lumber from the splintered freight cars littered the tracks.

Company officials said the crash came when a northbound special freight collided with the rear of a southbound special part of which had pulled into a siding.

The northbound engine was pulling 35 freight cars and the southbound 46 cars. All traffic on the line north and south of Toronto was halted pending a clean-up of the tracks by wrecking crews. Traffic is being rerouted over the Capreol division.

Officials said they believed the line would be cleared by late day.

Telegraph and telephone communications south of Gravenhurst were disrupted.

All other crew members of the northbound train were said to have jumped clear just before the crash. Andy Stevens was engineer of the northbound.

Greece Warns Albania Behave Or Fight

ATHENS, Sept. 14 (AP) — Greece will invade Albania "in self defence" if any new attacks are launched by Communist guerrillas from the Albanian side, a responsible Greek source said today.

He said his country would notify the United Nations of its plan of action at the coming U.N. General Assembly. The source, as ranking delegate to the Assembly, said Greece had decided on this action to put an end to the guerrilla threat on the Greek-Albanian border.

The delegate said the General Assembly would be told Greece will invoke Article 51 of the U.N. charter if there are any more guerrilla attacks from the Albanian side. The article sustains the right of self-defence if an armed attack occurs against a U.N. member.

Might Provide Spark

While Greek leaders realize that an invasion of Albania might be the spark to touch off a third world war, if Russia intervened, it is the concensus in Athens that the Soviet Union would not risk a war by intervening in Albaia, which is separated from Moscow's Cominform sphere by Yugoslav territory.

Some sources estimated there are 8,000 to 9,000 guerrillas in Albania poised to cross into Greece at an opportune moment.

War Minister Panayotis Kanellopoulos warned last week that if Albania supported another "Communist bandit invasion of Greece," the Greek army would act to "neutralize" the invasion forces.

The U.N. special commission on the Balkans reported yesterday that Greek troops already had violated territory in acts of "justifiable self-defence."

Agree Jap Treaty Urgent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson said today he and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain are agreed that the need for a Japanese peace treaty is urgent. Acheson indicated to a press conference that he still hopes Russia will co-operate in making the treaty.

The Secretary of State met with reporters just before going into his second session of political talks with Bevin.

The first session produced a joint statement indicating that British and American anti-Communist policies would develop along largely parallel lines.

Acheson said that their review today would be concerned with foreign questions, particularly those involving Germany and Austria.

Indications were that Bevin and Acheson were also in general agreement on several other points.

These included:

1. The western powers should move slowly and cautiously on the question of recognition of a Chinese Communist government if and when such a regime is established.

2. Nationalism is the most powerful force working against the spread of Communism into other Asiatic countries; it should be encouraged by the western countries both for that reason and because it is in line with their established policies.

3. Western capital should be put to work on a wider scale than at present to raise the living standard of non-Communist Asiatic peoples.

May Not Agree

On one point—trade with the Chinese Communists—diplomats speculated there might develop a divergence of British and American moves in the next few months.

American officials are reported to feel that their experience in dealing with Communist China offers little basis for hope of doing business with the Communists so that the United States in general should follow a policy of hands off.

Britain, however, has a much greater commercial stake than the United States in China and is interested in protecting it to the fullest extent possible. Diplomatic officials said they would not be surprised if Britain undertook to develop a working arrangement for trade with Communist China.

Find 24 Children Live In One House In Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 14—(CP)—Five families with 24 children are living on two floors of city owned house in east-central Jarvis Street, it was revealed today in testimony in Magistrate's court. Conditions in the house were described by Mrs. Caroline Lacey, charged with assaulting Mrs. Daisy Legate. The charge was dismissed.

Mrs. Legate testified she and her husband looked after the building for the city without pay. She said 10 children lived on the first floor and 14 on the second. Some of the families were receiving city relief, others were sent there by city officials when they were evicted from other residences, she said.

With 5 Wives He Needs Job

LONDON, Sept. 14 —(AP)—A colonial office bureau in Nigeria reported receiving the following plaintive plea from a West African who unexpectedly found himself "disemployed:"

"Dear Sir—On opening this epistle you will behold the work of a dejobbed person and a very bewildered and much childrenized gentleman, who was violently dejobbed in a twinkling by your good self.

"For heaven's sake, sir, consider this catastrophe as falling on your own head, and remind yourself on walking home at the moon's end to five savage wives and 16 voracious children with your pocket filled with non-existent pounds, shillings and pence and a solitary six pence; pity my horrible state.

"As to the reason given by yourself esquire for my dejobment the incrimination was laziness. No sir. It were impossible that myself who pitched 16 children into this vale of tears can have a lazy atom in his mortal frame, and a sudden departure of 11 pounds has left me on the verge of destitution and despair.

"I hope this vision of horror will enrich your dreams this night and the good angel will melt and pulverize your heart of nether milestone so that you will awaken with such alacrity to rejobulate your servants. Amen."

Officials in London did not know whether the native was reassociated with his job.

37 Killing Charges

ROME, Sept. 14 (AP)—Selvatore Giultano, Sicily's notorious bandit king, may hold the record for having the most criminal charges against him.

After digging through the files in the courthouse at Palermo, Sicily's capital, a reporter came out with these statistics:

1. A total of 144 orders for Guiltano's errest have been issued during the last six years.

2. The bandit is charged with 37 killings, 29 attempted murders, 40 robberies, and 10 kidnappings. Guiltano has been credited with being responsible for the deaths of from 80 to 100 policemen.

3. He faces a total minimum sentence of 1,325 years in prison. Italy has no death penalty.

UN Plan For Jerusalem Seems Headed For Trouble

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 14—(AP)—The new United Nations' proposal for international control of Jerusalem appeared today to be headed for trouble. The plan was submitted yesterday for consideration in the 59-country General Assembly by the Palestine Conciliation Commission as a basis for peace in the Holy City.

U.N. delegates were reluctant to comment on the plan until they had time to study it more, but informed quarters said bitter opposition may be expected, at least from the Israeli government.

It still was not known whether the plan would meet the approval of other vitally-interested religious and political groups: Arabs and the Vatican and other Christian Churches.

To become effective, the plan must be accepted by Israel and Hashemite Jordan, the two countries now occupying Jerusalem. The Assembly had no power to enforce its decisions; it can only recommend—and use persuasive force.

Some Self-Rule

The Commission's blueprint would preserve the Arab and Jewish sectors of the Holy City and provide a measure of self-rule for each, but would give supreme authority to a UN Commissioner named by the General Assembly.

Sources familiar with Israeli policy explained that Israel already had told the UN she could accept no plan which recognized an international regime as supreme in the Holy City. Israel has suggested instead that the UN set up a control over the holy places without interfering in local administration.

The Vatican, on the other hand, has urged creation of full international rule.

It had been hoped that the new plan, drafted at Lausanne, Switzerland, would embody a compromise formula. It differed from the 1948 trusteeship plan primarily, however, in its recognition of the existing division in the city with the two separate local administrations.

Teachers' Costs Exceed Earnings

FREDERICTON, NB, Sept. 14—(CP)—Teachers in Canada's rural areas are doing everything from farm labor to free-lance writing to make a little extra cash.

So says the LaZerte report on the status of the teaching profession, prepared for presentation today at the Canadian Education Association annual meeting.

The report contains the results of a survey on the living and working conditions of teachers in the one and two-room schools throughout rural Canada, the field "in which teacher shortage has been felt most keenly and from which teachers' organizations have received the most complaints with respect to living conditions."

Of the 435 teachers questioned, 17 per cent said their average monthly expenses exceed their earnings from teaching.

Thirty-eight per cent supplement their salaries as teachers by doing other work outside school. Farm labor appeared the most popular extra-curricular job, followed by janitor and clerical work.

The survey found evidence to support claims made from time to time by teachers' organizations that restrictions are placed on the personal freedom of the teacher in some communities and small towns.

Say Ex-Convict Slayer Suspect

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — New information uncovered by Toronto detectives points to an ex-convict as the suspected slayer of Alfred Layng, shot several weeks ago as he tried to stop an armed bandit who held up an east-central groceteria.

An extensive police search is now under way throughout Ontario for this definite suspect and U.S. border authorities have been given his name and a full description of him, police said today.

Investigators said the suspect disappeared from his Toronto rooming house shortly after the murder and hasn't been seen in the neighborhood since.

Hydro Shortage Said Inevitable

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — A Hydro shortage in spite of steps taken to alleviate the situation, is now almost inevitable, the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission Chairman Robert H. Saunders said today.

He added that when the Hydro restrictions on lighting are announced Oct. 1 they will have to go into effect at once.

A permissive order-in-council is expected to be passed at tomorrow's regular cabinet meeting of the Ontario government. After the Lieut.-Governor has signed the order it will go to the registrar of regulations and can then be put into force.

Bruin Very Annoyed By Damp Welcome

HUDSON Bay, Sask., Sept. 14 —(CP)—Mrs. Glen Shoemaker dumped a pail of hot dish water into some bushes. A large bear reared up.

Dropping the pail, she caught her two-year-old daughter by the hand and just made it to the house.

She plans to be more careful where she dumps her dish water in this northern outpost.

Police Ruse Traps Two For Extortion

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Trapped by a police ruse, Joseph W. Poirier, 27, and Kenneth Vincent, 24, Tuesday were charged with armed robbery and attempted extortion.

The two men are said to have telephoned an apartment-house operator, Robert J. Grossi, and told him his apartment was on fire shortly after midnight Saturday. Grossi drove to the apartment but found no fire. When he returned to his car a masked man rose out of the back seat and forced Grossi, at gunpoint, to empty his pockets of about $100.

When Grossi informed police they told him to keep quiet. On Sunday Grossi was called again by the same man and was told to leave $300 in an envelope in the postbox of a house in the west end of Toronto. Police were at the house in time to nab Vincent as he took the envelope. They later arrested Poirier.

Charge Ex-Mayor Takes Bribe To Influence Order

HALIFAX, Sept. 14 (CP) — A former mayor and a manufacturers' agent will appear in court here next Tuesday to answer charges arising out of Halifax's snow-blower investigation earlier this year.

John E. Lloyd, ex-mayor, and John A. West of nearby Dartmouth, were issued summonses yesterday by the city police magistrate's court.

Mr. West was charged under a section of the criminal code which provides penalty for anyone offering any officer of a municipal council inducement to influence his vote in favor of any person. Mr. Lloyd was charged under a section of the code referring to anyone accepting or consenting to accept such inducements.

The charges carry a fine of not more than $1,000 or less than $100 and imprisonment for not more than two years or less than one year. Six additional months imprisonment is provided for non payment of the fine.

Mr. Lloyd, deputy mayor of Halifax during the snow blower purchase negotiations and the county court hearing, later resigned to contest the city elections for mayor. He ran last in a field of three. He served a previous term in the chief magistrate's office.

Judge V. J. Pottier, who conducted the inquiry, said in his decision last April the transactions were "inconsistent with the good government of the city or the proper conduct of public business."

He named the former mayor as the intended recipient of a $3,000 bribe for which Lloyd would have arranged city purchase of six blowers from Mr. West.

Judge Pottier said $1,000 of "a $3,000 bribe" was paid Mr. Lloyd by Mr. West at a hotel room conference in January, 1948.

Bar Union Director From U.S. For Good

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — R. H. Carlin, of Sudbury, organizing director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, has been permanently barred entry to the United States it was learned today.

Mr. Carlin was temporarily ruled inadmissible some time ago it was reported. The new ban makes the ruling permanent.

No reason was given for the ban. United States immigration authorities here declined comment

Stenographer Faints

WINDSOR, Sept. 14 (CP) —George Mitchell, court shorthand stenographer, suffered a fainting spell today at Supreme Court as doctors described the bloody wounds which killed Mrs. Pauline Stancek and the home in which the murdered woman was found. Mr. Mitchell went into a faint as Dr. Samuel Asselstine described the skull wounds and smashed skull bones he found during the post mortem examination.

Introduce Their New Baby Weighing Only 10 Tons

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 14—(AP)—Harvard's brain trust today had a new baby brain, weighing 10 tons.

The proud parents, in what is officially known as the Harvard computation laboratory, modestly admitted that their ponderous infant is a prodigy that—on many mathematical problems—can outthink the whole family.

More than 600 physicists, matheers and industrialists dropped in today and stood slightly bug-"unveiled" their new baby.

Mark III, that is what they call him promptly multiplied two 16-digit numbers together more than 1,000 times faster than the mathematicians could write down the numbers to be multiplied.

But the bright youngster showed he could do more than that. His magnetic memory system, comthrough drums, 10 miles of wire, 4,500 vacuum tubes—like those in radio sets— 3,000 relays and 2,500 magnetic heads, can lead him through a problem involving as many as 4,000 steps.

His parents are Dr. Benjamin L. Moore, assistant director of the computation laboratory, and professor of applied mathematics.

BELGRADE, Sept. 14 (AP)—An important Yugoslav spokesman claimed today Russia has stepped up her campaign against Marshal Tito's government because she wants to block western trade agreements with Yugoslavia.

Police Inquiry Report Delayed For 10 Days

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — An announcement on the inquiry of charges of maladministration in the Ottawa detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police probably will not be made for another 10 days or two weeks, Commissioner William H. Stringer said today.

The investigation, which started in Ottawa Monday, was ordered after some 14 officers on the detachment's strength submitted their resignations in a body. Written charges of maladministration accompanied the resignations.

Commissioner Stringer said the investigating officer's report will be submitted to the attorney general from whose office will be issued the announcement on the findings.

Warns Operators

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP) —John L. Lewis, in an angry letter, virtually threatened Tuesday to call a strike against southern coal operators who have been withholding payments from the United Mine Workers Union welfare fund. Lewis did not mention the word strike. But he said a continuation of the "default" may cause "reactions deterrent to the constructive progress of the industry."

Jewel Cache Still Uncovered

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—(CP).—A search of homes in Toronto, Brantford and Simcoe, has failed to uncover a cache of jewels, stolen from British Columbia estates.

Some $6,000 in diamonds and emeralds, believed to be part of the $30,000 loot stolen from the Fraser Valley estate of C. S. Glaspie, millionaire lumber man, were found here early Monday in a safety deposit vault in a downtown vault. Lou Molnar, 27, alias Ward, was arrested Sunday in a $25-a-day hotel suite. He is held here for British Columbia provincial police who will return him to Vancouver to face seven charges of jewel theft. Meanwhile, police are seeking the rest of the haul.

Police said yesterday that Molnar, a native of Brantford, had stopped at two towns on his way from Vancouver to Toronto. They did not identify the towns but said investigations would be made there.

British Columbia police joined Toronto police in yesterday's search. They said they took a ring, bracelet, and string of pearls from a relative of Molnar's. Molnar said he bought these jewels as gifts several years ago.

Monmouth Man Gets 7 Days

A seven-day jail sentence was handed out to Clarence Carey by Magistrate W. R. Philip, KC, in police court this morning who found Carey guilty of being intoxicated while driving a car, Sept. 3.

Carey's car was impounded and his driver's licence suspended for three months. Carey lives in Monmouth township between Gooderham and Tory Hill.

Lloyd Crego, 19, who lives on a farm a few miles east of Kinmount on the Monk Road said he had been driving home from the Kinmount fair. He stopped to tie up a calf which was getting loose in a trailer being drawn by his car.

Just as he was getting out, he said, the trailer was hit by a car driven by Carey. Damage was slight.

O.P.P. Corporal Fetched

He said he told Carey to stay in the car while he went to get Corporal William Milton of the provincial police who was directing traffic at the entrance to the Kinmount fair about 200 yards away.

He said he got back to the scene of the accident before Corporal Milton. He testified he believed Carey was drunk because Carey's eyes were red and bleary and because of Carey's action after the corporal arrived.

He said when Carey got out of the car, he stood with his back to the car hanging on to the window with both hands. When he went to walk, he didn't make "very good headway" and the corporal had to assist him.

Corporal Milton said when he first came to the Carey car, Carey was sitting in the right front seat with his head bent forward so that he thought Carey might be asleep.

He spoke to Carey who looked up at him "quite stupidly".

Carey said he had been driving up the hill a short distance from the fair grounds, when a car passed him going in the same direction. He pulled to right to let it pass, then pulled out again to see past the Crego car which was parked on top of the hill. As he did, another car came in the opposite direction, and Carey swung his car back and jammed on the brakes and hit the trailer.

Had Had Beer

He said he had had two bottles of beer early in the afternoon in Minden. He had two cases of beer which he bought there and had given four bottles to a nephew in Minden. There were eight bottles missing from the case, but Carey said he did not know what had happened to the other four.

A niece of Carey's, Mrs. Clarence Bacon, who lives east of Kinmount on the Monk Road, testified she had talked to Carey shortly after the accident and he seemed to be normal.

T. J. Carley, KC, defended.

Timmins Pair Appear On Vagrancy Charge

A married couple, William and Elizabeth Thomas, who say they are from Timmins, appeared in Police Court this morning on charges of vagrancy. They were remanded in custody until Thursday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, on the request of Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, who said he wanted to check up on them.

William Hagerman, 646 McDonnel Street, was remanded on two charges of being drunk. On one charge it was alleged he had a previous conviction. Hagerman asked for an adjournment, but Crown Attorney Bradshaw opposed the adjournment on the grounds Hagerman failed to appear on a drunk charge Tuesday, and when picked up by police on a warrant was drunk again.

A written plea of guilty was entered for Harry Smith, Toronto, charged with having beer other than in his residence in his car in Warsaw. He was fined $15, and costs. Forty-five pints he had in his car were confiscated.

Voting 92-76 On Divorce Issue

HALIFAX, Sept. 14.—(CP).—The Lower House of the 17th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada today voted 92-76 to allow the innocent party in divorce to remarry and retain the services and sacraments of the church.

The proposed legislation, which needs concurrence from the House of Bishops before becoming church law, also calls for establishment of church courts to decide "which if either" is the innocent party.

The legislation, presented by the Calgary diocese, was proposed with the adoption of this motion: "That this House asks the General Synod to revise its canon on marriage and divorce by legislating to permit the innocent party to a divorce to remarry and to have the benefit of all the services and sacraments of the church; and in this case immediately to set up church courts to decide which if either is the innocent party."

The motion passed after a warm debate, with speakers evenly divided in support and against the motion.

HUYTON, Lancs., England, Sept. 14 ((AP)—Britain's trade gap—the excess of imports over exports—was approximately £58,600,000 ($234,000,000) in August, Harold Wilson, Board of Trade president announced Tuesday night. Britons Praying For Rain, Drought Worse

LONDON, Sept. 14 (Reuters)—Thousands of British housewives, farmers and industrialists are praying for an early winter, with heavy snow and rain. One of the driest summers in memory threatens disaster for millions all over the country. So far Scotland is the only part of the United Kingdom not seriously affected.

A bonus in Britain's meat ration and cuts in milk supplies—both due to the drought—were announced by the Ministry of Food Tuesday night.

Consumers will be entitled to only two pints of milk a week, instead of two and a half. Britons will get a bonus of sixpence (10 cents) worth of meat, an increase of nearly 50 per cent on one week's ration, because cold storage plants are congested.

The British Waterworks Association has issued the gravest drought warning of its 38-year existence.

"Unless substantial rain falls within the next six weeks, maintenance of the country's water supplies will be seriously threatened," it stated.

The War Office announced the army is ready to distribute water to drought-stricken areas "to the limit of its available manpower."

Leeds, with a population of 500,000, has supplies of water for only 47 days.

Milk production has fallen so low that priority supplies for children are in danger.

The water engineer at Bath warned householders that "baths should be taken only once a week and not more than five inches of water used."

Industrials Continue To Climb Steadily

TORONTO, Sept. 14 — (CP).—Industrials continued climbing steadily for the second successive day here today. Activity slackened from early briskness but small gains continued to appear in gold and base metal listings. Western oils tended down from opening gains.

The Exchange's 1 p.m. index showed industrials up 1.06 at 181.72, golds up .83 at 103.32, base metals up .26 at 99.99, Western oils up .04 at 47.77. Volume for the first three hours was 681,000 shares, about 217,000 shares less than yesterday's similar period.

Papers, steels, foods, textiles, liquors and refining oils were well ahead in the industrial groupings. Gains ranged from fractions to a point.

Key base metals continued moving upwards. Waite Amulet, a fast-moving feature in yesterday's session on rumors of a copper find, sold down today.

Senior golds lifted out of their recent downward path for fractional gains. Junior were stronger on moderate gains, but activity also slowed up in this list.

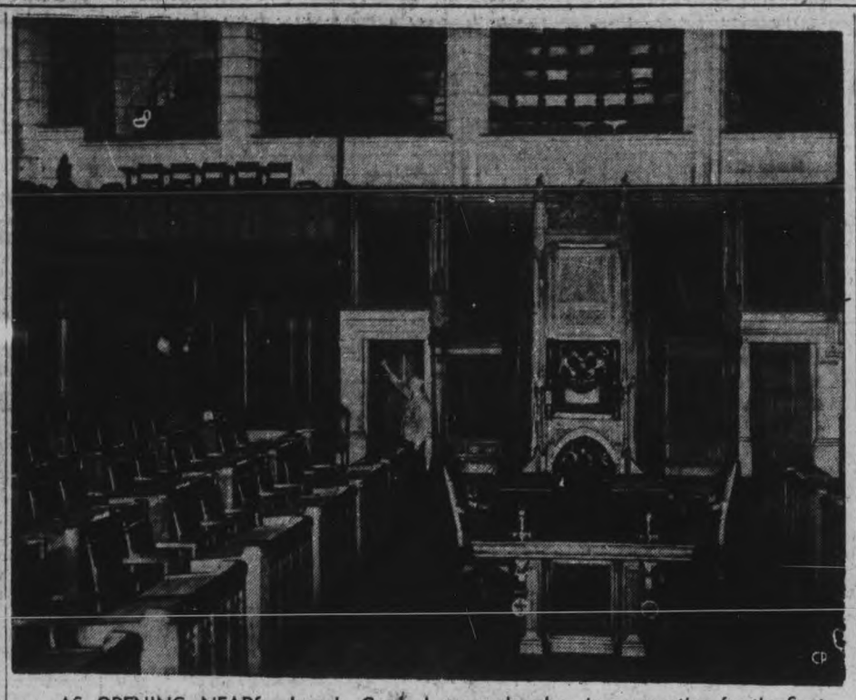
Mothers Told Use Reason In Guiding Child

CAMPBELLFORD Sept. 14 — (ENS)—Continuing the series of lectures on family relations, Mrs. Harry Johnson, M.A., of the Institute of Child Study, University of Toronto, spoke in the Parish Hall Tuesday night on th[illegible]ing of pre-school children.

"It is futile," she said, "to have a child walk before his muscles are fully developed or to teach a child to read before he is mentally capable. The essentials for guiding child behaviour must be reasonable and the child must see the reason for responding," she added.

"Interest must be the first essential in teaching a child to wash and dress. In performing these tasks, the child will resist but resistance will lessen as he learns to perform necessary duties for himself.

"Direct control," she continued, "is the best method to use with small children. With it, there are no choices. However, it must be flexible."



"The adult should safeguard the child from dangerous situations until he has been sufficiently instructed in the use of objects, particularly play ground equipment. There is no substitute for supervision," she added.

Keep Meddlers Home

Mrs. Johnson said that a child takes a thing apart to see how it works. He often builds to tear down. These are not destructive traits, she told her listeners. She advised parents who had meddling children to keep them at home. Children up to two years of age were not capable of handling fragile things.

"Children," she declared, "should be taught to accept and practice social behaviour. Isolate them until they conform to your instructions. Be sure what you want and be decisive when making requests," she said. "Do not issue orders until you have the child's attention. Authority must be consistent and if parents do not support teachers the children will not understand what is expected of them," she warned.

"The child progresses," she said, "when he sees the direct results of his own efforts. Satisfaction gives a child confidence. Every effort meets with success or failure and if a child fails too often he will develop a withdrawal attitude," she added.

Dairy Farmers Forming Branch

With the names of 19 praspective members on application forms Frank C. Paterson was almost certain Tuesday of the completion by the end of this week of a branch of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

This inexpensive means of obtaining herd records of production was offered to farmers about the middle of last spring, but response at that time appeared to be hesitant. A meeting of interested farmers Monday night brought out fifteen, with a little surge of enthusiasm that swelled the number of applications to 19.

Group membership is limited to 25 or 26, and Mr. Paterson believes that the objective of signatures will be reached before this week is out.

Cliff Morrow, Toronto, of the livestock branch of the Department of Agriculture, explained the dairy herd improvement plan at the meeting. The details were published some time ago, and it is likely that dairy farmers who should wish to take advantage of this practical aid to them understand the requirements.

"We are hoping to have a Peterborough group operating by Nov. 1st," Mr. Paterson said today, "but we would like to see the last of the applications in before next week."

Peterborough's Immediate Tax Future

Mr. Edward Humpage, City Auditor, has done valuable service to the city in attempting to survey the Corporation's financial future for a decade. His expert knowledge of municipal financing and the experienced eye he keeps on city projects and plans, give his survey an unusual validity. There are intangibles and variables—such, for instance, as the level of employment, wages and costs in Peterborough and Canada generally—which could radically alter his conclusions, but, accepting present known facts as reasonable factors in guaging the future, the Council and the taxpayers can confidently rely on Mr. Humpage's assessment of the tax probabilities.

* * *

They need some such survey, to throw light on the road which tends to be overshadowed by the present and future civic structures going up along it. First it is a school extension, then a new trunk sewer, then the land for the new city hall, for which money has to be found. They seem to be big chunks added to the taxes. Mr. Humpage has lined them all up, and put them in perspective against the background of the city's financial framework. His general survey indicates that the city is not going to break its back through an overload of taxes, if in the next few years it sticks to the work now planned or considered likely to be necessary.

* * *

All told, Mr. Humpage judges that a maximum of nearly three million dollars ($2,957,000) additional debt will be incurred by the City between now and the end of 1952. This does not include the new Civic Hospital, whose financing has already been arranged, and is taken into account in his general figures; and does make liberal allowance ($600,000) for the renovation of the sewage disposal plant and for a merely projected new High School ($400,000). The report estimates the total annual debt charges against the city, on account of present debts and future construction, to be $222,496 in 1949; reaching a high of $472,528 in 1953, and tapering to $432,104 by 1958. (This latter figure does not allow for any new capital construction after 1952.) At the low interest rates of 3 and 3¼ per cent., which contrast favourably with the six per cent. still being paid on 1920 debentures, this would add an estimated 6.35 mills to the tax rate in 1949, 12.27 to it in 1953, and 10.54 to it in 1958.

* * *

Mr. Humpage ventures to estimate the mill rates foreseeably required. This year it is 45.5. He sets it at 49 for 1950, a high of 52 in 1953, and back to 50 in 1958. The effect of these on the taxes which owners of property would pay are tabulated thus:

Assessment of	$2,000	$3,000	$5,000
1949	91.00	136.50	227.50
1950	98.00	147.00	245.00
1953	104.00	156.00	260.00
1958	100.00	150.00	250.00

* * *

Ratepayers are inevitably faced by rising taxes, whether taxes are put up by the tax rate or by increasing the assessments. Judging from the City Auditor's report, and considering the heavy projects in which the city is already involved and the others which it must undertake, the increased taxes, though heavy, are not insufferable.

* * *

The value of the dollar has changed. If it costs more to run a house in 1949 than in 1939, it is going to cost more to run a city. If the family of three in 1939 is enlarged to five in 1949, it is going to cost more to house them. Today Peterborough is 45 per cent more populous than it was in 1939. The cost of living is 60 per cent higher. The tax rate has gone up from 35 mills in 1939 to 45.5 mills in 1949, an increase of only 30 per cent. It is consoling to consider that as the costs of running homes and cities have risen, so have wages and salaries risen, and in very many cases by far more than the cost of living. Even rents have gone up, and landlords are thus somewhat compensated for higher tax rates. The taxation future is not as bad as it looms. The worst sufferers from it will be the home-owners of fixed incomes, and those who suddenly should find themselves with no incomes at all. For this latter contingency, Mr. Humpage's report does not provide.

Three New Senators Of The Same Brand

The Prime Minister has named three new senators: Mr. Thomas Reid of New Westminster, until his appointment a Member of the House of Commons; Mr. J. Wesley Stambaugh, of Bruce, Alberta; and Mr. R. W. Gladstone, a former M.P. The qualifications which the three new Senators have in common is that they are Liberal Party stalwarts. Two of them sat in the Commons as Liberal members, and Mr. Stambaugh is President of the Alberta Liberal Association. We find no fault with these gentlemen for being Liberals and do not doubt that they will serve in the Senate uprightly and honourably. We do regret that the Prime Minister has not taken the opportunity to enrich the Senate with non-party men, with men who for their learning or their professional attainments are deserving of the honour and, more important, could bring their special talents to the direct service of the country through membership in the Upper Chamber.

The Government can afford to spread Senate appointments outside the Liberal Party, for its majority in the Senate is very secure. The Liberals have 79 of the 102 seats. Governments of course like to bestow their patronage on the faithful. It is argued that a professor, a poet, a scientist, or an economist who wishes to serve in public can do as others—join a party, run for office, and work his way up. If he has not done that, why should he be given a senatorship? It happens, however, that many able men whose qualities and training would be invaluable to the Senate have not the temperament for political life, and would never influence voters or win seats.

There are still eight vacancies in the Senate. In filling them Mr. St. Laurent has a rare opportunity to enrich the Upper House and Canadian public life with men who lack only the merit of being politicians. Is it too much to hope that a new Senatorial era may not be initiated when the remaining seats are filled?

Philip Doherty's Death

'An unfortunate act of fate' killed Philip Doherty, a coroner's jury decided. It was the only verdict which could legally have been given in the case, but his friends, fellow-unionists and the citizens of the city individually view Philip Dohertys' death more poignantly. This man, in the prime of a good and useful life, was cut down by a careening car at a commercial display of dangerous driving stunts. He was standing by not as a spectator but as a volunteer first-aid worker. By a twist of callous fate he who came to serve was the victim of his public spiritedness. No blame has been attached to the driver of the car, but one can wonder at the perversity of our society which allows itself to indulge in such shows which—no matter how accidentally—can snuff out the life of useful, kindly members of the society.

Coupled with deep regret for the apparent needless waste of life is sympathy for the widow. Since no blame has been attached to anyone or anything concerned, no financial compensation will be forthcoming.

Mr. Doherty was a member of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. His death in its service sharply calls to public recognition the selfless, constant and humanitarian work this organization is doing. Voluntarily, without blaring publicity and seldom with adequate thanks, the men of the St. John Ambulance are on the spot with their special training and first aid kits to give emergency help when help may be needed. The members receive no pay; they train for the work at sacrifice of time; and on duty at parades, public gatherings and sporting events are freely offering their time and their special knowledge. The service which the men of the St. John Ambulance render their fellow citizens reveals citizenship of the highest kind. It is as such a citizen that Philip Doherty is mourned.

Obsolete Bomb?

We do not feel competent to declare the atomic bomb to be or not to be obsolete, despite the biological product which Dr. Brock Chisholm told of the other day, seven ounces of which reportedly could kill all living beings. We do feel that the obsolence of the atomic bomb, if outmoded by such a biological product, is to be regarded with some dismay.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Children need love, says a psychologist. Yes, and especially when they don't deserve it.

Remarking that the box-office attraction of ball players as opposed to bathing beauties in Toronto is ten to one, the Ottawa Journal asks "Is it possible that Toronto is coming of age?". Old age, perhaps.

A London Letter

From CONRAD FROST

ALL along Britain's coast line now the seaside resorts are trying to squeeze the last bob out of the hottest and driest summer of the century. Blackpool does it with illuminations, Brighton with excursions and Bridlington with a conference.

The bright boys of the publicity departments of our coastal pleasure towns are always thinking up something new. It was Bridlington, before the [illegible]hich announced plans for nudists sunbathing terraces. "There will be nothing like it in the country," they said.

The Trade Union Congress leaders, meeting for heated debate in Bridlington this week, will find that they will need costumes if they decide to cool off in the sea. Labour Minister George Isaacs, who braces himself with a 8.30 a.m. swim to start the day, can tell them that.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN successive years Bridlington has made its bid for publicity by banning speed boats, outlawing the Palais Glide dance, and last year burying a letter from the present Mayor addressed to the "Mayor of Bridlington, 2198 A.D." His Worship the Mayor anticipated that there would be some changes by then!

This year, in Bridlington, it is Mr. Arthur Greenwood, Socialist Party treasurer, who is anticipating the changes. He is asking the Union leaders to put up funds quickly and generously for an Election fight.

"Will there be an election this year," asked a blunt old miner.

Mr. Greenwood smiled evasively. "It is high time to prepare for it whenever it comes," he said.

But walking down by the Jetty which does duty for a pier, the pipe-smoking delegates bet that it won't be long now. The Government must ask the country for a vote of confidence quickly, they say, before they are undermined by events.

MEANWHILE the moon has been televised, the Brabazon has flown, a girl has bathed in the Trafalgar Square fountain pool and the real nudists—some 50,000 of them—have basked in the record 713 hours of sunshine.

All the 47 nudists clubs report increased membership and their ninepenny monthly magazine now sells 80,000 copies. Next to London and the Home Counties around it, Yorkshire caters for most nudists.

But this week it was the girl in a green swim suit who got the most news space. She did nothing so common as try to swim the channel, either. In busy Trafalgar Square Miss Eileen Fox slipped off her dress and, ready swim suited, stepped into one of the famous pools. For fifteen minutes whilst the crowds grew and the police wondered what to do about it, she splashed about happily. Then she climbed out, dried herself, and walked away with a friend.

◇ ◇ ◇

OF course, without doubt the thing that has fired the national imagination, stirred pride in us at a time when we are ready to wince at Washington date-lined comments on the mendacity of Cripps and Bevin, has been the test flight of the £3,000,000 airliner Brabazon 1.

That's an awful lot of taxpayer money to spend on one airplane, even if it is the world's biggest civilian liner, when it will never be more than a flying laboratory and will never carry a paying passenger.

But the cheers at Filton, Bristol, almost drowned the roar of the eight 2,500 h.p. engines. At Farnborough this week were put on exhibit no less than 7 world beaters. The world's highest flying bomber, the world's fastest air liner, the world's fastest fighter, the world's fastest trainer are amongst them.

I tell you that this week, with our eyes in the sky as the Battle of Britain Anniversary rehearsals take place over London, we have our pride.

◇ ◇ ◇

THIS week thousands of tons of apples, plums and pears are being fed to the pigs, whilst in Kent the rich, ripe fruit rots on the trees. It is impossible to compete with the imported Dutch and Italian fruit, say farmers....In Berkeley Square, there's something for nightingales to sing about. The new Colony restaurant opens with the lowest West End prices. Champagne is £2.10.0d a bottle, beer 1/9d. Amongst the first guests comes the Marquis of Milford Haven....In a corrugated iron hut in an Ipswich back garden, furniture for Prince Charles' nursery is almost ready to be moved to Clarence House before September 28th. For the baby prince, a mahogany shoe cupboard was finished yesterday, and now awaits its coating of blue paint....Thirty of the leading millliners, who will be represented at the Millinery show at the Dorchester later this autumn, are busy vying for the honour of designing the "most enchanting hat." The winning design will be made up entirely in flowers and presented to Princess Margaret who has consented to attend the opening of the exhibition.

◇ ◇ ◇

MY personal story of the week concerns the Free Medical Health service which is supposed to be the lure that makes foreigners swim the channel according to uninformed music hall comedians.

My wife, suffering eye strain, made a spur-of-the-moment visit to the optician's department of a big London store. Asking for an appointment she was told there was a two months' waiting list.

"You should have told them you didn't want free treatment but preferred to pay," I told her.

So she rang the same department up. Sorry, they told her again, there was a two months waiting list.

"That's no use to me," said my wife. "Can you recommend anywhere I could try instead. I want treatment as a private, paying patient, of course."

Whereupon the optician's receptionist suddenly discovered a cancellation for the next morning—at any time convenient to my wife!

LONDON'S Hatton Garden, centre of the Diamond business, is to have its own bomb and burglar proof strong room, only one of its kind in Britain. Opening on October 1st, it is expected that £10 million worth of gems will be locked up there.

London's hotel doormen, who used to pay up to £3,000 to get their jobs and who earned an easy £40-£50 a week, are making-do and mending. This is the worst year they have ever known. Basic wage is only £4 and these days tips only bring it up to about £10.

Hard up, too, are the dressers who prepare the West End stars for the footlights. In their game, too, tips are down to rock bottom and they are working for about 6/- a show!

◇ ◇ ◇

THE week's financial optimist, John Francis of Sunbury, visited his local gas company this week and arranged to buy the cooker he was hiring. "I don't intend to continue paying hire for it for another 20 years," he said. John Francis will be 103 in February.

A £1,000,000 a year black market in stolen gold being converted into "antiques", easily saleable, is the top priority job for the Special Investigation men. The hunt is likely to take them down to the communities of riverside caravan dwellers.

And, at Bridlington the representatives of 1,5000,000 workers in the Nationalized industries—the mines, railways, and the electrical works—are demanding pensions regardless of Government pleas not to bring this up just yet.

"ATTA BOY. JOE, THAT'S HOW I GOT MY START"

Scots Applaud Canadian Play

(LONDON (ONT.) FREE PRESS)

NO meaner assignment ever falls to a newspaperman turned author than that of reviewing his own work. Robertson Davies, Peterborough editor and playwright, accomplishes this with characteristic skill when he writes from Edinburgh of the performance there, in the famous annual festival of music and drama, of his own play "Eros at Breakfast." Exponents were players from the Ottawa Drama League, chosen by the Dominion Drama Festival for this honour. The cast, crossing the Atlantic on faith and a liner, became the first Canadian company ever to perform in this distinguished arena.

As a playwright Mr. Davies went into select society in this excursion. T. S. Eliot's new and sombre comedy "The Cocktail Party" was one of the plays presented in Edinburgh during the festival and the Canadian one-act satire appeared on the bill with an important dramatic society from Paisley and a Norwegian group from Oslo, both highly commended in Mr. Davies' critique.

His own play, a satiric fantasy on a brilliantly cooked-up theme, deals with the mathematical soundings, by bureaux of experts, of a young man's heart during the period of what is known in the vernacular as "being in love." The author thinks Edinburgh was surprised, a little shocked and definitely interested in his presentation of real problems in this new and unlikely guise. In his own commentary he does a nimble job of re-creating the Edinburgh setting and re-action. The Scots (though of course there were Sassenachs and other outlanders in the audience) cannily reserved their laughs for the final ovation, but that came through in splendid form. "Eros" as a performance was richly applauded and discriminatingly approved. Things said about the quality of the writing Mr. Davies modestly refrains from recording. But we may take it that this critical audience liked the play, the players and the production, and contributed new laurels to what we are still pleased, here at home, to call the Canadian "amateur" theatre.

Treading Water

(Windsor Star)

Back in 1920 Finland borrowed $8,281,926 from the United States, for rehabilitation purposes. Since that time, except for some of the war years, its annual payments were made so promptly it was held up as an example to other borrowers. And how does Finland stand with its creditor today?

Latest figures show that during the next 34 years it must pay the United States $13,408,207 on this obligation, of which $7,930,152 will be principal. This casts its own reflection on the war and postwar loans of 1914-18 and later years. Despite all its payments of these past 28 years, Finland has only been treading water.

President Truman, however, hopes to set things right for Finland. Future payments by that country will be used as a good will fund for the exchange of scholars and technical knowledge. For this gesture the Finns, and his own countrymen, doubtless will applaud him.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Surely there is a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they find it. Iron is taken out of the earth, and brass is molten out of the stone....But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?....

God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof....And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding. (Job 28: 1, 2, 12, 23, 28.)

◇ ◇ ◇

How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations! For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High. Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit. (Isa. 14: 12-15.)

◇ ◇ ◇

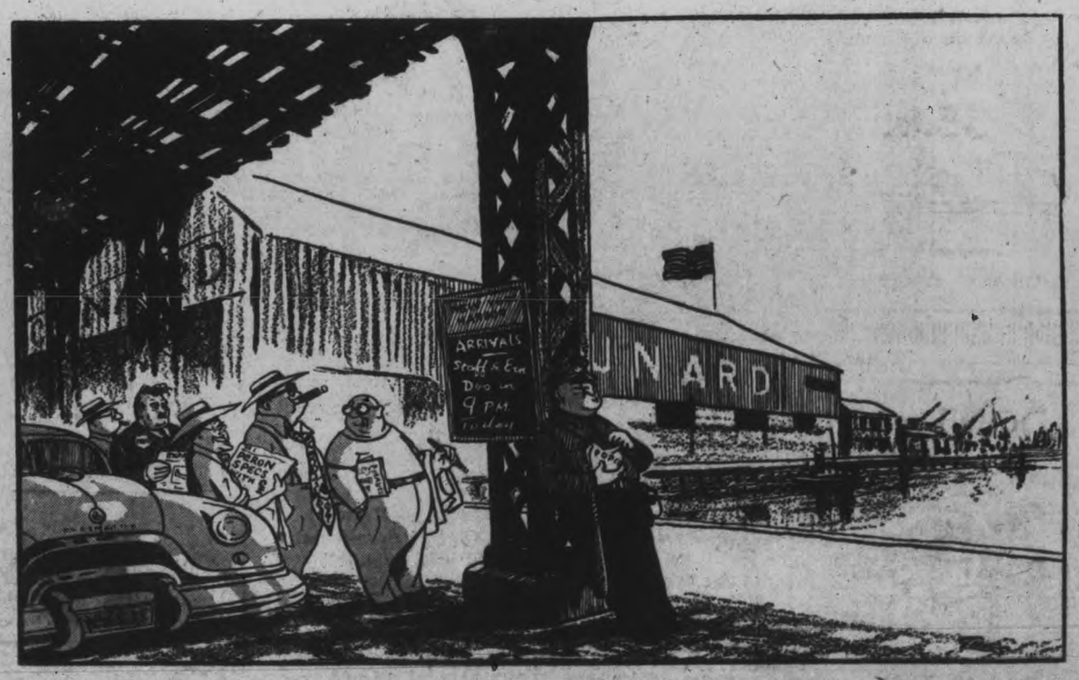
And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. (Rev. 11: 15.)

◇ ◇ ◇

And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. (Rev. 12: 9.)

Letter To The Editor

CARE IN PUBLIC SPENDING



Sir: The people who live in Ontario's villages, towns and smaller cities certainly will benefit from the provincial government's plan to aid the financing of such local improvements as waterworks, sewers and incinerators. Expansion of these essential services has not kept up with the growth of Ontario's urban population and the provincial government's fifty million dollar loan fund can be put to good use—provided it is put to careful use.

Great benefits can result from the government's ability to save the municipal taxpayer's money by providing loans at lower interest rates but it may be of value to point out at this time the harm that could result if any local government took advantage of cheaper borrowing rates to go on a spending spree beyond its reasonable capacity of repayment. While the new financing plan may leave it up to the province to foot the bill, unrestrained spending could bring municipal bankruptcy as easily in these days as in the depression thirties. Approval of spending large sums of money for local improvements should not be left solely to the decision of engineers and office holders.

Perhaps more than ever before it is essential that such spending be done only with the specific approval of a majority of ratepayers. In this respect the ability of our newspapers to keep the public fully informed continues to be of paramount importance.

J. L. RUTLEDGE,
Chairman, The Canadian Unity Council.

Helped Build Up Long Lake, Hendleys Sell

APSLEY, Sept. 14 (ENS)—The development of Long Lake, four miles south of Apsley, as a tourist attraction is closely linked with the tourist resort which Dinnie Hendley built up during the past 25 years. After Mrs. Hendley was incapacitated as the result of an accident last Fall, Mr. Hendley sold the business this year to Mrs. Helen Kidd and bought the Gordon Reynolds farm at Clanricarde, north of Apsley.

When Mr. Hendley started the business 25 years ago he had only one cottage. When he sold it this year it comprised seven cottages, two of which were sold previously in the Spring, and 23 boats.

The head of the lake was overgrown with bush weeds and small timber when Mr. Hendley was first there. This was cleared and a fine residence with a cottage on the summit of the hill close to the landing stood in a beautiful setting.

Mr. Hendley was instrumental in having the crooked wagon road straightened and today there is a gravel road leading in from the highway. He also built a telephone line from Apsley Telephone Company trunkline to his residence.

Honeymoon Cottage has been a popular place for newly-weds where as many as 25 honeymooning couples have spent their holiday in one year.

The hills around Long Lake abound in huckleberries and as many as 500 berry pickers have been at the lake on one day. Mr. Hendley became known around the district as Prince of Long Lake.

In 1943 Mr. Hendley married Rose Daniels.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hendley moved to the Reynolds farm, Mr. Hendley disposed of the Hendley homestead on Highway 28 south of Apsley, where his family lived for 49 years. His father, James Hendley, lived to the age of 108. The homestead was bought by Ernest Farness of Toronto, a war veteran.

Fear Korean Elections May Finish In Flaming Pacific Civil War

(Special to the London Observer and Peterborough Examiner)

"National Elections," planned for Thursday for the Communist Government in North Korea to establish a single "All-Korean Government," are expected in many quarters to precipitate a final struggle between the Russian-protected North and the recognized Korean Republic in the South.

Pyongyang is the Communist capital; Seoul the Republican. The 38th parallel marks the iron curtain imposed by Russia since, in 1945, she and the United States were designated by the Allies to co-operate in creating a constitutional Korean Government.

South Korea is almost wholly agricultural rich (until the war) in rice, millet, barley, and beans. All Korea's valuable deposits of gold, copper, marble and crystal are in the mountainous North. The hydro-electric power station built by Japan used to feed most of Korea, but the South has been denied its supplies since May, 1948, with serious damage to industry.

South Korea's greatest asset is the vitality and resolution of her 74-year-old President, Syngman Rhee. But she is politically unstable and economically unhappy, and Communist intrigue is strong.

All the American troops were withdrawn last June. The U.S. Congress has not yet voted the Korean Republic the 150,000,000 dollars recommended by President Truman.

If the elections end in civil war, as it is feared they may, the odds against the South are heavy, the Northern Army being more than three times as strong as the Southern, and better trained and equipped.

Current Talks Set Stage For Devaluation

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

The stage has been set so well for devaluation of the British pound that it will take another denial from Sir Stafford Cripps to shelve the possibility.

It has been set by the recent Washington discussions between Britain, the United States and Canada; and by statements at the present meeting of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank.

It is being set also by a drive on North American markets slowly being put under way.

Against this is the fact that Sir Stafford has time and again denied that devaluation of the pound is necessary or that it will take place.

If, in the last year he was speaking for the foreseeable future regardless of what developments might take place, then perhaps we may again dismiss the devaluation idea. Possibly, and this we cannot know until there is further word from him, he is convinced that the present $4.03 will be the real value of the pound when current trade and financial problems sort themselves out. Or he may wish to have a better idea where the value is likely to rest in a stable world. At present, free markets indicate a value nearer $3 than $4

No Panic Measure

Certainly, it could be taken from Sir Stafford's past statements that the pound would not be devalued as any panic measure; any step in the dark in the blind hope that it would solve Britain's difficulties. For majority opinion seemed to be that it would not be a solution until other basic conditions in the world were corrected.

It would be taken that if at any time Sir Stafford agreed to devaluation—and he has never given any indication that he would—it would only be as part of a much wider program.

Now, the program agreed upon in Washington and various steps being considered by European countries may just possibly be such a wider program.

At any rate, Sir Stafford seems very pleased at the Washington results.

The program is more significant in its intent than in its concrete steps. By intent it goes a surprisingly long way towards a freer entry of goods from other countries into the United States

Psychologically this seems the moment for a drive on the American market, and psychologically as well as practically, pound devaluation could give a big impetus to a properly operated drive.

Strikes Street Car Oshawa Driver Hurt

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — John Powell, Oshawa truck driver, suffered head injuries Tuesday night when his vehicle was in collision with a street-car at a downtown intersection.

The accident tied up traffic for some time. Powell was caught in his cab and had to be pried loose with crowbars. A fire which started after the crash was extinguished by the street-car operator.

Powell was charged with careless driving.

COUNCIL INVITED

The members of the council have been invited with Mayor Swanston to the opening of Boys' Town at Nicholls Park Sunday afternoon. The Optimist Club obtained use of the premises of Trafalgar House of early days in Peterborough, have fitted it up for use by boys, have engaged a capable supervisor and also have a list of more than 150 boys from all parts of the city for the setting up of the "Town." The letter was received from Dick Ouimet, chairman of the boys' work committee of the Optimists. "I hope members of the council will try to attend this opening," Mayor Swanston said. "I'm not sure yet whether I can be there."

FALLING HAIR: "I had the flu last spring and now my hair is coming out in combs full. What can I take to stop this tragedy? Pretty soon I'll be bald."

Our medical experts advise a quart of milk daily, four eggs weekly, yellow and green vegetables, plenty of citrus fruit. They also endorse a liberal dosage of Vitamin B Complex and a good hair tonic.

DRIED APRICOTS: "Why can't we buy dried apricots any more? There are none on the market and no one knows why."

Douglas Abbott, Canadian Minister of Finance, can give the reason. It is to save Canadian dollars from being diverted to the U.S. purchases. "Plenty of canned apricots, but none of the dried variety," says Abbott.

NEXT SUMMER: "I want to get a summer cottage next year at Manoki, Ontario. How do I find it?"

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Got our fall house-cleaning done early this year. Actually, it's desk-cleaning, and it's quite a chore to clean out six drawers cluttered with scraps of paper, rule and scorebooks, etc., not to mention another half dozen small file drawers of cuts and pictures. At the end of every summer and winter season, such a cleanup job is necessary as stuff piles up during heavy sports' campaigns. You don't like to chuck away scorecards and records until that season is shot — just in case of protests and evidence required in settling disputes. But now we're into the grid season and preparing already for the long and arduous puck campaign.

Frank Tunney, along with Deacon Allen and Jack Dempsey, are busy these days in Toronto arranging their heavyweight boxing tourney. Hence, we haven't heard if Tunney 'ntends staging pro mat shows here this autumn and winter or to put his programs on elsewhere. They usually draw well in this city and district, and plenty of grapple fans see the best in the business. Those who think it is too much of a business don't have to attend. Lots of thrills and laughs as the merry mat huskies turn it on—and no one gets hurt unduly. The game slumped some last spring here after the death of Phil Lawson, but may stage a comeback soon.

Colleens Near Finish

Prexy Bill Bennett's circuit of colleens close out their season Thursday night, weather permitting. Tonight at 7.30 in the Bowl, Ashby's play Westclox to open their best-of-three city softball finals. Next game or games then on Thursday to settle the title. Two smart finalists and some snappy playoff softball on tap in these final few frays, rating a goodly gallery. In provincial play, Woollens meet Shedfacs in Toronto on Saturday in the second of their junior playdowns, locals losing the first here. Westclox and Lindsay earlier were ousted in PWSU play.

Much moisture fell yesterday and last evening, washing out various scheduled games. Dit Clapper phoned Tip Tops in Toronto and postponed the big exhibition planned for the Bowl—with proceeds for the minor baseballers here—and now the Tip Tops are off for Little Rock, Arkansas, and the the world's softball championship. But Tip Tops promised they'd be available in a week or so to come here some fine evening and fulfil the engagement. Should be quite a few fine days yet this month, and fans will get another chance to see this outstanding Canadian club playing the local all-star Merchants at a future date. Good stuff.

New Coach At St. Pete's

St. Peter's High School junior gridders are drilling away these days in preparation for their COSSA schedule, which Alex Londry will be releasing in a day or two. Fred Allore, who taught at De la Salle last year and is at St. Peter's now, is the new SPS football coach. The team will have an exhibition here with St. Michael's on Thanksgiving Day. Meantime, both PCVS squads are practicing away and rounding into shape. Local ORFU Panthers open their home schedule this Friday night at Morrow Park under the new lights, meeting Orillia Bombers, and this should be a game worth viewing. More on the Panthers on the morrow.

Public School Soccer League schedules are in tonight. The seniors open on several fronts late this aft, while the juniors go a week from tomorrow. The new section, the two-zone intermediates, commence play next Tuesday. They have four entries each in the north and south zones, leader in each at schedule's end to playoff. Top two in the junior and senior sections playoff at the finish. Coaches arrange the playoff dates and the referees, latter being listed this p.m. for scheduled contests. Teacher-coaches do a good job each season in this school soccer circuit, and the boys have a lot of fun and healthful competition under ideal instruction as to sportsmanship.

Jersey Giants Rained Out With Buffalo

By The Associated Press.

Jersey City Giants, who never have participated, in the Little World Series, are the darkhorse team in the International League playoffs.

Manager Joe Becker's Giants finished fourth in the regular season and were scheduled to clash with the pennant-winning Buffalo Bisons in Buffalo in the opener of a best-of-seven series Tuesday night.

The game, however, was rained out as was the first game of the other semi-final best-of-seven set between defending champion Montreal and Rochester Red Wings.

Jersey City holds an edge over all three of their playoff rivals. The Giants have downed Rochester and Buffalo 12 times in 22 meetings and Montreal 12 in 23 cracks, including their playoff game for third place.

Lefty Roger Bowman (14-9) is scheduled to pitch for the Giants tonight against Buffalo's Saul Rogovin (16-6). At Rochester, Don Bankhead (20-6) is slated to face the Red Wings' Cloyd Boyer (15-10).

The second game of both series will be played in Buffalo and Rochester, the third, fourth and fifth if necessary, will be played in Jersey City and Montreal. If the sixth and seventh games are necessary, they will be staged in Buffalo and Rochester.

Winners of the semi-final round will then meet in a best-of-seven final series with the victor taking on the American Association's playoff champion in the Little World Series.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

All activities on the bowling green Tuesday were cancelled—rain—and that is the second time the ladies have had to postpone their "on the house" tournament. Better luck next time.

We're going easy on this next item—Weather permitting we will hold the "Family Hour" mixed rink tournament this evening at 7.30 p.m.

This being the half-holiday, many bowlers are taking in the tournaments at Port Hope and Port Perry.

Just keep in mind the men's open trebles tournament on Saturday at 1:30 o'clock.

Today's thought—The test of a promise is in the keeping of it.

Conn Smythe Pleased With Leaf Players

ST CATHARINES, Sept. 14 (CP)—General Manager Conn Smythe Tuesday scrutinized 34 aspirants to the NHL Toronto Maple Leafs and said: "The Leafs are beginning to get depth."

Obviously pleased about the performance of players attending the second-day session of the Leafs training school here, Smythe said he thought his scouts had "done a good job."

He had high praise for a new line—George Armstrong of Toronto; Danny Lewicki of Stratford and Jack McKenzie of Brandon, Man.

Of Charli Lumsdn, 197-pound rarguard from th junior Winnipeg Monarchs, the Leaf manager said: "He's a remarkable piece of stuff on defense."

Graziano Tries Hand At Downing Fusari

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP) — Rocky Graziano, the biggest question mark and dollar mark in the boxing business, returns to the ring tonight a solid choice to whip Charlie Fusari in the Polo Grounds.

The oft-suspended Rock, making his first New York start since he was flattened by Tony Zale 15 months ago, has been installed a 5-9 favorite. The price may go even higher by the time the gladiators square away at 10 p.m. EDT.

While there is a great deal of uncertainty about Graziano's ability, there is no doubt over his gate-pulling powers. The former middleweight king's first home-town showing in three years is bringing in the customers. The promoting International Boxing Club anticipates a crowd of 35,000 and a gross of over $200,000 providing the weather is good.

Kiner May Crack Babe's Record Gets 48th Homer In 11-6 Win

By JACK HAND

Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's fence buster, has stolen the headlines from the pennant race with his assault on Babe Ruth's home run record.

Twice Tuesday night the Pirate slugger tied major league marks as he hammered Nos. 47 and 48 off Philadelphia Phil pitching. The marks were most homers with bases full in a season—four—and most homers in consecutive at bats—four.

With 17 games to go, 14 of them at Forbes Field, the 26-year-old Kiner can beat the Babe's 1927 score of 60 if he keeps up his terrific September pace.

When Kiner blasted Borowy for a grand slam homer in the first inning of Tuesday night's 11-6 win over the Phils, he tied the mark of four, held by six players including Ruth and Lou Gehrig. He followed this with another homer in the second inning. As he hit for the circuit in his last two trips to the plate against Chicago Sunday, he also equalled the mark for homers in consecutive at bats.

Kiner's blasting that drove in six runs allowed Cliff Chambers to breeze home with his 10th victory. He also had a single and a double.

Keeping Pace

St. Louis and Brooklyn kept pace in the race toward the world series with the Cards shutting out New York 1-0 on Red Munger's brilliant one-hit game. That left St. Louis still 1½ games in front of the Dodgers.

Munger faced only 28 Giants, walking one man, in copping a tight duel from Dave Koslo.

Brooklyn exploded for three runs in the 10th inning, two on Jackie Robinson's triple, to overcome Cicinnati 6-3. The Dodgers were beaten 3-2 with two out and nobody on in the ninth.

The Boston-Chicago game in the National was postponed because of wet grounds.

Still In There

Boston Red Sox gave warning that they are not to be counted out of the American League race by twice coming from behind to end Detroit's 10-game victory streak, 7-4.

With the Red Sox winning and New York's doubleheader with St. Louis postponed until today because of rain, the Yankees' lead now measures 2½ games.

Detroit seemed headed for its 19th victory in 21 starts when they hopped on Jack Kramer for three runs in the first. The Sox came right back to tie on Al Zarilla's three-run double off Art Houtteman.

After the Tigers got to Kramer for another run in the sixth, the Sox took the lead on Billy Goodman's single, Lou Stringer's double, Birdie Tebbetts single and an outfield fly by Tom Wright, pinch hitting for Kramer. Boston added insurance runs in the seventh and eighth.

Dick Weik of Washington dropped his 11th game in a row as the Senators bowed 3-2 to Chicago White Sox. Randy Gumpert won it for the Sox.

The Cleveland - Philadelphia contest was rained out.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting—Ralph Kiner, Pirates—Hit 47th and 48th homers to tie two major league records in Pittsburgh's 11-6 victory over Phils. His first homer came with bases loaded, his fourth of the season to tie one record. The other was most homers in consecutive at bats—four. He hit two in Sunday's game and followed with two more in his first trips to the plate against the Phils.

Pitching—George Munger, Cardinals—Set down the New York Giants with one hit—a single by Sid Gordon in the second inning—in pitching 1-0 triumph.

Synod Shelves Civil Marriage For Three Years

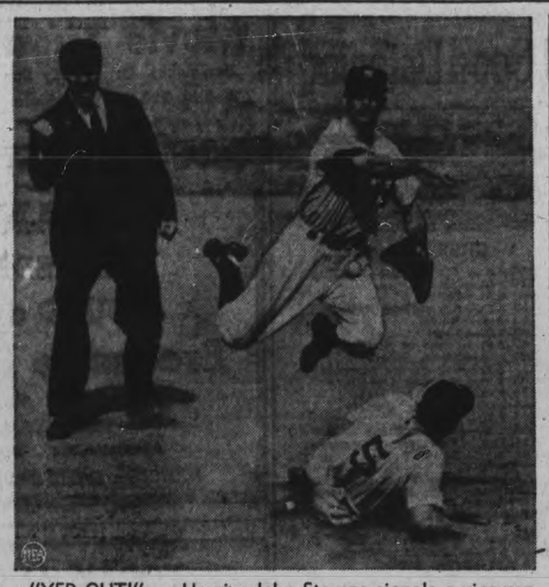
By RAE CORELLI

HALIFAX, Sept. 14 (CP)—The Church of England in Canada today shelved for at least three years a motion asking backing for a move to have civil marriages permitted in all provinces.

Canon W. W. Judd of Toronto, in the report of the council for social service (C.S.S.) to the church's general synod Tuesday said the issue had been studied for a year by the church's committee on marriage and divorce and "would, on the whole, be desirable."

Defeat of the motion by a joint session of the upper and lower houses, however, automatically shelved the issue until at least the next general synod in three years time.

Civil marriages are those performed by a public servant or marriage commissioner.



The report said such marriages were desirable because "of new conditions of late years, such as the increase in divorces in Canada and consequent requests for re-marriage . . . and the presence in Canada of persons other than the Christian and Jewish faiths."

Also adopted were recommendations that:

1. Provincial governments be asked to name committees to make pre-screening examinations of films purporting to offer sex education.

2. The church's stand against use of gambling practices to raise money for church purposes be reaffirmed.

3. An appeal be made to the federal government to repeal sections of the criminal code legalizing gambling and lotteries for so-called charitable purposes.

Krol, Reader On Sidelines For Argos

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Joe (King) Krol and Russ Reader key men for the Toronto Argonauts, may not see action when the Argos meet Montreal Alouettes in their Big Four football game here Saturday.

Krol, leading the individual scoring race, aggravated an old knee injury last Saturday when the Ottawa Rough Riders defeated the Argos 19-1. The injury hemorrhaged and resulted in a badly-swollen ankle.

Even of the injury responds to treatment it is unlikely that Krol will be used. He's missed some new plays that Coach Tedder Morris has put into operation.

Reader, the likely one to fill the quarterback slot, also may be out of the lineup. He can't lift his bruised pitching arm past shoulder level.

Morris, meanwhile, is grooming Nick Volpe and Fred Doty to shoulder the quarterback duties. The backfield may also be changed. Arnie Sticks, Don Crowe Mike King and Ernie Becker will likely all don playing togs.

Will Need 66,000 New Teachers Within Next 5 Years C.E.A. Told

By KAY REX

FREDERICTON, NB., Sept. 14 (CP)—Improved salary scales and better living conditions were recommended for Canada's teachers in a report presented today to the Canadian Education Association annual meeting.

The 137-page study of the status of the teaching profession was prepared by a CEA committee under the chairmanship of Dr. M. E. LaZerte, dean of the faculty of education at the University of Alberta

It said that in the next five years more than 66,000 new teachers will be needed in Canadian schools; that in the last school year only 7,321 teachers were being trained in nine of the provinces

It recommended that "active" steps be taken "to provide immediate hope and encouragement, alike to educators responsible for teacher training and to students who may wish to become teachers."

More than 40 recommendations were made in the report which dealt separately with the different sides of education in Canada—teacher supply and demand; teacher training; living and working conditions; teaching as a profession: salaries and pensions.

Concentrated Study

The recommendations followed concentrated study of a survey of Canadian education which a CEA committee presented at the organization's convention a year ago.

The report urged that provincial governments introduce minimum salary scales to guarantee teachers, with training equivalent to university graduation, salaries comparable with that of other similarly-trained professional groups.

It asked that such scales provide at least 10 yearly increments of $120, and that in placement of teachers on schedule recognition be given to previous teaching experience in public schools.

Provincial and local education authorities should review salary structures "to ensure that the remuneration paid to those holding positions at various levels is appropriate and just." The person in an administrative or supervisory position should receive at least five per cent more salary than those under him.

Take Greater Interest

Provincial and local teacher groups should take a greater interest in educational research and the study of educational problems They should give publicity to these activities "rather than to their necessary efforts for the improvement of salaries, pensions and tenure."

The Canadian Teachers Federation should study the possibility of publishing a monthly magazine devoted to educational administration, research and the improvement of classroom practice.

A section of the report in the selection and training of teachers, recommended that professional educators and administrators strive to see that education in itself and as a career attracts young people of ability and quality "representative of all economic groups and geographic areas and of increasingly better cultural background."

All teachers should begin service with education extending at least two years beyond high school graduation.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Left-winger Danny Lewicki, under contract to the NHL Toronto Maple Leafs, said Tuesday he doesn't intend to turn professional this season and that he does not wish to play hockey in Toronto.

The 19-year-old star said at the Leafs' training school at St. Catharines: "I feel I'm too young yet to turn pro. I feel that I can still add more weight and gain more knowledge of the game."

Earlier Tuesday, Leafs' general manager, Conn Smythe, said that Lewicki would play his hockey within the Maple Leaf organization this year, or not at all.

Last winter Lewicki was asked to line up with Toronto Marlboros in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior League but declined. He was finally granted permission to play with Stratford Kroehlers..

If Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League have their way this season they'll have plenty of zip.

General manager Art Chapman Tuesday started training at nearby Fort Erie, Ont., with at least half the squad newcomers, a number of them raw rookies still in their 'teens.

"Two things are certain," said Chapman. "We're gonna skate them dizzy up front. That's an order this season. And our defence is going to make the incoming forwards bounce.

Most of the newcomers are from the United States and Pacific Coast Leagues, but among them are 10 amateurs. Five of the amateurs are from Barrie Flyers, Ontario Hockey Association junior champions the last two seasons.

Two of the amateurs stand out in practices so far. They are Paul Meger, flying left-winger from Barrie, and his Barrie teammate, centre Gordon Pennell.

Bren Macken of Montreal, former tennis captain for William and Mary University, has been signed as coach for the 1950 net squad at William and Mary, it was announced Tuesday at Williamsburg, Va.

Macken, a member of this year's Davis Cup Team, was a star performer for William and Mary in 1946 and 1947 in the United States National Intercollegiate championships. He will succeed Dr. S. G. Umbeck, tennis mentor at William and Mary for the last 10 years and now president of Knox College in Illinois.

Formation of the Ladies' Professional Golf Association of America, with Patty Berg as its first president, was announced at New York Tuesday by Fred Corcoran, former tournament director of the men's PGA.

The new association will hold its first open tournament Sept. 22-25 at Prince George's Country Club, Landover, Md., with $7,500 in cash prizes for the leading pros in the 72-hole medal event. Women amateurs also will be invited to compete.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., six key players of the National Hockey League Detroit Red Wings Tuesday signed contracts at the Wing's training camp.

First to sign was Captain Sid Abel, all-star centre. Others were George Gee, Leo Reise, Clare Martin, Pete Babando and Jim Peters. The latter three came from Boston Bruins in a recent player-money swap that saw Bill Quackenbush go to the Bruins.

Report Close Race For Detroit Mayoralty

DETROIT, Sept 14 (AP)—Albert E Cobo and George Edwards, seeking the two nominations for Detroit's mayoralty race, stepped out in front Tuesday night in early scattered returns from Tuesday's primary election

Cobo is city treasurer; Edwards is the city council's president.

Mayor Eugene I. Van Antwerp, seeking his second two-year term, trailed in third place.

Richard T Frankensteen, former official of the United Auto Workers (CIO) and the only other candidate conceded a chance in the race, was fourth. He now is a business man.

Eleven candidates sought the nominations for mayor, a post that pays $25,000 a year. The primary and election Nov. 8 are nonpartisan.

U.S. Immigration Ban Said Touch of Fascism

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — R. H. Carlin, Canadian director of the International Union of Mine Mill and Smelter Workers, said Tuesday the action of United States immigration officers barring five Sudbury union delegates from the U.S "smacks of Fascism."

The five, enroute to a union convention in Chicago, were turned back at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Monday. Immigration officials said their presence in the U.S would be inimical to the best interests of the country.

In a statement Tuesday, Carlin, barred earlier from the U.S., said:

"Denying credentialed trade unionists free entry to and from either country, Canada or the United States, irrespective of who orders it, may only be construed as a diabolical plot to destroy the trade union movement."

124 Students Registered Normal School

Peterborough Normal School's attendance, 124, is the highest since the early 1930's, L. W. Copp, principal of the school said Tuesday. Besides the 124 students who assembled Tuesday the opening of the school, there are six others who are expected to arrive by the end of the week.

The largest number of students from any one school comes from PCVS, 16. Students from other schools are: St. Peter's High School, two; Lindsay, nine; Cobourg, six; Belleville, nine; Kingston, five and west of Orillia, four. The rest of the students are from smaller centres within Peterborough - Kingston - Midland area.

The girls again outnumber the boys, three to one. Last year there were 19 boys attending the school, but this year there are 34. Ninety-two girls are registered, 25 more than last year.

Four of the boys are veterans. Mr. Copp said that he expects more veterans will attend the school, the others coming later in the week.

Mr. Copp also added that there are sufficient boarding-homes for the students. All boarding-homes have to be approved by the Normal School.

Freight Piles Up

DALHOUSIE, NB, Sept. 14 — (CP). — The loocmotive and 15 cars of a west-bound freight train piled up Tuesday night at Eel River, three miles from here, causing considerable damage to a section of the Canadian National Railways main line. The locomotive rolled over on tts side, and several of the cars overturned. None was injured.

Disparage Talks

MOSCOW, Sept. 14 (AP)—The first Russian press comment on the three-power monetary accord disparaged the results of the Washington talks. The newspaper, Evening Moscow, referring to Britain's economic crisis, said on Tuesday: "Judging by the communique, no real solution to this problem was found."

Won't Be Affected

JASPER, Alta., Sept. 14 (CP) —Newspapers are not likely to be affected by television, the radio committee of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association said Tuesday in its report to the association's annual convention. The report said the pattern of radio stations and weeklies operating side by side in communities is settling down.

Attends Parliament

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 (CP) — Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland arrived in Ottawa Tuesday night to attend the first opening of parliament since Newfoundland became Canada's 10th province. Mr. Smallwood said in an interview he expects, too, to consult with Federal officials on housing and highways problems

Plan To Kill Whales By Electrocution

LONDON—(Reuters). A British whaling company has fitted out a whale-catcher with special electrical equipment for killing whales by electric shock.

The more usual explosive harpoon, generally fired from a gun by the captain of the catcher, is expensive and weighs about one and a half hundredweight each.

Apart from experiments with the electric shock method alternative investigations have been made with quick-action poison such as curare and liquid air shells fired from a gun, to cut down cost of whaling.

Aerial Surveys For Road Work

LAKE LOUISE, Alta., Sept. 14 —(CP). — The use of aerial surveys for highway location was described today for delegates to the 20th annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association.

Dr. Lyle G. Trorey, technical director of Photographic Surveys (Western) Limited, said that although air survey is a complex business requiring specialized equipment and specially-trained personnel it is cheaper and quicker than ground survey and provides great savings of the time and skills of location engineers.

Air survey includes air photography, ground control, or the equivalent, and compilation of topographic maps.

Georges Leveille, director of the Quebec Provincial Publicity Bureau, told delegates his province takes objective dollar-and-cents view of the tourist business and strives energetically to increase touring

Tourist Lures

Speaking on "Our Tourist Business" at the convention's final business session, he said Quebec's importance in the tourist industry has grown from the point where the province attracted 3½ per cent of Canada's total tourist dollars in 1920 to the point where it attracted more than one-third of Canada's total last year

In encouraging tourists, he said Quebec bases its policy on the belief that the tourist travels in search not only of pleasure and sport, but also of culture and things different from home conditions

He urged that other provinces adopt a corresponding policy whose chief attraction for tourists should be distinctive regional or local atmosphere, plus accommodation and service at least as good as the traveller could obtain at home

Egg Prices Soar

TORONTO, Sept. 14 — (CP).— Toronto housewives paid from 75 to 95 cents a dozen for Grade-A eggs Tuesday, as wholesale prices took another upsurge. Wholesale prices varied from 79 to 85 cents a dozen. One grocer said 79 cents was the lowest wholesale quotation he got from 10 wholsalers.

Quebec Union Continues Strike

QUEBEC, Sept 14 (CP) — A meeting of the 122 garage employees of the Quebec Railway Light and Power Company Tuesday night decided to continue the strike after it was informed of a compromise offer by the company granting part of their demands.

Rene Harmegnies, organizer of the Catholic Syndicate (CCCL) to which the gargemen are affiliated, made the latest company offer known at the meeting during which the company was charged with "inciting" the strike.

The syndicate members decided they were ready to accept an eight-cent hourly increase offered Tuesday night but said it should be retroactive to Feb. 1

Furthermore the syndicate said the increase would be valid only until a Provincial Transport Board decided on a company demand for higher fares If fares were increased the union would seek a 10-cent hourly increase.

Benny Decides To Leave Television Alone

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14 (AP) —Television will have to struggle along without Jack Benny for a while. He has decided to stick with radio until TV attracts a larger audience.

He's still enthusiastic about television as a coming medium, but he says now:

"I began to think how silly it would be to knock my brains out doing radio and TV shows at the same time."

The greying, bespectacled comic is a perfectionist. He works five days a week writing and polishing his air show. Even if he did a TV show only every other week, the strain would be too much, he figures. "I can't afford to be mediocre," says Jack.

Talent Wasted

Diana Lynn, signed for the movies largely because of her ability as a concert pianist, has been given little opportunity to display her musical talents on the screen. This surprises nobody in Hollywood. Dancers are liable to be cast as comedians, singers as dramatic heavies.

"When a role does require an actress to portray a pianist, the director always picks a girl who can't even play,'" says Diana.

"Of course," she added, "parts calling for a pianist don't come every day. With a singer it's different. An actress with a voice can just open her mouth and sing, in almost any kind of role, but you can't drag a piano around willy-nilly."

Diana still plays professionally between film roles. Her third album of records is finished for release this fall. And she still hopes for more movies in which she plays.

Builders Blamed In Pipe Leakage

The Board of Health decided Monday to write to the Central Mortgage and Finance Corporation and to Harris & Fair, contractors in Peterborough, stating they must make arrangements satisfactory to the Board before disconnecting sewage pipes while constructing houses.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, said he had received a complaint at the weekend from a woman on Parkhill Road that the basement of her house was "in a mess" since the contractors had disconnected a pipe while constructing the wall of a new house.

Other people in the same area were having similar trouble, she said.

Dr. Kelly said the builders had used roofing to connect the pipe again, and this was not satisfactory.

The Board had received another letter from Paul R. Coster, 140 Fradette Avenue, asking what was being done to service the east of Braidwood Avenue with a sewer. The Board of Health recommended last March that a sewer be laid but nothing had been accomplished yet.

Mayor Max Swanston told the Board negotiations were in progress with the Brinton Carpet Company, which already had a private line connected to the city sewer. It was hoped some arrangement could be made whereby use of the private sewer could be made to save expense by duplicating the existing facilities. The Mayor assured the Board that the matter had not been shelved.

Have Enthusiasm of Boys For Doing Miniature Models

By NORMAN CRIBBENS.

LONDON, Sept. 14 — (CP). — Britain's Peter Pans— sparetime craftsmen who retain the inventive enthusiasm of boys — have created a world in miniature at the Model Engineering Exhibition in Westminster.

More than 400 models entered by amateurs whose ages range from 14 to 87 are on view. Of these only three have been made by women.

Albert Stanndard, a London bus driver, spent 300 hours making a small scale model, about four inches long, of a lightweight motorcycle.

Most exhibits suggest that the average modeller is so much in love with his everyday work that he spends his leisure hours making replicas of the tools of his trade.

Thus, a lifeboat coxswain sends in a model lifeboat, a fireman a miniature fire engine, a locomotive engineer a locomotive.

The professions, however go in more for escapism. A clergyman submits, not a model cathedral, but a gay little model of a Nile boat of 1450 BC, while a doctor enters a scale model of a sailing boat in which he spends his week-ends.

All Kinds Displayed

Models on show range from jet airplanes to antique furniture, and a spray of roses made from copper. Smallest of them all is a rigged sailboat that can be covered by a silver threepeny bit — smaller than a Canadian dime.

It was built by T. E. Butler of Ramsgate, Kent, at a model engineering club which he attends three times a week.

Models of ships range from working model liners of the future to tiny sailing ships in bottles. A Sheffield man went one better and produced a model encased in an electric light bulb.

Though most of the exhibits are static, one section is given over to action models. Cars, boats and trains equipped with tiny electric engines whiz round specially-built tracks at dazzling speeds while toy airplanes on control lines roar overhead.

Shows Toronto Crime Toll Light

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Toronto's reputation as a "second Chicago" is not borne out by crime statistics, Mayor Hiram McCallum said Tuesday.

He told a meeting of the Advertising and Sales Club "the impression is abroad that Toronto is a second Chicago."

"This is not the truth," the mayor said in an address. Official crime reports of nine United States cities of similar size of Toronto showed that this city had fewer crimes.

The nine United States cities with populations ranging from 500,000 to 1,000,000 had anywhere from 14 to 96 murders in 1947, he said. In the same year Toronto had seven. During the first six months of 1948 the United States cities' murder toll ranged from six to 55. Toronto in the same period had four.

Although full 1948 figures for the United States cities were not available, Toronto in that year had eight murders of which six were solved by city police.

Tooth Weighs 15 Lbs.

MOSCOW, Sept. 14 ((AP)— The petrified bones of an unknown "giant animal," so big that a single tooth weighs 15 pounds, have been discovered in Siberia, the newpaper Evening Moscow reported. The paper said the bones were found by fishermen in sand along the Tobol River in the Baikalovsk region.

RCMP Get Pair After Manhunt

CRANBERRY ORTAGE, Man., Sept. 14 (CP) — A 1,000-mile manhunt by RCMP was climaxed when two Indians were sentenced to two years in penitentiary for robbing the Royal Mail of $750.

Evidence at the trial Friday was that the Indians had broken into a mail bag on an aircraft forced down somewhere in the Churchill River en route from South Indian Lake to The Pas, Man.

RCMP investigation showed that the Indians, who were reported giving money away on the streets of The Pas, had gone to Wabowden to work in a pulp camp.

Police followed them there but the men had left before the police reached Wabowden. They were finally arrested in South Indian Lake and taken to Moosonee for trial.

DP's No Cause Of Trouble In Peterborough

There have not been dramatic unions of displaced families in Peterborough as there have been in other cities and towns. Rather, the DP's have gone quietly about their jobs, fulfilling their contract with satisfied employers.

To date, 101 displaced women have come to Peterborough through the offices of the National Employment Services and of those, 73 were single girls. Forty-two have completed their contracts, and of that number, 20 have left the city, 15 are still employed here, and seven were transferred out. There were 39 female domestics, and 20 domestic couples.

Behind the dull figures of the DP's arrivals and assignments to jobs, there are dramatic occurrences when they did not get along with employers, stories of too much hard work and too little food. There are stories of filth, claimed worse than any concentration camp in Germany, and tales of displaced persons unloading their misery through an interpreter.

A total of 152 males have been placed in Peterborough and district, in almost every trade. Of the total, 85 are classed as Polish war veterans, 48 are still employed here, and 37 have finished their contracts and are employed someplace else.

The other 67 men are classed as ordinary DP's. Twenty-nine of these have completed contracts, 18 are still working on the contracts, and 20 have been transferred out of their jobs. Six of that 20 have moved out of town, and the other 14 are employed elsewhere in the city.

Mr. W. H. L. Mellis, manager of the local employment office, says that all the DP's who have come here have been good workers, often showing up local labor. Any trouble that has been found has in most cases been due to employers who either did not understand the displaced person or who preferred to treat the worker as something less than a human being.

Offered Bad Conditions

One case that sticks in the mind of the local employment office concerns a couple who were assigned to a farm in the north country. A few hours later the couple were back at the police station, having hitch-hiked back to the city. Through an interpreter, it was found that conditions were worse at the farm than the couple had seen in war-ravaged Europe. They were taken to another job, and have proved to be invaluable.

Still another case concerns a farmer who brought a young man in after having him less than a week, with the complaint that the DP refused to work. The full story was that the farmer was not feeding him enough, and the worker refused to do all the work on such small meals. He, too, was placed elsewhere, and his employer was well satisfied with him.

Mr. Mellis emphasizes that the employers are by no means always at fault, and that in many cases the reason for dissatisfaction is simply one of misunderstanding between employer and employee.

Classes in instruction in English have been carried on by the National Employment Service since June, 1947, and have proved very successful.

COMMENCED TRAINING

Five recruits were interviewed Tuesday night at the first fall parade of Peterborough's two reserve force units, the 50th Heavy AA Regiment, RCA and the 37th Heavy AA Workshop, RCEME. The evening was devoted to administration details, connected with opening training and preparation of equipment.

Slippery Road, 3 Accidents, Man In Hospital

Tossed from the front to the rear seat of a car in which he was a passenger, after the vehicle skidded and rolled over, James Murton, whose address is the McGillis Hotel, is in Havelock hospital with undetermined chest injuries.

He is under the medical care of Dr. D. J. Holdcroft of Havelock.

The injury, which occurred on Tuesday night, was the third and most serious of a series that happened in one day on the slippery two-and-a-half mile stretch of No. 7 Highway just east of Havelock.

William Kemp of Wolsley St., Peterborough, was driver of the car in which Murton was a passenger. He was driving west and had reached a point about four miles east of the village when he lost control of the vehicle.

It skidded and went into the ditch, turning over and finally coming to rest with the rear against a double hydro pole. During this manoeuvre Murton was thrown from the front seat into the rear.

As it was the rear portion of the car that was most severely damaged it is believed that Murton received his chest injuries after being thrown backwards.

A quarter of an hour earlier a five-ton stake truck, owned by Fullerton and Thurton, wholesale produce dealers from Bradford, went off the highway a half mile further east.

The large truck was also going west and it skidded on the wet surface of the road and ran into the north ditch. It did not upset. There was no damage and no injuries.

The first of the three accidents was at 11.10 a.m., shortly after the rain started.

A. R. Dafoe of Havelock, was driving his three-ton dump truck west on No. 7 when it skidded on the pavement about two miles east of the village, and rolled over in the ditch. He crawled out uninjured.

Body damage was estimated at $50.

Provincial Constable A. Kellogg of Hastings, investigated all three accidents.

When Stanley Burger of Lakefield went to Lock 23 on Tuesday to have a look at his punt moored there, he found it missing. Thieves are believed to have taken the 14-foot boat, painted green on the outside and red inside, during the week-end. Provincial Constables Keith O'Shaughnessy and Joseph Hanson are investigating.

WORK IS HALTED

Utilities Commission has halted the laying of a water main up the slope at the west end of Weller St. After they had got under way with this job, they learned that the city council was going to take six feet off the top of the hill. Utilities have to provide water connection and pressure to the new hospital. That calls for a pumping unit which is located on the Queen Mary school property, and a big elevated tank for which the concrete foundation is being laid. Delivery will not be until November.

POSTPONE UE VOTE

Because of confusion on the subject of flow charts (the proposed method of laying off and transferring personnel at the CGE plant) a ballot vote by the membership to accept or reject this method has been postponed to a future date. Whether or not the pro-flow chart supporters were defeated in both a hand and standing vote at the membership meeting Tuesday night remains a matter of controversy. But before ballots were distributed to decide the matter a motion carried that the balloting be postponed.

STOLE USE OF TRUCK

Farmers Sowing More Wheat, Rye

Filling of farm silos is said to be two weeks in advance of the usual period in the harvest for that work detail. Farmers are at work on their fodder corn all across Ontario.

The weekly report of the Department of Agriculture says the acreage of fall wheat will be twice the expanse of last year. Here in Peterborough the Examiner has been talking to some farmers who have seeded as much as 30 acres each.

Wellington county reports the heaviest planting of wheat in its history, and Hastings finds a keen demand for Cornell 595. Forage harvesters have been largely used in taking off the ensilage corn crop. One farmer in Eramosa township, Wellington, is reported to have sown 100 acres in wheat. Lambton says the acreage of winter rye is increasing from year to year.

Lincoln: "There appears to be still a keen demand for dairy cattle for export, especially for Jerseys.... Fruit growers are experiencing difficulty in obtaining six-quart baskets and covers, probably due to a large extent to the increased quantity of plums that are going in baskets this year."

Norfolk: "The fall harvest is the most advanced in years."

Welland: "Fall pastures are very good; milk production is being well maintained."

Victoria: "The recent sharp decline in hog prices has slowed the sale of young pigs. Farmers needing hay are refusing to pay some of the high prices being asked, and are looking for hay from other parts of the province where prices are more reasonable."

Middlesex: "Good weanling pigs are still selling around $12 each."

Grenville: "Acreage of fall wheat and rye will be double that of last year".

Service To City Highly Praised

A signal honor has been conferred on the city hall here in the announcement by the Institute of Public Administration of Canada that its executive has elected City Clerk E. A. Outram a Fellow of the Institute.

Membership in the Institute is limited to executive leaders in the civil service of Canada, the Dominion Government, provincial governments and Canadian municipalities. The direct aim of the Institute is to promote higher standards in public administration. There are three grades of members, a Fellow of the Institute being the highest.

The election of Mr. Outram was in recognition by the Institute of his long and efficient service in the public administration of Peterborough.

Grant Extension Of Mains In Ashburnham

Two housing subdivisions in Ashburnham are next on the list of extension of water mains by the Utilities Commission. One is the Sands and Bateman Parkdale area, south of Park Hill Road and east of Armour Road, and the other Highland Heights in the Caddy-McFarlane Streets neighborhood.

This approval of continuing new construction was given Tuesday by the Utilities Commission. G. S. Matthews presided, with George A. Macdonald and Fred Hills present.

The Parkdale work will be west on Swanston Ave. from the end of the existing main on Snelgrove Ave. and northerly on Snelgrove to Park Hill Road. Twenty houses are in course of building. This job requires 930 ft. of six-inch pipe. Estimated cost is $4,830, including 20 services. Revenue from the services at $18.75 is $375 a year.

On Caddy Street

Highland Heights extension will be on Caddy St. from the end of the existing main, easterly; Ludgate St. from Caddy to McFarlane; Welch St. from west of Simmons Ave. to east of Watts; Simmons from Welch to McFarlane; Watts from Welch to McFarlane; McFarlane St. from end of existing main to Watts Ave.

Applications have been received for connections to 40 lots with a possible total of 55 lots. Length of main 3,430 ft.; estimated cost $15,000, including 40 services; revenue from 40 connections $750 a year.

The question has arisen as to whether any charge should be made against the vacant lots in the subdivision. The water line adds value to the property. Mr. Dobbin said the estimated revenue of $750 was about half the income which should be forthcoming from that area.

A third job on the list, next in the order of undertaking, is the laying of a 12-inch main from McDonald's Point across the park at Rink St. to Perry and George Streets. The trench may also accommodate the city's sewer. Utilities Commission is doing the work, including the completed crossing of the river, and is charging half the amount to the city council.

Main Cost $12,980

The laying of the water main across the river cost the Commission $6,490.72, half the total expenditure on that job. The other half is paid by the council. Pre-contract estimate of the cost was $12,000.

The Commission has to carry its water line south-westerly from McDonald's Point to the corner of George and Perry Streets. That cost is estimated by Mr. Dobbin at $10,340. The work entails trenching diagonally across the new park that looks out on the lake.

The Commission has not yet been informed what action the city council is going to take. Their connection to the city sewer may be made at Rink and George Streets. At any rate, Mr. Dobbin has been authorized to proceed with the water main connection, primarily to improve water pressures in Ashburnham, the purpose of the Commission's investment in crossing the river with 12-inch pipe.

Kilowatt Hour Use Of Power Increased 10 P.C.

Use of water and electricity in August exceeded the top levels of record a year ago, R. L. Dobbin, manager, reported to the Utilities Commission Tuesday.

The peak in the electric department last month was 24,589 h.p. as compared with 24,388 h.p. in August 1948.

"This is practically the same as last year, but the total kilowatt hours delivered from the substations are 10% higher. This would indicate longer hourly use of present equipment with no increase in the connected load.

"New circuits were constructed on Wilson Ave., St. Luke's St. and Weller St., and for the new housing north of McKellar St. and west of Monaghan Road. Some work was done on rebuilding the circuit from Auburn to the pump house. There were 113 new three-wire services installed and nine two-wire; 66 new water heaters were connected to the system."

Water Pumpage Increase

"Pumpage of water in August was 161,442,000 gallons as compared with 147,826,000 in August last year. The increase was about 400,000 gals. a day.

"The 24-inch force main was placed in service last month, and resulted in the equalization of pressures all over the city, with an increase in this regard in the areas that were formerly too low.

"Water pressures at the pump house were able to be lowered by 10 pounds because of the reduced friction in the supply mains.

"The twin 12-inch steel pipes were laid across the river between Burnham's Point and McDonald's Point on Aug. 17-18. The ends of these pipes are not yet connected into the systems, but we expect to connect the pipe which will carry water sometime this fall.

"During the month 422 ft. of eight-inch main were laid on Weller St. from Albertus to Monaghan Road in preparation for the installation of the booster pump

"On McKellar St. west of Monaghan Rd. 564 ft. of eight-inch main were laid to accommodate the new housing area. In this district, on Hawley and Little Streets 2,322 ft. of six-inch main were laid."

Serve Many New Homes

"Six-inch mains were also laid on McKellar, east of Park; Montrose, Lillian and Chester Streets for a total of 1,821 ft. These mains are to serve many new homes in this district.

"On Hillcrest, Manorhill and Hopkins Avenues, we laid 580 ft. of six-inch main for the housing at the top of the hill. A total of 90 new water services were laid from the above mains to houses in course of construction, and six new hydrants were set. Five old water services were relaid and one leak repaired.

"At the pumping station, through the negligence of one of the operators No. 1 pumping set was run without oil on the bearings and was badly damaged. By the co-operation of the CGE Company, very speedy repairs were made, and instead of having the pump out of commission for at least one month, it was back in service in five days."

At Gas Plant

"Production in the gas department was 5,362,000 cu. ft., and 34,652 gals. of liquid propane were used. The new gas fired boiler for the gas plant arrived and will be installed in September.

"During the month a leak survey of the gas distribution system was conducted by the Heath Company. The survey showed very little leakage, mostly at the stuffing glands of street valves, due to the drying of the packing."

Child Hit By Car Unconscious 3 Days

Hit by a car when he stepped from a milk wagon on Monaghan Rd., near Queen Mary School Saturday, seven-year-old Patrick Murphy has been mostly unconscious during the past about 90 hours.

St. Joseph's hospital officials said today his condition was slightly improved. Yesterday he roused enough to recognize his father, but then dropped again into a deep sleep.

The car which hit young Murphy was driven by Keith F. Goodfellow, 466 Bonaccord St. The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy, 470 Park St.

Gravel Ridges Are Eskers Armour Hill Is Drumlin Rice Lake Hills Moraine

By NICK NICKELS

Did you know that Armour Hill is a drumlin and that there are at least a dozen drumlins between Peterborough and Lakefield; that the gravel ridges at Norwood, Omemee, Fenelon Falls, are eskers, or the rising Northumberland hills south of Rice Lake is a moraine? All these terms are being bandied about this week by a group of 42 geography students from the University of Toronto and McMaster University. The leaders Dr. D. F. Putnam of Toronto and Professor L. G. Reeds of McMaster and formerly of Raeboro say the Peterborough district is one of the richest geographical study areas in the Province.

Of the two combined third and fourth-year student bodies, many of them, men and women, have spent the past summers studying geography in other parts of Canada ranging from Northern Saskatchewan to Cornwallis Island in the Arctic. They agree with their professors that nowhere in their long travels have they been able to find such land contrasts as are prevalent in this county.

Through their eyes "geography supplies the map for settlement" and Peterborough and its surrounding villages, their growth, history and location provide one section of their study.

Rewrite Geography

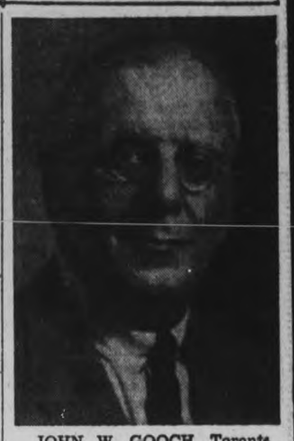
It is their opinion that it is much more important to study what we have (geography) than what we did (history) and that the more serious study given to the former subject will benefit the nation's future. They claim also that the geography of Canada must be rewritten and that it is a matter for serious consideration for educational bodies throughout the Dominion.

"Agriculture, to date, has been given the most assistance in the establishment of colleges and experimental farms," said Dr. Putnam, "but, the study of our forests has been neglected miserably. This must be stepped up at once if we are to consider the forest as a crop and not a natural resource to exploit."

Field geography study is not new to universities. The University of Toronto has been doing it for ten years and McMaster for three. Both institutions have held class courses in it longer than that. While the present group tours the district by buses to gain an overall picture, they are divided into sections to study special assignments. Assisting the two professors are three lecturers, J. B. Bird, Jac Spelt, and W. C. Wonders and a demonstrator, W. G. Dean.

Others in the group, all U. of T. graduates, are Allen Kelly, R. Paul Baine, A. Davidson, Thomas Brynes and Joan Hume. Undergraduates are Norma Storey, Joan Bond, Isabelle George, Marjory Owen, Earl Porter, Howard Patterson, C. H. Lochhead, R. B. Truemner, George Bradley, James Davey, W. J. McDowell, M. K. McCutcheon, F. B. Watts, E. M. Burwash, W. Stuart Brown, R. A. Copeland, Ian Fraser, J. H. Munro, J. Bousfield, C. G. Brown, Martin Toivianen, Eric L. House, H. A. Smith and W. E. Sager.

In the McMaster group is graduate Harold Wood and undergrads Jerry Ridge, John Stager, Harold Potts, Evangeline Downey, Leonard Prior and Georgia Henderson.



Peach Tree Yields 10 Baskets Of Fruit

A peach tree owned by Mrs. Pearl Selkirk, 208 Reid St., yielded 10 baskets of peaches this year. Last year the tree had only three peaches while two years ago Mrs. Selkirk preserved 13 quarts.

When the peaches were half-grown this year one limb cracked due to the heavy weight of the fruit. The limb was propped up and some of the peaches were saved. Mrs. Selkirk added that the peaches on this particular limb were smaller than the others. Most of the peaches, she continued, were of good size, about that of a good-sized orange.

Some years ago the previous owner, Henry Harvey, planted a peach stone. Eight years ago when Mrs. Selkirk bought the house the tree was full-grown.

Girl, 13, Injured Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 14 — (ENS)—A Campbellford man, Wellington Spencer, has been charged with careless driving as the result of a two-car collision on No. 30 Highway, Monday night.

Claire Windover, 13, years, a passenger in another car, was taken to Warkworth to receive medical treatment for cuts to her legs. Both cars were damaged heavily.

Spencer was going north on Highway 30 followed by an unidentified American. When he reached a point about a half a mile south of Campbellford he collided with the southbound car of Percy Windover, Norham father of the injured girl.

According to Provincial Constable A. Kellogg of Hastings, the American helped Spencer remove his vehicle to the side of the highway and then gave the accused man a ride away from the scene of the accident, Spencer could not be located for a couple of hours.

The charge of careless driving against Spencer will come up on Thursday in Campbellford.

Two Peterboro Boys Form Law Partnership

Gordon and Lillico is the name of a new partnership in law recently entered into by two of Peterborough's own young men, Mr. Wilmot B. Gordon and Mr. James B. Lillico.

After the death of Hon. G. N. Gordon, KC, his son became associated with Mr. Lillico in a tentative arrangement. That professional relationship has now been effected, and its permanency may go far down the years, after the manner of most of the law firms in local practice.

Mr. Gordon is a graduate of Peterborough Collegiate Institute, McGill University and the law school of Osgoode Hall. He began practice here in 1937, continuing until he joined the army in the war. In the fall of 1945, he took up his work again in the offices which his father had marked with his large practice. Mr. Gordon is a former member of the Board of Education and for two years was chairman of the Recreation Commission.

Mr. Lillico is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan T. Lillico. His ground work of education was begun at Queen Mary School, extending to Peterborough Collegiate Institute, the University of Toronto and Osgoode Hall. He was graduated from the University in May, 1943 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in honor law, joined the Canadian Navy, served in that branch until Sept., 1945, and then took up his education again at Osgoode Hall.

He obtained a postgraduate degree of LL.B. at the University of Toronto while he was engaged at Osgoode Hall. He was called to the bar in September, 1949, began practice of his profession here, and finally became associated with Mr. Gordon in May this year.

Believe Washington Talks Set Back Election Date

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(CP). — The "happy ending" of the Washington dollar talks is seen in Whitehall as having two main and important effects in the sphere of British and world politics.

1. It is believed that the financial agreement, as far as it goes, has set back rather than brought forward the probable date of the next general election in Britain.

2. Some quarters suggest that the pledge of economic friendship among Britain, the United States and Canada wil precipitate a change in Soviet policy towards the western powers before long.

The 10-point program announced at the end of the Washington economic talks includes steps to give Britain a freer hand in spending Marshall plan dollars and to open the doors of Canada and the United States wider for British goods.

Any breakdown in the Washington three-power talks could have forced the election hand of the Labor government, which has a mandate to stay in power until the summer of 1950. New austerities would have become necessary.

An election early next year would best suit the government's purpose. It then would have time to get through parliament two important parts of its program—the bills to nationalize the iron and steel industry and to limit the veto powers of the House of Lords.

Reports from the United States that Labor will decide on a November election are treated with strict reserve here. The general feeling is that the government will run its full course unless the financial position again deteriorates.

Unofficial Conference Discusses Asiatic Pact

By GEORGE KITCHEN.

BIGWIN INN, Sept. 14 (CP)— The spotlight of the unofficial Commonwealth Relations Conference swung today to the possibility of a security pact for the Asiatic nations in the wake of a searching study of the North Atlantic Pact.

The conference, made up of nearly 100 non-governmental delegates from 10 Commonwealth countries, generally agreed Tuesday that the Atlantic Pact is a good thing and that it provides the best immediate guarantee of peace for the Atlantic area.

This conclusion was reached, though the conference actually makes no decisions and makes no recommendations, after the delegates canvassed behind closed doors the possibility of re-arming Germany as a step towards providing a bulwark against an aggressive Russia

In a brisk debate which at times split the United Kingdom delegation, spokesmen from several Commonwealth states said they feared that Germany, if restored as a military power, might play off East against West and again foment disorder on the Continent

Reports Moose Dwindling Fast

WINNIPEG, Sept 14 (CP) — North America's moose population has been drastically reduced in many years, Randolph L. Peterson of Toronto, an Ontario lands department official said Tuesday.

Mr. Peterson, addressing the 39th annual convention of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners, said it appears almost inevitable that the days of unlimited moose hunting must soon pass.

"By its very nature the moose is a solitary animal requiring considerable space in which to survive," he said. "If we are to obtain the maximum production of moose we must have close regulation of hunting."

Mr Peterson said Ontario is making a thorough study of the food habits of the moose in an effort to discover the reason why the animals fail to increase in areas where they have remained relatively scarce over a period of years, despite protection from hunters and predators.

He said that while the results of this study are not yet available it seems that availability of food, particularly during the winter months governs almost directly the productivity of moose in any normal habitat. A moose needs about 40 to 50 pounds of food a day.

U.K. Hospitals Complain Want Money By Appeals

LONDON (CP)—One of the many questions raised by Britain's controversial national health service is whether hospitals should be allowed to appeal directly to the public for funds.

Under the health plan, hospitals are not permitted to participate in appeals. If voluntary gifts are received, they must be used only for amenities or research.

Many hospital authorities criticize this policy. Some say it puts a serious crimp in their efforts to provide a first-class service.

The King Edward's Hospital Fund for London, which for more than 50 years has made grants to hospitals in the London area, suggested in its annual report that the ban on public appeals should be lifted.

If hospitals could obtain support from sources other than state funds, it said, "we might yet make the best of both worlds and achieve a truly British compromise."

Costs Increase

Hospitals, unable to appeal to the public, were turning to the fund for assistance.

Hospital and specialist expenditure in England and Wales under the health service, has risen to £170,000,000 ($680,000,000) compared with the £87,000,000 estimated when the bill was presented to parliament.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan recently ordered hospitals to review their budgets with an eye to saving money but authorities are pessimistic about the prospects.

It has been estimated Britain needs at least 60,000 more hospital beds. Lack of funds to staff them is the chief cause of the shortage.

The first great lighthouse, almost 400 feet high, stood on the Island of Pharos, off the coast of Egypt, and was known as one of the seven wonders of the ancient world.

Tarzan Knew Why Don't You?

VANCOUVER, Sept. 14 (CP) —Robert Fairweather has been up a tree for the last year.

He has no rent to pay, no taxes to worry about, no lawnmower for the neighbors to borrow. And he wonders why more people don't live in trees.

His house is a nine-by-nine log cabin perched about 15 feet off the ground in the fork of three tree trunks, in the woods on the north shore of Vancouver harbor.

It has two thicknesses of spruce and poplar logs, with a thick layer of mud on the inside and a steep pitched roof, made of boards from packing cases.

He's started to build a heavy plank stairway from the ground to his bedroost. "I'm going to have a woodshed under the stairway, and then I'll put a stove upstairs. I also want linoleum floors and plaster walls. Maybe I'll stucco the outside, sometime, too."

Fairweather, 38, a Scotsman who came here in 1929, works at washing and simonizing cars.

About two years ago, unable to get social assistance when he was out of work, he came to the woods with his ax and started building.

3 Workers Killed

VERA CRUZ, Mex., Sept. 13—(AP)—Army headquarters here reported today that three Mexican members of a joint United States-Mexico Commission fighting hoof and mouth disease had been killed Saturday at the village of Cacaloztepec. It was the sixth fatal attack on commission workers since they began their campaign in 1947. Villagers in isolated areas are suspicious of strangers and don't understand the need to vaccinate their cattle.

Seeking Youth In Teachers

FREDERICTON, Sept. 14 (CP) —The teachers' drive to get Federal aid for Canada's provincially-controlled education may be among the topics up for discussion today at a closed meeting of the Provincial Ministers of Education.

Six Ministers, S. J. Hefferton of Newfoundland, James Brittain of New Brunswick, Dana Porter of Ontario, Woodrow Lloyd of Saskatchewan, Ivan Casey of Alberta, and W. T. Straits of British Columbia, are attending the Canadian Education Asosciation convention in session here, and Deputy Ministers have arrived from the other provinces.

At a dinner-meeting Tuesday night Dr. F. E. MacDiarmid, New Brunswick's chief superintendent for education, particularly noted the number of Ministers of Education present.

"I am glad so many....are attending this meeting," he said. "It may be that from their meditations some definite action will result." Something must be done to induce young persons to enter and remain in the teaching profession, Dr. MacDiarmid continued. The problem could not be entirely solved by increasing salaries—the next problem would be to find the money, especially in the Eastern provinces. He wondered if the remedy could be found in Federal aid.

Gynane-Carveth Vows Pledged In Knox Church

Knox United Church was decorated with gladioli and fern for the wedding on Saturday of Isabella Letitia Carveth to Mr. Ronald Gynane. She is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carveth, and the groom is son of Mrs. Gynane and the late John Gynane, all of Peterborough.

The Rev. H. G. Douglas performed the ceremony. Traditional wedding music was played by Mr. W. R. Potter. During the signing of the register Mrs. N. Hughes sang "Because."

Mr. Langton Carveth gave his sister in marriage. She was gowned in white satin fashioned with gathered fullness at the sides, falling into a graceful train, and the front of the dress was trimmed with lace, forming a Mandarin neckline. A crown headdress held her veil in place and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Three sisters attended the bride, Miss Beverley Carveth as maid of honor, Misses Fern and Joan Carveth as bridesmaids. Her niece, Donna Carveth, was her bridesmaid. A dress of gold crepe with low cape neckline and skirt fullness centred in the back was worn by the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were in similar gowns of leaf green. They wore white flowered bandeaux in their hair and carried bouquets of gladioli. The flower girl was in a long dress of sheer white nylon over green taffeta, with white flowers in her hair, and she carried a nosegay of gladioli.

The groomsman was Mr. Tom Littlefair and ushers were Ivan Davis and Stanley Rylott.

The reception following was held in the church parlors. Mrs. L. Carveth received with the bridal party, wearing a navy dress with pink lace trim, a navy hat and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother also received and she was gowned in powder blue, with black hat and accessories and wore red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Gynane are spending their honeymoon in Haliburton. When going away the bride was wearing a midnight blue gabardine suit and navy accessories. They will live on Romaine St.

Dionne-Condon

In St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Douro, the Rev. J. J. McCarthy performed the marriage of Loretta Johannah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Condon, Douro, and Mr. Edward Joseph Dionne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dionne of Windsor. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Victor Kennedy and Mr. John Sheehan sang during the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white marquisette with circular train edged with lace. The neckline was also trimmed with lace and the skirt was caught up in front with pearl clips, showing tiers of matching lace. Her fingertip veil was held in place with seed pearls and beads and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Theresa Condon, and Miss Ella McManus. The girl wore similar gowns of blue and pink satin with hats and mittens to match and they carried bouquets of pink and blue gladioli. The flower girl was little Jacqueline Laton, cousin of the bride, dressed in yellow taffeta with matching mittens and headdress and she carried a nosegay of red roses.

Mr. Lavet Dionne was his brother's groosman. Ushers were Gerard and Bernard Condon, brothers of the bride.

Reception of about 50 guests took place at the Empress Hotel. The bride's mother received in grey crepe with contrasting accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, assisting, was in blue crepe with matching accessories and wore roses.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a wine ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Dionne will live in Windsor.

Helen Armstrong Bride Of Ed. Cummings

In Mount Pleasant United Church on Saturday the wedding took place of Helen Letta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Armstrong, Mount Pleasant, to Mr. Edward N. Cummings, son of Mr. Nathon Cummings and the late Mrs. Cummings, Peterborough.

The Rev. W. R. Archer of Lakefield officiated with a lovely background setting of gladioli and asteran. Miss Lois Jamieson played the wedding music and Mr. Gerald Dyrun sang "Because" at the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a Victorian style white satin gown with long train edged with lace. She wore a fingertip veil of embroidered net, caught to a tiara of seed pearls and carried red roses. Miss Lena MacPhail was her maid of honor, wearing pink brocaded satin with net overskirt. Miss Marion Simmons as bridesmaid was in a frock of peach organdy with shoulder shawl. The flower girl, Wanda Adams, was in a frock of pink satin and blue nylon, also made in Victorian style. Each attendant wore a flower headdress and carried a bouquet of gladioli.

The groom was attended by Mr. Alvin Armstrong and ushers were Herb Bryan and Frank Welsh.

The reception was held in Peterborough in the YWCA Green Room. The bride's mother received, gowned in grey with black accessories and wearing a corsage of roses.

DOROTHY DIX

Husband Deserts Wife Early Sows Wild Oats, Asks Return

DEAR MISS DIX: A short time ago I lost a wonderful wife. She died at the birth of a baby girl, leaving me with her and a three year-old son. Before the baby arrived I neglected my wife shamefully—left her alone night after night. She tried to make things as pleasant as possible for me the few times I did stay at home. Now that she is gone I have only a housekeeper to take care of us.

Dorothy Dix

I can see only too plainly the difference in my home and children. My wife always had things neat and clean and hot and tempting meals for me; whereas my housekeeper is sloppy and slovenly and a miserable cook and the babies are not getting the care they need and my little boy cries daily for his mother. I am quite sure that my wife grieved herself to death over my neglect. I would give anything on earth to be able to live the last four years of my life over. Why do we not appreciate things until it is too late?

A REPENTANT HUSBAND.

ANSWER: Because we are stupid and selfish and take our blessings for granted and think they are not half what we deserve. Gratitude and appreciation are the rarest of all the virtues, and that is why many a woman lets her husband work himself to death to support her in idleness and luxury without so much as giving him a casual "thank you." That is why many a husband lets his wife make herself a doormat for him to trample on without even perceiving that she is doing it.

The woman sees nothing fine and heroic and chivalrous in her husband toiling like a galley slave to give her a fine house and a car and good clothes. Nothing noble and self-abnegating in his giving her the vacations and travel and going to winter and summ resorts that he never takes h...self. On the contrary, she more often is complaining and discontented because she cannot live as some richer woman does.

A man sees nothing beautiful and unselfish in his wife spending her days cooking and cleaning and scrubbing to make him comfortable. Nothing to be grateful for in her going shabby that he may have the good clothes to cut a figure in the world. Nothing wonderful to her being willing to stay in with fretful babies while he steps out at night. On the contrary, he probably complains of his food and knocks her for not pinching the pennies harder and thinks that a woman's place is in the home and she should never want any amusement outside of it.

Then death comes and the woman gets some realization of what the love has been that has kept her safe and warm through the years, some vision of how often a tired man must have driven himself on to give her another gewgaw. And the man sees for the first time the devotion that offered itself up on the altar of his comfort and, in his own loneliness in his empty house, he visions the many dreary evenings he left her to spend alone.

The tears that many a widow and widower weep over a coffin are wrung from their tortured consciences as well as their bereaved hearts, and are bitter with self-reproach.

It is notable that second husbands and second wives are almost invariably treated better than first ones are, and into this consideration and understanding and appreciation goes a lot of atonement to those who are beyond the reach of repentance.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: How is the best way to start a conversation with a boy and hold his attention?

RUBY AND JEANETTE.

ANSWER: Ask him questions about the things he is interested in, if you know what they are. If he is a stranger you have never met before, dial around the topics until you find some theme song to which he responds. Politics, what's in the news, new books, the last movie, a popular play, sports, automobiles, travel, all are likely subjects. If he answers briefly, try another on him.

Most boys have a very limited range of interest. Themselves, whatever sport they like best, their work and their dates are about the only things they can talk about, but once you get them started on their favorite topic of what "I said" and "he said" and what "I did and didn't do," they are garrulous. But never try to talk to a boy about yourself. That bores him stiff.

DOROTHY DIX.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Ten years ago my husband deserted me for another woman. He left me with two children and I have had a hard struggle to rear them. Now he wants to come back to us, as he is tired of this woman, but inasmuch as I have raised my two boys this far in life I think I will just go along as I have been. Am I right?

BROKEN-HEARTED.

ANSWER: I think you are wise to let well enough alone. Your husband has no sense of duty or honor or he would not have left you and the boys in the first place. I have never been able to see why a woman should take a broken-down, worn-out old roue after he tires of sowing his wild oats and wants somebody to nurse him and take care of him in his old age. Such a man as your husband is would certainly be no good influence over your boys.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

Recalling that he, too, had been a graduate of Central School, Mr Leo Copp, principal of the Normal School, addressed the 1949 graduating class Monday evening in George St. United Church Sunday school hall.

He spoke briefly of the discipline and regimentation of his own school days and told some interesting facts about the early days of Oxford University when Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Philip Sydney were students.

To the graduates he remarked that knowledge in itself is not most important. "Education is what is left after you have forgotten all the facts you have learned. Every subject has some value in the making of good citizens and if you give up Latin, it has "taken your measure." The real value of geometry lies in what it does for you and the real purpose of a secondary school education is to learn "the truth that makes men free."

Introduction of the speaker was made by Mr. K. McKee and appreciation was expressed by Mrs. E. A. Outram.

The program included piano solos by Elaine Osborne and Carol Fausett. Valedictory addresses were given by Shirley Pritchard and Donald Ross.

Delay Judgment On Song Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Judgment was reserved Monday in the appeal of Barbe Flett, 19-year-old song writer, from a two-year penitentiary term for attempted armed robbery.

Composer of the recently published and recorded "Pair of Silver Spurs," the girl was convicted in April of attacking Mrs. Natalie Brown, expectant mother from suburban New Toronto, in the washroom of a downtown restaurant. Barbe was convicted of trying to steal the woman's purse.

A telegram from Mrs. Violet Mathieson, independent social worker, who offered to care for the girl and "give her the kindness of a home she has been denied" was read in court.

W. B. Common, senior solicitor in the Attorney-General's Department, said psychologists had examined the girl, he said, and found "she suffered from no psychosis, but was just a plain case of incorrigibility."

Farmer's Group Snubs Labor

OSHAWA, Sept. 14 (CP) — Oshawa's council expressed regret Monday night that the Southern Ontario Agricultural Society has refused permission to Local 22 of the United Automobile Workers Union to display union and labor literature during the fall fair this week.

"People can't get it through their heads labor is not going to take a spanking," Ald. Herry Benson told Council, informing them of the society's action. He said National Film Board shorts as well as union literature was barred.

The society's reason for the refusal, said Ald. Benson, was that "it would disrupt harmony between urban and rural districts."

He chose the baby and is now up in court charged with refusing to obey the order of the fire prevention officer.

"That fire cost the department $1,500 when it got away," Forest Protection Supervisor O. K. Welsh told the court.

Baby and fire put Magistrate S. Atkinson in a quandary. "I'll think about it on the train," he said as he adjourned the case a week for decision.

Act Doesn't Convince Presiding Magistrate

KINGSTON, Sept. 14 (CP) — Magistrate James B. Garvin Monday convicted Douglas Strickland, 17, of Kingston, on a charge of indecent assault against a nine-year-old girl despite Strickland's defence that he is an artist and persuaded the child to pose for him in the near-nude only so he could improve his artistic style.

Strickland was sentenced to three months in jail.

"Were I to dismiss the charge against the defendant," Magistrate Garvin said, "I would be setting a precedent whereby other artists and groups of artists, masquerading under the guise of art, would be enabled to claim unbridled licence in this field."

Strickland's counsel said that the defendant was interested in commercial art and that in the zeal of his artistic predilections he made the "mistake of prevailing upon the plaintiff in order that he might practise sketching her semi-nude body. "This type of work is all part of the correspondence course the boy is taking in art," he said.

Admits Charges A Bit Strong

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 14—(CP) Graham Lapierre of Ottawa said Tuesday in an interview his charges that the nearby Gregory-Jordan fruit workers' camp was operated under "concentration camp" conditions were "a bit strong."

Lapierre, who picks fruit during his vacation from a clerk's job in the Department of Veterans' Affairs at Ottawa, said he would like to come back here next year but he doubted that he now would be allowed to return.

"I didn't mean it," said Lapierre when told his letter had been turned over by the Ottawa Citizen to the Deputy Minister of Labor for investigation of the charges. "I made it a bit strong," he said.

Highgraders Get Million A Year

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Highgraders are stealing $1,000,000 a year in gold from Ontario mines, and their apprehension should become the responsibility of the RCMP, Mines Minister Gemmell of Ontario said here Tuesday.

Mr. Gemmell, who has just returned from the annual conference of Provincial Mines Ministers at Fredericton, said delegates to the conference unanimously supported a recommendation that highgrading should become a Federal offence.

In this way he said, provincial boundaries would not interfere in the curbing of highgrading activities. The men handling the illegal gold were in the same category as those involved in dope smuggling and white slavery, both of which are Federal offences, he added.

Ontario and Quebec now rely upon their Provincial Police to prevent highgrading. The other provinces have the RCMP do their provincial policing.

Population 13,545,000 In Dominion

Ontario Has Shown Biggest Increase In Postwar Years

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 — (CP)—Canada's population shot ahead by leaps and bounds in the last year and now is estimated at 13,545,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Spurred mainly by the addition of Newfoundland's estimated 348,000 and a high entry of immigrants the population advanced by 662,000 in the year ended June 1. All provinces shared in the increase except Prince Edward Island.

"Largest for a year on record," the bureau reported of the increase.

During the 12 months ended June 1, approximately 342,000 children were born in the nine provinces excluding Newfoundland, while deaths numbered 117,000. This meant a natural increase of 225,000.

At the same time, nearly 125,000 immigrants entered the Dominion, although this was offset to some extent by emigration of more than 30,000 persons.

On Upgrade

"Canada's population has been rising at an increasing rate in the postwar years," the report said.

Latest net gain—excluding the addition of Newfoundland's population—of 314,000 compares with 301,000 the previous year, 275,000 the year before and 188,000 in 1946.

Ontario took the lion's share of the new population, with an increase of 114,000, while Quebec followed with a gain of 95,000.

Increase for British Columbia was 32,000; Alberta, 25,000; Manitoba, 21,000; New Brunswick 13,000; Nova Scotia, 10,000 and Saskatchewan, 70,000. Prince Edward Island's population was down by 3,000, while figures for the Yukon and Northwest Territories were unchanged.

The bureau gave these estimates for the provinces and territories (1948 figures in brackets): Ontario 4,411,000 (4,297,000); Quebec, 3,887,000 (3,792,000); British Columbia, 1,114,000 (1,082,000); Alberta, 871,000 (846,000); Saskatchewan, $861,000 (854,000); Manitoba, 778,000 (757,000); Nova Scotia, 645,000 (635,000); New Brunswick 516,000 (503,000); Prince Edward Island 90,000 (93,000); Northwest Territories 16,000 (16,000); Yukon, 8,000 (8,000).

Alexander Opens 21st Parliament

Forecasts Steps Taken Toward More Independence

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP)—The Speech from the Throne read today at the opening of the first session of the 21st parliament forecast steps toward more complete independence of the United Kingdom parliament.

The speech, read in the Senate chamber by the governor-general, Viscount Alexander, said parliament will be asked to approve a bill abolishing appeals to the privy council. The measure would make the Supreme Court of Canada the highest tribunal in the country.

Steps also will be taken to give parliament the power to amend the constitution in relation to matters that do not come within provincial jurisdiction. At present, the constitution cannot be amended without the consent of the United Kingdom parliament.

Arrangements will be made to consult provincial governments on procedure for making within Canada "such other amendments to the constitution as may from time to time be required."

"With the admission of the new province of Newfoundland the Canadian nation attained the geographical limits planned by the Fathers of Confederation," said the speech.

The Speech also said that many of the measures presented at the last session will be revived. It said the scope of the National Housing Act will be broadened. It gave no details, but it was believed that as a result of recent conferences with the provinces steps will be taken to lower the down payments on homes.

Highway Measure

"You will also be asked to approve a measure to enable the government to assist in the provision of a trans-continental-highway," said the Speech.

"Measures demanding your consideration," continued the Speech, "will include a Bill respecting a national trade-mark and true labelling; a Bill respecting forest conservation; a Bill to incorporate the Canadian Overseas Telecommunication Corporation; a Bill respecting assistance to the shipbuilding industry and merchant shipping; a Bill to extend the life of the Export and Import Permits Act; and Bills to amend the Exchequer Court Act, the Industrial Development Bank Act, the Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act, the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, the Customs Act, and the Veterans' Land Act of 1942."

No details of the proposed changes in the legislation were contained in the Speech.

The budget, presented March 22 to the last session will be reintroduced along with estimates of expenditures for the various departments. A Bill extending life of the Reconstruction Department and giving it some new duties will be reintroduced.

The Speech referred to unsettled world conditions and said "the hope held four years ago for world peace and security under the aegis of the United Nations have not yet been realized."

It added:

"The menace of Communist totalitarianism continues to threaten the aspirations of men of good will. It is, however, gratifying that the North Atlantic Treaty has been brought into effect and is already proving its worth.

B.C. Police Smash Huge Canadian Lottery Hold Navy Veteran Operating Since 1938

VICTORIA, BC, Sept. 15 — (CP)—Following the arrest of Frank Hilton, navy veteran, on a downtown street Wednesday a patrol wagon Wednesday night hauled thousands of fresh lottery tickets and old stubs into police headquarters. Hilton was charged with conducting a lottery and will appear in court today.

Deputy police chief John Blackstock said that although many of the seized records were in code, he believed 80 per cent of the tickets were sold in smaller Ontario centres, the remainder across the country.

Police charged the navy veteran dealt in lottery tickets labelled under the sponsorship of the "Canadian Mutual Transportation Association." Deputy Chief Blackstock asserted "it looks like we've killed a Dominion-wide racket."

Police, still analyzing the records, said they went as far back as 1938 with a wartime break. They listed total monthly prize lists of thousands of dollars with the top prize $500. Police believe, however, the biggest prizes were $20 and $5.

Russia Backs Korea Voting Barbarous Civil War Danger

By O. M. GREEN
(Special to the London Observer and Peterborough Examiner)

Today may well decide whether the last promontory of the great mainland of East Asia still free is to pass under Russian domination. It is the day fixed, two months ago, by the Communist "People's Democracy" of North Korea for national elections for a "unified legislature" to set up an "All Korean Government" in place of the "illegal" Republican Government in South Korea recognized by Great Britain, America and other Powers—not by Russia.

The "People's Democracy" has formally notified Mr. Trygve Lie, Secretary of the United Nations, of the intended elections and has sent an ultimatum to the United Nations Commission and to the American Military Mission (some 200 officers and NCO's, all that remains of the 40,000 troops withdrawn in June) to get out of Korea.

Astute Russian Move

How the elections are to be held in the teeth of the Republican Government's opposition has still to be seen. But it is safe to say that the "People's Democracy" would not have made this move without a clear idea of what is likely to result and without the approval (perhaps even the instigation) of the Russian ambassador in North Korea, General Shtikov, an extremely astute man who really runs the "People's Democracy."

Korea is still rigidly divided along the 38th parellel into two fairly equal parts. But the balance is far from equal.

Nearly all Korea's great mineral wealth is in the North, as well as the hydro-electric power stations built by the Japanese. Since the spring of 1948 the South has been deprived by the Russians of all power from these stations, with great damage to its industries.

Koreans have no natural sympathy for Communism: that is seen in the steady stream of refugees from the North. But there has also been a steady infiltration of Communist agents, who find their usual opportunity in the distressed state of the Southern Koreans. The South Korea Labour Party is entirely Communist and for nearly a year has kept the extreme south of the peninsula in a boil.

Political life in Seoul (the southern capital) is not too stable and, in June, seven members of the Assembly were arrested on suspicion of intrigue with the South Korea Labour Party, when it is said, much Communist literature was seized in their homes.

Hold 2 Men After Loot Discovered

Biggest Haul Made In A Quebec City Find 32 Oz. Heroin

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP) — Seizure of $80,000 worth of heroin was announced today by the RCMP, along with the arrest of two men, one of them destribed as a Roman Catholic Priest.

The Priest was identified by this source as Father Arthur Taillefer and the other man's identity given as Michel Sisco, both of Montreal.

Police said the seizure was made in a baggage locker at Windsor Station in mid-town Montreal.

Police said the seizure, made up of 32 ounces of the drug in 15,000 capsules, came after several months of investigation by 12 constables who posed as addicts, peddlers and dealers.

Police said the drug was placed in the station locker by "Kingpins" of the racket in this city and that further arrests were expected as a result of the biggest haul of illegal drugs ever made in Montreal.

The arrested men will face charges of illegal possession of narcotics, said police.

They also announced recovery of a dummy package in a locker in Central Station, near Windsor Station, in midtown Montreal and said it was likely placed there to throw police off the trail.

They said the drug was brought into Canada from an unknown source for distribution among dealers and peddlers and thence on to addicts.

RCMP said that in addition to the work of their specially-assigned constables, Montreal police in the last few months have arrested 40 persons who have been charged with illegal possession of drugs.

8 Zoot-Suiters Arrested Carrying Knives

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP) — A group of eight zoot-suiters, four armed with knives, were arrested last night as they made their way to a street dance in suburban Leaside. A chance search of one uncovered a nine-inch butcher knife. Three others were carrying "hunting knives "for protection."

A police cruiser noticed the group walking through Toronto's Don Valley, clad in colored "strides." Police asked them where they were going. When they mentioned the dance the cursory search was made.

The four carrying knives were arrested on a charge of carrying an offensive weapon. The others were released and told not to attend the dance.

Steel Strike Likely Sept. 25

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15 (AP)— A country-wide steel strike in the United States Sept. 25 is a distinct possibiity.

United States Steel Corporation bellwether of the industry, says it will not accept the Presidential fact-finding board's steel peace formula without bargaining.

The next move is up to Philip Murray, president of the United Steelworkers (CIO).

Murray forced the issue. He told Benjamin J. Fairess, president of US Steel, that he wasn't satisfied with Fairless" initial answer that bargaining be resumed—without committing Big Steel to the board's findings.

It didn't take Fairless long to reply. He told Murray the Labor chief can't dictate US Steel's acceptance of the board's recommendations as a condition to bargaining.

But Fairless reiterated he is perfectly willing to resume negotiations. Murray didn't comment.

Fairless was particularly angry at the board's suggestion the industry bear the entire cost of a pension plan.

Halt Dumping Raw Sewage In Waterways Soon—Frost

KEMPTVILLE,, Sept. 15—(CP)—A warning that Ontario municipalities soon may be prevented "from dumping raw sewage into the beautiful waterways of this province" was issued by Premier Leslie Frost Wednesday. Speaking at ceremonies marking turning on of Kemptville's new $300,000 water and sewage system, the Premier congratulated residents of the area for recognizing the need of proper sewage disposal.

At at same time he dedigated the recently created Department of Lands and Forest nursery here as the "Howard Ferguson Nursery" in memory of G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario from 1923 to 1930.

Federal Health Minister Paul Martin also spoke of the need for adequate safeguards for pure water distribution.

Points Way

A parade of floats depicting the development of sewage and bathroom facilities marked the ceremonies, climaxed by the burning of several old wooden pumps as a symbol of the "passing of the town pump."

Premier Frost said Kemptville has "pointed the way to other Ontario municipalities who have yet to recognize the need for a proper and adequate system of sewage disposal and pure water distribution....

"The day is fast approaching when municipalities will be prevented from dumping raw sewage into the beautiful waterways of this province. Such a practice is not conducive to the health of the people of this province."

Health Minister Martin described the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes waterway system as "proof of the efficiency of health safeguards which Canada and the United States have jointly established."

Despite great industrial development on both sides of the waterway, the system "has not been the source of widespread disease."

The Minister said Canada's national health program has made a major contribution toward improving health facilities and services throughout the Dominion.

"We are on the march in Canada, as never before, to attainment of the maximum of health protection," he said.

Cottage Robbed Hold Two Men

TORONTO, Sept. 15 —(CP)— Two men arrested here today in connection with burglary of a summer cottage at Big Bay Point, were carrying a loaded .32 calibre revolver and two silk-stocking masks, police said.

Norman Hawkins, 20, of Aurora, and Lyle Sisler, 20, of Barrie, were charged with shopbreaking and carrying a concealed weapon. A third man, Robert Bunn of Aurora, was held on a charge of receiving a stolen outboard motor.

A cottage owned by orchestra leader Stanley St. John was broken into over the week-end, police said. An outboard motor and a combination radio - phonograph stolen. The motor was recovered.

Police said the arrests probably prevented another holdup.

Besides the revolver and masks a length of clothesline evidently intended for tying up their victims was found in their possession, police added.

Appearing in Magistrate's Court later the pair were remanded a week for further investigation.

Search for the pair started Wednesday when three men roused the suspicions of an employee of an automobile dealer when they tried to sell him an outboard motor. The trio fled but the licence number of their car was taken and police notified.

No Blame Laid At Inquest For Bad Crash

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 15 — (ENS)—A coroner's jury Wednesday recommended an automatic signal be installed at the Centre St. CNR crossing, but attached no blame in the Aug. 30 crossing crash which claimed five lives.

Poor visibility was given as chief cause of the collision of a car driven by Kenneth Milne, 37, and an eastbound freight train. In the crash an entire family was wiped out. Killed with Mr. Milne were his wife, Pauline, 33; their daughters Betty, 8, and Faye, 10, and Mrs. Milne's mother, Mrs. Nora Ingram, 62. All lived on a Seymour Township farm.

Dr. A. E. Wilkins, Cobourg, presided, with Harry Deyman, K. C., acting for the crown.

The jury under foreman Charles Fraser, included Walter Lowe, Basil Reynolds, Leo Doherty and Keith Bound.

Dr. W. W. Baker told the crown that he was called to the scene of the accident about 9:30 p.m. He related how the bodies had been strewn along the track and that he had ordered an ambulance for Pauline Milne who was still living.

"I found Kenneth Milne pinned in the car with his head leaning against the right door. He was breathing but died about five minutes later."

Describes Injuries

The doctor told the jury that the cause of Kenneth's death was a fractured skull, fractured left femur and left forearm and multiple lacerations of the body and scalp.

"Pauline Milne," he said, "had received internal injuries and bruised ribs."

He testified that Betty had died from a fractured neck and left forearm, and multiple lacerations.

"Mrs. Nora Ingram's death had been brought about," he said, "by receiving internal injuries, a fractured left femur and lacerations."

John Bull, who lives near the crossing, testified that he had

Car Skids On Bridge Five Women Injured

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP) — Five women, two of them from Ontario, were treated in hospital here today for injuries suffered in a traffic accident near Shawbridge in the Laurentians Wednesday night.

Police identified the two Ontario women as Miss Grace Martin, 62, of Kingston and Mrs. Ann Inglis, 55, Gananoque. Others hurt were Mrs. S. MacPherson, 55, of suburban Westmount, Mrs. H. Gnaedinger, 57, of Montreal and Mrs. W. Reid 72, whose home town was not given.

Mrs. Martin suffered head cuts and a broken nose. Mrs. Inglis was described as the most severely hurt but the full extent of her injuries was not determined. The other three women suffered various fractures.

Police said the accident happened when Mrs. Inglis, the driver, skidded into a bridge abutment near Shawbridge, 35 miles from Montreal.

78 Killed, Hurt In Jail Break

SEOUL, Sept. 15—(AP)—Seventy-eight persons were killed or wounded today in a break by 430 prisoners from the jail at Mokpo, a seaport 200 miles south of this Korean capital.

Ten guards and 68 prisoners were reported shot in a battle at a village two miles from Mokpo. Twenty-eight of the prisoners and 10 guards were known to be dead and 40 other prisoners were dead or wounded.

The prisoners staged their break Wednesday while being returned to prison from work farms. They seized guns and ammunition and fled to the hills.

Police, army and navy units pursued.

A sharp fight was under way between guards and the remaining 356 escaped prisoners.

Keep Daylight Saving Till November 27

By The Canadian Press

Daylight time will be continued in Toronto until Nov. 27 as a power conservation measure. In other years, "fast time" has ended on the last week-end in September.

Ottawa, Hamilton and Oshawa also plan to keep their clocks an hour ahead of Eastern Standard time until Nov. 27.

In Quebec province, Montreal, Quebec City, Sherbrooke and Granby will set their clocks back Oct. 30.

Elsewhere, daylight time ends the week-end of Sept. 25.

Vishinsky Likely To Ask Another Big Four Meeting

MOSCOW, Sept. 15 (AP) — Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, slated to head the Russian delegation at the United Nations Assembly in New York next week is expected to press for a new meeting of the Big Four council of foreign ministers.

With State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France all due to be on hand, informed circles here said Vishinsky will urge an early, formal meeting of the council.

When the foreign ministers ended their Paris meeting on Germany last June, they agreed to meet informally during the UN session to discuss their next meeting.

Among major problems still to be solved are possible future economic and political unity of Germany, an independence treaty for Austria ad reconciliation of divergent Allied views on who should write a peace treaty for Japan.

Moscow informants said Vishinsky, who was turned down at the Paris meeting, probably will press again for action on a peace treaty for Japan.

Acheson, backed by Bevin and Schuman, contended a Japanese treaty was not a question for the council. They argued it should go to the Far Eastern Commission which includes Austraia and the Philippines.

Fire Sweeps Cabin Tree Expert Dies

COOKSVILLE, Sept. 15 (CP)— Critically burned on Wednesday when fire swept the cabin where he had fallen asleep, Murdoch McKenzie, 46, tree expert, died today in a Toronto hospital.

McKenzie suffered first and second degree burns in the fire which destroyed the cabin of an employee following what was reported to be a drinking party.

Joseph Thatcherc, son of the owner of the building, rescued McKenzie from the blazing building.

Toronto township police are investigating the cause of the blaze and what they described as "several other unusual aspects of the case." An inquest has been ordered.

Dr. Adenauer Skins Through As New German Chancellor

BONN, Germany, Sept. 15 — (AP)—Dr. Konrad Adenauer, a Catholic Conservative, skinned through by a one-vote margin today to win the necessary majority to elect him first Chancellor of the West-German republic.

The 73-year-old lawyer pulled a bare majority of 202 votes in the 402-member Bundestag (lower house) of parliament after his nomination Wednesday by President Theodor Heuss.

As first German Chancellor since Adolf Hitler, Adenauer will be the strongest man in the new Federal government, heading a cabinet of his own choice.

In his new position—equivalent to Prime Minister—Adenauer will assume the guiding role in western Germany's return to self-rule.

The three-party Rightis Coalition supporting Adenauer can t within one vote of failing to win the necessary majority.

The vote was: yes 202; no 142; invalid 1; abstained 44.

Althuogh there are 402 deputies, only 389 were present at today's session. The constitution requires a majority of the full house, regardless of whether all 402 members are present.

Completion of the government will cause the replacement of the American, British and French military governments by a civilian High Commission, allied control over German affairs then will be regulated by an occupation statute, a sort of interim peace treaty, in which the Germans are given self- ule in nearly everything except foreign relations and trade.

Adenauer, in his first policy statement, said today that Germany would never give up claims to its Polish occupied eastern territories.

Record Strong 'Quake In North Borneo Area

TOKYO, Sept. 15 (AP) — A strong earthquake was recorded on the Tokyo meteorological station seismograph at 4.57 a.m. today (3.57 p.m. EDT Wednesday).

The station said the temblor's epicentre was near 116 degrees east longitude and five degrees north latitude. This would be in or near North Borneo.

Three In Car Injured In Campbellford Crash

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 15—(ENS)—Two Campbellford youths and another from Myersburg were taken to Campbellford Hospital Wednesday night after sustaining injuries from a car accident on Highway 30, one-and-a-half miles south of town. Injured were the driver Gordon Chamberlain, 21, of Myersburg, four miles south of Campbellford and his two passengers, Albert Hollings, 22, and Ken Campbell, 19, both of Campbellford.

Hollings escaped with a few bruises, and after receiving first aid he was allowed to go home. The other two were detained at the hospital.

Chamberlain who had to be dragged from the car as he was pinned behind the steering wheel has leg injuries, minor bruises, and is suffering from shock. The other member of the trio, Campbell, is most seriously hurt with a head injury and cuts.

All were treated by Dr. W. W. Baker of Campbellford.

Blame Brakes

Faulty brakes were reported to be the cause of the accident which almost completely wrecked the car. The car, a 1935 model had the windshield and doors torn off and the front caved in.

According to the story pieced together by police it was travelling south on Highway 30 at about 9.45 p.m. when it plunged into the west ditch at a slight curve a mile and a half south of town.

After breaking a hydro pole it travelled about 350 feet and came to rest on its left side against a stump. Before stopping it rolled over several times.

Miss Mary O'Rourke of Seymour West, who was returning home when she came upon the upset car, helped to take the victims to hospital.

Chief Constable George H. Hardy of Campbellford and Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings investigated.

SLOW WORKERS

Both in school, in offices and in industry there are people who are rated as "good but slow". It seems to take them longer to comprehend the instructions than it does others and they are said to work more "deliberately."

It is pretty well established that there is a definite delay in comprehension and the use of information when the patient faces visual tasks above the level of his achievement.

Many patients have an impediment not in their speech but in their seeing and that makes them slow to comprehend and slow to work.

These patients usually have a sluggish focusing response, as this condition is improved through visual training. It is noted that there is not only improvement in the visual processes but also, an improvement in the patient's general relationship to their world. After all, improved vision is not an objective for itself alone but for results that will come from the greater visual achievement.

heard the train sound the usual whistle for the crossing and following almost instantly, he heard the crash.

"Rushing outside," he said, "I saw sparks flying from the train wheels. When I reached the crossing the caboose had not crossed centre street."

He told the crown that he had seen the bodies lying along the track. "The night was clear and dark," he said.

Tom Sanders said that he was sitting in his father's house on Centre St. when he heard the usual train whistle for the crossing. He stated that he did not hear the bell nor the crash. His father who was putting out garbage told him about the train hitting something. He rushed down to the crossing and saw the bodies along the track. He said that he had helped to remove the body from the car.

Going Fast

"I was looking after children on Centre St.," said Mrs. Victor Free, "when I saw a car passing the house towards the tracks at quite a fast rate. I heard the crash but didn't see the impact between the car and train."

Tim O'Kay was sitting in Kay's Snack Bar on Centre Street when the accident happened. He said that as he and his boy were watching the train approach the crossing he saw the lights of a car nearing the tracks from the south. "I held my breath, and in an instant I heard the crash and the screeching of the train's brakes." He said that he had heard the whistle but could not tell the court if the locomotive headlight was on.

Experienced Engineer

Engineer J. H. Norris of Lindsay said that he was an experienced locomotive driver, having been with the CNR for 29 years. He stated when he reached Campbellford the order board was clear and that he had approached the station at about 8 miles an hour. East of the station he had increased his speed, and as he neared the crossing he applied the brakes to comply with the crossing speed regulations, which are 10 miles an hour. He said that at the whistling post 80 rods from the crossing, he blew the usual blast.

"At the crossing," he stated, "a grey car appeared in front of us and I believe it struck the buffer beam The engine staggered heavily to the left, and I thought we were derailed. I applied the emergency at once," he added

Rings Bell

He said that the headlight was working perfectly and that he had rung the bell since approaching the station.

Jack Rowell, fireman, also of Lindsay, told the Crown that he had been firing since 1942. He said that he did not know that a car was hit until he was told. He stated that he had felt the impact and thought the train had jumped the tracks.

T. H. Hawkins, front end brakeman corroborated the statements of the engineer and fireman.

Chief Constable George H. Hardy of Campbellford said that the pilot of the train had stopped 1,000 feet east of the crossing.

He pointed out the position of the bodies from the pilot of the train to the crossing. He said that there was a warning sign 300 feet south of the crossing on the east side. A house and terrace he stated, obscurred the view of the motorist on the south-west corner. Vision at this point, he said, was poor for both the motorist and the train crew.

Bill Reid, local photographer, identified the pictures, and supplied the jury with measurements.

The strength of South Korea is its President, Dr. Syngman Rhee. Though now over 74 his energy is tremendous, he plays tennis as if he were still young, works tirelessly, and matches his physical vigour with a fighting determination which will leave nothing undone to wreck the "People's Democracy's" elections.

200,000 Troops In North

But that unfortunately does not finish the matter. If the election results do not satisfy the Communists they may use them as a pretext to invade the South to "liberate" it from the "illegal pups pet Government of the foreign imperialists." And the North has 200,000 well-equipped troops numbers of whom have had battle practice with the Chinese Communists in Manchuria, while the South has only 60,000 still imperfectly trained and without aeroplanes or tanks. So seriously does the United Nations Korean Commission view the outlook that it reported last week (September 8) to the Security Council that Korea is now faced with the danger of a "most barbarous civil war."

It is worth notice that last week the Japanese Government suddenly dissolved the "League of Koreans in Japan" and other Korean organizations dominated by Communism. There are about 700,000 Koreans in Japan, many of them very rough customers (as Koreans can be in spite of their gentle appearance), mixed up recently in some savage riots.

The Straits of Tsushima separating Korea from Japan are only 120 miles wide. Infiltration from Korea is almost impossible to stop. And the Japanese Communists are active and tireless, encouraged by Russia and stimulated by the Chinese Communists' victories.

These victories are no doubt the reason for the challenge that Russia is making, through her catspaw in North Korea, for the absorption of all Korea.

Study Racial Discrimination At Commonwealth Parley

By GEORGE KITCHEN

BIGWIN INN, Ont., Sept. 15—(CP)—Racial discrimination today is on the agenda of the unofficial Commonwealth Relations Conference, raising the possibility of a family squabble among representatives of the British Community of Nations.

It was considered possible that members of the Indian delegation might take this occasion to press old charges that the Union of South Africa had discriminated against Indian nationals—charges which already have been aired before the United Nations.

The racial debate was opened briefly Wednesday when British and South African delegates explained steps to bring native populations in Colonial and Dominion territories to eventual independent status. The Far Eastern delegates did not enter the debate at that point.

Most of Wednesday's discussions centred about the Pacific and embraced the possibility of a Pacific alliance patterned along the lines of the North Atlantic Security Pact.

Australian and New Zealand delegates said they would welcome a Pacific Pact with the United States as senior partner, but representatives of India and Pakistan said they could not enter such an alliance until their own differences were settled and the question of Indonesia had been decided to the satisfaction of the Indonesian people.

At the same time, the Australian and New Zealand delegates expressed fear that United States policies in Japan might permit the resurgence of a militant Japan. They wondered whether General MacArthur might not be too optimistic in his belief in Japanese absorption of Democratic principles.

United Kingdom delegates reported that manufacturers in Britain, particularly those in the textile field, already are beginning to feel the pinch of competition from cheap Japanese goods.

Average Man Spending Less

COBOURG, Sept. 15 (ENS). — Cobourg merchants are experiencing a recession in business to a degree which is more than usually present at the end of the tourist season. From the start of the tourist season until a week or two after Labor Day, there is a big influx of visitors to Cobourg, some to stay and others to go on to the tourist resorts in the north. When summer wanes, the tourist trade goes also, but this year the drop in business is also domestic.

Merchants have noticed that the average citizen of the town is spending less and in the past few weeks this has become even more evident. Some of the factories are working short hours with smaller pay envelopes, and except for food and other necessities, little is being bought. While we will forego items in the luxury class, the working man likes his daily glass or two of beer before he goes home for supper at night. Beverage room business is experiencing a decided slump, and the overall picture, say the merchants, adds up to the fact that the average man is spending considerably less in Cobourg.

Spectacular Farm Day Began On The Chemong Road

A week ago today a spectacular demonstration was held on a farm near Brooklin in Ontario county. In the one day the farm was completely transformed and ten thousand farmers who witnessed it were impressed, as was intended, by the ways modern science and machinery can help agriculture. Not one farmer from this district seems to have attended the demonstration. Why should he? The whole show, except for the modernizing of the house, was put on at Mr. Harry Blewett's farm on the Chemong Road (at the Lindsay turn) in 1947, and continuing through last and this year. The Blewett farm demonstration was carried out by the Department of Agriculture under the supervision of the local Representative, F. C. Paterson. It has been an unobstrusive demonstration, for it was done without fanfare and over a period of days and months—which is the method farmers themselves must use in their own "land-use" reformations.

* * *

The Blewett farm improvement was so obviously a forerunner of the Brooklin show, that the first page of the program last Thursday showed a picture of the contour cultivation now practised on the Peterborough County farm. On the Blewett farm a bulldozer was used to rearrange fields and it did it in quick order. An old fence disappeared, a stone wall was tumbled into a trench which was then topped with soil, trees were ripped up, others planted, and enlarged fields appeared, convenient and efficient for today's mechanical farming. Strip farming and contour cultivation were initiated to prevent soil erosion. Pasture land was set out in permanent pasture. Soil was examined and fertilizers used to balance the soil. Short crop rotations were planned. The parts of the farm considered not satisfactory for cultivation were planted with trees. The results of the transformation are already beginning to show.

* * *

The purpose of the Department of Agriculture in undertaking such projects on the Blewett farm and at Brooklin is to give farmers actual and conveniently-viewed evidence that the new methods are good, are practicable and do make for efficient farming and the maintenance of the fertility of the land. Some call it "conservation"; a more apt description is proper "land-use."

Ten thousand people saw the Brooklin demonstration. There is much more of value to see at the Blewett farm, because the re-planning there has been in progress and operation for three years. It is regrettable that relatively few people of the district are visiting the farm to see the good results of technical assistance and long-term plans of soil restoration.

Korea Lost To The West?

The peninsula of Korea, jutting out from Manchuria and adjacent to the islands of Japan, is the last area of eastern Asia which has not passed completely into Communist hands and under Russian influence. Since the war it has been divided into two equal parts, with the southern half under British-American influence, the northern under Russia. Today the North Korean "People's Democracy" are holding "democratic" elections, and are including the South in these elections, on the pretext of unifying the country. Whether or not civil war will follow these elections remains to be seen.

The Republican Government in South Korea, which is recognized by Britain, the U.S.A. and other powers excepting Russia as the only lawful Korean government has of course objected to this North Korean Communist pretension, but it has not enough troops to raise more than a feeble protest. After the South Korea Republic was established, nearly all of the 400,000 American troops who had been in occupation were withdrawn. The South Koreans do not want Communism, but Communist agents have filtered into the South to aggravate the economic and social conditions created by war and the overcrowded population. It is swollen by refugees and the South has now twelve million people, compared with nine millions in the North. A kind of coup d'etat may follow the elections today, and South Korea may be engulfed by Communism.

There is little the Western Powers can do about it. The North has formally notified U.N. of its intentions to hold the elections. The U.N. Korean Commission (in which Canada was a temporary member) reported last Thursday to the Security Council that Korea is now faced with the danger of a "most barbarous civil war". The whole issue may devolve upon the Security Council, which has heretofore not been notably successful in dealing with such matters. One fact of geographical and political importance is that the straits of Tsushima which separate Korea from Japan are only 120 miles wide. A link has already been established between Japanese and Korean communists.

Arresting Loiterers

Passers-by are inconvenienced, and often annoyed by any crowd coming into a street from a theatre, dance hall or a ball game. The annoyance seems to be more sharply felt, the crowd more bitterly resented, when it is a group of men coming out of a beverage room at night, at closing time. Sometimes the resentment is fully justified, when the crowd is noisily talkative, inclined to loitre and to ignore the rights of others on the pavement. To prevent obstruction and public annoyance policemen keep a sharp eye on beverage room street exits. There have been two letters recently in this paper commending the constabulary for their efforts to "keep them moving".

The other week a young man who had come out of a local hotel was told to move on. He did, with others, across the street to a cafe. The same policeman came on him and two companions in conversation outside the cafe a few moments later. They were told to move on. Words were exchanged; the young man wanted to know 'when this country had become Germany'. He was arrested, charged with vagrancy under Section 238 (e) of the Criminal Code, and kept in the cells all night without communication being made with his family or his lawyer, which is usual in such cases. (A man under arrest has the right of communication with his lawyer.)

When his case was heard in Magistrate's Court it was dismissed. It was not established that this young man of decent appearance and with a fixed, even respectably-known, address, had been a vagrant, for according to the code, a loiterer must obstruct the passageway before he is guilty of vagrancy. Loiterers such as women window-shopping or lawyers passing the time of day on George Street, are not guilty of vagrancy unless they have also been obstructing the sidewalk. In fact there are daily instances when women with baby-carriages stop to gossip, or clergymen meet four or five parishioners on the street, who are not only loitering but also blocking the street; yet they are not charged with vagrancy.

There was no question of the young man in the case being drunk or disorderly. It did happen that he had come out of a hotel and not out of a church at the end of a social evening, and that the smell of beer and not of tea was noticed. The distinction between the two situations is not recognized by present-day law, other circumstances being the same.

We permit ourself three remarks. One was made in court by the defending counsel, that "courtesy is not a one-way street". Both police and public may be expected to exhibit courtesy, and neither has a monopoly on the ability to feel injured pride. Secondly, the duty of an officer of the peace is to protect the public, not to control it. Thirdly, the public should show due respect for their own laws and their own officers whose duty it is to enforce them; and at the same time, policemen must be aware that although they have special public responsibilities, the public have private rights.

The Egg A Yegg

We hear that eggs are scheduled to rise to 90 cents a dozen. That story may be a high-flying trial balloon; if not, the eggs will have to be pretty thick-shelled to avert smashing their market when they come down. An egg selling at 7½ cents is not at all admirable. In fact, it is a bit of a yegg—a yegg being an itinerant burglar. It may be an off-season for eggs, feed may be expensive, but the housewife cannot help feeling that she is being robbed if she is forced to pay ninety cents for a dozen. A scarcity of eggs impends in the eastern United States, but in the mid-west they are a glut on the market and bulging the storage houses. To bring the egg back to a sense of its proportion on the dining table—should it make the high leap—could not a few thousand dozen be imported from the mid-west, at thirty or forty cents a dozen?

Bonn And Strasbourg

(By a Student of Europe)

THEORETICALLY, there has for some time been general agreement that the only permanent and satisfactory solution of the German problem is the integration of Germany into a United Europe. Hitherto, however, neither post-war Germany nor Europe has existed as an organized entity; and many people, in talking of the "eventual" unification of Europe and of Germany's "eventual" admission to such a European union, had a comfortable feeling of talking in a non-committal way about the vague and misty future.

Suddenly, this future has become the present, and the question that had been the subject of so much easy-going academic talk demands a practical answer here and now. With the establishment of the Bonn Parliament, Germany is back on the stage as an active factor in world politics. With the meeting of the European Assembly in Strasbourg, Europe is struggling to be born as a political entity. It is suddenly becoming clear that the two questions—whether Europe can exist and whether Germany can be absorbed into Europe—will be decided now, either by action or by default. Almost unawares, we have entered a crucial, fateful period of history.

BONN and Strasbourg have, as it were, torn away the veil from hidden political realities; previously we could only guess what kind of Germany would emerge from the Hitlerian catastrophe and what chances there were of European unity. Now we see.

What do we see? The very first thing, which strikes the eyes with blinding force, is the fact that Germany is there again, and that Europe is not yet there. This fact is incontestable, and its importance cannot be exaggerated. If Europe is ever to have a chance of absorbing Germany, Europe must now make haste to catch up with Germany in the race for existence. Precious years have already been lost.

THE German State that was born at Bonn last week is a full, hard, palpable reality, throbbing with life. Its two Houses of Parliament swung into action as smoothly as if there had been no interruption in German Parliamentary life since 1933. Its Civil Service, intact and efficient as ever, stands by for Ministerial orders; its Government, already shaped behind the scenes, will take office in a few days' time. Germany is fully under her own steam again, ready to strike out on her own road, for good or ill.

The Allies may still be able, under the Occupation Statute, to block this road by sheer external force, if necessary. But they are even now reluctant to do so, and they will find it increasingly difficult as time passes and the German train gathers momentum.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE Strasbourg Assembly, on the other hand, has revealed quite clearly two things, one highly encouraging, one deeply depressing. The one is that a viable germ of European statehood exists. The other is that absolutely everything to develop that germ into a living organism still needs to be done.

The vitality of the European Assembly has been the great and splendid surprise of Strasbourg. It has not been the "mere talking shop" which Mr. Bevin had feared a European Assembly would become, nor has it been a repetition of the disappointing United Nations General Assembly. Strasbourg has shown a European Parliament would be able to work, and it has done some great work of its own.

The Strasbourg economic debates, and the report that came from them, have put the Paris conference of 1947 and 1948 and the Council of O.E.E.C. to shame: they embody the first real European response to Mr. Marshall's challenge of 1947, the first serious and statesmanlike attempt to come to grips with Europe's economic problems and to find that "joint cure" which Mr. Marshall demanded in his historic Harvard speech. Moreover, the Assembly's steps to shake itself free from the stifling provision of its statute, and to establish its permanent authority, have all been well considered, firm and skilful. It is not for nothing that this Assembly contains the flower of present-day European statesmanship.

BUT in spite of all this the Assembly's achievement still hangs fire, and it is still entirely possible for the national Governments—not least for the British Government—to undo it at will. This is the deeply depressing aspect of the situation which Strasbourg has revealed.

The fact is that Germany is today again a fully-fledged federal State, while Europe is far from being anything of the sort. The Strasbourg Assembly is one isolated federal element, brought into being in advance of a real European federation, a head without a body. France, Benelux, Italy, have been all set for the last year to create Europe in step with the re-creation of Germany, and to give Europe at least the same political coherence that now belongs to Germany. Britain has decided to remake Germany, but she has not so far decided to take part in making Europe—a decision which would inevitably touch her own sovereignty.

◇ ◇ ◇

THERE are, of course, reasons for this reluctance. One is the difficulty of adjusting our Commonwealth relations to our joining a European federation. Another, emotionally perhaps even more potent, is the fact that Britain has at present a Socialist Government, while Europe would, to begin with at any rate, almost certainly produce a non-Socialist Parliamentary majority, and hence a non-Socialist Government. There is also a natural fear of the unknown and incalculable. Against this must be set the stark fact that, with Germany again in existence and Europe as non-existent as ever, we are on the road back to the situation which has resulted in two world wars. The factors which could produce a third world war from that same situation can already be clearly seen.

It is not yet too late. At present Germany, in spite of nationalist undercurrents, is still sincerely willing to join Europe. But she cannot join a Europe that does not exist.

THE RETURN OF THE PRODIGAL

Will The Pound Be 'Devalued' or 'Revalued'?

By NORA BELOFF

(Special to The London Observer and Peterborough Examiner)

THE International Monetary Fund, whose heavily technical title normally discourages public interest, has suddenly become the focus of seething worldwide attention. The reason is simple: the meeting of governors from its forty-nine member States which opened Tuesday is expected to decide the future of Britain's pound sterling. Today one British pound (or its equivalent expressed in any other currency of the far-flung sterling zone) buys four dollars' worth of goods. If the pound is devalued, as many people expect, the same pound will buy only three or three and a half dollars' worth of goods. That means that the United Kingdom must pay more for many kinds of food and raw materials now available only from dollar countries. Inevitably, the price tags in British shop windows will be adjusted upward—life will become more difficult, more expensive, more austere.

Nobody in Britain, least of all the Labour leaders with the General Election ahead, can relish this dismal prospect. On the other hand, highly-placed Americans sincerely concerned with the economic recovery of the Western world are convinced that devaluation of the pound is the one and only way of reducing the price of British exports to make them competitive on dollar markets. Only by expanding British exports, they argue, can Britain earn enough dollars to sustain present import levels without exhausting her scanty and rapidly-dwindling dollar and gold reserves.

Both Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder and Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, however, have publicly suggested that the matter might be discussed at the subsequent meeting of governors of the International Monetary Fund. This has been interpreted as meaning that the fight has been not abandoned but postponed.

There cannot be any question of the Fund's dictating a new exchange rate to the British Government: it has not even the power to recommend, let alone prescribe, any alterations. On this point its Charter is specific: "Change in the value of a member's currency may be made only on the proposal of that member." On the other hand, the governors are debating the state of world finances and note the absence of any discernible progress to the goals of expanding world trade and elimination of exchange restrictions which the Fund originally set itself.

The persistent speculation on "imminent" devaluation which has been going on for several months has been a major cause of the present crisis. Waiting for devaluation, and the consequent reduction of British prices, regular customers have been suspending orders for British goods, institutions and persons who held pounds have liquidated reserves at almost any price, and a general "flight from the pound" has been a major factor in the sudden deterioration of Britain's plight.

If the meeting of the International Monetary Fund can end this speculative wave it will have exactly the opposite purpose to the one generally anticipated: the pound sterling, instead of being "devalued", will have been "revalued." Most experts, whatever their views now, believe any decision is better than none.

The Last Bivouac

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

Something went out of American life forever the other day in Indianapolis. Six grizzled, enfeebled veterans of the Civil War met and decided they would never again be able to gather together as they have been doing for 83 long years.

The six made a sad picture. Three were in wheel chairs, one needed crutches. They ranged in age from 100 to 108 years. They were gaunt of frame and their shoulders drooped.

This was the last courageous effort at holding to a memory that is rooted deep to their country's history.

For decades these veterans, the last remnants of a force once numbering 400,000, have been celebrating the great moments that kept the United States whole. Their colourful gatherings will be missed from the American scene.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens, and every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew; for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. (Gen. 2: 4-7.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel: thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?....

As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets, saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth; for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face; but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us. (Jer. 2: 4, 5, 26, 27.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldst go. (Isa. 48: 17.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. (Isa. 55: 3.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Audiences were very unkind at the temperance lectures and kept interrupting. At last the speaker engaged a former prize-fighter to keep order.

That night he contrasted the content of home life with the squalor of drunkenness.

"What is it we want when we return home from our daily toil?" he asked. "What do we want to ease our burden, to gladden our hearts, to bring smiles to our faces and joyous songs to our lips?"

He paused for effect, and in the silence the voice of the keeper of peace could be heard: "Mind, the first bloke who says beer goes out with a bang!"

Meetings On The Rhine

(New York Times)

It is not mere geographical coincidence that the Germans meet on the lower Rhine while the Council of Europe is in session on the upper Rhine. To incorporate Western Germany into Western Europe must be the aim of Western policy, and the first logical step toward this end is the admission of a German delegation to the Assembly at Strasbourg. This congress is still without power, but it has great symbolic significance as a projection of the idea of European unity, and therefore as a substitute for the excessive and dangerous nationalism to which Germany is all too prone.

MODERN WATERBOYS — Warm sunny weather has intensified the hardships of residents in the waterless homes at Jacques Cartier, a suburb of Montreal. Shown here is one of the three 500-gallon water tanks with which Arthur Bilodeau, of Longueuil, Que., does a flourishing business selling aqua pura at 10 cents a bucket to hundreds of homes daily. Bilodeau's son (carrying water towards house) refused to discuss the "water business" with reporters.

Want Britain Major Source Of Immigrants

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 — (CP) — Veterans' representatives from all parts of the British Commonwealth—from the little African colony of Nyasaland to the big island Dominion of Australia — agree that the United Kingdom should continue to be their major source of immigrants.

They expressed their opinion in a resolution passed unanimously at the 10th biennial conference of the British Empire Service League Supreme Council here Wednesday.

The resolution recognized that while housing in various Commonwealth countries is short and presents a problem, "everything should be done to maintain a constant flow of immigrants from the Mother Country to the various parts of the Commonwealth and Empire."

This, it said, is the surest way of maintaining "the principles for which the British Empire stood in the past."

Lord Cromwell, one of England's delegates to the conference, said he thought the U.K. would be better able to feed and maintain herself with a population of 35,000,000 instead of the current 50,000,000.

Communism also crept into discussions often at Wednesday's session. An Australian resolution which would have directed the various members of the B.E.S.L.—there are 14,000 separate branches—to press their governments to outlaw Communism was defeated.

The negative vote followed a lengthy debate in which delegates from a number of countries, after expressing strong opposition to Communism contended that outlawing the doctrine would serve no useful purpose.

Escape With $4,000 From Montreal Bank

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP) — Two gunmen escaped with $4,000 today after forcing a young cashier in a north end Banque Canadienne Nationale branch to open the vault.

Twenty-four-year-old Annette Grothe was the only member of the staff at work in the Gouin Boulevard bank when the two bandits entered.

They threatened her with their guns and forced her to open the vault.

Police said it was the first bank holdup in the city of Montreal since two policemen were shot and killed last Sept. 23, when three bandits escaped with $2,000 from an east end branch. The three were later caught and two have been hanged for the crime

Battling Inflation

SHANGHAI, Sept. 15 (AP) — The Chinese Communists today revised the rates for foreign currencies for the second time this month, with the United States dollar up 100 points to 2,800 "people's dollars" to $1 United States, the pound 8,000 "people's dollars to £1, and the Canadian dollar 2,500 to $1. (This is regarded as further evidence of increasing inflation in Communist China.)

To Chose Officers

MILLBROOK, Sept. 15 (ENS) —The Rebekah Lodge Number 176 met in the Lodge rooms Tuesday. Noble Grand Margaret Bigelow presiding. Plans were made for a re-consecration service and for the election of officers to take place next Lodge night Sept. 27. Installation will take place in October.

Drowns In Rescue

GLENAVON, Sask., Sept. 15 — (CP)—A young mother who feared water and couldn't swim, jumped into the icy waters of a farm dugout here Wednesday and was drowned with the three-year-old son she was trying to save. Victims were Mrs. Lawrence Slusar, 26, wife of an oil company agent here, and her only child, Kenneth.

Has Second Trial

C.D.N.A. Helping Britain In Trade Crisis

WINDSOR, Sept. 15 (CP) — First steps in a concerted program by members of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association to assist Britain in the current dollar crisis were disclosed in an interview Wednesday by Ian H. Macdonald, association manager.

The association is playing a big part in the effort to provide more outlets for British goods because its members have had wide experience in the field of merchandising in Canadian markets, he said.

In the last two years, Mr. Macdonald made four trips to England. "On every visit," he said, "I found the British business men anxious to sell to Canadians but woefully ignorant of the steps they should take to make the venture successful."

He suggested that goods from Britain be identified on the Canadian market by brand names; that the goods be made available in designated stores and localities, and that an advertising campaign be started to familiarize people with the goods.

In a recently-completed survey of Canadian retail outlets, Mr. Macdonald found a general ignorance of well-known British goods. More than 90 per cent of persons questioned had no knowledge of them and knew less about where they could be obtained.

With Britain approaching a crisis in world trade, Sir Stafford Cripps requested the help of Canadian advertising mediums. The campaign sponsored by the CDNA is the result.

If the plan proposed by Mr. Macdonald is followed, British manufacturers will concentrate on one section of the country and, if the sale of goods is satisfactory, expand gradually to other sections.

The four ends—Ross Beck, Tom McNulty, Dick Hill and Franklin Turner—were the latest to join the injured ranks. Others on the hobble list include middle Reg. Ort and Sid Tatham, inside Jack Thompson and centre George Wearring.

Two scrappy two-year-old trotters split the spoils at London, Ont., Wednesday in the futurity trot, featured event in the Western Fair harness racing program. They were Van Baldwin, owned and driven by Hon. Earl Rowe and Miss Volo Chips, owned by Uri Pierce of Appin. Van Baldwin won the first heat and Miss Volo Chips the second. While the top prize money was split, Van Baldwin won the futurity cup as he paced the fastest heat of the two, his 2.19 1-5 effort in the first whirl.

Appointment of Vick Obeck of Montreal as director of McGill University's department of athletics, physical education and recreation was announced Wednesday night. Obeck, who has been head football coach at McGill since 1947, succeeds Dr. A. S. Lamb who resigned from the post because of ill health.

Church Russell, 26-year-old centre, has been purchased by Pittsburgh Hornets from Cleveland Barons, both of the American Hockey League. Hornets manager Johnny Mitchell announced Wednesday night.

Detroit Red Wings, using five of their National Hockey League regulars, defeated their American League farm team Indianapolis Capitals 10-4 at Saskatoon, Wednesday night in an exhibition game. Detroit's ace right-winger, Gordie Howe, picked up one goal and three assists.

Make Believe, owned by the Lockhart Stable, Collingwood, on Wednesday won the free-for-all in the harness racing meet at Durham's fall fair. Make Believe placed second in the first heat and then took two firsts. Buddy Hanover of Niagara Falls was second and W. J. Abbe, owned by the McLean stable of Port Elgin was third.

Brown Rover, an American-bred three-year-old colt owned by William Woodward of New York, Wednesday won the Irish St. Leger—in the stewards' office. Brown Rover finished the mile and three quarter gallop a nose behind the apparent winner, the Aga Khan's Moondust, but was given the race on the basis of an objection by Harry Carr, his English jockey. The stewards did not disclose the reasons for Carr's successful complaint.

Manager Billy Southworth of Boston Braves spent all day Wednesday in the office of a Columbus, Ohio, heart specialist who reported the veteran baseball figure has "no organic troubles." The Braves' pilot, who left Boston a month ago on a leave of absence should be able to resume his duties fully recovered after a period of rest and relaxation. How long a period was not specified.

A working agreement between Buffalo Bisons, International League champions, and the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League may be in the offing. Bison officials were reluctant to comment other than to acknowledge that negotiations were under way with the Athletics.

LISTENING TO THE EX-BIG-LEAGUERS DESCRIBE AN ABSENT BROTHER — THANX TO DICK RUDOLPH, BURBANK, NEW YORK

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

ORFU football of the senior "B" variety returns to Peter's borough tomorrow night in Morrow Park. Orillia Bombers play the Panthers at 8.30 under the lights, and this should attract a huge grid crowd for the opener of the season on local terrain. Coach Spike Matthews has a hustling young squad of huskies, balanced by a few grid veterans, and they expect to take the measure—by the yard, of course—of the fast-stepping Bombers, group winners last autumn. A big covered stand at the Ex. for the cash customers and plenty of parking space inside the park. Don't pass up this football fixture tomorrow night, folks.

* * * * * *

Yeah, 10 and 11 years ago, our senior Orfuns were pulling big crowds into the Ex. to see the Irwin-coached and then the Bamforth-led locals battling formidable opponents like Beaches, spear-headed by Ab Box; Montreal Nats, led by Johnny Ferraro; and Sarnia Imperials, when Bummer Stirling was in flower. Likewise Tony Golab. Some swell football served up on frosty Saturday afternoons, and who can forget that memorable day when Orfuns edged Sarnia 3-2 on Mike Loucks' field goal near the finish? So rugby returns to the big southend gridiron after a decade and it'll be played under lights for the first time in Peterborough. A grand red-blooded autumn sport.

Along Lacrosse Front

Scarboro tackles our juvenile "B" lacrossers in OLA semi-finals at 8.30 p.m. tomorrow in Miller Bowl. Second of their best-of-three series, Scarboro taking the first. Lou Vitarelli's young scrappers reckon they'll even that up Friday to force a third tilt. Jerry Creighton's local midgets meander off to Mimico in OLA competition tonight, whilst the peewees (skippered by Rowan Chute) will be playing away somewhere this Saturday. No word on the bantams' next game at this writing, but Ira and Barney Dundas are keeping 'em in shape. Lot of fine lacrosse talent emerging from the large minor circuit conducted here the past few summers, and we won't need to import senior "A" stars in a few more years.

* * * * * *

Two "most valuable player" trophies will be awarded locally this fall. Pellar Trophy for the outstanding men's city softballer will be decided when the executive votes on names submitted by each club in the near future. Howie Dalton won it last year. Ray Garvey (now the Rev. Ray) was voted most valuable the previous season. In baseball, the Fred Craig Trophy will be given the player selected by Alex Kay, minor ball commissioner here. It was won in 1945 by Jack Sisson, the next season by Al Menzies, two years ago by Ken Pammett, and last year by Don Pagett. Any player from peewee to senior in the city is eligible.

Clockers On Fast Time

Westclox went one up on Ashby's at the Bowl last eve to open their two-of-three girls' softball finals. Won it by an 8-4 score before a fairish crowd, and they'll resume tonight at seven—going two games if necessary to settle it. Clockers came through with timely hits and enough of them to earn the duke in a neat number. Their errors didn't prove as costly as Ashby miscues and their two twirlers allowed but three hits each. Ashby's will probably pitch Doris McFadden tonight 'gainst Mark Selkirk, and they could even it up in the first fray. Two good squads and it ought to be quite a battle for loop honors this p.m.

* * * * * *

At a meeting of the Lake Ontario high school rugby coaches here, E. G. Witherspoon of Bowmanville was named president, R. Sturgess of Lindsay vice-prexy, and James Carson of Oshawa the secretary. Just two schools entered the senior setup, Oshawa and PCVS. Nine went for the junior angle and were split into three groups: Cobourg, Port Hope and TCS in one, Bowmanville, Oshawa and Whitby in another, with Lindsay, St. Peter's and PCVS in the third. Winners of the first two groups playoff, the survivor then meeting the winner of our grouping. Eventual winner goes against the Bay of Quinte top team about mid-November, and the COSSA junior finals will be at Georgian Bay or Niagara this year. No local high school football on tap for this week-end.

Can't Blame Devil

BAYREUTH, Bavaria, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—A German court ruled Wednesday that the devil could not be blamed for a violent killing. A 38-year-old woman, charged with having killed her lover by bashing in his head with an axe, told the court "the devil had asked me to kill him." The court sentenced Alma Martin to 10 years imprisonment.

League Honors Captured By A & P Team

A & P defeated the COF team 11-10 last night to capture the championship of the Foresters Softball League and the Bert Austin Trophy. They won the best-of-five final series three games to one—another tilt being tied—in the first season of the circuit's operations.

All games between these two good finalists were close but the Grocers tightened up more in the pinches. Thorburn, O'Toole and Huard were the big stickers in the last game, while Parnell, Collins and Phillips were strong at the plate for Foresters. O'Toole and Phillips went the route on rival mounds.

It was a good season for the league, including such squads as Foresters, Post Office, Canoe Co. and A & P. The schedule went through without a protest, everyone enjoying it all the way through, except occasionally the umpires—but then umpires rarely enjoy a ball game.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Just imagine six bowlers leaving the city at 12.30 noon, motoring 40 miles over to Port Perry—playing three 14-end games, motoring back to Peterborough again and arriving home by eight o'clock. That's what Bill Jeffries, Bob Gamble, Cec Williamson, Geo. Gimblett, Percy Moore and Herb Martin did yesterday. How did they make out—oh, well, they saw a lot of fine country, met many nice people and had a good outing.

There was only a small number out last evening for the Family Hour Tournament—It looked like too much opposition.

In the group play-offs, last night, J. Ryan won from B. Jeffries and now meets R. Knox for group honors. And in the other group J. Adams won from R. Brown and he now meets W. Perks for the final game.

To-morrow night we are holding another one of those ever popular Friday night tournaments—Men's doubles, choose your own partner, Time 7.15 o'clock sharp.

Tigers Trounce Crescents 8-4 Tying Series

HAMILTON, Sept. 15 (CP) — Hamilton Tigers Wednesday night tied the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior best-of-three semi-final series 1-1 by trouncing Owen Sound Crescents 8-4. The rubber will be played in Owen Sound tonight, with the winner meeting Brampton, which has a bye, in the finals.

Tigers took a 2-0 lead in the first quarter and ran it to 5-2 by half time. The third quarter ended 6-3. But in the final, Hamilton headed off an Owen Sound rally by banging home two more goals while the visitors scored a single.

Doug Davidson, Blain McDonald and Merv McKenzie each scored twice for Tigers and Bill Isaacs and George Masters added the other tallies. Owen Sound marksmen were Archie Mason, Bill Slater, Archie White and Fred Smith.

Win Junior Title

Scoring seven goals in the last period St. Catharines Athletics won the Ontario Lacrosse Association junior title by edging the Mimico Mountaineers 10-9. They won the series 3-1.

The teams were tied 1-1 at the end of the first quarter, but Mimico held a 6-1 lead at half time and 7-3 at the three-quarter mark.

Ted Howe scored three goals while Doug Smith and Max Woolley had two each to pace the winners. Bill Horwood and Jack Katafsky each scored two for Mimico.

Public School Frays Open Senior Season

The local public schools started their soccer season Wednesday afternoon when King Edward and Prince of Wales played on King Edward Park, with Prince of Wales beating the South-enders 3-1 in a senior tilt.

West-enders opened up with perfect position play that resulted in Barrie beating the King Edward goalie with a low grounder. In the second period, Hunt got the equalizer for the South-enders but this was short-lived because Faiers went right back to register two goals in succession to gain the two points.

King Edward—R. Hobart, goal; C. Chalmers and J. Haggart, full backs; J. Sutherland, R. Tarkington and J. Hobert, half backs; L. Smyth, L. Ball, D. Hunt, G Frizzle and N. Johnston, forwards. Subs: A. Phillips, E. Robins.

Prince of Wales—D. Coit, goal; H. Bowes and B. Spiers, full backs; R. Dummitt, R. Faiers and K. Lowell, half backs; H. Pullyband, G. Pagett, L. Barrie and W. Downer, forwards. Subs: D. Livingstone, L. Clarke and J. Heron.

Referee—J. Barnard.

Confederation Wins

Confederation swamped Queen Alex. soccer eleven on the former's ground Wednesday afternoon to the tune of 5-1 in a senior game.

Exchanges were even in the first half with Confederation getting the only counter through Pearton. In the second half, the North-enders wilted against the superior combination of their opponents when Davis registered twice and Parry and Pearton getting the other counters.

Queen Alexandra—J. Nicholls, goal; H. Harrison and J. Wood, full backs; J. Ham, J. McKinney and R. Stewart, half backs; G. Gordon, J. Kemp, J. Weir, J. Whitton and R. Lang, forwards. Subs: J. Turnbull, H. Brown, J. Cruikshanks, and J. Alton.

Confederation—M. Bryan, goal; J. Dunstan and H. Brooks, full backs; L. Post, J. Parry and B. Bryan, half backs; J. Davis, S. Pearton, H. Holland, R. Miller and J. Simmons, forwards. Subs: J. Little, B. Chester, R. Burfield, J. Corner and R. Rogers

Graziano Rides Victory Train Defeats Fusari

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—(AP) — The Rock is back on the victory road. Not the rocky Graziano of old, but still the most exciting fighter to watch in the ring today.

For nine rounds against Charlie Fusari in the Polo Grounds last night it seemed the rock was through. He was trailing on every score card, and, it seemed, only a 10th-round knockout could save him.

Then it happened — the explosive burst that the crowd of 31,092 had been waiting for all night.

A left hook connected and Fusari reeled from mid-ring to the ropes. A right, then another, and then a rain of blows that draped Fusari over the ropes and then to the floor for a count of nine.

Like a Tiger

Like a tiger smelling blood, Rocky tore after Fusari. He pinned him in a corner, held his head in place with his left hand, and hammered with his right.

The crowd was on its feet, roaring for the kill. But referee Ruby Goldstein had seen enough. He pulled Graziano from his victim and declared the Rock the victor at 2:04 of the last round.

"He shouldn't have stopped it," said Fusari later. "I was waiting for him to slow up and then I would have gone after him."

Few observers agreed with him. But the 24-year-old Irvington, N.J., belter, stopped for the first time in his career, lost nothing in defeat.

He was outweighed 12 pounds —159½ to 147½—by one of the fiercest punchers in the game—and except for the one mistake was the better fighter.

The three officials all had Fusari in front for nine rounds.

Westclox Girls Take First Against Ashby's

Westclox girls defeated Ashby's 8-4 at the Bowl last night before a fair-sized crowd to open their best-of-three Girls' Softball League finals. The same squads clash again at seven tonight there, with a second game immediately afterward, if it is necessary to declare the champion. Coach Frank McCormack's squad earned the victory last evening on their pitching and hitting. Each side had three miscues, but Ashby errors proved more costly.

B. Reid pitched for Ashby's but was nicked for 14 bingles, while M. Selkirk took over the mound job for Westclox from M. Downer in the third. Each allowed but three hits, though none of the pitchers fanned many. N. Whetung, B. Morrow, J. Dunk, D. Callan and J. Reynolds all went good defensively and the losers had a double-play, L. Jordan to M. Freeman. Several of the Clockers came through with two safe hits and D. Callan got a pair for Ashby's, one a double.

The teams:

Ashby's: D. Callan, cf; J. Reynolds, c; E. Simmonds, lf; E. McFadden, 3b; M. Freeman, 1b; J. Dunk, ss; L. Jordan, 2b; B. Reid, p; D. McFadden, rf.

Westclox: J. Vass, 3b; B. Morrow, ss; M. Hawthorne, c; N. Whetung, 1b; D. Westlake, 2b; A. Anderson, cf; K. Warne, lf; I. Clarke, lf; J. McIntyre, rf; J. Hardy, rf; M. Downer, p; M. Selkirk, p.

Dodgers Polish Off Reds But Cards Still In Lead

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Brooklyn Dodgers must be wondering today just what must they do to catch the high-flying St. Louis Cardinals.

Since the first of the month, the Brooks have piled up 11 victories in 13 tries, a true championship gait.

And how much yardage did they pick up? Not a foot. The Cards duplicated the Dodgers' feat by winning 11 of their last 13 skirmishes.

So as the two perennial rivals swing into the final two weeks of the National League campaign, The Cards still cling to the 1½ game edge they held Sept. 1.

The Dodgers drew first blood Wednesday, knocking off their favorite playmates, Cincinnati Reds 4-2 in an afternoon tussle. That narrowed the Cards' edge to one game. A Red Bird defeat meant the slimmest of margins between the two clubs—a half length. Then to keep the pattern going, St. Louis polished off New York Giants 9-3 in a night game as Harry (The Cat) Brecheen came through with a 10-hit effort.

Yankees Advance

In the American League, New York Yankees advanced two more strides toward their 16th championship by sweeping both ends of a double bill from the hapless St. Louis Browns, 2-0 and 13-7. The Bronx Bombers increased their first-place lead over Boston to three games, despite the Red Sox' 1-0 victory over Detroit.

Cleveland virtually eliminated itself from contention by dropping a 2-1 decision to Philadelphia Athletics, 2-1. The Indians now are 7½ games off the pace.

In other games, Chicago White Sox dumped Washington Senators 8-1; Philadelphia's Phillies whipped Pittsburgh Pirates 12-4, and the Chicago Cubs outslugged the Boston Braves 8-7.

A crowd of 10,712 fans sat through a steady rain which held up the Card-Giant game for one hour and 45 minutes. They saw the Red Birds collect a dozen hits off three Giant hurlers with Stan Musial slamming a bases-loaded triple, and added a pair of singles to account for six runs. He drove in four and scored two.

Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn shortstop, was the big gun in the Dodgers victory. Back in the lineup after missing one game because of a bruised elbow, Reese led the attack against Howie Fox of the Reds with a double and single.

Do Their Stuff

Lefty Ed Lopat and Vic Raschi turned in the Yankee victories. Lopat had plenty of opposition from Al Papai in the opener, but came through with his best performance of the season to gain his 14th triumph with a four-hitter.

Raschi had the benefit of a 19-hit attack against six Brownie flingers in the nightcap. Bobby Brown and Cliff Mapes led the way with four blows apiece.

Pitcher Ellis Kinder and slugger Ted Williams teamed up to give the Red Sox their hard-earned victory. Kinder allowed six hits in notching his 20th triumph, 10 in succession. Williams accounted for the only run with a homer in the sixth, his 38th.

Ralph Kiner blasted his 49th home run for Pittsburgh, but could not prevent the Phils from winning. Mike Goliat, Gran Hamner and Ed Sanicki homered for the Phils.

Bobby Shantz bested Bob Feller in a hurling duel for the A's. He allowed only five hits as the A's pulled off their 200th double play, a major league record for one season.

Bisons Bounce Jersey City In 10-4 Triumph

By The Associated Press

The pennant-winning Buffalo Bisons and the defending-champion Montreal Royals are off to a fine start in the opening round of the International League's playoffs.

Both the Bisons and the Royals scored victories Wednesday night in the firstgames of their series which were delayed a day because of rain.

Righthander Saul Rogovin pitched the Bisons to a 10-4 triumph over Jersey City Giants and Dan Bankhead hurled the Royals to a 9-5 triumph over Rochester Red Wings.

Rogovin checked the Giants on six hits, fanned 11, walked five and helped his own cause with a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

The Bisons wrapped up the game with six runs in the first three innings, pouncing on Lefty Roger Bowman for four runs in the first frame.

Cy Block and Marty Tabacheck paced Buffalo's 12-hit attack with two singles and a double apiece.

Bankhead, a 20-game winner during the regular season, also breezed home against the Wings.

Sam Jethroe started the Royals off to victory by opening the game with a home run off Cloyd Boyer. The Royals chased Boyer with a five-run assault in the second and clinched the decision with three more in the fourth.

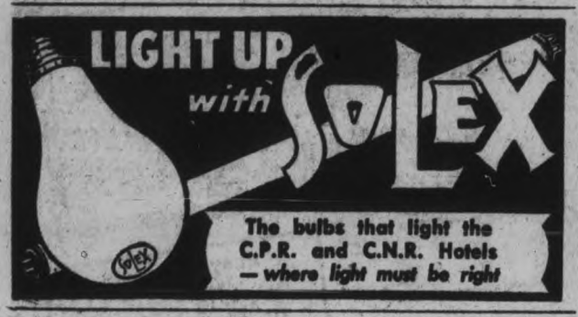
Bride No Longer Has To Say 'Obey'



HALIFAX, Sept. 15—(CP)—The bride's promise to obey has been dropped from a revised prayer-book, for optional use, which the 17th General Synod of the Church of England in Canada adopted late Wednesday.

As a result of Wednesday's decision either the old or new book may be used until the next synod in three or four years when it will be further reviewed.

This was the only major change in the book. There were minor changes in the marriage and other church ceremonies.

Have Added Proof

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Vatican newspaper L'Observatore Romano said Wednesday recent explorations under St. Peter's Basilica give added proof of the existence of the tomb of St. Peter.

Pall-bearers were Lynn Pratt, Harry Donovan, Frank McCarthy, John Quirk, Bob Grisdale and William Hunt.

Hill Prince Wins Cowdin Stakes

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—(AP)—You can jot down the name Hill Prince today, paste it in your hat or lay it away in grandma's jewel case for future reference.

This two-year-old colt is going to be heard from next spring when they're talking about the Kentucky Derby and other three-year-old racing classic.

Hill Prince, splashing through mud and slop along with jockey Eddie Arcaro, broke the Aqueduct track record for 6½ furlongs yesterday in the $23,075 Cowdin Stakes. He did it in spectacular fashion, which merely added more of the generous praise that's been his since he began his racing career only 11 short weeks ago.

There's no doubt Hill Prince is the best juvenile colt in the east in action at the present time, and he'll stake a strong claim to national honors at the rate he's knocking them over. This was his sixth victory in seven starts, his third straight stakes triumph and his classiest performance yet.

Arnhem Pilgrimage

LONDON, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—About 250 men and women left London Wednesday night for The Netherlands on the annual pilgrimage to Arnhem commemorating the 1944 battle for the Rhine bridges. They were soldiers and relatives of the British First Airborne Division which sent 8,000 parachute and glider troops into one of the most audacious feats of the war. Only 2,000 returned.

Damage $52,350,000

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15 (AP)—The hurricane which swept through Florida and into Georgia and the Carolinas August 26-27 caused crop and property damage estimated at $52,350,000, a report showed today.

Grocery Store Fire Destroys Building

MERRITTON, Sept. 15 (CP)—Fire which started near the stock of matches in Mike Diacur's grocery store today gutted the two-storey building. All furniture in two apartments in the building was lost, with total damage estimated at $12,000.

Mrs. Diacur and her daughter, Gladys, 19, and Barbara Prosser, 20, sleeping upstairs, were awakened by smoke. The fire was small when they found it, but smoke prevented them from battling the blaze and they escaped in night attire. They were not injured.

Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seaver Prosser, left Monday for a two-week motor trip to Gananoque. Their daughter telephoned them today to tell them that all their belongings, including three rooms of new furniture, was lost. They had no insurance, although there was coverage on the store.

War Destroyed Economic Balance

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The main cause of the dollar problem is that the war destroyed the economic balance between North America and the rest of the world.

The monthly economic summary of the United Kingdom Information Office in Ottawa, starting with this well-accepted premise, proceeds to give a brief outline of how it was brought about. It says:

"North America increased its production enormously during the war, at the same time, reduced its dependence on supplies from the rest of the world.

"For example, the United States developed a huge new synthetic rubber industry. This lessens her need to import natural rubber.

On the other hand, the war left the rest of the world more dependent on supplies from North America.

Suffer War Damage

"In nearly all parts of the world outside the Western Hemisphere, the war damaged industry and transport, and dislocated trade, while, despite war casualties, populations increased and needs became greater. In addition, many countries had to sell their investments in North America and lost their dollar income.

"The result is that the demand of non-dollar countries for dollar goods and services far exceeds the demand of dollar countries for non-dollar goods and services, so that the dollar is universally scarce."

The summary goes on to explain that while the war brought the problem to a head, economic maladjustment had been coming on for a long time.

The summary notes that Britain had to sell or pledge much of her dollar investments to pay for war supplies before the advent of lend-lease in March, 1941. Also:

"Britain herself paid for only 27 per cent of her dollar imports with exports of goods to the dollar countries before the war in 1938 . . . today, Britain actually pays for a rather larger portion of her dollar imports with direct exports 36 per cent in the year ending March, 1949. But the gap in the dollar trade is still enormous."

Condemn Sports At Universities

HALIFAX, Sept. 15 (CP) — A former McGill University football coach said today the development of "scientific" sports in universities is "taking its toll" of academic requirements.

Dr. J. C. Flanagan of Montreal, layman member of the general synod of the Church of England in Canada meeting here, said in an interview that in some Canadian colleges—like McGill—hockey and football formerly were played by those "who came to the university in the normal course of events." Teams, in turn, played "for the fun of it."

"Sports are one of the greatest character forming things we have," he maintained, "but only if the philosophy of it, sports for sports sake—not for dollars — is the reason for it."

"This is no attack on those who play sport as a profession," he continued. "But to mix all forms of sport up with money in our schools and colleges condemns the whole philosophy of sport."

McGill, he said, imported two football players this year for the "specific purpose of playing football"—and they had been awarded scholarships to get in.

Size Of Chairs Not Worrying Heftiest New M.P.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP)—Big chairs, little chairs, what's the difference? Says 31-year-old Jack Garland, heftiest man on parliament hill.

He's going to take a seat in the Commons today for the first time and when his more than 500-pounds of flesh and bone start sitting it will be on a normal Commons chair, the same provided for the other 261 members.

"I'm surprised there's nothing more interesting to talk about than my weight," he says.

Not that he cares one way or the other, but the six-foot-two Liberal member for Nipissing kind of wonders why all the fuss and bother over the type of chair he sits on.

Many Rumors

It all began weeks ago when rumors swept through parliamentary corridors that the government was going to build Mr. Garland, now serving his third term as a North Bay alderman, two extra-size chairs—just in case something went wrong when Mr. Garland started sitting.

A parliamentary official denied that such chairs were being built. They became the ghostly chairs —appearing and disappearing in newspaper columns.

Finally, they were found to exist, locked up in a parliamentary workship, but officials would allow no one to see them, no one to take pictures.

"I don't know how all the fuss started," Mr. Garland says. "I never saw those chairs and I don't want to see them. The ordinary Commons chairs are good enough for me."

With a twinkle in his blue eyes, he eases his form into a leather-covered structure in his office. He smiles, Nothing happens.

True, his big form fills the chair to capacity but comfortably. He puffs at a cigar.

"Don't mind a ribbing," he explains nonchalantly, "but this business of the chairs appears to have gone far enough."

Picture Mr. Garland then as he enters the Commons. A normal chair awaits him. He brushes back the curtains behind the rear row of seats on the government side and sweeps onto the leather padding.

Nothing uncommon—except the desk he sits at normally provides room for two members. When he starts sitting he will have it all to himself.

EDUCATION IN GARDEN—In a picturesque setting, the spacious grounds of the residence of Mrs. Gertrude McGill of Victoria, a unique school is operated to teach pre-school and under-teen age children citizenship. This Mrs. McGill defines as "character, co-operation, courage, charity, comradeship and Christianity." A child-sized library filled with children's books is part of the garden school. Also included is a movie theatre housed in a converted streetcar where children's films are shown. Here Mrs. McGill is surrounded by a group of children in the play area of her garden. "Jumbo" is a slide with a sand pile around the base. Mrs. McGill is assisted by 25 volunteer workers in the operation of her school.

176 Boys Attended Camp With 100 from Peterborough

One hundred of the 176 boys who attended the Y's Men's Club Boys' Camp on Clear Lake this summer were from Peterborough, Donald Duncan, camp director, said Wednesday. Fifty other boys were from the Peterborough district. These boys accounted for 289 of the 362 camping weeks spent at the camp.

Twenty-seven boys were from Lindsay, the largest group of campers from a centre outside of Peterborough. Toronto and district were represented at the camp by 15, while the others were from Fort Erie 1, Windsor 4, Winnipeg 2, Nobel 3, Drummondville, Quebec 1.

Eighty-two boys registered at the camp as non-swimmers. Of this number 63 boys passed their beginners' test. Mr. Duncan added that all the boys could float, and most of them could swim at least 20 feet. Nine boys reached the point where they were ready for the life-saving test.

Earl Dreury, program director, conducted classes in molding, painting and woodwork. Interest groups in water safety, canoeing, basketball, archery, softball and nature study were held. John Lewis conducted the waterfront program until forced to leave due to sickness. Bill Nixon of Windsor succeeded Lewis as director.

Mr. Duncan praised the work of this year's counsellors. They were headed by Senior Counsellor George Phillips. The counsellors were: Jerry Lane, James Carey, David Fanning, Terry Clifton, William Watson Lionel Hempsted, all of Peterborough, and Ken Daniels of Toronto.

Good Looks Liability Derek Insists

By HOWARD C. HEYN.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 15 (AP). —Some of us pie-faces are hard to convince, but John Derek insists that good looks can be an awful liability.

Don't expect Derek to be modest The town's new rave among leading men won't deny he is handsome. On the contrary, he says:

"The movies always cast the good-looking bloke as the leading man, but actually, in real life, he is not a leading man at all.

"Why, in school, I was a positively an introvert!"

Kids, he said, are inclined to shy away from boys with pretty faces "They think you feel superior, or they think you are a weakling It is a hundred times harder to prove yourself a man."

Is He Kidding?

That, though tough enough, is in the past. What irks Dereks now is that, as an adult, he says he is having the same trouble— with women.

"It is actually hard to get dates," he complained. "The girls think you are conceited. They think that YOU think you can have any girl you want."

Now working in "Rogues in Sherwood Forest," Derek said he turned down the Valentino role because he feels it would have branded him a dandy. He hopes he has lined up, for his next two films, the roles of a circus performer and a football player.

Before crying any salty tears over the plight of poor Derek, consider the bankroll his face represents.

"I guess it is my bread and butter," he concedes, somewhat grudgingly. "But I'd sure like to play a gangster."

Comedian Corner

What would it take to bring Jack Benny to the screen? "A tremendous script," said Jack. He added that he hadn't run across one. He is, however, mulling the possibility of filming the old Frank Craven stage hit, "That's Gratitude," in which he'd want Ronald Colman as co-star.

Bob Hope reports receiving a lot of mail from Texans since he struck oil in the Lone Star State. He says they all want to sell him choice land. with oil deposits almost a certainty. "If some property owner would just say he has a piece of worthless swamp and for sale," Bob observed sourly, "I'd probably buy it—from sheer surprise."

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 15—(CP)—George H. Ross, Toronto, was re-elected Wednesday as Grand Commander of the Supreme Council of the 33rd Degree, ancient and accepted Scottish rite of Canada. Others elected to the council include Frank A. Copus, Owen Sound, Ont., prior.

"Nescafé (pronounced NES-CAFAY) is the exclusive registered Trade Mark of Nestlé's Milk Products (Canada) Limited to designate its Soluble Coffee Product. It is composed of equal parts of pure soluble coffee and added carbohydrates (dextrins, maltose and dextrose) added solely to protect the flavour."

WHATEVER THE JOKE is at the opening of the fourth annual board of Governors meeting of the World Bank in Washington this week, it finds Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, right, enjoying a hearty laugh with Canada's Minister of Finance, Hon. Douglas C. Abbott. Looking on, centre rear, is H. M. Hirschfield, a member of the Netherlands delegation. In the course of the last week the news cameras have caught the usually serious Sir Stafford in a variety of gay moods, while he has been in the U.S. capital discussing the United Kingdom's economic crisis.

Cleared From Church

NAPLES, Italy, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—Psalm-singing Communists were cleared Wednesday by armed Caribinieri from a church at Pozzuoli, near Naples, where they were conducting a funeral service for a dead comrade after chasing away the parish priest. The priest had barricaded the doors when he saw the funeral procession arrive with Red banners waving.

Beats Speed Record

OSTEND, Belgium, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—Lt.-Col. A. T. (Goldie) Gardner, British motorist, today beat all existing land speed records for cars in the 500 CC class on the Jabbeke motor road near here. Gardner's average for the five kilometers, over two runs, was 150.513 miles an hour which beat the previous record of 129.182 set by the Italian, Perono Tariuffi, in Rome on Nov. 6, 1948.

Auditorium Plan Finally Settled Work Goes On

COBOURG, Sept. 15 (ENS) — The Dept. of Agriculture has finally approved the size of the auditorium to be contained within the recreational centre, now under construction, Mayor Joe Smith revealed Wednesday that the auditorium, originally planned for 75 x 32 feet, will be four feet wider in order to conform with the wishes of the Department. Certain requirements are insisted upon by the Dept. of Agriculture before its grant will be given and in the case of Cobourg's recreational centre, the grant amounts to $10,000.

"It will cost us $15,000 more to have the auditorium four feet wider but it will be a better auditorium and of course it means a grant of $10,000," commented Mayor Smith yesterday.

The Mayor revealed that it had been impossible to let the plumbing and electrical contracts until the matter of the auditorium had been settled. The contractor yesterday finished the foundations on the sides and rear and the decision in regard to the front of the building came just in time for him to start the front side of the foundation.

The foundations are substantial and conform with the general type in other arenas built by George Hipel.

British Business Men Ask More Than Pat On Back

By DON GILBERT.

LEEDS, England, Sept. 15 — (CP). — British business men, their sterling area exports booming, want more than an occasional pat on the back from their government if they are to give their best to boost the dollar sales.

Resentful of government interference with their business, and proud of the job they have done, many industrialists have developed a "what's in it for me" attitude to North American markets.

The answer is that there is little in it for the exporter. The dollars he earns go to the Treasury. Because of the keener competition the profit margin is thinner than in sterling area sales. The government frowns on anything in the way of tax rebate or other financial incentive for the successful dollar exporter.

No Defeatists

There is no defeatist attitude in the British industrialist. Order books are bulging, production is high. Despite widespread criticism, many feel their prices are right. They see Canadian and United States tariffs as a more potent barrier to sales.

"We could whack their heads off if it were not for the tariff," said one textile manufacturer defiantly.

And prices?

"Our prices are competitive with the rest of the world," is a typical answer. "How can they be otherwise if people are still buying."

The Yorkshire Post, influential Conservative newspaper published in Leeds, has just made a survey of Yorkshire industry. It found indifference to dollar sales fairly general.

Throughout the Yorkshire industrial belt, the prosperity of a seller's market still prevails. Wool, engineering, machine tool and textile machinery plants are all working to capacity. Only in Sheffield steel products is there any sign of slackening.

"We have more orders than we know what to do with—and they are coming in steadily," said the managing director of a Leeds engineering firm.

On 121st Anniversary Otonabee Church Recalls First Services In John Fife's Home

KEENE, Sept. 15—(ENS) — Anniversary and Thanksgiving service at Bethel United Church in Otonabee, Sunday, will mark 121 years since the first service was held in the home of John Fife on the 4th Concession.

It was in this settlement that Red Fife wheat was produced by David, the son of John Fife, revolutionizing wheat farming. In spite of many happenings in the community, church services were held all through the years. The church was a social as well as a religious centre, and in the early days all worshipped under the same ministry.

The anniversary minister will be Rev. N. Cole of Hastings United Church and music will be provided by Hastings choir.

22 Virginians Tour Kawartha Lakes

The Examiner
VOL. XCIX. NO. 63
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15,

Civic Recention Tendered Resort Owners

A party of 22 Virginians had an opportunity Wednesday to sample northern hospitality when they were guests of Peterborough on a sightseeing tour as well as a civic reception and luncheon.

The southern visitors were hotel proprietors or persons directly interested in the tourist trade, and this week they have been busy exploring the chief tourist areas of the central Ontario region. Their seven-day junket includes a trip to Toronto, two days in the Kawarthas, and a trip to Muskoka. It is sponsored by the Resort Operators of the Ontario Hotel Association and the Department of Travel and Publicity.

During their stay in the Kawarthas they have been guests of Gil Watson of the Gil-Mar Lodge, Sturgeon Lake.

Last year 22 Ontario resort owners visited Virginia.

Wednesday morning they began what was to be a full day. They left Gil-Mar in mid-morning and motored down to Bridgenorth and inspected the Chemong causeway. Next stop was Lakefield and then a journey down the River Rd. to Peterborough's No. 1 sightseeing attraction—the Liftlock.

And they were more fortunate than most visitors to the Liftlock, and most residents as well. They not only saw a boat go over the lock but also rode in it. This added thrill was made possible through a slight relaxing of the usually tight regulations by T. J. Ryan, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal.

Given Luncheon

After a civic reception in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel they sat down to a luncheon as guests of the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council.

The Virginian party was officially welcomed to the city by Mayor Max Swanston who told them that such tours as the one they were on should be encouraged at all levels of government.

"We in Peterborough are very partial to Americans," he said. They are responsible for many of the beautifications in this city, and we realize how much they have contributed to local industry."

Wilson Gemmell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed them on behalf of the Chamber, and said his greetings went from citizens of a new Dominion to those of "the old Dominion."

Caught His Fish

A light touch was added to the luncheon when Lester Shelly, of Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce was made the first honorary member of the Order of the Kawartha Muskie. So it could be said that he earned the award Mr. Shelly was presented with a rod and reel and told to start winding in. The result: a 45-pound muskie (stuffed).

"That's the first time anyone has caught a muskie in the Empress," was one of the several comments.

James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, arranged this stunt which struck the fancy of the fun-loving southerners.

Albin Mailhes, Managing Director of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, thanked the city and the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce for their friendly reception. He said he had been very impressed with the people and country of that part of Ontario he had visited.

His trip over the Liftlock would be a highlight of the tour, he stated.

"I think our visit to Ontario will prove very profitable to every one of us."

Herbert G. Bradburn, secretary of the Industrial Commission, said the Commission would provide a conducted tour of the city after the luncheon, combined with an inspection of the Nashua Paper Co.

The ladies went to South Beach for tea as guests of Mrs. Tom Lawlor.

The list of Virginians included Mr. and Mrs. Jan Winston Johns, of Ash Lawn, Charlottesville; George Prince Arnold, of Richmond; Minor L. Parker, Jr., of Charleston, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brick, Ocean View, Norfolk; Mrs. Grayson Harding, of Virginia Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Albin Mailhes, of Virginia Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shelly, of Virginia Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Harmsberger, of Luray; Mrs. Juliette B. Carpenter, of Norfolk; Mrs. Washington Reed, of Norfolk; Mr. and Mrs. L. Verburg, of Fredericksburg, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Eggborn, of Culpeper; Miss Coiser, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Lacy, Jr., of Richmond.

GROUNDS OPEN

With the opening of the Peterborough Normal School Tuesday, the grounds were opened and put under supervision. Early in June, after the 1948-1949 class had finished writing examinations, the Normal School grounds were closed to the public.

HARRY A. BAPTIE, personnel manager of the Western Clock Co. Ltd., who was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting on Wednesday night in Oshawa of the Oshawa-Whitby section of the Central Ontario Division of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations.

Red Cross Asks To Continue In Community Chest Drives

A recommendation that Windsor and Peterborough branches of the Canadian Red Cross Society be permitted to remain in the Community Fund organizations until 1951 is to be presented to the National Executive.

More than a year ago all Red Cross Societies which participated in the annual Community Fund drives were ordered to break away from the community organization. This mean that annually in most cities there would be a community fund drive and also a Red Cross drive.

Strong protests were made but for the most part the National executive stuck to its original plan. Last week Peterborough and Windsor branches again protested and local members feel there is a possibility something will be done to permit them to stay in the Community organization until 1951.

In many places the annual community Fund drive takes place in the fall of the year, but in Peterborough the drive has been held at the same time as the Dominion-wide Red Cross campaign. Two campaigns in this city it was argued would only cause confusion.

Think Cafe Safe Found In Field

A safe believed to be the one stolen from the Hollywood cafe was found Wednesday night by Provincial Police constable J. R. Pollard among some bushes in a field at the junction of Highways 35 and 7A about six miles west of Bethany.

Chief Constable John Thompson said the safe was reported to have Chinese writing inside and is being brought to Peterborough for identification by Yee Shung, cafe owner.

The safe which was stolen from the Charlotte St. restaurant during the middle of a Wednesday afternoon, July 20, originally contained $1300 in cash along with passports and other valuable papers. A little more than $1 was reported in the safe which was found.

"Eros" Finishes Glasgow Run

GLASGOW, Sept. 15 — (CP)— Robertson Davies' prize-winning play "Eros At Breakfast," has wound up its Scottish run which marks the end of the theatrical road as a unit for its cast made up of members of the Ottawa Drama League.

"I don't think we shall ever play together again," said associate producer Michael Meiklejohn following the final performance at Glasgow's Athenaeum Theatre.

Meiklejohn, who played "Chremes," is returning to Canada September 22. Gwen Blair, co-producer, goes back September 27 and Carl Lochlan and Amelia Hall will return in November. Robert Rose and Ian Fellows go to London to study drama for two years.

Meiklejohn said playgoers in Edinburgh during the Festival and in Glasgow had laughed at its wit. He felt the Canadian theatre would benefit if other groups came to Scotland, and the Scottish theatre would gain by seeing how Canadians "do things."

This belief was echoed by T. M. Watson, noted Scottish playwright and critic, who said Scots would like to see Canadian players regularly.

It is expected another Canadian drama group will be invited for next year's Edinburgh Festival.

Examiner Editor CBC Round-Up

Robertson Davies editor of the Examiner will speak to Canadians tonight from London, England in the CBC News Round-up at 10.15 p.m. He will speak about the experiences of the Ottawa Drama League at the Edinburgh International Festival of Music and Drama and will tell what Canada has learned in the field of drama as a result of her representation at the festival.

The Ottawa group's presentation of Mr. Davies' play "Eros At Breakfast" marked the introduction of Canadian drama to an Edinburgh Festival program.

The International Festival was launched in Edinburgh in 1947 and is already established as the world's leading festival of the arts. Production of his play at this year's festival was a great milestone, not only for Canada, but for Mr. Davies personally, because he has worked unceasingly in recent years for the establishment of the theatre in Canada.

Accompanied by Mrs. Davies, Mr. Davies' trip to Britain will include a visit to his father, Senator Davies, in Wales.

C. E. Sisson Named To Post In The Engineering Institute

C. E. Sisson, MEIC, has been appointed Field Secretary of The Engineering Institute of Canada. He will make his headquarters at 350 Bay Street, Toronto, where the Institute has opened an office.

Mr. Sisson is well known in engineering circles throughout the Dominion. Previous to joining the Institute he was with Canadian General Electric Company at Peterborough and Toronto, and for a number of years before retiring from the company, he held the post of Managing Engineer at the Davenport Plant. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto.

C. E. SISSON

Branches of the Institute in this province are located at Toronto, Ottawa, Peterborough, Cornwall, Kingston, Hamilton, Niagara Falls, London, Sarnia, Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie and the Lakehead. A fourteenth Ontario branch will be opened on October 15, when a charter will be granted at Kitchener.

Although Mr. Sisson will devote a large portion of his time to Institute duties in Ontario, he will be required to travel extensively in other provinces. Membership of The Engineering Institute of Canada is now in excess of 12,000 and it has 31 branches extending from St. John's, Newfoundland to Victoria, B. C.

Suspended Driver Gets $100 Fine

Pleading guilty to charges of driving while his license was suspended and careless driving, Charles Fader, RR 5, Peterborough, was fined $100 and costs on the first and $15 and costs on the second, in police court Thursday morning by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K. C.

The charges resulted from a wild 60-mile an hour chase through the north end of town the night of Sept. 4. Traffic Officer Clare McGillen chased Fader until Fader crashed his car against the bank of a creek bed at the west end of Edinburgh St. Fader's license had been under suspension more than a year.

Picked Up As Vagrant Wanted At Pt. Perry

Released on a charge of vagrancy in police court Thursday morning William Thomas Harris, alias William Thomas, walked out and into a handshake offered by the chief of police of Port Perry. Harris wasn't too sure who was giving him the hand or why, but he soon found out.

Harris is wanted in Port Perry on a breaking and entering and theft charge. Harris and a young girl of 15, posing as his wife, were picked up by Detective Sergeant John Stevenson and Constable William G. Scott on a charge of vagrancy Tuesday.

They said they were from Timmins. Police checked and got a report back from the Port Perry police chief.

Plans Two More Screen Concerts

"I'm bringing in the Mozart Story for October, and for the first time on any screen we are showing Concert Magic, but if the attendance does not increase, I'm afraid I may have to drop this idea of mine," said Mr. Harry Yudin, of the Centre Theatre.

Response of the public to the Wednesday concert, which included excerpts from Carmen, Rigoletto, Otello, and the Oberon intermezzo played by the New York Philharmonic orchestra with Bruno Walter conducting, "could have been better."

"I'd like to do something if we can toward providing occasional concerts that contribute to cultural experience and enjoyment," Mr. Yudin said. "If we could get some more people out to the matinees the returns would be quite satisfactory. Attendance last night was good. Probably we should switch the matinee from Wednesday afternoon.

"The Mozart Story is in English. We don't need to say anything more about that, and Concert Magic will present the musical leaders of today. For instance, the violinist will be Yehudi Menuhin who plays five or six numbers. I think people will like that program as they did last night."

One of those who heard the orchestra said they would have been quite content at that stage even if all the rest of the delight ful program had not been added

No Extension Daylight Time, Out Next Week

Extension of the daylight saving period into November by Toronto and three other Ontario cities has not been considered here, Mayor Swanston said today.

Ottawa, Hamilton, Oshawa and Toronto are deciding not to turn their clocks back an hour until November 27.

Peterborough's by-law will terminate daylight saving September 25. Mayor Swanston said it would become effective unless Conucil decided otherwise at its meeting next Monday night.

Recent correspondence of the Council decided otherwise at its mission has not included any communication from the Hydro-Electric Commission proposing the continuance of so-called "fast time."

"Several persons asked me today whether we were going to change our period from the time set by the Council," Mayor Swanston said, "but otherwise it has not been mentioned. As it appears now we will automatically revert to standard time at the end of next week."

ERSTWHILE MOVIE QUEEN GRETA GARBO plans a comeback with a film to be made in Europe, but to newsmen she's still the camera-shy one. While sightseeing in Rome (left, above), Miss Garbo wore the standard Hollywood dark glasses disguise. Finding this not wholly effective, she turned out for a stroll on the beach near Rome with a new "seclusion" hair-do, right. In addition, there was an escort to "run interference" against photographers. Annoyed by it all, Garbo announced she would go to Paris to make the film, originally scheduled for Italy.

United States Refuses To Accept Boost In Price of Gold

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder has notified the International Monetary Fund that the United States will not agree to a boost in the price of gold.

His statement indicates that the United States will, if necessary, use its veto power to kill any general increase which might be favored by the board of directors of the 48-country fund.

Snyder made his statement, it was learned today, at a closed meeting of the fund's committee on gold. It helped to quash—for the moment — a South African proposal for a fund study of a new, higher price. It now is $35 an ounce.

But the Union of South Africa, world's biggest gold producer, plainly had plans to raise the issue again before the annual governors' meeting of the fund and the world bank ends tomorrow night.

Battle Lines Drawn

And it became clear that the lines were drawn for a major assault — prolonged if need be — against the gold-price policy of the United States, the world's major buyer.

Meanwhile, delegates heard Wednesday that Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Britain's governor for both fund and bank, may leave Washington for home early Friday, before the conference ends.

If so, his departure would leave less chance than ever that Britain, heavily pressured to lead a devaluation of currencies among the "deficit countries," might make any statement on the issue. However, one British official said there is "no change of any kind" in Sir Stafford's stand—that there is no plan to devalue, despite American arguments that this is the only prompt way to build up Britain's dollar-earning exports.

Unexpected Fight

The battle over gold was as hot as it was unexpected. His face still clouded with anger, N. C. Havenga, head of the South African delegation, told a reporter after the joust that the issue will come again before the delegates.

Then, he said, "It will be another matter."

Some of those present said Havenga first urged that the committee on gold recommend his proposal for letting 50 per cent of new gold be sold free of ceiling price.

Snyder declared the United States to be opposed. But he said the United States would not object to the question being sent to the fund's board of directors for study.

Compromise Move

Havenga replied that if a board study were involved, the issue should cover more than his 50-per-cent plan. That was merely a compromise, or "secondary" proposal, he said; the real need is for a flat increase in the recognized price of gold. Considerable sympathy exists among fund members for such a move, since it would help many countries to reduce their balance-of-payments deficits.

The Philippines and Australia, both gold producers, declared support for Havenga. Britain, although she would stand to gain from the proposal, did not back it, it was reported.

But Snyder's ultimatum clinched the issue. It became apparent that the committee would reject the broad study if it came to a vote. Actually it had not even reached the form of a motion.

Havenga, taking counsel with others, decided to withdraw his 50-per-cent motion. And that ended it — the committee had nothing more before it to consider.

WA Makes Plans For Parsonage

MILLBROOK, Sept. 15 (ENS)—The first meeting of St. Andrew's W.A. since the summer holidays met at the home of the president, Mrs. Allie Payne on Tuesday to plan the work for the fall season.

The worship service, which had as its theme, the challenge of the christian home to the community, was conducted by Mrs. W. E. Ball.

It was decided to buy drapes for the living room and study at the parsonage, to provide a congoleum rug for one of the upstair rooms, a small heater, desk and chair for the study and a new jacket heater for the water tank. It was also decided that the attic should be insulated.

Plans were made to canvass for funds by holding a fowl supper again this year.

It was agreed that the annual autumn bazaar, sale of homemade baking and tea should take place in the town waiting room on November 19.

Mrs. Ridge offered her home as a studio for a well-known photography firm which is to be in Millbrook the week of October 10.

Three new members, Mrs. T. G. Husser, Mrs. George Raper and Miss Laura Crocker attended the meeting.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Barringer.

Claim Adjusted In Assessor's Group Insurance

Sun Life Assurance Company recently accepted without question official information from the city indicating that the late Bert Graham, employed as assessment commissioner, should have been listed for insurance at $2,500 instead of $1,000.

David T. Diplock of Sun Life, in a letter to the council Monday night, conveyed the information that the company was paying the estate of the late Mr. Graham the sum of $2,500.

City council has provided group insurance for its employees. Insurance of heads of departments and their deputies is in the sum of $2,500 each. When Mr. Graham was appointed assessment commissioner, the company, by an oversight, was not informed of his promotion as head of that department.

His insurance remained at the amount of $1,000, and as such was paid to his widow. Months after his death, it transpired at the city hall that promotion of Mr. Graham had not been reported to the Sun Life Company. That fact was recently brought to the attention of Mr. Diplock in a letter by City Clerk Outram. As a result, the company agreed to pay the larger amount.

Insurance premium are based on a contributory system, payable by the city and ensured employees. In this instance the difference in the premium receivable by the company from both sources amounted to slightly more than $42. But, the difference in the amount of the insurance was $1,500.

The letter from Mr. Diplock was gratefully received by the finance committee of the council.

Try To Sell Scenery To Get Dollars

By ERIC BENTON.

WELLINGTON, NZ, Sept. 15—(AP). — This Dominion is going to try to sell scenery and lamb to Americans to help meet the dollar crisis.

New Zealand finds it difficult to prune her dollar spending by 25 per cent along with the other Commonwealth countries. The reason is that dollar spending already is down almost to the bare bones.

Two years ago New Zealand cut imports of American newsprint, motor cars and other consumer goods. Not one new licence to import American automobiles has been issued this year.

New Zealand will cut dollar spending still more. She likely will stop importing timber from the east coast of the United States, cut down on other imports. She will seek more newsprint, farm tractors, and industrial machinery from sterling countries.

At the same time New Zealand hopes to build up her dollar earnings.

Tourist Assets

New Zealand's trout streams, hot springs, ski resorts, mountain scenery and deep sea fishing grounds are big tourist assets.

All state-owned hotels and the tourist houses have been told to spruce up their ideas of service.

New Zealand is a great primary producing country. She hopes some of her products will win more United States dollars. Almost all her surplus meat, butter and cheese goes to Britain. New Zealanders want this to go on.

But New Zealand government men, worried by the dollar problem, think some lamb can be sent to the United States without much loss to Britain. The quantity being talked of is two shipments in a year—something more than 10,000 tons.

Butter is another potential dollar earner, but men close to the government see a political snag here. New Zealanders are rationed to eight ounces a week.

VARIED PUNISHMENT

The penalty for murder in various states of the United States can be by electrocution, lethal gas, hanging, shooting or life imprisonment.

Widow Saves Husband's Killer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—A judge Wednesday put a slayer's life in the hands of the grieving widow whose husband he killed. In a soft, clear voice of compassion, she saved him from the electric chair.

"He'll have to answer to God for what he has done," Mrs. Anna Falletta, 35, told Judge Samuel Leibowitz.

The defendant, Carmine (Charlie) Petillo, 35, interrupted his first degree murder trial to offer to plead guilty to second-degree murder in the May 4 shooting of Mrs. Falletta's husband, Frank, 35.

Judge Leibowitz told the widowed mother of four children:

"You and your children must bear the cross for the rest of your lives. You have no husband. Your children have no father.

"I'll be guided entirely by how you feel about the defendant entering a plea of murder in the second degree."

A second-degree murder plea does not carry the death penalty.

Leibowitz ordered Petillo held to await sentence of not less than 30 years.

Can Extract Oil Now From Shale Deposits

RIFLE, Colorado, Sept. 15 (CP) —The extraction of oil from shale has been solved here, assuring the United States of gasoline for centuries.

The baptism of this new industry takes place here next week. Then the Bureau of Mines will demonstrate to more than 200 key industrial men the new shale mine, the oil plant and new processes which make this new kind of oil as cheaply as petroleum.

The single mass of marlestone shale, a 9,000-foot-high plateau covering 1,000 square miles, which the Bureau of Mines has tapped here in west-central Colorado, contains about seven times more oil than the United States has used in all 90 years since oil was discovered in Pennsylvania.

FIND NEW "FLOWERPOT"—The two "flowerpots" on Flowerpot Island off the tip of Bruce Peninsula in Georgian Bay have long been the source of wonder to geologists. Now a new "flowerpot" has been discovered, this time on the peninsula mainland. Known for several years to a few residents of the district, Dr. Sherwood Fox, president emeritus of University of Western Ontario "discovered" the peculiar formation this summer and took this photo of it. Cabot Head, near Byer's Bay, is in the background.

Poor People Quite Enthusiastic About Britain's Health Service

(Editor's Note. Britain's National Health Service has brought new problems to the country's hospitals. They are discussed in the following article, one of a series.)

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Sept. 15 (CP) — A former guards officer, wearing the old school tie of Eton, and a tramp who hasn't had a steady job for three years sat side by side in the out-patients' department at a small London hospital.

The tramp was glad to be there. He said he couldn't have paid his bill in the old days, before Britain's Labor government inaugurated a national health service covering 48,000,000 persons from the cradle to the grave.

The Eton man was less enthusiastic. Five years ago he wouldn't have gone near the hospital, which is in Camden Town, a tough inner suburb notorious for razor gangs and street fights.

Now he was one of the "new poor." He would rather have chosen his own hospital as a paying patient, but he couldn't afford it.

The tramp and the old Etonian were among patients and staff members interviewed by this writer at the Camden Town hospital. The object was to try to find out how the health plan, subject of red-hot controversy, has affected one of Britain's 2,688 state-operated hospitals.

Doctors Dislike It

Generalizations are difficult, but one impression was that patients solidly favor the "free-for-all" plan, with few reservations, while doctors generally dislike it, with hardly any reservations at all.

Of 12 patients, 10 expressed unqualified approval of state medicine, and said their treatment couldn't have been better. Only dissent came from the guardsmen and from Colin Spencer. He said doctors lose interest when they get a set sum for each patient.

(Pay for consultants and specialists varies by grades under an agreement between the Health Ministry, the British Medical Association and the Royal Colleges of Medicine. Many professional men contend this means that really good doctors too often get the same as less skilled men.)

All the patients were emphatic that national health's advantages outweigh its disadvantages.

Not Fair Trial

Doctors spoke critically of the service, although some said it hasn't had a fair trial yet. Main criticisms were that laymen instead of medical men are getting control of hospital administration; that there is too much paper work and red tape and that too many scroungers are getting into hospital.

Hospitals are short of staffed beds. Official estimates are that Britain needs at least 50,000 more beds for a first-class service. When Health Minister Aneurin Bevan (whose very name causes a kind of frenzy among some doctors) ordered a £9,000,000 ($36,000,000) cut in hospital costs, some authorities said hospital service would be set back 30 years.

The order was withdrawn. But hospitals account for two-thirds of the total yearly health bill of about £330,000,000. Hospital beds are more costly now for paying patients. The fee ranges from 15 to 18 guineas a week compared with about eight before the state stepped in.

Ontario Grapes Bring $75 Ton

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP) — Ontario grapes used for processing will yield the grower $75 a ton this year, the farm products marketing board at Queen's Park announced Wednesday.

The figure, $2.50 a ton lower than last year, was estabished by a negotiating board headed by Judge Harold Fuller of Welland and including George Lounsbury of Fruitland, representing the growers, and M. F. Jones, representing the processors.

The lower price was arrived at despite the claim of the growers that their 1949 crop will be only 65 per cent of last year's. A recent report by the statistics branch of the Agriculture Department estimated the crop at 22,053 tons as compared with 27,279 tons in 1948, a decrease of 19 per cent.

About 70 per cent of the grapes grown in the province find their way into the processing plants, particularly the wineries.

Teaching Work Discussed

By KAY REX.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 15 (CP)—A massive report, diagnosing the ailments of the teaching profession and prescribing such remedies as improved salaries and better housing for rural teachers has been accepted by the Canadian Education Association as its program for the betterment of education in Canada.

The 137 page study, already known as the Lazerte report after the chairman of the CEA committees which drew it up, was the highlight of Wednesday's session of the CEA annual meeting.

The 300 teachers, school trustees and other delegates, accepted its 44 recommendations with little comment other than praise.

The report is the result of two years' study by Dr. M. E. Lazerte, Dean of the Faculty of Education at the University of Alberta, and his colleagues, of the cause and effect of Canada's teacher shortage.

It urged provincial and local education authorities to review salary structures "to ensure that the remuneration paid to these holding positions at various levels is appropriate and just."

Fresh Designs Feature New Furniture

By MURIEL NARRAWAY,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Sept. 14 (CP) — Britain is entering a new era in furniture design and there's little if any trace of the "austerity" influence of wartime.

Now that furniture rationing is a thing of the past, British manufacturers are producing designs with a bit more flair. And it's being offered at prices set to tempt the tightening purse of Britain's home-makers.

Furniture designers say that in the controlled regime of wartime they had to produce models which reflected mass production, a lack of materials and a way of life where living was more important than design.

But now "the public is again design-conscious and they want beauty combined with utility."

That's what 1949 designers have set as their goal. Most new model furniture combines several uses and there are many corner pieces that do away with the old necessity of cutting off a corner and leaving useless space behind.

A useful furniture unit is a combination of chest of drawers, dressing table and writing desk. When closed, it looks like a four-drawer chest, but the top "drawer" has a drop front.

Inside it is divided into two parts. One is pigeon-holed at back with writing space in front; the other has a shelf which slides back and drops into place to reveal a mirror on the underside with space beneath for toilet requisites.

Settee Sections Useful

Popular for corners is the sectional settee made in many different types of colors of upholstery. Flush with the floor, its adjustable possibilities fulfil many of today's necessities.

A new studio couch is a settee by day and double or matching twin beds by night. The front pulls out like a drawer to form the double bed while the interior-sprung seat-cushions form a mattress. If preferred the two sections detach to make twin beds. The latest style has detachable back so that the settee needs no always be used against a wall.

In wooden furniture the designs are spidery to give a sense of space, but slenderness is achieved without loss of strength.

Neil Morris, a Glacgow designer, presents his Cumbrae dining-room suite. Light in weight and almost flimsy-looking, it is made of laminated wood. Home market price is 51 guineas ($214.20).

It is made in three woods—walnut, natural mahogany or natural oak; the upholstery is a linen hopsack, in green, rust or brown, which can be detached for cleaning. Curtains to match are easily procurable.

The suite consists of an oblong dining table, chairs with arms and a sideboard fitted and lined with sycamore. This has "milk-stool" legs without dust-catching crevices, an interior cutlery drawer and shelves.

Peter Blackwell Married In St. Thomas Chapel

A wedding of wide interest in Alma College Chapel, St. Thomas on Saturday afternoon was the candle-light ceremony uniting Rosalie Porter Spackman, and Peter Auston Blackwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holden Blackwell Sr., of Jacksonville, Florida, and grandson of Mrs. Wm. Blackwell and Mrs. Victor Auston, both of Peterborough. He has recently received his discharge from the United States Army and is now associated in business with his father.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Spackman, St. Thomas, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a period gown of old ivory marquise satin and lace. The skirt with long rounded train was gathered from a slender bodice with tight-fitting sleeves and wide bertha of lace, and opened in polonaise effect over a wide panel of guipure lace from waist to hemline. A cloud of illusion shirred to a matching lace coif covered the long train. Her bouquet was of gardenias and Johanna Hill roses, surrounded by the matching net of her bridal veil.

The marriage was performed by the Rev. H. S. Rodney of Knox Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas.

Mrs. Holden Blackwell Jr. of Jacksonville, Florida, was matron of honor for her sister, wearing a dress of irridescent taffeta in copper glow with full skirt and tight-fitting bodice with wide cowl stole and huge bow on the shoulder. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses, poms and gladioli. Miss Joan Spackman was her sister's bridesmaid in a similar gown of citrus green irridescent taffeta and she carried a similar bouquet.

Holden Blackwell Jr. attended his brother and the ushers were Kenneth Nisbet of St. Thomas and David McKenzie of Toronto.

The reception was at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Spackman wore a floor-length gown in silver buckel grey crepe with bodice of French Alencon lace over blue. Worn with this was a draped satin turban in blue, and a waist corsage of Pinnochio roses backed by pink feathers. The groom's mother, who also received with the bridal party, wore a floor-length gown of forest green satin with matching green cloche with white coq feathers and a corsage of gardenias.

Leaving later on a wedding trip to the Blue Ridge Mountains in Luray, Virginia, the bride wore a smart navy tailored suit with dusty pink blouse and pink velour hat and navy accessories, and her corsage was gardenias surrounded by pinnochio roses. The bride and groom will make their home in Jacksonville, Florida.

Lunch Counter Service In Hair Dressing Salon Preferred to Laundry Aid

Ladies, your laundry troubles would be over if you were living in London, Ontario. Before you read any further, rest assured this is no advertisement for a new brand of soap powder which washes whiter and brighter than ever. Nor are you being exhorted to emigrate from your native city. The main attraction in London for women at present, however, is a new scheme to do the family laundry at the beauty salon while milady is having her permanent or, perhaps just a finger wave.

"What do you think of the idea for Peterborough?" Reg. Moore, a city hair stylist was asked recently. "It would be a very sensible idea if one had accommodation for it. But I would not like to tackle it," he said.

"Running a beauty salon has headaches enough without doing laundry. Besides it might seem to the public that the only way a hairdresser could get business would be to offer the inducement of a laundry service.

Want Lunch Counter

Mrs. Joe Donoghue, another Peterborough beauty specialist, sees no sense at all in the idea. What my customers would like is a lunch counter service on the spot so that they could have something to eat while they are under the drier, she says.

Most women, especially with large families, have so many woollens and other clothing which they would not like to send to the laundry that they would get no advantage from a laundry at the hair dressing salon.

Mrs. Donoghue, a mother of four, says she can do her laundry quicker than any one else can do it for her and does not think a laundry service would be of assistance to other women with families.

A lunch counter would be a great asset because many customers are in the salon a long time. "I often make tea and fix a sandwich for my customers, she says, but having to wash the dishes is a great nuisance and takes too much time," she says.

To operate a counter service would involve a great deal of expense and would have to be done by someone who knew the work, she says.

Graham-Pue

A quiet wedding ceremony was solemnized Monday in the parsonage of Lakefield United Church by the Rev. G. Kelly of Roberta Joan, daughter of Mrs. Judson Pue, and Arnold Graham, son of Mrs. Clara Graham, all of Lakefield.

The bride wore a cocoa brown suit with dark brown accessories and a corsage of cream roses. She was attended by her sister Miss Norma Pue, wearing a rust suit with matching accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Beverly Graham was his brother's groomsman.

The reception was held in the bride's home where her mother received gowned in navy crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The groom's mother, assisting, was in a black ensemble and wore pink roses.

Following a short honeymoon in the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Graham will live near Lakefield.

Virginian Ladies Tea Guests Like Cheese Sandwiches

Ever been in the State of Virginia? Or West Virginia?

Well, plan a trip to the Blue Ridge Mountain country, where abundant hospitality awaits Peterburians.

Of that we are assured by a party of 26 Virginians who spent Wednesday in this city. They liked what was done for them and want to return it. All are in some way connected with travel and publicity in their home State, and they intend to spread their reports liberally.

Thirteen ladies are on the tour, being conducted by the Ontario Department of Publicity and Travel. Several are proprietors of large hotels, one represents the American Automobile Association headquarters in Richmond, the State capital. Some are guests of their husbands, whose work is with Chambers of Commerce, roadside advertising companies, hotels and places of interest as the famous Luray Caverns. Lone representative of West Virginia in the party is an employee of the largest US bus line.

Flower beds around Peterborough homes and in the parks impressed the visiting ladies and they particularly marvelled at the brilliant colors of the fall blooms. They remarked on evergreen trees that make up so much of our scenery of which they have only a few. Vine-covered fences were reminders of their countryside.

Tangy Canadian cheese sandwiches caught the fancy of the Virginian ladies when they were entertained for afternoon tea by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, and several pounds is likely to be included in their take-home parcels.

The tea was served in the holiday setting of South Beach Hotel on Clear Lake. The guests were taken from Peterborough in cars driven by Mrs. M. J. Swanston, Mrs. Adam Sands, Mrs. M. Holt, Mrs. H. Mason and Mrs. C. B. Neal. Mrs. Jas. Fraser, Mrs. Doug. Miller and Mrs. L. B. Hutchison accompanied the party.

That throaty Virginian drawl was the great delight of the Peterborough ladies. They whipped their minds to think of leading questions and hoped the replies would have lots of "ou" sounds. The visitors in turn expressed liking for their speech, describing it as sharp and distinct, and though spoken much faster, they found no trouble in understanding.

Their only complaint is one shared by many Ontario travellers, especially when driving at night—too few road signs.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Mother Not To Interfere Boy Must Marry His Choice

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 23, married two years, no children. Husband 29, good provider, but very selfish and bull-headed. I adore dancing. He lothes it. He wants to stay at home of an evening. I am frantic to step out.

Dorothy Dix

When we stay at home I don't believe we exchange two words, not that we are angry, but he is the moody type and enjoys quiet. Now the opportunity presents itself to go with another man5 I want to play square, but if I have to make my own dates to get to dances, why should I be married?

FRANTIC HONEST WIFE.

ANSWER: What did you get married for? If you consider dancing the chief felicity in life, you should have got a job as a taxi dancer and not signed up for a life contract as a wife.

You were past 21 when you married. Surely at that age you must have observed enough marriages to know that they are not merry-go-rounds, and that when a woman gets married and takes upon herself the responsibility of a home and a husband she is not expected to spend her evenings gadding around to places of amusement. The indications are for her to settle down and try to adjust herself to her husband and make him a happy and comfortable home.

Why in the days of courtship didn't you find out that your husband wasn't a dancer? Why didn't you get an inkling that he was quiet and domestic in h taste? Why didn't you get a suspicion that he was not a chatterbox?

But now that you find that you have different tastes, why don't you compromise? Why don't you agree to stay at home a certain number of nights a week if he will take you to parties on your nights out? Surely some compromise like that is better than breaking up your home.

That will happen if you start philandering and running around with other men.

DOROTHY DIX.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR MISS DIX: My son has become engagd to a young woman who can never have children. He says this does not matter to him as he neither likes nor wants children, but it matters greatly to me because he is an only son, the last of a fine line that has had many members of outstanding ability — writers, preachers, orators, jurists, way back to Colonial days. I have begged him to give this woman up, but it has only caused a coldness between us which breaks my heart as we have always been so cloe to each other. My dearest wish for years has been to see him happily married and to hold my grandson in my arms before I die. Am I wrong in opposing this match? What attitude shall I take toward the girl?

A WORRIED MOTHER.

ANSWER: It is easy to see why you feel it almost a sacred duty for your son to pass on the torch of life that has glowed so brightly in your family, but after you had once expressed your feelings about it to your son, that should have ended the matter, and you should accept his point of view without further argument.

I do not think that parents are justified in trying to break off their children's love affairs except in the case of bad morals or rotten character or drunkenness or shiftlessness, something fundamental that would be bound to wreck any marriage.

It is the individual boy or girl who has to live with the one he or she marries, and it is more important that he or she should be pleased than that the parents are. Moreover, husbands and wives are a matter of taste and the very qualities that would appeal to son or daughter might be the very ones that would get on the nerves of father and mother.

Evidently this is the case in this instance. You love children. You long to have your grandchildren about your knee. Your son lacks the paternal instinct and doesn't want to be bothered with them. Many men feel that way about children. Many who have children resent and are jealous of them. They want the entire attention of their wives. In a way they want the babying and coddling bestowed on them that their wives would give the children if they had any. They want their wives to keep young and pretty and be always ready to step out with them, and want the money to spend on themselves that children would cost.

As for the way you should treat your son's wife, there is only one answer to that. Forget your disappointment about the babies and welcome her with open arms. Make a virtue of necessity, and as your son is going to marry her anyway, be cordial to her. Remember that the mother who does not make friends with her son's wife loses him.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR MISS DIX: My fiancee and I have begun to get bored with each other and on each other's nerves. All the pep has gone out of our engagement and we take no interest in each other. What shall we do?

ESTELLE.

❖ ❖ ❖

ANSWER: Break off the engagement and thank Heaven you found out you were not congenial before you got married.

DOROTHY DIX.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are in a position where you feel you really should invite someone into your house, but you know that the living room is not in order, being cluttered with children's toys, etc.

WRONG WAY: Don't invite the person in.

RIGHT WAY: Invite the person in, since it is better to be hospitable than to try to save yourself embarrassment by not having your house seen unless it is "ready for company."

In Memoriams

BROWN—In loving memory of Mrs. Emma Jane Brown, who passed away, September 15, 1947.
Calm and peaceful she is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain.
We who loved her sadly miss her,
But trust in God to meet again.
—Sadly missed by Florie and Lynn.

McGILL—In memory of a loving wife and mother, who passed away September 15, 1942.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain,
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.
—Sadly missed by husband, Herman McGill and family.

McGILL—In loving memory of a dear mother, who passed away September 15, 1942.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid;
One who was better God never made,
A wonderful worker, loyal and true,
One in a million, that mother, was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal, ever upright,
Loved by your friends and all you knew:
A wonderful mother, that mother was you.
—Ever remembered by daughter, Olive.

SANDERSON—In loving memory of my dear father, Willie Sanderson, who passed away one year ago, September 15, 1948.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Ever remembered by daughter Florence, son-in-law Rollie and family.

SANDERSON—In loving memory of a dear father, E. W. Sanderson, who passed away one year ago today, Sept. 15, 1948.
Memory drifts to scenes long past,
Time rolls on but memories last.
—Ever remembered by son Roland, daughter-in-law Becky and family.

WARD—In loving memory of our daughter, Effie, who died Sept. 15, 1947.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brother.
